(b) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. No person shall sell or deliver, and no person or Claimant Agency shall order or accept delivery of any oil burner, either assembled or in sets of parts, (i) except pursuant to an approved order, and (ii) except for use in an area in which the delivery of fuel oil to new oil burner installations is not prohibited under the terms of Limitation Order L-56 or any order issued by the Petroleum Administration for War; unless the order for such oil burner is accompanied by a copy of the authorization received by the prospective user from the Petroleum Administration for War permitting the delivery of fuel oil for use in such oil burner.

(c) Restrictions on manufacture of Class B oil burners. Regardless of the terms of any contract, sale, other commitment, or any preference rating, no person shall manufacture, fabricate, or assemble any Class B oil burner except to fill an approved order; and then only to the extent that the already assembled stock of such person is insufficient to fill such order.

(d) Production and delivery schedules. (1) The War Production Board may at any time or from time to time require any producer to file a report showing his production and delivery schedule for oil burners during any period, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(2) The War Production Board, at its discretion, may require that any producer shall deliver any oil burners only in accordance with the schedule filed pursuant to paragraph (d) (1) of this order as such schedule may be approved or changed by the War Production Board. The War Production Board may, if it deems such action to be necessary or advisable:

(i) Direct the return or cancellation of an order on the books of a producer.

(ii) Direct changes in the delivery or production schedule of a producer.

(iii) Allocate orders placed with one producer to another producer.

(iv) Specify what proportion of the quantity of material authorized by the War Production Board to any producer is to be used in production for any Claimant Agency or person.

(v) Specify what proportion of the quantity of material authorized by the War Production Board to any producer is to be used in the manufacture, fabrication, or assembly of any class, type, or model of product covered by this order.

Each producer shall schedule (or reschedule, if necessary), his production and shall make deliveries in accordance with such specific written directions as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board.

(3) The production and delivery schedules established by any such specific direction issued pursuant to (d) (2) above shall be maintained, subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 18, without regard to any preference ratings theretofore or thereafter assigned to particular contracts, commitments or purchase orders, and without regard to production schedules already in effect; and may be altered only upon specific written direction of the War Production Board. Any such schedule shall be deemed a frozen Schedule within the meaning of Priorities Regulation 18.

(4) If it becomes impossible for any producer to maintain production and delivery of any oil burners in accordance with any schedule approved by the War Production Board, he shall notify the War Production Board, and unless otherwise directed he shall postpone production and delivery only to the extent required by the circumstances causing his failure to maintain production and delivery as reported to the War Production Board.

(e) General exception. Regardless of the terms of this order, any Class B oil burner (as defined by this order as in force prior to June 28, 1943) authorized under an appeal from L–74 as in force prior to June 28, 1943, may be manufactured, fabricated, assembled and delivered.

(f) Emergency replacements. In the case of an emergency replacement, any oil burner may be shipped and installed as a rental oil burner for a period not to exceed 30 days provided an approval for such rental is secured from a Field Office of the War Production Board. Such approval may be requested in any manner but shall be confirmed in writing, and may be granted in any manner, but the grant shall be confirmed in writing.

(g) Reports. Each manufacturer, dealer and distributor shall execute and file with the War Production Board a report on Form WPB–2854 by July 20, 1943, and such other reports as may be required from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(h) Appeals. Any appeals from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form PD–500 with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(i) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–74.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 10th day of July, 1943.

PART 1210—INDUSTRIAL POWER TRUCKS

[Limitation Order L–112 as Amended July 10, 1943]

The fulfillment of the requirements of the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1210.1 General Limitation Order L–112—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Industrial power truck" means any self-power-propelled industrial truck or wheel tractor designed primarily for handling material (either by carrying or towing) on floors or paved surfaces in and around industrial plants, warehouses, docks, airports or depots. The term shall not include automotive tractors, trucks, or wheeltype industrial tractors designed for use on tax-built highways, or in such operations as construction, earth-moving, mining, logging, industrial yard work, or petroleum development.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures, fabricates or assembles new industrial power trucks, and includes any sales and distribution outlets of a manufacturer.

(4) "Parts producer" means any person, other than a manufacturer, who manufactures parts to be incorporated in industrial power trucks.

(5) "Standard model" as applied to a manufacturer, means one model only of each type and capacity of industrial power truck listed in List A attached hereto, described in such manufacturer's catalogue or bulletin on July 10, 1942.

(6) "Approved standard model" means a standard model listed hereafter and from time to time by supplementary order or orders, as provided in paragraph (d) (2).

(7) "New", when applied to any industrial power truck, means any truck which has never been sold to a person acquiring the same for use. "Used" means any such truck which has been sold to a person acquiring the same for use, whether or not such truck has subsequently been reconditioned or rebuilt.

(8) "Dealer" means any person, other than a manufacturer, engaged in the business of selling or distributing new or used industrial power trucks, whether at wholesale, retail, or otherwise.

(9) "Owner" means any person (including a manufacturer or dealer) who owns any industrial power truck, regardless of whether such truck was acquired for resale or for use by such person.

(b) Restrictions on orders and deliveries—(1) New trucks. (i) No manufacturer shall accept any order for a new industrial power truck unless such order is accompanied by the authorization of the War Production Board provided for in paragraph (b) (3) below. Orders so authorized shall be placed only with the supplier specified by the War Production Board.

(ii) No manufacturer shall hereafter deliver any new industrial power truck, except in fulfillment of an order (a) accepted before October 15, 1942, and rated A–9 or better on Form PD–1A or PD–3A or on a form in the PD–408 series, or (b) accepted on or after October 15, 1942, and accompanied by the authorization of the War Production Board provided for in paragraph (b) (3) below.

(2) Used trucks. (i) On and after July 20, 1943 no manufacturer, dealer or owner shall accept any order for a used industrial power truck unless such order is accompanied by the authorization of the War Production Board provided for in paragraph (b) (3) below. Orders so authorized shall be placed only with the supplier specified by the War Production Board.

(ii) On and after July 20, 1943, no manufacturer, dealer or owner shall deliver any used industrial power truck, except in fulfillment of an order accompanied by the authorization of the War Production Board provided for in paragraph (b) (3) below.

(iii) Any manufacturer, dealer or owner specified as a supplier in the authorization for a used truck shall accept any order placed with him for such truck (if the order is accompanied by the authorization), as if such order bore a preference rating, unless he is permitted to, and does, reject the same under the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, § 944.2. However, nothing herein shall require the sale of any used industrial power truck by any person who acquired and holds such truck for his own use and not for resale.

(iv) The restrictions contained in (i), (ii), and (iii) of this paragraph (b) (2) shall not apply to deliveries of used industrial power trucks made by one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same enterprise under common ownership where no transfer of title or ownership of such trucks is involved, or to deliveries of any used industrial power trucks owned by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, from one department to another within any such agency, or from any of such agencies to any other of such agencies.

(3) Authorizations. Application for authorization of the War Production Board required by paragraph (b) (1) and (2) shall be made by the purchaser on Form WPB 1319 (or PD–556) prepared in accordance with Instructions WPB 1319.5 for such Form. The War Production Board may grant such application unconditionally or upon specified conditions, including the requirement that the order be placed with a supplier named by the War Production Board, or that the order shall only cover such model, type or size of truck as may be designated by such Board.

(c) Conservation of material—(1) Restrictions upon use of copper. Parts producers and manufacturers shall be governed by the provisions of paragraph (b) of Limitation Order L–106, (§ 933.9) as amended, in their use of copper products or copper base alloy products (as defined in that order) in the production of parts for industrial power trucks.

(2) No manufacturer shall begin the manufacture of any industrial power truck if such truck contains any of the following materials, or accept delivery of any of the following materials for use in the manufacture of any industrial power truck:

(i) Rubber in any form, except in tires, storage batteries, radiator hose or wire or cable insulation.

(ii) Protective plating in any form, except when necessary to the operation of functional parts.

(iii) Steel plate, where substitution of a less critical material is practicable.

(iv) Lead for counter weights, except that reclaimed lead may be used when required by space limitations.

(v) Steel battery trays, where steel battery boxes are provided.

Provided, however, That the restrictions of this subparagraph (2) shall not apply to parts in the manufacturer's stock which, as of July 10, 1942, were completed, or processed to the point where other use is impracticable: And provided further, That the restrictions of this subparagraph (2) shall not apply to the manufacture or delivery of repair and maintenance parts.

(3) Other regulations. Nothing in this paragraph (c) shall be construed to permit any manufacturer to sell, deliver or otherwise transfer, or any person to purchase, receive delivery of, or otherwise acquire any raw materials, semi-processed parts or finished parts or products in contravention of the terms of any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(d) Standardization of models. (1) No manufacturer shall after July 10, 1942 begin the manufacture of any industrial power truck which is not a standard model. The design and structure of any standard model shall be only as specified or described in such manufacturer's catalogue or bulletin; except that electric fork trucks with capacities from 2,000 pounds to 6,000 pounds may be built in both center and end control types; and that alterations may be made in counter weights, die pullers (power winch), height of lift, voltage, battery capacity, explosion or fire prevention features, and the length or width or type of fork or ram: Provided, however, That nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any change required by the limitations of paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) hereof, or any change which results in further conservation of critical materials.

(2) On and after August 15, 1942, no manufacturer shall begin the manufacture of any standard model which is not an approved standard model. Approved standard models for each manufacturer shall be only those industrial power trucks listed hereafter and from time to time by order or orders supplementary to this order. The provisions of paragraph (d) (1) hereof relative to changes in design and structure shall be applicable to approved standard models.

(3) On or before the 15th day of October and of each succeeding calendar month, every manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD–385, which shall include (i) such manufacturer's proposed production schedules so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the three calendar months following the filing of the report; and (ii) his proposed delivery schedules so far as then planned, but in any event for not less than the one calendar month following such filing. The production schedules for the three calendar months, and the delivery schedules for the one calendar month following the filing of the report shall be deemed to be approved by the War Production Board upon the receipt of the report by the War Production Board, unless the War Production Board shall otherwise direct. The War Production Board may, at any time, change any schedules; direct the cancellation of any order shown on any schedule; prescribe any other schedule for production or deliveries for any period, regardless of whether a schedule for such period, or any part thereof, has been reported by the manufacturer, or theretofore approved by the War Production Board; allocate any order listed on the report to any other manufacturer; or direct the delivery of any industrial power truck so listed to any other person, at the established price and terms. No manufacturer shall produce or deliver any industrial power truck except in accordance with schedules approved or prescribed by the War Production Board, as above provided; and no manufacturer shall alter any such approved or prescribed production or delivery schedules unless authorized or directed to do so by the War Production Board.

(e) Ninety-day exemption of Army, Navy and Maritime Commission. Until ninety days after July 10, 1942, this order shall not apply to deliveries to and for the use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration to the extent that industrial power trucks of a design or structure prohibited by the terms of this order are required by any applicable specifications of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration. As used in this paragraph, the terms "Army," "Navy," "Maritime Commission," and "War Shipping Administration" shall not include any privately operated plant or shipyard, financed or controlled by any of those agencies, or operated on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and as amended from time to time.

(2) Existing contracts. Fulfillment of contracts in violation of this order is prohibited regardless of whether such contracts are entered into before or after July 10, 1942. No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for default, under any contract or order, which shall result directly or indirectly from his compliance with the terms of this order.

(3) [Revoked July 10, 1943.]

(4) [Revoked July 10, 1943.]

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

(6) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(7) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C.; Ref.: L–112.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

PART 1210—INDUSTRIAL POWER TRUCKS

[Supplementary Limitation Order L–112–a as Amended July 10, 1943]

Section 1210.2 Supplementary Limitation Order L–112–a, as heretofore amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

In accordance with the provisions of § 1210.1 General Limitation Order L–112, which the following order supplements: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1210.2 Supplementary Limitation Order L–112–a—(a) Approved standard models. Pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of Limitation Order L–112, approved standard models of industrial power trucks for each manufacturer named in this supplementary order shall be those models listed below for such manufacturer: Provided, however, That notwithstanding any other provision of Limitation Order L–112, as supplemented, no such model shall be manufactured which is not produced in accordance with the following restrictions:

(1) No such model shall be manufactured in more than one size of platform width and length, nor shall any such model contain battery boxes built to accommodate larger capacity batteries than the manufacturer's standard battery for the model; and

(2) No fork truck (other than Army or Navy Ordnance models) having a load capacity rated at less than ten thousand (10,000) pounds shall be manufactured which is not (i) of the tilting, telescopic type and having a standard minimum overall height not in excess of eighty-three (83) inches, and a standard maximum lift height, adopted for such model of fork truck by the manufacturer thereof, except that if any such model of fork truck has a rated load capacity for which one or more alternative (in addition to standard) maximum lift heights are shown in Table I below, then such model of fork truck may also be manufactured with any maximum lift height thus shown and with a standard minimum overall height which may be in excess of eighty-three (83) inches, adopted for such fork trucks by the manufacturer; and (ii) equipped with a standard fork of the length designated in Table I for trucks of such capacity (but this restriction shall not be deemed to prohibit the furnishing of separate fork extensions):

TABLE I

Rated load capacity	Maximum lift height	Fork length
2,000 lb	Standard	30"
3,000 lb	Standard or 144"	36"
4,000 lb	Standard or 144"	36"
6,000 lb	Standard, 144" or 168"	42"
7,000 lb	Standard or 144"	42"

Any manufacturer who has been engaged, prior to July 10, 1943, in producing fork trucks without standard heights or in heights not permitted by this order, shall determine upon and adopt a standard minimum over-all height and a standard maximum lift height for each of the approved standard models (and for each of the permitted maximum lift heights which he proposes to furnish in any model) being produced by him, in accordance with this order, within ten (10) days after July 20, 1943 (and for any proposed new model which he may propose to manufacture, within ten (10) days after the listing of such model in this order as an approved standard model); and such manufacturer shall not thereafter commence the manufacture of any model which is not produced in accordance with the standard heights so adopted by him.

PART 3037—ELECTRIC FUSES

[Interpretation 1 to General Limitation Order L–161]

The following interpretation is hereby issued with respect to § 3008.1, Limitation Order L–161:

Paragraph (b) (2) of Order L–161 prohibits the use, in the assembly of an electric fuse or a component part of an electric fuse, of any copper or copper base alloy, except as a conductor of electric current. Questions have arisen as to whether the following parts of a renewable electric fuse are conductors of electric current:

(1) A metal exterior threaded end attached to the fibre of a renewable electric fuse tube; and

(2) A washer used to hold the fuse link in a renewable electric fuse.

The successful operation of the fuse does not depend upon the current carrying ability of such metal ends and washers. The metal ends and washers come in contact with the current carrying part of the fuse and have an electrical potential present, but they do not carry or conduct the current. Therefore, the use of copper or copper base alloy in any metal exterior threaded end attached to the fibre of a renewable electric fuse tube and in a washer used to hold the fuse link of a renewable fuse is prohibited.

PART 3087—ELECTRICAL INDICATING INSTRUMENTS

[Interpretation 1 of Limitation Order L–203]

Paragraph (a) (4) (iv) of Limitation Order L–203 defines an "approved order" as including: "Any order for less than 500 identical electrical indicating instruments which conform to approved United States Army or Navy specifications specified on the order". This means specified by the Army or Navy. This may occur on direct Army or Navy procurements, or in respect to purchase orders for instruments which are ultimately for the account of the Army or Navy—e. g., Instruments to be installed as components in an end product being manufactured under an Army or Navy prime contract which requires that instruments going into that end product conform to Army or Navy specifications.

The end use of the instruments must be for the account of the Army or Navy. The provision does not mean, therefore, that any person may make any purchase order an "approved order" merely by specifying Army or Navy specifications thereon. The provision applies only to purchase orders placed by or for the ultimate account of the Army or Navy, where the Army or Navy has prescribed the specification in the first instance.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

PART 3118—CONSUMERS' GOODS INVENTORIES

[Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L–219 as Amended July 10, 1943 [1]]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of consumers' goods for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order, limiting consumers' goods receipts and providing for inventory reports, is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3118.1 Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L–219—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Consumers' goods" means goods suitable in form and type for sale to individual ultimate consumers for personal or household use, including but not limited to goods on List B, attached to Order L–219. Consumers' goods do not include producers' goods such as farm implements, goods used in rendering personal services such as shoe repairing, or goods sold for consumption on the vendor's premises such as fountain and restaurant fare. Consumers' goods shall not include any food or beverage for human or animal consumption, or any fuel oil, gasoline, motor oil, grease, or allied petroleum products.

(2) "Mercantile inventory" means the stock of consumers' goods held for sale by a person engaged in marketing such goods, including goods he has purchased for resale, goods he has manufactured for sale, stock consigned to him for sale, and stocks held by him on memorandum for sale.

(i) Mercantile inventory shall not include factory inventory. "Factory inventory" is an inventory of consumers' goods which are stored by the manufacturer of such goods at, or in the immediate vicinity of the place where their manufacture was completed, and which are not being offered for sale to individual ultimate consumers, or to independent dealers who sell to individual ultimate consumers, and who in most instances carry in stock less than $200 worth of consumers' goods of all kinds, at cost value. Nothing contained in this subparagraph shall be construed as indicating that such independent dealers are controlled merchants.

(ii) Stocks on consignment or on memorandum for sale are to be included in the inventory of the person actually holding them for sale, and in such case are to be excluded from the inventory of the owner. Stocks on consignment or on memorandum to a person not holding them for sale are to be included in the inventory of the owner.

(iii) Goods in transit may be either included in or excluded from inventory: Provided, That in all computations, records, reports, and other matters pursuant to this order, they are consistently treated by the merchant in accordance with his prior accounting or income tax return practice. Goods shall cease to be considered in transit not later than one business day after they are delivered to a merchant on his premises, to his warehouse, or to a commercial warehouse for his account; except that dutiable imported consumers' goods may be considered in transit until the import duty is paid.

(iv) Goods are held for sale and are considered as part of "inventory" even though they are not currently offered for sale, but are stored in a warehouse or elsewhere, with a view to sale at some future time, e. g., seasonal goods during the off season and goods held for speculative purposes. Goods held on the "layaway" plan pending payment of the purchase price may be included in or excluded from inventory: Provided, That in all computations, records, reports and other matters pursuant to this order, they are consistently treated by the merchant in accordance with his prior accounting or income tax practice.

(3) "Merchant" means any person engaged in retailing, wholesaling, jobbing or otherwise marketing consumers' goods, either of his own or another's manufacture, who maintains a mercantile inventory.

(4) "Controlled merchant" means any merchant, not in any of the exempt categories established by paragraph (b), who:

(i) On or after November 30, 1942, either had a mercantile inventory of consumers' goods having a cost value of $50,000 or more at the beginning of any quarter of his federal income tax years, or, during the twelve months preceding the beginning of any quarter of his federal income tax years, had net sales of consumers' goods of $200,000 or more.

(ii) Any merchant who is or becomes a "controlled merchant" within the foregoing definition shall cease to be a "controlled merchant" if, at the beginning of each of any four consecutive quarters thereafter, his mercantile inventory has a cost value of less than $50,000 and in addition, he has failed during the preceding twelve months to make net sales of consumers' goods of $200,000.

(5) "Net sales" means the amount of a merchant's gross sales of goods in dollars, including sales of goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customer, less all returns, allowances, rebates, discounts and other proper deductions. In the case of a merchant who is also engaged in manufacturing, his net sales shall not include any sales made, as a manufacturer, out of his factory inventory.

(6) "Cost value" or "cost" of goods received, sold or in inventory means the value in dollars of such goods computed by any single method of valuation which the merchant uses consistently and which meets the requirements of generally accepted accounting practice for determining the asset value of goods, e. g., income tax practice. Goods held for sale on consignment and on memorandum are to be valued at not less than the amount which the person holding them for sale would be obligated to remit to the owner if all of them were sold. Incoming transportation costs and workroom charges shall also be included in the value of goods on consignment or on memorandum if they are included in the cost value of comparable purchased goods in the inventory of the person holding them for sale. Retail merchants who consistently employ what is known as the "retail method" of pricing inventories may reduce their inventories to cost by the method prescribed for federal income tax purposes.

(7) "Inventory year" of a merchant means the recurrent twelve calendar month period beginning either December 1, January 1, or February 1, of each year, whichever corresponds with the beginning date of a quarter of his federal income tax year. An inventory year is designated by the number of the calendar year in which most of its months fall. For example, whichever of the inventory years commencing December 1, 1942, January 1, 1943, and February 1, 1943, is selected by a merchant, is his 1943 inventory year within the meaning of this order. Each inventory year shall consist of four "quarterly periods" of three calendar months each, except for the following options: Any merchant who keeps his books of account on the basis of an annual fiscal period divided into four periods of thirteen weeks each may adopt an inventory year of four thirteen-week "quarterly periods", each divided into a four-week "month", a five-week "month" and a four-week "month", in that order. Any merchant who keeps his books of account on the basis of an annual fiscal period divided into thirteen periods of four weeks each may adopt an inventory year of four "quarterly periods", in which the first "quarterly period" shall consist of sixteen weeks, divided into a five-week "month", a six-week "month" and a five-week "month", in that order, and the second, third and fourth "quarterly periods" shall each consist of twelve weeks, divided into three four-week "months". Any merchant who keeps his accounts on the basis of either of these types of fiscal year may use a date other than December 1, January 1, or February 1 as the first day of his inventory year: Provided, That the date selected is as near as possible to that beginning date of a quarter of his federal income tax year which falls nearest one of those three dates.

(8) "Base period" means a period of three inventory years, commencing with the beginning date of the merchant's 1939 inventory year. Ordinarily, this date will be December 1, 1938, January 1, 1939, or February 1, 1939. Any controlled merchant who lacks records for part or all of the base period so computed shall use as his special base period all the complete consecutive quarterly periods between December 1, 1938, and February 1, 1942, for which he has records. If the number of such quarterly periods is less than four, additional periods shall be taken from his 1942 inventory year sufficient to complete a single year. This treatment of inventory and sales data for such special base period shall conform as strictly as possible to the treatment of inventory and sales data for the base period prescribed in Appendix A attached to Order L-219. If a going business has changed owners since the commencement of the period which, but for such change, would have been its base period, and if the current owner possesses or can obtain the necessary data concerning his predecessor's operations, he shall compute the normal inventory of such business as if he had been its owner throughout. A controlled merchant who is unable to establish a base period, including 1942, of at least four consecutive quarterly periods, shall apply to the War Production Board for instructions, stating his monthly sales and inventories.

(9) "Normal inventory" means a mercantile inventory at the beginning of a quarterly period with a cost value no larger in relation to a merchant's projected sales during that quarterly period than he would carry at the beginning of that quarterly period when following his normal base period merchandising practices. In no event shall the normal inventory figure used by a merchant in determining his inventory limit exceed a figure correctly computed from his past inventory and sales experience by the method described and illustrated in Appendix A attached to Order L-219, and employed on Forms PD-689 and PD-690.

(10) "Normal receipts" as used in paragraphs (d), means the dollar amount of consumers' goods at cost value which a merchant will need during any quarterly period to complete his anticipated sales during that quarterly period and to begin his next succeeding quarterly period with his normal inventory, less the cost value of the mercantile inventory which he has at the beginning of the quarterly period. Except for merchants who elect, under paragraph (l), to use the "retail method", the normal receipts of a merchant shall be a figure correctly computed from the merchant's previous experience with respect to sales and cost of goods sold by the method described and illustrated in Appendices A and C attached to Order L-219 and employed on Form WPB-1621 (formerly Form PD-690). However, if the normal receipts figure thus computed is less than one-third of the cost of goods sold by the merchant during the preceding quarterly period, then he may use as his normal receipts figure an amount not exceeding one-third of the cost of goods sold during the preceding quarterly period.

(i) Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as permitting a merchant whose mercantile inventory at the beginning of any quarterly period is greater than his inventory limit to receive during such quarterly period an amount of consumers' goods in excess of his "allowable receipts" calculated in accordance with paragraph (d).

(11) "Cost of goods sold" means the cost value of goods removed from mercantile inventory by sale, spoilage, shrinkage reserve, consignment to another person or other proper deduction in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice consistently used by the merchant, plus the cost value of goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customers.

(12) "Receipts of consumers' goods" means the cost value of consumers' goods acquired by a merchant by purchase, consignment, memorandum, or otherwise, in such a way and to such an extent that they became part of the merchant's mercantile inventory, plus the cost value of consumers' goods shipped direct from a vendor to the merchant's customers. For the purposes of this order consumers' goods manufactured by a merchant are to be considered receipts by him when they first become part of his mercantile inventory. Examples are:

(i) Consumers' goods become mercantile inventory when they are transferred from factory inventory to a stock-carrying branch warehouse inventory.

(ii) Consumers' goods which are held at or in the immediate vicinity of the place where their manufacture was completed become mercantile inventory when the manufacturer first offers them for sale to individual ultimate consumers or to independent dealers as provided in paragraph (a) (2) (i) of this order.

(13) "Frozen goods" means those consumers' goods in the mercantile inventory of a controlled merchant which he is selling at a substantially less rapid rate than normal, due to governmental regulations which specifically restrict the sale of those consumers' goods, such as typewriters and automobile tires, to preferred classes of persons based upon special need.

(14) "Footwear", as used in paragraphs (b) (4) and (i) (2), means the following items, regardless of the materials of which they are made: all types of shoes, including athletic shoes, slippers, moccasins, sandals, rubbers, rubber boots, sneakers, waders, arctics, overshoes, galoshes, and the like. "Footwear" does not include hosiery, leggings, or spats.

(b) Exemption of certain types of business. The provisions of paragraph (d) and paragraph (e) of this order shall not apply to any merchant in any of the following exempt categories.

(1) Any merchant more than fifty per cent of whose aggregate net sales of all kinds of goods during his most recently completed inventory year were sales of goods listed on List A.

(2) Any merchant engaged in retailing, wholesaling, jobbing, or otherwise marketing consumers' goods entirely outside the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia.

(3) Any governmental corporation, including any United States Army or Marine Corps post exchange, any United States Navy or Coast Guard ship's service department and any War Shipping Administration training organization ship's service activity.

(4) Any merchant 90% or more of whose aggregate net sales of all kinds of goods during his most recently completed inventory year were sales of footwear.

(c) Calculation of inventory limit. (1) As used in paragraph (d) and paragraph (e), the "inventory limit" of a controlled merchant at the beginning of any quarterly period of his inventory year shall mean his normal inventory as of the beginning of that quarterly period plus the percentage of such normal inventory to which he is entitled as tolerance, computed by the method described and illustrated in Appendix B attached to Order L-219, and employed on Form PD-690. Except for merchants who elect under paragraph (l) to use the "retail method", the percentage of tolerance shall be as follows: With respect to mercantile inventories in the Eastern and Central Time Zones the percentage of tolerance shall be 10% beginning with the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year. With respect to mercantile inventories in the Mountain and Pacific Time Zones the percentage of tolerance shall be 15% beginning with the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year.

(2) The War Production Board may issue specific instructions increasing the normal inventory figure of a controlled merchant. It may also issue specific instructions increasing or decreasing the percentage of tolerance of a controlled merchant. A request for an increased normal inventory figure or an increased percentage of tolerance, or both, may be made by filing Forms WPB-1620, WPB-1621, and WPB-1622 (formerly Forms PD-689, PD-690 and PD-691, respectively), accompanied by a letter in triplicate stating the reasons which he considers warrant such an increase.

(d) Restrictions on receipts of consumers' goods. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (d) (4), (which specifies certain quarterly periods in which the following restrictions do not apply), no controlled merchant whose mercantile inventory at the beginning of any quarterly period of his inventory years is greater than his inventory limit shall have receipts of consumers' goods during the quarterly period which in dollar amount exceed his "allowable receipts". He shall correctly calculate his allowable receipts as follows:

(i) He shall multiply his normal receipts computed as provided in paragraph (a) (10), by the appropriate percentage selected from the following table, in accordance with the method described and illustrated in Appendix E attached to Order L-219, and employed on Form WPB-1621, formerly Form PD-690:

If the merchant's mercantile inventory exceeds his normal inventory by:	His allowable receipts of consumers' goods shall be the following percentage of his normal receipts:
0 to and including 25%	100%
26% to and including 50%	75%
51% to and including 100%	50%
Over 100%	40%

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (d) (4), a controlled merchant whose mercantile inventory is greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period of his inventory years shall not receive more than one-third of his allowable receipts for such quarterly period during the first month of that quarterly period, and he shall not receive more than two-thirds during the first two months of that quarterly period.

(3) The War Production Board may issue specific instructions increasing or decreasing the allowable receipts of a controlled merchant. A request for increased allowable receipts may be made by filing Form WPB-1620, formerly Form PD-689; Form WPB-1621, formerly PD-690; and Form WPB-1622, formerly PD-691, accompanied by a letter in triplicate stating the reasons which he considers warrant such an increase.

(4) With respect to a merchant who became a controlled merchant on or after July 10, 1943, none of the restrictions on receipts referred to in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) shall become effective until the beginning of the fourth quarterly period of his 1943 inventory year. With respect to a merchant who became a controlled merchant prior to July 10, 1943, none of the restrictions on receipts referred to in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) shall apply to the first quarterly period of his 1943 inventory year and until the beginning of the fourth quarterly period of 1943 he shall not be restricted under paragraph (d) (1) to less than 100 per cent of his normal receipts.

(e) Special reports. Whenever a controlled merchant is required to make a report to the War Production Board, as provided in paragraph (e) (1), he shall fill out such report in duplicate, mail one copy to the War Production Board and retain the other copy in his possession.

(1) Any controlled merchant having a mercantile inventory which is greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period of his inventory years, shall make each of the following reports to the War Production Board, except that: If he became a controlled merchant prior to July 10, 1943, he need not make such reports for the first quarterly period of 1943, and if he became a controlled merchant on or after July 10, 1943, he need not make such reports for any quarterly period prior to the fourth quarterly period of 1943.

(i) A report on Form WPB-1621, formerly Form PD-690, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the first month of such quarterly period, together with Form WPB-1620, formerly Form PD-689. (Form WPB-1620, formerly Form PD-689, is to be submitted once only, at the time of the first filing of Form WPB-1621, formerly Form PD-690.)

(ii) A report on Form WPB-1962, formerly Form PD-713, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the second month of such quarterly period.

(iii) A report on Form WPB-1962, formerly Form PD-713, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the third month of such quarterly period.

(iv) A report on Form WPB-1621, formerly PD-690, on or before the twenty-fifth day of the first month of the following quarterly period.

(f) Corporate combinations and similar enterprises—(1) Consolidated inventories and reports. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (g) and (h), every person affected by this order shall, when computing the quantity of his sales, his mercantile inventories, his receipts, and other matters pursuant to this order, include the sales, mercantile inventories, receipts and other matters of all stores, branches, divisions and sections of his enterprise and of any other enterprise under common ownership or control with his enterprise. Moreover, the reports relating to such sales, inventories and other matters shall be consolidated and shall include the sales, inventories and other matters of all branches, divisions, or sections of all enterprises under common ownership or control without regard to corporate or other distinctions between such enterprises. Concessions and leased departments shall be treated as enterprises separate from the business of the merchant whose premises they occupy, unless under common ownership or control with such business.

(2) Intra-company and inter-company sales. In all computations and reports pursuant to this order, transactions within the enterprise of a single person or between stores, branches, divisions or sections of enterprises subject to common ownership or control, shall not be counted as sales or as receipts of goods, even though designated on the books of such enterprise or enterprises as sales or receipts, with the following exceptions:

(i) If one or more establishments, belonging to a group of establishments under common ownership or control, engage in manufacturing and their records are consolidated under this order, the consumers' goods manufactured by such establishments are to be considered receipts (as defined in paragraph (a) (12))

by that group of establishments when such goods first become part of its mercantile inventory.

(ii) If, pursuant to paragraph (g) or paragraph (h), establishments under common ownership or control are treated as separate entities for the purpose of this order, transfers of consumers' goods from one such establishment to another are to be deducted from the mercantile inventory of the transferor, and counted as receipts by the transferee, but the transferor shall not include in his net sales the amount of money, credit or property received in exchange for such goods.

(g) Separate accounting for company stores. (1) If any person, as an incident of his principal business, carries on a business enterprise consisting of one or more company stores, commissaries, industrial stores, or other similar type of business enterprise marketing consumer goods chiefly to the employees of such person and their families, then that person shall determine whether such incidental enterprise is a controlled merchant as defined in paragraph (a) (4) of this order and not exempt under paragraph (b) when separately considered.

(2) If such incidental enterprise is, in itself, a controlled merchant, then, even though the principal business of that person may consist of sales of goods on List A, such person shall keep the records, report the inventories, and restrict the receipts of goods of such incidental enterprise as a separate entity. Such person shall exclude the sales, inventories, and receipts of goods of such incidental enterprise from computations and other matters respecting his principal business.

(h) Separate accounting for ownership groups. If a controlled merchant consists of a number of establishments, each of which would be a controlled merchant if considered separately, which are substantially independent with respect to merchandising, buying, warehousing, selling, advertising, management, and accounting, and in the operation of which the controlled merchant does not practice centralized buying for, centralized storage for, or interchange of stocks among the constituent establishments, such controlled merchant may elect by written notice to the War Production Board, mailed before February 1, 1943, to keep the records, report the inventories, and restrict the receipts of goods of each such constituent establishment as a separate entity.

(i) Segregation of goods—(1) Consumers' goods. Any merchant who is engaged in marketing both consumers' goods and other goods may include such other goods with consumers' goods in calculating inventories, sales, receipts of goods, and all other matters under this order if such other goods are consistently included and if their exclusion would be impracticable. The exclusion of such goods from consumers' goods may be considered impracticable only when such exclusion would require the compilation of data respecting the base period which that merchant does not already have available and which could be compiled, if at all, only by re-examining his original records of sales, purchases and inventories during the base period.

(2) Footwear. On or after June 1, 1943, a controlled merchant who sells footwear, but who is not exempt under paragraph (b) (4), may, except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant, exclude the dollar amount of such footwear in calculating inventories, sales, receipts of goods, and all other matters under this order: Provided, That he makes such exclusion of footwear consistently in his base period and current computations. If it is impracticable for him to make such exclusion of footwear, he may apply, by letter in triplicate, to the War Production Board for instructions, setting forth any method by which he believes such exclusion may be made with reasonable accuracy.

(j) Consistency in accounting. In the valuation of inventories, in the computation of net sales and costs of goods sold, and in all other matters of accounting under this order, unless otherwise specifically authorized by the War Production Board, a merchant must use those accounting methods and figures which are in accordance with his books of account or his income tax returns, which meet the requirements of generally accepted accounting practice for the particular purpose, and which he has consistently employed since the beginning of his base period. If, since that date, there has been a material change or inconsistency in his accounting practice affecting valuation of inventories, computation of his net sales, cost of goods sold, or other matters of accounting under this order, or if his customary accounting methods do not meet the requirements of accepted accounting practice, he shall apply by letter to the War Production Board for specific instructions concerning the adjustments, if any, to be made, stating in such letter the nature of the change or inconsistency, or the variance from accepted practice.

(k) Inter-relation with Suppliers' Inventory Limitation Order L–63. Nothing in this order shall be construed to relieve any person of the duty of complying with § 1046.1, Suppliers' Inventory Limitation Order L–63. Any controlled merchants who market supplies, as defined in Order L–63, and who are not exempt from this order by virtue of paragraph (b) (1), shall not only comply with any restrictions of Order L–63 applicable to their operations but shall also comply with the provisions of this order without distinction between those consumers' goods which are supplies and other consumers' goods.

(l) Optional use of the "retail method." Any retail merchant who employed during his base period what is known as the "retail method" of pricing inventories may elect to value his mercantile inventory and to compute his allowable receipts at retail, rather than at retail reduced to "cost" or "cost value," on the following conditions:

(1) He shall employ a percentage of tolerance two per cent lower than he would otherwise be entitled to use under the provisions of paragraph (c) (1).

(2) He shall consistently value his goods at retail wherever the provisions of this order specify the use of "cost value" or "cost," except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant under paragraph (a) (4).

(ii) [Revoked July 10, 1943]

(m) Special deductions—(1) "Frozen goods." Except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant, a controlled merchant may deduct from the cost value of his mercantile inventory on hand at the beginning of any current quarterly period an amount in dollars equal to either of the following:

(i) The cost value on that date of his mercantile inventory of any kind of "frozen goods" which he has had in his mercantile inventory more than four months, minus the cost value of the "frozen goods" of that kind sold by him during the immediately preceding quarterly period, or

(ii) The appropriate percentage, selected from the list below, of the total cost value of the "frozen goods" in his mercantile inventory at the beginning of the second quarterly period of the 1943 inventory year. Such total cost value shall be determined by a physical count taken at, or as near as possible to the beginning of the second quarterly period of his 1943 inventory year.

Time of deduction	Percentage to be deducted
Beginning 2nd quarterly period 1943	85
Beginning 3rd quarterly period 1943	70
Beginning 4th quarterly period 1943	55
Beginning 1st quarterly period 1944	40
Beginning 2nd quarterly period 1944	25
Beginning 3rd quarterly period 1944	10
Beginning any quarterly period thereafter	No deduction

(2) Notice of "frozen goods" deductions. Any controlled merchant who makes a deduction under either of the foregoing plans shall notify the War Production Board in writing, within twenty-five days after the beginning of the quarterly period, of the plan which he has adopted. A controlled merchant may use either of the two plans, but not both, and having once selected one of the two plans, may not change to the other plan in a subsequent quarterly period.

(3) Military and naval apparel. Except for the purpose of determining whether he is a controlled merchant, a controlled merchant licensed by the United States Army exchange service or by the United States Navy may exclude from his current computations, provided he does so consistently, his current receipts, sales and inventories of those articles of apparel, and only those, bearing the labels "made and sold under the authority of the United States Navy", or labels properly authorized by the Army exchange service, War Department, and prescribed for articles for the regulation Army officers' uniforms.

(n) Special transactions. (1) Any controlled merchant whose receipts are restricted under paragraph (d), but whose actual receipts are not in excess of his allowable receipts, may exchange consumers' goods with other persons without including the goods so acquired in computing his receipts of consumers' goods: Provided, That:

(i) If, during the quarterly period in which the exchange occurs, his monthly or quarterly receipts up to the date of the exchange have been less than his allowable receipts for the period, he shall include in his receipts of consumers' goods for that quarterly period the amount, expressed in dollars, of any consideration which he pays or contracts to pay to the person with whom he makes the exchange to compensate such person for the difference in dollar value between the consumers' goods exchanged, and

(ii) If, during the quarterly period in which the exchange occurs, his monthly or quarterly receipts up to the date of the exchange equal his allowable receipts for the period, he may not deliver consumers' goods less valuable than those he receives in exchange, if the difference between the values of the goods exchanged, expressed in terms of dollars, exceeds five percent (5%) of the dollar value of the goods delivered.

(2) If a merchant whose receipts are restricted under paragraph (d), but whose actual receipts are not in excess of his allowable receipts, transfers any portion of his mercantile inventory by sale (other than by way of exchange) effected outside his ordinary method of doing business, he may, while his receipts continue to be thus restricted, apply to the War Production Board, by letter, in triplicate, for an increase of his allowable receipts to the extent of the amount, expressed in dollars, of the consideration he received from such special sales. In making such application he shall state the dollar amount of such sales for which he has not already been granted increased allowable receipts. In addition, he shall state with respect to each such special sale the date of the sale, the goods sold, the amount, expressed in dollars, of the consideration he received, the purchaser's name, address and field of business operation.

(3) A controlled merchant shall not include in his net sales, to be used in calculating his projected sales during succeeding quarterly periods, the amount of consumers' goods transferred, by exchange or otherwise, to other persons in special transactions effected outside his ordinary method of doing business.

(4) Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit any controlled merchant, whose inventory was not greater than his inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period, from making exchanges of consumers' goods.

NOTE: Paragraphs (3) and (4) redesignated July 10, 1943.

(o) Miscellaneous reports. Merchants shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and answers to questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time request, including reports concerning the sales and inventories of subsidiaries, branches or sales units, or of separate retailing or wholesaling divisions, or of particular departments or lines of merchandise.

(p) Records. (1) Every merchant shall preserve those records concerning his operations necessary to determine whether he is a controlled merchant.

(2) Every controlled merchant shall preserve his records concerning sales and inventories during the base period until further notice. Complete and accurate records kept on Form WPB–1620, formerly PD–689, will satisfy this requirement.

(3) Every controlled merchant shall prepare and preserve for a period of at least two years accurate and complete records concerning his sales, inventories, cost of goods sold, and receipts of goods in such form that the extent of his compliance with this order can readily be ascertained. Complete and accurate records kept on Forms WPB–1620 and WPB–1621, formerly Forms PD–689 and PD–690, respectively, and such other forms as are issued from time to time will satisfy this requirement.

(q) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Appeals. Any person subject to any requirement of this Order, who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional or unreasonable hardship upon him, may appeal by filing Forms WPB–1620, WPB–1621 and WPB–1622, formerly Forms PD–689, PD–690 and PD–691, respectively, accompanied by a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions of this Order from which he appeals, and stating fully the grounds of his appeal.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control or allocation and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports, when ordered to be filed, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be sent to the War Production Board, Wholesale and Retail Trade Division, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y. Ref.: L–219.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

APPENDIX A—COMPUTATION OF A NORMAL INVENTORY

NOTE: Appendix A amended in its entirety July 10, 1943.

1. Computation of the normal quarterly inventory-sales ratio, using the fourth quarterly period ratio as an example.

A. Add the mercantile inventories for the quarterly periods of the base period years corresponding to the quarterly period for which the normal inventory is being computed.

Example.

1939 Beginning 4th quarterly period inventory ..... $------
1940 Beginning 4th quarterly period inventory ..... $------
1941 Beginning 4th quarterly period inventory ..... $------
Total A ..... $------

B. Add the net sales for the quarterly periods of the base period years corresponding to the quarterly period for which the normal inventory is being computed.

Example.

1939 sales 4th quarterly period ..... $------
1940 sales 4th quarterly period ..... $------
1941 sales 4th quarterly period ..... $------
Total B ..... $------

C. Divide Total A by Total B, computing to three decimal places.

$\frac{\text{Total A}}{\text{Total B}}$ = normal inventory-sales ratio for all fourth quarterly periods.

II. Computation of projected sales, using the fourth quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. First, compute the Sales Trend Ratio as follows: Divide the net sales during the second preceding quarterly period by the net sales during the quarterly period of the previous year corresponding to the second preceding quarterly period, computing to three decimal places.

Example.

$\frac{\text{Sales 2nd quarterly period 1943}}{\text{Sales 2nd quarterly period 1942}}$ = Sales trend ratio for 4th quarterly period 1943

B. Second, compute the Sales Projection Ratio as follows: (1) If the sales trend ratio is between .900 and 1.100, such ratio is the sales projection ratio to be used in calculating a merchant's projected sales.

Example. If the sales trend ratio is 1.050, the sales projection ratio is also 1.050. If the sales trend ratio is .950, the sales projection ratio is also .950.

(2) If the sales trend ratio is less than .900, determine the sales projection ratio in the following manner:

Add to the sales trend ratio one-half the difference between the sales trend ratio and .900 to obtain the sales projection ratio.

Example. Suppose the sales trend ratio is .784

Sales trend ratio ..... = .784
Add, ½ difference between .900 and the sales trend ratio $\frac{.900-.784}{2}$ ..... = .058
Sales projection ratio for 4th quarterly period 1943 ..... = .842

(3) If the sales trend ratio is greater than 1.100, determine the sales projection ratio in the following manner:

Subtract from the sales trend ratio one-half the difference between the sales trend ratio and 1.100 to obtain the sales projection ratio.

Example. Suppose the sales trend ratio is 1.368.

Sales trend ratio ..... = 1.368
Subtract, ½ Difference between sales trend ratio and 1.100 $\frac{1.368-1.100}{2}$ ..... = .134
Sales projection ratio for 4th quarterly period 1943 ..... = 1.234

C. Third, compute Projected Sales as follows: Multiply the sales projection ratio for the quarterly period by the net sales during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year.

Example. Sales projection ratio 4th quarterly period 1943 × sales 4th quarterly period 1942 = projected sales 4th quarterly period 1943.

III. Computation of the normal inventory, using the fourth quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

Multiply the projected sales during the quarterly period by the normal inventory-sales ratio for that quarterly period.

Example. Projected sales 4th qt. '43 × normal inventory-sales ratio for all 4th qts. = normal inventory beginning 4th qt. '43.

IV. Computation of percentage by which mercantile inventory exceeds normal inventory.

NOTE: This percentage is based on the excess of mercantile inventory over normal inventory, not the excess over inventory limit.

If the mercantile inventory at the beginning of any quarterly period exceeds the normal inventory at the beginning of the same quarterly period, divide the mercantile inventory by the normal inventory, computing to two decimal places. Then subtract 1.00 from the result. Drop the decimal point from the figure thus obtained to secure the percentage by which the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory.

Example. Suppose the mercantile inventory at the beginning of the 4th quarter '43 is $273,124
And the normal inventory at the beginning of the 4th quarter '43 is 198,635
Divide the mercantile inventory 273,124 = 1.375
By the normal inventory 198,635

When, as here, the 3rd decimal is 5 or over, increase the second decimal by 1 ..... 1.38
Subtract 1.00 from the result 1.00
Drop the decimal point from the figure thus obtained ..... .38
Percentage by which the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory at the beginning of the 4th quarter '43 ..... 38%

APPENDIX B—COMPUTATION OF INVENTORY LIMIT

NOTE: Appendix B amended in its entirety July 10, 1943.

1. Computation of the inventory limit using as an example the fourth quarterly period of 1943 of a merchant in the Eastern Time Zone operating on the cost method.

A. Compute the tolerance by multiplying the normal inventory for the beginning of the quarterly period by the appropriate percentage of tolerance.

Example. Normal inventory beginning 4th qt. '43 × .10 = Tolerance beginning 4th qt. '43.

B. Add the tolerance thus secured to the normal inventory.

Example.

Tolerance beginning 4th quarterly period '43 ..... $------
Normal inventory beginning 4th quarterly period '43 ..... $------
Inventory Limit beginning 4th qt. '43 ..... $------

APPENDIX C—COMPUTATION OF NORMAL RECEIPTS AT COST VALUE ON THE BASIS OF PROJECTED SALES

NOTE: Appendix C amended in its entirety July 10, 1943.

I. Computation of the cost of projected sales for a quarterly period, using the fourth quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Divide the cost of goods sold during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year by the net sales during the corresponding quarterly period of the preceding year.

Example. Cost of goods sold 4th qt. '42 ÷ Net Sales 4th qt. '42 = Cost ratio for 4th qt. '43.

B. If such data are not available, use the cost of goods sold and net sales on the most recent federal income tax return.

Example. Cost of goods sold during taxable year 1942 ÷ Net sales during taxable year 1942 = Cost ratio for any qt. of '43.

C. Multiply the projected sales for the quarterly period computed in accordance with Appendix A, by the cost ratio for the quarterly period.

Example. Cost ratio × projected sales 4th qt. '43 = Cost of projected sales for 4th qt. '43.

II. Computation of normal receipts for a quarterly period, using the fourth quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Add the cost of projected sales for the quarterly period to the cost value of a normal inventory at the beginning of the next quarterly period.

Example.

Cost of projected sales 4th qt. '43 ..... $------
Normal inventory beginning 1st qt. '44 ..... $------
Total A ..... $------

B. Subtract from the sum thus secured the mercantile inventory on hand at the beginning of the current quarter.

Total A ..... $------
(Minus) Mercantile inventory beginning 4th qt. '43 ..... $------
Normal receipts during 4th qt. '43 ..... $------

APPENDIX D—COMPUTATION OF NORMAL RECEIPTS AT RETAIL VALUE USING PROJECTED SALES

Note: Appendix D amended in its entirety July 10, 1943.

1. Computation of normal receipts for a quarterly period, using the fourth quarterly period of 1943 as an example.

A. Add the projected sales and the projected markdowns for the quarterly period to the normal inventory at retail value at the beginning of the next quarterly period.

Example.

Projected sales 4th qt. '43 ..... $------
Projected Markdowns at Retail 4th qt. '43 ..... $------
Normal Inventory at Retail Beginning 1st qt. '44 ..... $------
Total A ..... $------

B. Subtract from the sum thus secured the mercantile inventory, at retail, on hand at the beginning of the quarterly period.

Example.

Total A ..... $------
(Minus) Mercantile inventory at retail value beginning 4th qt. '43 ..... $------
Normal Receipts at retail during 4th qt. '43 ..... $------

APPENDIX E—CALCULATION OF ALLOWABLE RECEIPTS

NOTE: Appendix E added July 10, 1943.

1. Every merchant whose receipts during a quarterly period are restricted (see paragraphs (d) and (d) (4) to determine whether your receipts are restricted), shall calculate his allowable receipts for such quarterly period as follows:

A. Calculate the normal inventory, the normal receipts, and the percentage by which the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory according to the instructions in Appendix A, Sections I, II and III, Appendix C, and Appendix A section IV, respectively.

B. Using the table set forth in paragraph (d) (1) (i) of this Order determine the allowable receipts in the manner illustrated below:

1. If the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory by less than 26% of the normal inventory, the merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 100% of his normal receipts figure, i. e., his allowable receipts equal 100% of his normal receipts figure.

Example. A merchant's mercantile inventory is 15% greater than his normal inventory. His normal receipts figure for the quarterly period is $210,000.

Since the percentage of inventory excess is less than 26%, such merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 100% of $210,000 or $210,000, i. e., his allowable receipts equal $210,000.

2. If the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory by more than 25% but less than 51%, the merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 75% of his normal receipts figure, i. e., his allowable receipts equal 75% of his normal receipts figure.

Example. A merchant's mercantile inventory is 35% greater than his normal inventory. His normal receipts figure for the quarterly period is $755,000.

Such merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 75% of $755,000, or $566,250, i. e., his allowable receipts equal $566,250.

3. If the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory by more than 50% but less than 101%, the merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 50% of his normal receipts figure, i. e., his allowable receipts equal 50% of his normal receipts figure.

Example. A merchant's mercantile inventory is 68% greater than his normal inventory. His normal receipts figure for the quarterly period is $175,000.

Such merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 50% of $175,000, or $87,500, i. e., his allowable receipts equal $87,500.

4. If the mercantile inventory exceeds the normal inventory by more than 100%, such merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 40% of his normal receipts figure, i. e., his allowable receipts equal 40% of his normal receipts figure.

Example. A merchant's mercantile inventory is 120% greater than his normal inventory. His normal receipts figure for the quarterly period is $432,000.

Such merchant may receive consumers' goods during the quarterly period not exceeding in dollar amount 40% of $432,000, or $172,800, i. e., his allowable receipts equal $172,800.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Direction 22 to CMP Reg. 1]

SPECIAL ALLOTMENTS

The following direction is hereby issued with respect to § 3175.1, CMP Regulation 1.

(a) Purpose. (1) This direction outlines the way in which a manufacturer of Class A products who does not receive allotments from his customers in time to permit him to make full use of them, may apply for a special allotment.

(2) Special allotments will not be granted except in extraordinary cases of urgent need where a clear showing is made that failure to make the allotment will actually cause an interruption of production to the detriment of the war effort and that the applicant has made a diligent effort to obtain allotments from his customers and has been unable to do so. The showing of these facts must be set up in the letter of transmittal covering the application.

(3) Usually manufacturers applying for a special allotment will be either those who are several steps removed from a prime consumer and where unavoidable delay is involved in passing allotments down or those engaged in long cycle operations whose customers are not able to furnish them with advance allotments.

(4) Special allotments will not be granted to prime consumers.

(b) How to apply for special allotments. Applications for special allotments should be made on Form CMP–4B (revised June 9, 1943). The following variations from the instructions for preparing the form must be observed:

(1) Mark the application "Special Allotment Procedure" in Item 3 of the heading.

(2) Insert in Item 4 of the heading the description of the A product covered by the application.

(3) The applicant must show in Section B his total anticipated production schedule for the Class A product covered by the application to be produced from third and fourth quarter allotments.

(4) The applicant must show in Section C his total requirements during the third and fourth quarters to fill the total anticipated production schedule shown in Section B:

(5) Section D must be filled out in accordance with the instructions.

(6) The applicant must show in Section E the quantity of controlled materials for which a special allotment is required which will be the difference between the quantities shown in Section C and the quantities shown in Section D.

(7) All other information called for on the CMP–4B application, including shipment by preference ratings and Claimant Agencies (Section A), must be given by the applicant. The application should be filed with the War Production Board Ref: Special Allotment Procedure, and must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal explaining fully why the applicant feels he is entitled to special treatment.

(8) In those cases where the applicant has been instructed by a particular Claimant Agency or Industry Division to file an application for a special allotment he should indicate the name of the Claimant Agency or Industry Division in Item 1 of the heading.

(c) Conditions on use of special allotments. Conditions on the use of special allotments will be imposed in the letter of transmittal accompanying Form CMPL–150 on which the special allotment will be made. Among the conditions will be the following:

(1) A consumer receiving a special allotment must not use any allotment received from his customers to purchase controlled materials or Class A products needed in manufacturing the Class A product covered by the special allotment. This restriction applies only to the quarter or quarters covered by the special allotment.

(2) Authorized controlled material orders placed, or allotments made, on the basis of allotments received from customers (including SO orders received) prior to receiving the special allotment need not be changed, but the consumer receiving the special allotment must deduct from it the quantity of such orders and allotments for the same quarter.

(3) A manufacturer receiving a special allotment must not deliver any Class A product made out of controlled materials covered by the allotment to any customer unless the customer furnishes the manufacturer with an allotment and an authorized production schedule.

(4) A consumer receiving a special allotment must, not later than the fifth day of each calendar month following receipt of the special allotment, return to the Claimant Agency or Industry Division making the special allotment all allotments received from his customers for the manufacture of the Class A product covered by the special allotment, and must report allotments received and used prior to receipt of the special allotment. The return of allotments and reports must be made on Form CMP-28.

(d) Confined to third and fourth quarters. This special allotment procedure will be used only for third and fourth quarter allotments.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

[Amdt. 2 to CMP Reg. 5, as Amended May 14, 1943]

Section 3175.5 CMP Regulation No. 5 is amended as follows:

1. By changing the second sentence of paragraph (b) (2) to read as follows:

The terms shall also include such items as hand tools purchased by the employer for sale to his employees for use only in his business, in those cases where they would constitute operating supplies under established accounting practice if issued to employees without charge.

(NOTE: The effect of this amendment is to allow an employer to purchase such items as hand tools for resale to his employees although he has not customarily done so in the past.)

2. By changing "II Radio communications" appearing under the general heading "Conduct of the following businesses or activities" to "I Radio communications."

3. By striking the item "I Analytical, research, testing and control laboratories" appearing under the general heading "Conduct of the following businesses or activities."

4. By adding the item "II Identification plates, emblems, badges, pin tickets and tags." under the general heading "Miscellaneous Products."

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS: SIMPLIFICATION

[Interpretation 1 of Limitation Order L-272 and Schedules Thereto]

The following interpretation is hereby issued with respect to Limitation Order L-272 and schedules thereto:

At several points in the simplification schedules to Limitation Order L-272 the manufacture of instruments of certain types, or special items, features or devices on instruments, is permitted only where required by Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration specifications, as indicated in each instance. For example, Schedule IV, paragraph (b) (4) (ii), requires the elimination of brass cases for gauges, "except where required by Army or Navy specifications". Again, Schedule V, paragraph (b) (3) (i), eliminates the 3½-inch size regulator, "except where required by Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration specifications."

Wherever such a provision appears in the order, or schedules thereto, it means that for the exception to be operative the specification must be required by the named service branch or Federal Agency. To illustrate, a gauge with brass case may be furnished for delivery on a direct Navy procurement, or for delivery on a purchase order for gauges which are ultimately for the account of the Navy (e. g., to be installed as a component in an end product being manufactured under a prime contract of the Navy), provided in either instance that the Navy, in its direct procurement or its prime contract, requires gauges conforming to Navy specifications which prescribe a brass case. The end use of the gauge, or other instrument, must be for the account of the service branch or agency whose required specifications are excepted.

Such an exception does not mean, therefore, that a manufacturer may produce the prohibited instruments or items simply by manufacturing them in conformity with the service or agency specifications mentioned, and thereafter deliver them against any orders. Nor does it mean that any customer may procure such prohibited instruments or items by prescribing the permitted specifications on his order. The exception applies only to manufacture and delivery on orders placed by or for the ultimate account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, where the particular service or agency has actually specified use of the specification in the first instance.

This interpretation applies to all provisions in the several schedules to Limitation Order L-272 which make reference to Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping specifications.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3274—MACHINE TOOLS AND INDUSTRIAL SPECIALTIES [1]

[Limitation Order L-201 as Amended July 10, 1943]

AUTOMOTIVE TIRE CHAINS, TRACTOR TIRE CHAINS, AND CHAIN PARTS

Limitation Order L-201 as amended December 5, 1942 (§ 3274.76)[1] is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

[1] Formerly Part 3078, § 3078.1.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of steel, copper, molybdenum, and other materials required in the production of tire chains, tractor tire chains, chain parts, and emergency unit chains, for use on passenger automobiles and commercial vehicles for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3274.76 Limitation Order L-201—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Tire chain" means a complete metal chain assembly whether or not reinforced, produced for use on a tire of a passenger automobile, farm tractor or a commercial vehicle for the purpose of increasing the traction of the tire.

(2) "Chain parts" means cross chains, locks, hooks, straps, plates, repair links, and side chains, whether or not any of the foregoing are reinforced, produced for use in repairing tire chains.

(3) "Emergency unit chain" means a chain assembly of the strap-on or single-chain type containing not more than two cross-chains per unit.

(4) "Passenger automobile" means any passenger vehicle propelled by an internal combustion engine and having a seating capacity of less than eleven persons.

(5) "Light truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of less than 9,000 pounds, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(6) "Medium and/or heavy motor truck" means a complete motor truck or truck-tractor with a gross vehicle weight rating of 9,000 pounds or more, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, or the chassis therefor.

(7) "Truck trailer" means a complete semi-trailer or full trailer having a load-carrying capacity of 10,000 pounds or more, as authorized by the manufacturer thereof, and designed exclusively for the transportation of property or persons, or the chassis therefor.

(8) "Passenger carrier" means a complete motor coach for passenger transportation having a seating capacity of not less than eleven persons.

(9) "Of-the-highway motor vehicle" means a motor truck, truck-tractor and/or trailer, operating off the public highway, normally on rubber tires and specially designed to transport materials, property, or equipment, on mining, construction, logging or petroleum development projects, or a farm tractor.

(10) "Commercial vehicle" means any light, medium or heavy motor truck, truck-tractor, truck trailer, off-the-highway motor vehicle or passenger carrier.

(11) "Consumer" means the owner or operator of the vehicle for which tire chains, chain parts, or emergency unit chains are required, or the user of such tire chains, chain parts or emergency unit chains, for any other purpose.

(b) Limitations on types and sizes of tire chains, chain parts and emergency unit chains. (1) No producer shall manufacture any tire chains, chain parts or emergency unit chains containing any metal other than low carbon steel, or any tire chains, chain parts or emergency unit chains which are metallically plated.

(2) No producer shall manufacture any tire chains or chain parts except for use on farm tractor tires or on tires of the sizes specified in paragraph (b) (4) below. All chains and chain parts for passenger automobiles or commercial vehicles must be of the types designated A, C, G, and M in Tire Chain Specifications No. 7140, copyrighted by The Chain Institute, Inc., Chicago, Illinois, and published July 1, 1940.

(3) No producer shall manufacture emergency unit chains either of standard weight or reinforced, except for the tire sizes specified in paragraph (b) (4) below.

(4) Tire sizes for which production is authorized shall be limited to the following:

(i) For passenger automobiles: 6.00–16; 6.50–16; 7.00–16; 7.50–16. After August 1, 1943, no producer shall manufacture any tire chains or chain parts for use on tires sized 6.00–16 except of the type known as "6.00–16 light car special."

(ii) For commercial vehicles except farm tractors: 6:50–20/32x6; 7.00–20; 7:50–16; 7.50–17; 7.50–20/34x7; 8:25–20; 9.00–20; 9.75–20.

(iii) For farm tractors: As required.

(c) Production of specially sized equipment. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b) (2), (b) (3), and (b) (4) above, tire chains, chain parts, and emergency unit chains, in types and sizes other than those enumerated respectively in paragraphs (b) (2) and (b) (4), may be produced when specially ordered for delivery by the producer direct to the ultimate consumer.

(d) Limitations on production—(1) For passenger automobiles. Between April 1, 1943, and March 31, 1944, no producer shall use in the production of tire chains, chain parts or emergency unit chains for passenger automobiles more than 16 percent of the total weight of metals contained in all of the tire chains, chain parts, and emergency unit chains (whether for passenger automobiles or commercial vehicles) sold by him during the period beginning April 1, 1941, and ending March 31, 1942: Provided, That not more than 60 percent of the material so authorized may be used in the production of tire chains of the sizes authorized for passenger automobile tires in paragraph (b) (4) (i) of this order, the balance to be used in the production of chain parts or emergency unit chains for passenger automobile tires.

(2) For commercial vehicles. Between April 1, 1943, and March 31, 1944, no producer shall use in the production of tire chains, chain parts, or emergency unit chains for commercial vehicles, more than 24 percent of the total weight of metals contained in all the tire chains, chain parts, and emergency unit chains (whether for passenger automobiles or commercial vehicles) sold by him during the period beginning April 1, 1941, and ending March 31, 1942: Provided, That not more than 60 percent of the material so authorized may be used in the production of tire chains of the sizes authorized for commercial vehicle tires in paragraph (b) (4) (ii) of this order, the balance to be used in the production of chain parts or emergency unit chains for commercial vehicle tires.

(3) For farm tractors. Between April 1, 1943, and March 31, 1944, no producer shall use in the production of tire chains and chain parts for farm tractors more than 50 percent of the total weight of metals contained in all tire chains and chain parts for farm tractors sold by him during the period beginning April 1, 1940, and ending March 31, 1942.

(4) In fixing production quotas as provided for in paragraphs (d) (1), (d) (2), and (d) (3) above, production during the base period on orders for delivery to, or for the account of, persons described in paragraph (e) below shall not be included.

(5) Each producer may schedule production of the quantity of automotive and tractor tire chains and parts which he is allowed to produce by paragraphs (d) (1), (d) (2), and (d) (3) of this order, irrespective of, and without regard to, other orders for chain bearing higher preference ratings: Provided, That the production of automotive and tractor tire chains and parts under this order shall not be permitted:

(i) To delay the production and delivery of any order for chain rated AAA; or

(ii) To delay the production or delivery more than thirty days beyond the required delivery date of any order for chain for delivery to or for the use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration.

(e) Exceptions to applicability of this order. With the exception of the restrictions contained in paragraph (b) (1), the restrictions of this order shall not apply to tire chains, chain parts, or emergency unit chains sold to or produced under contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of:

(1) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, The Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Selective Service System, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Office of Scientific Research and Development, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, and the Treasury Department under Treasury Procurement Supply (TPS) contract.

(2) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom including its dominions, crown colonies and protectorates, and Yugoslavia.

(3) Any contract or purchase order placed by any agency of the United States Government for material or equipment to be delivered to, or for the account of, the government of any country listed above, or any other country, including those in the Western Hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(f) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Communications. All reports, appeals, and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Tools Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-201

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

PART 937—ZINC

[General Preference Order M-11-l as Amended July 12, 1943]

Section 937.13 General Preference Order M-11-l is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 937.13 General Preference Order M-11-l. (a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Zinc dust" means all grades of zinc dust produced from ores, concentrates, metallic zinc, or from scrap, dross, or other primary or secondary material.

(2) "Producer" means any person producing zinc dust and any person who has zinc dust produced for him under a toll agreement.

(3) "Toll agreement" means any agreement by which title to material remains vested in a person other than the one processing the material.

(4) "Dealer" means any person who receives physical delivery of zinc dust and sells or holds the same for resale without change in form.

(c) Restrictions—(1) Deliveries by producers and dealers. No producer shall ship or deliver zinc dust to any person except on presentation by that person of an allocation certificate issued by the War Production Board. Upon accepting an allocation certificate, the producer shall endorse thereon the amounts of zinc dust which he agrees to ship under such certificate in the calendar month covered by the certificate. No producer shall endorse an allocation certificate for zinc dust or make any shipment thereunder if, by so doing, the total endorsements, or shipments, under the certificate will exceed the amounts authorized by such certificate. No dealer shall ship or deliver zinc dust to any person except as provided in paragraph (f) of this order.

(2) Acceptance of deliveries. No person shall accept any delivery of zinc dust from a producer or dealer otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(3) Toll agreements. Unless specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, no person shall produce any zinc dust under any existing or future toll agreement.

(d) Allocation certificates. The War Production Board will issue allocation certificates for zinc dust on or about the first of each month. An allocation certificate will authorize shipments by producers of specified amounts of zinc dust during the calendar month for which it is issued to the holder of the certificate. The certificate must be presented to the producer for endorsement as provided in paragraph (c) (1) of this order. A producer need not accept a new order although supported by an allocation certificate if his entire production for the month is committed under contract and he has reason to believe that other allocation certificates will be presented during the month by the person or persons to whom his production is committed in amounts at least equal to his production. Dealers shall not make any shipment of zinc dust to any person holding an allocation certificate for the applicable month.

(e) Applications for allocation certificates. Any person wishing to apply for an allocation of zinc dust from a producer for any month shall file an application on Form WPB–2020 (PD–755), or such other form as the War Production Board may prescribe, with the War Production Board, Zinc Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–11–l, not later than the fifteenth of the month preceding the month in which the allocation of zinc dust is desired.

(f) Exceptions. Notwithstanding any provisions of this order:

(1) Small order exceptions. Any producer or dealer may ship and deliver zinc dust to any other person without an allocation certificate for the zinc dust: Provided, That such other person shall certify to the producer or dealer in writing at the time of delivery;

(i) That the total amount of zinc dust delivered to such other person from all sources (inclusive of the amount then being delivered) has not exceeded 75 pounds in the month in which delivery is being made;

(ii) That no allocation certificate for zinc dust for that month has been issued to him by the War Production Board; and

(iii) The end use to which the zinc dust is to be put.

(2) Deliveries to Metals Reserve Company. Any person may ship, sell, and deliver zinc dust to the Metals Reserve Company, without an allocation certificate, preference rating or any specific authority from the War Production Board: Provided, however, That such material is purchased for the sole purpose of stockpiling or redistribution.

(3) Special directions. The War Production Board may, from time to time, issue special directions to any person as to the source, destination, or amounts of zinc dust to be shipped and delivered by any producer or dealer or received by any person, and the War Production Board may also specifically direct the manner and quantities in which such zinc dust may be processed.

(4) Zinc dust for export. Zinc dust may be shipped or delivered for export by any producer without an allocation certificate if shipment or delivery is to be made pursuant to an export license duly issued by the Board of Economic Warfare.

(g) Interdepartmental shipments. The provisions of paragraph (c) of this order shall apply not only to shipments and deliveries from one person to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to shipments or deliveries of zinc dust from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(h) Reports. Each producer of zinc dust shall file monthly on Form WPB–2021 (PD–758), or such other form as prescribed by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, a report of his production, shipments and inventory of zinc dust. All producers and users of zinc dust shall file, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, such other reports with the War Production Board at such times and in such manner and form as it may prescribe, showing such information as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(i) Communications. All applications, statements or other communications filed pursuant to this order or concerning the subject matter hereof, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Zinc Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–11–l.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(c) Restrictions on use. No producer, except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board shall use, bottle or barrel for beverage purposes or otherwise allocate or appropriate to such purposes any distilled spirits produced on or after February 20, 1942, or any high wines produced on or after November 1, 1942.

(ii) To store or display such restricted office machinery on the dealer's premises in the United States, its territories and possessions, provided that the restricted office machinery so stored or displayed is in the absolute control and ownership of the manufacturer or delivering dealer and may be removed, transferred or shipped by such manufacturer or delivering dealer at any time in his discretion.

(5) Deliveries under Utilities Order

cally authorized or directed by the War Production Board, no producer shall deliver high wines produced on or after November 1, 1942 to any person for any purpose. No producer shall deliver high wines produced before that date unless all deliveries theretofore directed by the War Production Board shall have been made or provided for.

(3) No person shall accept delivery of distilled spirits or high wines if such person knows or has reason to believe that the said delivery is made in violation of the restrictions of this paragraph (d).

(e) Alterations of existing equipment and facilities. Except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board, no producer whose distillery has equipment and facilities for the production of distilled spirits shall alter such equipment and facilities in any way so as to impair the capacity of such distillery to produce distilled spirits.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of material conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–69, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 108 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1367.26 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given to the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

2. Section 1367.29 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(i) The manufacturer's weighted average landed cost at Puerto Rican port, of each material, such average cost to be calculated as of July 1, October 1, January 1, and April 1, for all of the lots of each material received by him during the quarter-annual period last preceding the date of calculation; or, if none was received in that period, the cost for the latest quarter-annual period in which material was received.

(ii) An additional amount equal to the fertilizer manufacturer's expenditure, if any, for transportation of the nitrogenous fertilizer material within the Territory to the fertilizer manufacturer's plant or warehouse or direct to the buyer's delivery point.

(iii) An additional 50 cents per ton if the nitrogenous fertilizer material is stored in and delivered from the fertilizer manufacturer's plant.

(iv) An additional $1.50 per ton for grinding castor cake or unground fish scrap if such grinding is done by the fertilizer manufacturer.

(v) Plus the actual cost of bags used, and $1.00 per ton when such nitrogenous fertilizer material is received in bulk by the fertilizer manufacturer and resold in bags.

(vi) An additional amount equal to the cost of governmental tax tags, if any, and the attaching thereof, or governmental tonnage or inspection tax, but no license cost or registration fee.

(vii) In addition a maximum margin of: $4.00 per ton if the cost (subdivisions (i) through (vi)) is less than $40.00 per ton; $5.00 per ton if such cost is $40.00 or more but less than $50.00 per ton; $6.00 per ton if such cost is $50.00 or more but less than $60.00 per ton; $7.00 per ton if such cost is $60.00 or more but less than $70.00 per ton; $8.00 per ton if such cost is $70.00 or more per ton.

SECTION 1. Prohibition against dealing in tight cooperage stock and sawed tight cooperage at prices above the maximum. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any tight cooperage stock or sawed tight cooperage, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

SEC. 2. Less than maximum prices. Nothing in this regulation shall prevent the sale of the products covered at less than maximum prices.

SEC. 3. Transactions and products covered—(a) Transactions covered. This regulation covers any and all sales and purchases, whether from a factory, warehouse, or dealer, by any person, whether manufacturer, dealer, wholesaler or user, of any of the products covered by this regulation.

(b) Products covered. The term "tight cooperage stock" as used in this regulation covers all staves, headings, and cooperage dowels both finished and unfinished, including sawed, bucked, rived and split, produced primarily for use in making liquid tight barrels and kegs of a bilged type and all staves and headings produced as a result of such primary production, as defined in the grading rules of the Associated Cooperage Industries of America, Inc., or in this regulation or by general or individual specifications. Coverage is limited to production in the following states: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.

The term "sawed tight cooperage" as used in this regulation covers all barrels and kegs made entirely of sawed staves and headings covered by this regulation; except, however, that barrels and kegs made of stock covered by this regulation and produced in the area west of and including New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and North Dakota shall not be subject to the terms of the regulation.

SEC. 4. Definitions—(a) Sap clear white oak oil grade stock is tight sap oil grade white oak with the sapwood removed.

(b) No. 2 grade stock is of a quality lower than No. 1 grade which can be coopered into a barrel which will hold hot grease. The grading rule oil inspection applies except that the following imperfections are allowed: mold and discoloration if sound; small, sound, tight knots on the quarter; streaks; straight checks that will pull up in coopering; cat faces that do not extend through the piece; a reasonable number of sound worm holes; straight grub holes that can be easily plugged.

(c) No. 3, dog, copper or metal barrel stock is of a quality lower than No. 2 grade. Dead culls are not included, but any stock that can be coopered in the regular manner without breaking is included.

(d) Dead culls include any badly warped or twisted stock; stock which contains dote or rot or any other stock which cannot be coopered.

Article II—Maximum Prices and Terms of Sale

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for tight staves and headings—(a) Factory or mill sales. In direct factory sales, that is, sales made by the producing factory, the maximum prices, f. o. b. mill or railhead, for sawed tight staves and headings are those contained in the Tables II to V, inclusive, of Appendix A. Actual transportation cost may be added for the distance in excess of 25 miles from the mill to the railhead. Except, however:

(1) On shipments of sawed tight staves and/or headings of 6,000 pounds or less from a producing factory, a mark-up of 10 percent may be added to the maximum prices contained in the schedules;

(2) When staves and headings are sawed in the Southern Area and finished in the Upper Area, the maximum price shall be the Upper Area price, or the Southern Area price plus transit freight, whichever is the lower;

(3) When staves and headings are sawed in the Upper Area and finished in the Southern Area, the maximum price shall be the Upper Area price.

(b) Warehouse sales. In warehouse sales the maximum prices for tight staves and headings shall be the maximum f. o. b. producing factory price plus the warehouseman's average percentage mark-up on the same items in March 1942 plus average inbound freight from the producing factory to the warehouse. As used in this regulation a "warehouse sale" is a sale in which shipment or delivery is made from an established storage or distribution place located and operated independently of the producing mill or factory. No shipment from a stave or heading mill or finishing plant may be considered a "warehouse sale".

Average inbound freight is to be weighted by the quantity in the warehouse at the time of making the computation. The average must be figured at least once each month.

As used in this regulation the term "warehouseman" is one who maintains an established storage or distribution place, located and operated independently of a producing mill or factory and from which shipments of cooperage stock are made.

(c) Sales by dealers or merchants. In sales by dealers or merchants the maximum prices for tight staves and/or headings of more than 6,000 pounds shall be the maximum f. o. b. producing factory price contained in the schedule plus a mark-up of 7 percent of the f. o. b. factory price.

On shipments of 6,000 pounds or less a dealer's or merchant's maximum price shall be the maximum f. o. b. producing factory price contained in the schedule plus a mark-up of 7 percent of the f. o. b. factory price. This mark-up is in addition to the 10 percent mark-up provided for such sales in section 5 (a) (1).

As used in this regulation the term "dealer or merchant" is one who, although he does not take actual physical possession, buys, takes title to, resells, and assumes credit risks and responsibility for grade and count. No producer may qualify as a dealer or merchant under this regulation of products which he has produced in the rough.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for tight cooperage—(a) Factory or mill sales. (1) The maximum prices, f. o. b. factory, for sawed tight cooperage covered by this regulation shall be the maximum price in the area where the cooperage plant is located for the finished staves and headings used in the barrel plus the mark-ups shown below plus extra charges for materials and services as specified in Table I of Appendix B. The cooperage allowance for barrels of 30 gallons or over shall be the mark-up shown below or $1.60, whichever is greater.

PERCENTAGE MARK-UPS ON BARRELS

Bourbon barrels. The mark-up shall be 50% of the maximum price of the staves and headings used in the barrel.

Barrels of grades over sap clear oil grade and under bourbon. The mark-up shall be 65% of the maximum price of sap clear oil grade staves and headings.

Barrels of sap clear oil grade and under. The mark-up shall be 65% of the maximum price of the No. 1 grade in the type and species used.

Barrels with single or loose wood heads or heads other than wood. The mark-up over actual material cost shall be the same as shown for standard two crozed head barrels.

(2) Cooperage producers located in the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin shall use the maximum prices of staves and headings in the Upper Area for the purpose of computing cooperage prices under paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(b) Warehouse sales. In warehouse sales the maximum prices for tight cooperage covered by this regulation shall be the maximum f. o. b. producing factory price plus the warehouseman's average percentage mark-up in March 1942 plus average inbound freight actually paid or incurred by the warehouseman (computed in accordance with section 5 (b)). A warehouse sale is defined in section 5 (b).

(c) Sales by dealers or merchants. In sales by dealers or merchants the maximum prices for sawed tight cooperage covered by this regulation shall be the maximum f. o. b. producing factory price plus the seller's average percentage mark-up on such sales in March 1942. Sales by dealers or merchants are defined in section 5 (c).

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for cooperage dowels. The maximum prices f. o. b. factory, for cooperage dowels are those contained in Table VI of Appendix A.

SEC. 8. Products not specifically priced. Tight cooperage and cooperage stock not specifically priced in this regulation are nevertheless covered by the regulation. Any person desiring to sell on the domestic market any product covered by the regulation for which he cannot determine a f. o. b. mill price under the regulation shall make application to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a price. The application must contain a complete description of the product to be priced, the applicant's March 1942 selling price of the product if he sold such product at that time, his requested selling price and his method of arriving at this price. Products may be sold and delivered at the requested selling price, pending approval of a price by this Office subject, however, to adjustment to the price finally approved. Prices not disapproved within 20 days from the receipt of application are approved until specifically revoked.

SEC. 9. Delivered prices. If delivery is by common carrier the actual transportation costs paid or incurred by the seller may be added to the basic maximum prices. If shipment is by truck, owned or controlled by the seller, actual transportation costs may be added to the basic maximum prices. Such transportation cost may not exceed 80% of the common carrier charge for the same shipment. This provision is subject to the exception contained in section 5 (a) regarding free delivery of staves and headings from mill to railhead located within 25 miles of the mill.

SEC. 10. Prohibited practices. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in discount practices, devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums; special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings and the like.

Article III—Miscellaneous

SEC. 11. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 12. Application for adjustment or petition for amendment—(a) Government contracts. The term "government contracts" is here used to include any contract with the United States or any of its agencies, or with the government or any governmental agency of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States". It also includes any subcontract under this kind of contract. Any person who has made or intends to make a "government contract" and who thinks that a maximum price established in this regulation is impeding or threatening production of products which are essential to the war program and which are or will be the subject of the contract, may file an application for adjustment in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 6,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 13. Records. All person making sales covered by this regulation must keep records which will show a complete description of the products sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the transaction, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for two years for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 14. Registration and licensing. A license is necessary to make sales of the commodities or to provide the services for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. Licenses are automatically granted to all producers making sales. Registration may later be required. Persons desiring to sell as warehousemen, dealers or merchants must file their qualifications with the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 30 days from the date of issuance of the regulation and be specifically licensed. Licenses will be granted by letter to warehousemen, dealers or merchants who qualify under the definitions set forth in the regulation. Licenses may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity which sellers are licensed to sell, and persons whose licenses are suspended may not sell any of such commodities during the period of suspension.

SEC. 15. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

SEC. 16. Relation to other regulations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation.[3] Any sale or delivery covered by this Maximum Price Regulation is not subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[4] The maximum prices for export sales of tight cooperage and cooperage stock are governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 17. Appendix A: Basic maximum prices for sawed tight cooperage stock. The maximum prices, f. o. b. mill or railhead, for sawed tight cooperage stock are those shown in the following tables:

(2) On and after the date any commodity becomes subject to this regulation, every person offering to sell any such commodity at retail shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. The maximum prices may be marked on the commodities themselves or may be posted at the place in the establishment where the commodities are offered for sale, and may be posted by price lines if the selling price of each commodity is marked thereon. The maximum prices shall be indicated in the form of "Ceiling price $_____", or "Our ceiling $_____", and "Our selling price $_____".

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or of any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration are urged to communicate with the nearest office of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) The registration and licensing provisions of Sections 15 and 16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation [1] are herein made applicable to every person selling, at wholesale or retail, any commodity for which a maximum price is now, or may hereafter, be established by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183, or by any amendment thereto. The General Maximum Price Regulation in effect, therefore, provides that a license is necessary for persons to make wholesale or retail sales of commodities as defined and covered by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183. The provisions of this regulation shall be deemed to be incorporated in the license hereby granted, and any violation of any provision so incorporated shall be a violation of the provisions of said license. A license is automatically granted to all such sellers making these sales. It is not necessary to apply specially for the license, but a registration may later be required. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, sets forth the circumstances under which licenses may be suspended. The license cannot, of course, be transferred.

SEC. 14. Penalties. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, proceedings for suspension of licenses and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

SEC. 15. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1: Provided, however, That any such petition shall be filed with the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Puerto Rico at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

SEC. 16. Applications for adjustment. (a) Any seller or group of sellers who finds that the maximum price of a commodity established for him under the provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 or any order issued thereunder is abnormally low:

(1) Because of increased cost of importation resulting from increased rail and ocean freight and increased war risk insurance; or

(2) Because of the high cost of a commodity received by the seller on or before August 1, 1942; and that this abnormality subjects him to substantial hardship, may apply for adjustment of that maximum price. In establishing substantial hardship the applicant shall produce evidence showing the loss suffered on the particular commodity as a result of the maximum prices established and the effect of such loss on his over-all operations.

(b) Any seller or group of sellers may apply for adjustment of a maximum price of a commodity established for him or them by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183, or any order issued thereunder, when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity, which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices for such seller and of like sellers for such commodity or service; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 17. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, except as otherwise provided herein, the term:

(1) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale of a commodity by a person who resells it to any person other than an ultimate consumer and includes any sale to the United States, or any government, or any of its political subdivisions, any religious, educational, or charitable institution for the sick, deaf, blind, disabled, aged or insane, or any school, hospital, library, commercial or industrial user, or any agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Sale at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer.

(3) "To deliver" means to transfer actual possession of the commodity to the purchaser or to any carrier, including a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to the purchaser.

(4) "The direct cost to the importer" means the price which the importer paid for the commodity, less discounts allowed to the importer, plus all costs of shipment actually incurred by the importer, together with customs duties and entry fees: Provided, That, in computing the costs of shipment incurred by the importer, war risk insurance cost shall not exceed the amount represented by the charge for war risk insurance by the War Shipping Administration on an identical shipment; and that the costs of shipment shall not exceed the costs of a reasonably expeditious shipment, via the most efficient, readily and regular available route and means.

(5) "Importer" means any person in Puerto Rico who is a consignee of a commodity entering into the Territory of Puerto Rico from outside thereof.

(6) "Variety" means a particular brand, grade and style in a container or a particular type and size.

(7) "Records" includes books of account, sales lists, sales slips, orders, vouchers, contracts, receipts, invoices, bills of lading, and other papers and documents.

(8) "Packaged" means packed for sale at retail in a container of any sort, where the packaging has been done before arrival at the point of retail sale.

(9) "Bulk" refers to commodities which are not packaged.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, shall apply to the terms used herein.

TABLE 34.—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR MILK

1. Producers maximum prices for raw or pasteurized milk.

(a) For sales of milk by a producer to a store, the maximum price is the price set forth below for the zone in which the store is located.

Type of milk	Location of store	Maximum price per quart
Raw milk, loose	Zone I	$0.13
Raw milk, loose	Zone II	.11
Raw milk, loose	Zone III	.095
Pasteurized milk, loose	All zones	.13

(b) For sales of raw or pasteurized milk by a producer delivered to a consumer or volume customer, maximum prices for sales by the producer are the same as the maximum price established for sales by distributors to a consumer or volume customer

(c) For sales of milk by a producer to a distributor, the producer's maximum price shall be a weighted average price computed by the distributor on a monthly basis. Each distributor shall determine the maximum price to be paid to each of its producers at the end of the month on the basis of the total sales made by the distributor during the month. The type of milk, whether raw or pasteurized, whether it is loose or in small containers, and the point of use of the milk are the factors to be used by the distributor in determining the maximum price to be paid to producers. The distributor shall compute monthly the total value of the milk sold by him at the rate of $0.13 per quart for all pasteurized milk, $0.13 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone I, $0.11 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone II, and $0.095 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone III. The distributor shall determine the weighted average price, which represents the maximum price which may be paid to producers, by dividing the total value of the milk sold by him during the month by the total number of quarts sold by him during the month; and in order to arrive at the maximum payment which may be made to each producer, shall multiply the weighted average price by the total number of quarts supplied by each producer.

(d) If, on sales of raw or pasteurized milk, to distributors or stores, the producer supplies a small container the producer's maximum price may be augmented by the following:

Size of container supplied by producer: Maximum additions

Quart	$0.01 per quart.
Pint	.005 per pint.
Half pint	0.00375 per half pint.

(e) Distributors may make cash payments to producers at any time during a month, but such payments shall be subject to settlement at the end of such month by determining the difference between the cash payments and the maximum payments computed by the method set forth above. The cash payments which may be made during the month to each producer shall not exceed the amount computed by multiplying the maximum price per quart in the lowest price zone in which any of the milk sold by the distributor finds its point of use by the total number of quarts sold to the distributor by the producer during the month.

Example: During a given month Producers A, B, C, and D supplied Distributor X with milk in the following amounts:

Producer A— 3,500 quarts, loose.
Producer B— 2,000 quarts, in quart containers.
Producer C— 9,500 quarts, in pint containers.
Producer D— 9,000 quarts, in half pint containers.

24,000 quarts.

In addition to the 24,000 quarts received from these producers, Distributor X sold 1,000 quarts of milk he himself produced. The total number of quarts sold during July by Distributor X was 25,000. Of this total 10,000 quarts was pasteurized so the value of this portion shall be computed at the rate of $0.13 per quart. The point of use of the remaining 15,000 quarts was divided among the Zones as follows:

Zone I, 8,000 quarts (rate of $0.13 per quart).
Zone II, 5,000 quarts (rate of $0.11 per quart).
Zone III, 2,000 quarts (rate of $0.095 per quart).

The method to be used by Distributor X in computing the maximum price per quart of loose milk is set forth in the following table:

Type of milk	Point of use	Number of quarts sold by distributor	Rate	Value, computed by multiplying column 3 by column 4
Raw	Zone I	8,000	$0.13	$1,040.00
Raw	Zone II	5,000	.11	550.00
Raw	Zone III	2,000	.095	190.00
Pasteurized	All zones	10,000	.13	1,300.00
Total number of quarts sold		25,000		[1]3,080.00

[1] Total value.

The weighted average price per quart is determined by dividing the total value by the total number of quarts sold:

3080 / 25000 = .1232 maximum price per quart

Producer A's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

3500 x .095 = $332.50 cash payment
3500 x .1232 = 431.20 total payment

Producer B's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

2000 x .095 = $190.00 cash payment
2000 x .1232 = 246.40
2000 x .01 = 20.00 Maximum addition for quarts container

$266.40 total payment

Producer C's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

9500 x .095 = $902.50 Cash payment
9500 x .0232 = 1170.40
19000 x .005 = 95.00 Maximum addition for pint containers—9,500 quarts equals 19,000 pints

$1265.40 Total payment

Producer D's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

9000 x .095 = $855.00 Cash payment
9000 x .1232 = 1108.80
36000 x .00375 = 135.00 Maximum addition for half pint containers—9,000 quarts equals 36,000 half pints

$1243.80 Total payment

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[MPR 426]

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR TABLE USE, SALES EXCEPT AT RETAIL

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders No. 9250 and 9328, that maximum prices be established for certain sales of fresh fruits and vegetables for table use, except for sales at retail. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representatives of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

The following regulation supersedes Maximum Price Regulation No. 376[1] and establishes maximum prices for the fresh fruits and vegetables now or hereafter specified herein in a manner calculated to promote equitable distribution thereof through normal channels of trade.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders No. 9250 and 9328.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Authority: § 1439.3 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328; 8 F.R. 4681.

Article I—Applicability, Purposes and Definitions

SECTION 1. Commodities covered and operation of this regulation. (a) This regulation covers the fresh fruits and vegetables set forth in the Appendices to Article III, section 15, whether imported or domestic, except when sold for commercial processing.

(b) It is the purpose of this regulation to establish flexible price control for fresh fruits and vegetables (except when sold for commercial processing) in such manner that flat ceiling prices in dollars and cents may be computed and published in each community, or by zones or regions.

(c) For this purpose, this regulation provides either (1) a method for establishing dollar-and-cents ceilings for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables in carlots or trucklots at any wholesale receiving point and in less than carlots or less than trucklots in the markets served from the particular wholesale receiving point, or (2) a method for establishing dollar-and-cents ceilings for sales of fresh fruits and vegetables to retailers and institutional users. Sales by retailers are to be covered by other regulations now in effect, or to be issued.

(d) A general plan is set up by this regulation for establishing ceiling prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. Each fresh fruit and vegetable will be separately considered. Special provisions may be made for particular fresh fruits and vegetables, which do not apply generally. If any special provision is contrary to or inconsistent with any general provision, the special provision shall be controlling. The general provision shall apply to the extent that it is not contrary to or inconsistent with the special provision.

(e) The general plan is to establish maximum prices at certain points or levels in the distribution of fresh fruits and vegetables. The points of control will not necessarily be the same for all commodities. The ceiling prices may differ by season, regions, varieties, grades, or other factors. Ceiling prices or methods of computing ceiling prices for each commodity will be contained in an Appendix specifically covering that commodity. For example, the method for establishing lettuce prices will be found in Appendix A, that for cabbage in Appendix B, and so forth.

(f) Points of control, at which maximum prices are established will generally be one or more of the following:

(1) Carlot or trucklot sales at any wholesale receiving point. A ceiling price is established for sales in carlots, or trucklots at the wholesale receiving point. The ceiling price may be named in dollars and cents, at a particular wholesale receiving point (or by area or region) or a method may be given by which the ceiling price at a particular wholesale receiving point may be computed by adding to a given basing point price the freight from the basing point to the wholesale receiving point. The ceiling price for carlot or trucklot sales at a particular wholesale receiving point is the same regardless of the number and type of prior handlers, regardless of the seller's size or type of operation, and regardless of the purchaser's size or type of operation.

A pool car or pool truck (that is, a car or truck containing one commodity owned by more than one seller or consigned to more than one purchaser) shall be considered a carlot or trucklot.

A "carlot sale" or a "trucklot sale" means a sale of a quantity of fresh fruits or vegetables transported in one car or truck or other conveyance at one time out of which 75% or more by weight is sold to one person. The sale of the remaining quantity to another person or persons may be considered a less-than-carlot sale, or less-than-trucklot sale. The sale of that portion of the fresh fruits or vegetables moving in a mixed carlot or mixed trucklot with another commodity or commodities, must be on the basis of a "carlot sale" or "trucklot sale" if the entire carlot or trucklot or 75% thereof by weight is sold to one person.

It is necessary to compute a ceiling price for carlot or trucklot sales even though no such sales are made at the particular wholesale receiving point because the ceiling prices for carlot or trucklot sales are the base upon which the ceiling prices for less than carlot or less than trucklot sales are computed (See Appendices in Article III, section 15). For instance, there is a carlot rate for lettuce from Salinas, California to Moline, Illinois. However, Moline cannot customarily handle straight cars of lettuce, so it is customary to ship L. C. L. from Chicago, Illinois to Moline. Under the definition of freight contained in section 8 (a) (7), freight in this case would be the customary combination of carlot and less-than-carlot rates. That is, the ceiling price for carlot or trucklot sales in Moline, Illinois is the basing point price at Salinas, plus the freight at the carlot rate to Chicago, plus the freight at the less-than-carlot rate from Chicago to Moline. As another example, there is no carlot rate from Salinas, California to Pueblo, Colorado. However, there is a carlot rate from Salinas to Denver, Colorado and a less-than-carlot rate from Denver to Pueblo. In this case too, a ceiling price for carlot or trucklot sales must be computed for Pueblo. This is the basing point price at Salinas, plus the freight at the carlot rate to Denver, plus the freight at the less than carlot rate from Denver to Pueblo.

(2) Less than carlot or trucklot sales in the market. A ceiling price is established for sales in less than carlots or trucklots in the market. The ceiling price is computed from the carlot or trucklot ceiling price at the particular wholesale receiving point from which the market is served by adding a dollar-and-cent markup. The ceiling price is the same regardless of the number and type of prior handlers, regardless of the seller's size or type of operation, and regardless of the purchaser's size or type of operation.

(3) Sales by commission merchants. If a commission merchant makes a carlot or trucklot sale at a wholesale receiving point, his maximum price for that sale shall be the ceiling price applicable to carlot or trucklot sales at that wholesale receiving point. If a commission merchant makes a less-than-carlot or less-than-trucklot sale, his maximum price for that sale shall be the ceiling price applicable to carlot or trucklot sales at the wholesale receiving point from which he is selling, plus either his usual commission or fee or the markup established for the particular fruit or vegetable, whichever is lower.

(4) Sales to retailers and institutional users. In some cases, ceiling prices are not established for carlot and trucklot sales at the wholesale receiving point or for less-than-carlot and less-than-trucklot sales in the market. In such cases, ceiling prices are established only for sales to retailers and institutional users.

(5) Notification of "net weight". The first person (including a grower) who packs fresh fruits or vegetables in a crate or any other container shall place, in legible printing or writing, the actual "net weight", upon the crate or other container.

(g) Whenever used in this regulation, the terms "ceiling", "ceiling price", and "maximum price" all have the same meaning.

SEC. 2. Adjustment of maximum prices. (a) Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office, may by order adjust downwards the less than carlot or less than trucklot ceiling price established for any market within its jurisdiction either (1) generally or (2) with respect to particular classes of sellers in any case in which it appears that such ceiling price will permit sellers generally or particular classes of sellers to obtain excessive margins. In determining whether or not margins are abnormal or excessive, the appropriate office shall consider margins prevailing in the particular market during the period July 1, 1942 to October 31, 1942, as being normal operating margins.

(b) Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office, may by order adjust upwards the less than carlot or less than trucklot ceiling price established for any market within its jurisdiction either (1) generally or (2) with respect to particular classes of sellers in any case in which it appears that such ceiling price will prevent sellers generally or particular classes of sellers from providing adequate distribution. The appropriate office shall then adjust the ceiling price to provide normal operating margins for sellers necessary to maintain distribution. In determining normal operating margins, the appropriate office shall consider operating margins prevailing in the particular market during the period July 1, 1942 to October 31, 1942, as being normal operating margins.

In instances where there is additional handling outside of the free delivery zone of any intermediate seller at any wholesale receiving point for which a ceiling price is established, any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or such offices as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office, may make an adjustment to include such charges but such adjustment shall not exceed the actual cartage from the wholesale receiving point to the buyer's place of business, at lowest rates for available transportation.

SEC. 3. Types of sales covered. This regulation applies to each of the types of sales specified in the Appendices of Article III, section 15.

SEC. 4. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 8 F.R. 5487.

SEC. 5. Exempt sales. This regulation shall not apply to sales and deliveries at retail.

SEC. 6. Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export the fresh fruits and vegetables covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7. Prohibition against sales above maximum prices. On and after July 20, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver and no person, in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive fresh fruits and vegetables at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

SEC. 8. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Person" includes individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Grower" means a person who produces fresh fruits or vegetables.

(3) "Ultimate consumer" is a person who purchases fresh fruits or vegetables for table use or for home processing. It does include institutional users or procurement agencies of the United States or any State.

(4) "Retailer" means a person, other than an intermediate seller who makes sales and deliveries to ultimate consumers.

(5) "Sales at retail" means sales by retailers to ultimate consumers.

(6) "Intermediate seller" means any person who purchases fresh fruits or vegetables and who resells in less-than-carlot or less-than-truckIot quantities to any person who is not an ultimate consumer.

Allowances for these services are included in the basing point prices. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be added.

(ii) If a shipment is by a carrier for hire other than a common carrier (such as a contract carrier) the amount actually paid to the carrier excluding charges for pre-cooling, icing and other protective services, but not in excess of the maximum charges as determined by the General Maximum Price Regulation, amendments, and supplementary regulations thereto, or such other regulations of the Office of Price Administration as may be applicable to the services of such carrier at the time of movement. The amount of transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be added.

(iii) If a shipment is by a carrier other than described in (i) and (ii) above (such as an unregulated common carrier or a private carrier) the amount actually paid to the carrier excluding charges for pre-cooling, icing and other protective services, but not in excess of an amount computed by applying to the actual weight of the shipment the lowest published rail carload rates between the rail stations nearest to the points of origin and destination. If the shipment is less than 20,000 pounds, an additional charge of 2 cents per 100 pounds may be made, provided that the total charge for a shipment of less than 20,000 pounds shall not exceed the charge for a shipment of 20,000 pounds. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, may be added, if the shipment is subject to that tax.

(8) "Basing point" means a selected point in an area of production designated as a basing point by the Appendices of Article III, section 15, from which freight to the wholesale receiving point is computed for the purposes of calculating a maximum price.

(9) "Basing point price" includes all charges for protective services, including icing, refrigeration and charges under appropriate railroad refrigeration rules such as rules 240, 242, 247, etc. It includes all charges except freight as defined in this regulation.

(10) "Net weight" means the actual weight of fresh fruits or vegetables without including the weight of the container or ice.

(11) "Records" means books of account, ledgers, sales and price lists, sales slips, receipts, invoices, bills of lading and other papers and documents.

(12) "Wholesale receiving point" means any place at which an intermediate seller receives fresh fruits or vegetables.

(13) "Market" means any area in which intermediate sellers sell fresh fruits and vegetables received at a particular wholesale receiving point.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in Section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

Article II—Enforcement Provisions and Miscellaneous Provisions

SEC. 9. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 10. Relationship between this regulation, Maximum Price Regulation No. 376 and the General Maximum Price Regulation.[3] (a) The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 376 with respect to the fresh fruits and vegetables now or hereafter specified herein. However, the following provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as any amendment thereto shall be applicable to every fresh fruit and vegetable sale covered by this regulation:

(1) Current records (§ 1499.12).

(2) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).

SEC. 11. Evasion. The price limitations which are set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to fresh fruits or vegetables alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation or any other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 12. Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking a modification of this regulation may file a petition therefor in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 13. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action to be taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any officer of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

SEC. 14. Records. (a) Every person subject to this regulation shall, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his records, including invoices, sales tickets, cash receipts, or other written evidences of sale or delivery which relate to the prices charged pursuant to the provisions of this regulation.

(b) Every person subject to this regulation shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charges for fresh fruits and vegetables after the effective date of this regulation and in addition as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices for these commodities.

Explanations and examples of operation of regulation. (1) Iceberg lettuce in an L. A. crate if the net weight is 60 pounds or more, shall be sold under the provisions applicable to Item No. 1 in paragraph (a) of this section. If the net weight of iceberg lettuce in an L. A. crate is less than 60 pounds, or if it is sold in any other type of container, it shall be sold under the provisions applicable to Item No. 2. The provisions of Item No. 2 shall apply to all sales of lettuce in any type of container except hothouse lettuce and except iceberg lettuce in L. A. crates with a net weight of 60 pounds or more. Hothouse lettuce in any type of container shall be sold under the provisions of Item No. 3 and shall be marked as hothouse lettuce upon the container.

(2) Examples:

(i) Example 1. The maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales at Chicago, Illinois, for iceberg lettuce in L. A. crates (5 dozen, net weight 62 pounds) shall be determined as follows:

Basing point price (includes charges for all protective services, additional freight for ice, etc.)	$3.25
Freight from Salinas, California (basing point to Chicago, Illinois, market)	1.12
Maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales	4.37

The maximum price for less than carlot or less than truckIot sales is the maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales ($4.37) plus $.60 or $4.97.

(ii) Example 2. The maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales at Chicago, Illinois, for iceberg lettuce or other lettuce (except hothouse lettuce) packed in 1½ bushel hampers with a net weight of 25 pounds shall be determined as follows:

Maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales for iceberg lettuce in 1½ bushel hampers with a net weight of 25 pounds is $4.37 (Item I, Col. 6) divided by 60, or 7.3 cents per pound, or $1.83 for a hamper containing 25 pounds.

The maximum price for less than carlot or less than truckIot sales is the maximum price per pound for carlot and truckIot sales (7.3 cents, Col. 6) plus 1 cent, or 8.3 cents per pound, multiplied by 25, or $2.08.

(iii) Example 3. The maximum price for carlot or truckIot sales at Chicago, Illinois, for hothouse lettuce in a 10 pound container shall be determined as follows:

Maximum price per pound for carlot or truckIot sales for all lettuce except hothouse lettuce (Item 2, Col. 6) is 7.3 cents.

Plus differential of 8 cents for hothouse lettuce or 15.3 cents;

Or maximum price for 10 pound hamper (10x15.3) or $1.53.

Maximum price for less than carlot or less than truckIot sales is the maximum price per pound for carlot or truckIot sales (15.3 cents, Col. 6) plus 1 cent per pound or 16.3 cents per pound or $1.63 per 10 pound containers.

June	July August	September	October November
Cents per pound 3.0	Cents per pound 3.3	Cents per pound 3.1	Cents per pound 2.5

(4) For sales of carlots or truckIots to retailers and institutional users, the maximum prices per pound shall be .6 cents less than the maximum prices for less than carlot or less than truckIot sales for each of the periods and freight rate classes listed above.

(5) If a grower makes a sale to an ultimate consumer, his maximum price for such sale shall be the ceiling price under paragraph 1 or paragraph 3 of this Appendix for the particular market where such sale is being made by the grower multiplied by 1.40.

(b) Explanation and examples of determining maximum prices under Appendix B. (1) Cabbage of all types, grades, sizes, varieties and in any type of container or in bulk shall be sold under the provisions applicable to Appendix B. Cabbage sold under these provisions shall be "well trimmed" as defined in the United States Department of Agriculture standards for cabbage. The maximum prices established shall apply to sales by any person or persons to retailers and institutional users and are specified on a per pound basis. Maximum prices for sales of cabbage in any container shall be determined by multiplying the "net weight" of cabbage contained in the particular container, and so specified on the crate or other container, by the maximum price per pound for the particular market in which it is being sold.

(2) For the period December 1 to May 31, maximum prices for sales to retailers and institutional users in less than carlots or less than truckIots in a particular market shall be determined by determining the freight rate from the basing point specified for that particular market and finding the maximum price which corresponds to that particular freight rate in Table 1 above.

(i) Example 1. The basing point for Chicago, Illinois, during the months, December to April, is Brownsville, Texas. The freight rate per 100 pounds for cabbage from Brownsville, Texas, to Chicago, Illinois, is $1.02 and falls within the freight rate class, $1.00 to $1.095 as listed in column 1 of Table 1. The maximum price per pound to retailers and institutional users in less than carlots or less than trucklots in Chicago, Illinois, for December, January and February is then 4.4 cents per pound, as found in column 2, corresponding to the freight rate class $1.00–$1.095. For March and April the price in Chicago is 4.7 cents per pound and May, 4.4 cents per pound. The maximum price for a 50 pound sack of cabbage sold to a retailer in less than carlot or less than trucklot quantities in Chicago during December, January and February is 50 x 4.4¢ or $2.20; in March and April 50 x 4.7¢ or $2.35.

(ii) Example 2. The basing point for Atlanta, Georgia, is Belleglade, Florida. The freight rate from Belleglade to Atlanta is $.55 per 100 pounds and falls within the freight rate class of Table 1 of $.50–.595. Thus, the maximum price per pound by any seller to retailers and institutional users in less than carlots or less than trucklots in Atlanta, Georgia, is 3.9 cents for December, January and February, 4.2 cents for March and April and 3.9 cents for May.

(3) For the months June through November the regulation provides maximum prices for sales to retailers and institutional users in less than carlots or less than trucklots for all markets in the United States. There are no basing points. Each market has the same price. For example, as named in Section 3, the maximum price per pound at which any seller can sell to any retailer or institutional user in any market in the United States in less than carlot or less than trucklot quantities during June is 3.6 cents, 3.3 cents in July and August, 3.1 cents in September and 2.9 cents in October and November. Thus, the maximum price of an L. A. crate of cabbage with a net weight of 85 pounds sold to a retailer in less than carlot or less than trucklot quantities in all markets in the United States during July and August is 85 x 3.3 or $2.81.

(4) For sales to retailers or institutional users in carlot or trucklot quantities in Chicago, Illinois, during December, January and February, the maximum price per pound is 4.4 cents (maximum price for less than carlot or trucklot sales) minus .6 cents, or 3.8 cents. Thus the maximum price of a 50 pound sack of cabbage sold to a retailer in carlot or trucklot quantities is 50 x 3.8, or $1.90.

This regulation shall become effective July 20, 1943.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 10th day of July 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[RO 1B]

MILEAGE RATIONING: TIRE REGULATIONS FOR PUERTO RICO

Preamble: This Ration Order 1B for Puerto Rico is issued pursuant to the direction of the Rubber Director to carry out the recommendations of the report of the President's Special Committee to Study the Rubber Situation.

The Committee's report states:

> We are faced with certainties as to demands; with grave insecurity as to supply. Therefore, this Committee conceives its first duty to be the maintenance of a rubber reserve that will keep our armed forces fighting and our essential civilian wheels turning. This can best be done by "bulling through" the present synthetic program and by safeguarding jealously every ounce of rubber in the country.

The Committee points out that the tires on civilian cars have been wearing down at a rate eight times greater than they have been replaced. If this rate were permitted to continue "by far the larger number of cars will be off the road next year and in 1944 there will be all but complete collapse of the 27 million passenger cars in America." The conservation program recommended by the Committee includes "more rubber to those who need it; less to those who don't • • • only actual needs, not fancied wants, can or should be satisfied."

This Ration Order 1B has been geared to the Gasoline Rationing Regulations for Puerto Rico and puts into practice the various recommendations of the Committee. These recommendations include:

1. Immediate institution of a tire replacement and recapping program with the allocation of reclaimed rubber for that purpose.

2. Nation-wide gasoline rationing to hold the average annual mileage to 5,000 miles.

3. Prompt and strict enforcement of a nation-wide speed limit not exceeding thirty-five miles an hour.

4. Compulsory periodic tire inspection.

The Mileage Rationing: Tire Regulations (Ration Order 1B) control the use, care and acquisition of tires, tubes and recapping services for all types and classes of rubber-borne motor vehicles and are adjusted to conform to local transportation conditions in Puerto Rico.

§ 1315.14 Mileage rationing: tire regulations for Puerto Rico. Under the authority vested in the Office of Price Administration and the Price Administrator by War Production Board Directive No. 1, issued January 24, 1942, Supplementary Directive 1–J, as amended, October 27, 1942; Supplementary Directive 1–Q, as amended, February 15, 1943; and Revised General Order No. 20, February 26, 1943, this Ration Order 1B (Mileage Rationing: Tire Regulations for Puerto Rico) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1315.14 issued under Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong., and by Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong. Pub. Law 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719, W. P. B. ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PROVISIONS

Proof of Need and Eligibility

SEC. 2.1 General proof of need. (a) No Board shall grant a certificate authorizing any consumer to acquire a tire, tube, or recapping service, and no consumer shall accept such a certificate, unless the applicant is eligible under either section 2.2, 2.4, or 2.5 and in addition meets each of the following conditions:

(1) Immediate need. That the tire, tube, or recapping service for which application is made is to equip a vehicle held for use and not for resale and is:

(i) To recap a tire which requires recapping or which will require recapping by the date the applicant may reasonably be expected to secure recapping; or

(ii) To replace a tire which cannot be repaired or recapped, or a tube which cannot be repaired; or

(iii) To replace a lost or stolen tire or tube; or

(iv) To equip a vehicle which requires tires or tubes because of alteration or reconstruction; or

(v) To replace a tire or tube delivered as original equipment upon a vehicle, if the tire or tube is not serviceable for the use to which the vehicle is to be put.

(2) No abuse or neglect. That the applicant has not in any manner abused or neglected or permitted to be abused or neglected the tire or tube which he seeks to replace or recap. The Board may consider, among other things, as evidence of tire abuse:

(i) That the vehicle for which a certificate is sought has been operated at a speed in excess of thirty (30) miles per hour; or

(ii) That the tire for which replacement is sought has become unfit for recapping through the fault of the applicant, such as failure to make timely application for recapping service, failure to replace a tire as promptly as possible, or driving for unnecessary purposes or when other means of transportation are available.

(3) Unlawful mileage. That the applicant has not used the tires or tubes which he seeks to replace or recap on a vehicle which has been used for purposes prohibited by Ration Order No. 5E or for mileage in excess of that allowed by Ration Order No. 5E.

(4) Ply construction. That, if the application is for a certificate for a new passenger-type tire of six or more ply construction, the vehicle upon which the tire is to be mounted cannot be operated satisfactorily in the use to which it is to be put with a tire of less than six-ply construction.

(5) No available tire or tube or other vehicle. (i) That the applicant, other than a Federal, Insular, municipal or foreign government or government agency, does not own or control a tire or tube, other than tires or tubes mounted upon vehicles in current use (including one spare for each size wheel per vehicle) which can be used, or repaired for use, in lieu of the tire or tube sought to be replaced or the tire sought to be recapped. In computing the number of tires or tubes owned or controlled, applicant need not include tires or tubes reported on OPA Form R–17, R–17 (Revised) or PRR–17, or tires or tubes in a public warehouse and removable only upon certificate.

(ii) That the vehicle for which application is made cannot be replaced by another vehicle owned or operated by, or under the control of the applicant, and which is already equipped with serviceable tires.

(6) Tire inspection. That the applicant has declared all his tires upon a Tire Inspection Record, as required by Ration Order 1B and that the applicant's Tire Inspection Record has been signed by an authorized tire inspector showing that the required tire inspections have been made, and that either the serial number of the tire to be replaced has been entered upon such Record or the applicant has Part D of a certificate authorizing acquisition of such tire. A Board may waive the requirement that the applicant have a Tire Inspection Record showing the required tire inspections if the applicant can establish that serious illness of the applicant or the physical condition or location of the vehicle made it impossible to obtain the required inspections, and if the current inspection shows no evidence of abuse or neglect of any of the tires or tubes upon the vehicle. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to vehicles exempt from maintaining a Tire Inspection Record under section 2.22.

(7) Gasoline ration. That, if application is made to equip a passenger automobile, the applicant has a gasoline ration currently valid under Ration Order No. 5E unless such passenger automobile is not driven by gasoline.

SEC. 2.2 Eligibility of passenger automobile—(a) Reconsideration of gasoline ration. When application is made for a tire, tube, or recapping service for a passenger automobile, the Board shall reconsider the applicant's gasoline ration before passing upon his application. Such reconsideration shall be made as follows:

(1) Basic ration. When only a Basic gasoline ration has been issued for the passenger automobile, the applicant shall set forth in his application for tires, in addition to such other information as may be required, information concerning the uses to be made of the passenger automobile.

(2) Supplemental ration. If the applicant has a current Supplemental ration, the Board shall reconsider the application for such ration for such vehicle, if available at the Board. If such application is not available at the Board, the applicant shall provide such information as to his occupation and mileage requirements as the Board may require.

(3) Fleet ration. When application is made for a tire, tube, or recapping service for a fleet passenger automobile, the Board shall reconsider the application for the current Fleet ration, if available at the Board. If such application is not available at the Board, the applicant shall provide such information as to the use and mileage requirements of such vehicle as the Board may require.

(b) Redetermination of supplemental or fleet ration. If upon reconsideration of the gasoline ration as provided in paragraphs (a) (2) and (a) (3) of this section, the Board finds that the applicant has been granted either a larger or a smaller gasoline ration than he is entitled to under Ration Order No. 5E, or a ration of a class other than to which he is entitled under Ration Order No. 5E, it shall recall excess gasoline coupons or issue an additional or a different gasoline ration for the corrected mileage, if the gasoline ration was issued by such Board. If the gasoline ration was issued by another Board, the corrected mileage shall be certified to such Board: Provided, however, That no gasoline coupons shall be recalled if application is made for a fleet passenger automobile using an interchangeable gasoline ration book, but such mileage redetermination shall be used as the basis for determining whether the applicant is entitled to a Grade I or a Grade III tire.

(c) Eligibility determined on basis of adjusted gasoline ration. When the Board has adjusted an applicant's mileage requirements pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, it shall determine the applicant's eligibility for a tire, tube, or recapping service on the basis of such adjusted mileage, and not on the basis of his former allowed gasoline mileage, in accordance with the following table:

Type of ration	Adjusted monthly mileage	Eligible for tire or recapping	Eligible for tubes
Basic A only	48 miles per month.	None, unless vehicle is used primarily for preferred mileage purposes or in a car-sharing plan and then only recapping with passenger-type camel back.	None, unless vehicle is used primarily for preferred mileage purposes or in a car-sharing plan.
Supplemental B Occupational.	250 miles per month.	Recapping, with passenger-type camelback, if the applicant has a recappable tire carcass, otherwise a 4 ply, Grade III tire.	New or used, at applicant's option.
Supplemental C Preferred.	649 or less miles per month.	Recapping, with passenger-type camelback, if the applicant has a recappable tire carcass, otherwise a 4 ply, Grade III tire.	New or used, at applicant's option.
Supplemental C Preferred.	650 or more miles per month.	Recapping, with passenger-type camelback, if the applicant has a recappable tire carcass; otherwise a Grade I or Grade III tire, at applicant's option.	New or used, at applicant's option.
Fleet passenger and bulk rations.	Adjusted mileage..	According to adjusted mileage for each vehicle.	New or used, at applicant's option.

Provided: That, in applying the mileage requirements stated in this paragraph, mileage allowed on a special ration issued pursuant to Ration Order No. 5E shall not be included.

(d) Exceptions to eligibility, mileage not governing. (1) An applicant may obtain a certificate for any grade of tire or tube if he clearly establishes that he must answer emergency calls which require him to operate a passenger automobile at high rates of speed, and that the vehicle is:

(i) Used exclusively for maintaining fire-fighting services or in investigation or patrolling necessary to the maintenance of public police services; or

(ii) Used for making necessary professional calls by a physician, surgeon, farm veterinarian at agricultural establishments, midwife or public health nurse (but not a private or visiting nurse), licensed as such by the appropriate governmental authorities and regularly rendering necessary professional services of an emergency nature outside his office; or

(iii) Used as an emergency maintenance vehicle by a public utility and is clearly and permanently marked as such.

(2) An applicant whose allowed gasoline mileage would entitle him to a Grade I tire may be limited to a certificate for a Grade III tire if the length of time for which he will need his allowed monthly mileage will be substantially less than the normal life of a Grade I tire.

(3) An applicant who is eligible for recapping service may be issued a certificate for a replacement of the grade set forth in the table in paragraph (c) upon turning in his recappable carcass, only if the Director finds that recapping facilities are unavailable or inadequate.

(4) An applicant for a passenger automobile which is not driven by gasoline or which has been issued a currently valid Non-Highway ration shall be entitled to no better than a Grade III tire, unless the mileage driven in such vehicle constitutes preferred mileage under Ration Order No. 5E and exceeds 649 miles per month.

(2) Importance to war effort, public health, or safety. That the functions to be performed by the use of the tire, tube, or recapping services are essential to the war effort, the public health, safety, or welfare; and

(3) Comparative need. That the issuance of the certificate to the applicant will not deprive other applicants of tires, tubes, or recapping services needed to perform functions deemed by the Board to be more essential to the war effort, public health, safety or welfare than the functions performed by the applicant; and

(4) Recapping if possible. That, if the applicant is seeking to replace a tire, it is not capable of being recapped; and

(5) Passenger-type tires unavailable. That, if application is made for a truck-type tire, a passenger-type tire of suitable size is not available; and

(6) No other vehicle available. That if application is made for a commercial motor vehicle eligible under section 2.4 (a) (List A), all other commercial motor vehicles owned or controlled by the applicant are either eligible under Section 2.4 (a) (List A) or cannot practicably be used to perform the services for which a certificate is sought.

(2) A person who intends in good faith to become a dealer if he, or a person in his employ, has had previous experience in the sales and servicing of tires, possesses facilities and equipment necessary to inspect and service tires properly, and agrees to become a tire inspector.

(3) The Director may refuse to authorize the allotment if granting it would in his judgment defeat or impair the effectiveness or policy of this Ration Order No. 1 B.

SEC. 2.8 Issuance of certificates by the Director. (a) Certificates for tires, tubes or recapping service may be issued by the Director, in his discretion, to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and the law enforcement agencies of the United States, solely for the use of such agencies and for distribution to and use by their officers, agents, or employees in the performance of official duties which depend upon secrecy.

The types of tires and amounts of camelback on the Exchange Certificate shall be computed in accordance with Table II section 2.31 (c). The Parts B surrendered by the dealers and distributors shall thereupon be destroyed.

Application may be made by an agent; but if the agent is not an employee of the applicant, he may sign the application only if the applicant for whom he is acting is physically unable to sign or is outside the Territory of Puerto Rico. No member or employee of the Board to whom application is made and no authorized tire inspector shall act as agent of an applicant. The Board may require that principal and agent, or owner and operator join in an application.

(d) Presentation of Certificate of War Necessity and Certificate of Necessity and Convenience. Any applicant for tires, tubes or recapping service for a commercial motor vehicle shall present to the Board a currently valid Certificate of War Necessity and Certificate of Necessity and Convenience, if required, for such vehicle.

(e) Certification by applicant. The applicant shall, in his application, state the true and complete facts required by the application or the Board to be set forth therein, and shall certify such facts. If an application is made by an agent, both the principal and agent shall be bound by and deemed to have knowledge of all statements set forth in the application.

SEC. 2.10 Filing of application—(a) Tires and tubes for consumers. Applications for certificates authorizing the acquisition of tires, tubes, or recapping service shall be filed with the Board having jurisdiction under section 1.5. A separate application must be filed on OPA Form R–1 (revised) for each vehicle.

SEC. 2.11 Certification by inspector prior to filing of application—(a) Inspection of tires and tubes. No consumer may file an application for a certificate, and no such application shall be considered by a Board, until an inspector, appointed pursuant to section 2.21 (a), has currently inspected the tires or tubes to be replaced or recapped and has executed and signed the "Certification by Inspector" contained in OPA Form R–1 (revised). This paragraph shall not apply when application is made to acquire a tire or tube necessary to equip an altered or reconstructed vehicle or a vehicle not equipped with the number of tires permitted in section 2.1 (e), or to replace a lost or stolen tire or tube.

(b) Thorough inspection required. No inspector may certify any fact concerning the condition of a tire or tube without making a personal and adequate inspection to determine such fact, and no inspector shall certify whether a tire can be recapped unless he removes the tire from the wheel or rim. The Board may in its discretion require an additional inspection and certification by an inspector named by the Board.

(c) No compensation to be paid for inspection. No applicant may pay any compensation for the certification or the inspection required by this Section, except that sums, not in excess of those set forth in the following schedule, may be paid the inspector, or any person, for the service of removing and replacing a tire when such service is necessary for inspection purposes:

Type of tire	Maximum fee
(1) Passenger car tires, each	.40
(2) Small truck tires (7.50–20 or smaller), each	.50
(3) Large truck tires (larger than 7.50–20), each	.75
(4) Additional charge for removing inside dual truck tires (larger than 7.50–20)	.50

SEC. 2.12 Investigation of facts by Boards—(a) Power of the Board. Before issuing a certificate the Board may require such assurances and proof of such facts as it may deem necessary to determine whether an applicant should be issued a certificate. For this purpose the Board may make inquiries and investigations and may require an applicant to appear in person or by agent at the Office of the Board at a designated time and supply such additional evidence and information and furnish such records and affidavits as may relate to the application.

(b) Additional information. If the applicant is applying for tires or tubes to be mounted on a vehicle which has less than the number of tires and tubes permitted by section 2.1 (e) and which he has purchased or contracted to purchase, the Board shall require him to submit together with his application an affidavit from the vendor of the vehicle stating in full the reasons why the vehicle is not equipped with a sufficient number of tires or tubes. The Board must be satisfied from such affidavit before it may grant a certificate that the vendor is not responsible for the lack of a sufficient number of tires or tubes for such vehicle.

SEC. 2.13 Notation of reasons for action. (a) Whenever the Board acts upon an application, it shall note the reasons for its action upon the application. If the application is granted, the number, grade, and type of tires or tubes, or the type of recapping service or camelback shall be noted upon the application.

SEC. 2.15 Certificates non-transferable. (a) No certificate or any part thereof may be transferred except as authorized by Ration Order No. 1B or by the Office of Price Administration, or in exchange for tires, tubes, recapping service or camelback.

SEC. 2.16 Execution and issuance of certificate—(a) Execution of certificates. It shall be the responsibility of the Board, prior to issuing any certificate, to fill in Parts A and B of the certificate setting forth the information required. It shall also be the responsibility of the Board to indicate on Parts C and D of the certificate the number of the Board and its address. No certificate shall be valid unless Part A is signed by the issuing officer of the Board, who may be either a member of the Board or one of its clerks designated to act as issuing officer.

(1) The Board shall indicate on the certificate the tubes or the serial number of the tires to be replaced (including scrap tires or tubes), which the applicant must turn in. If the tire to be replaced is a recappable carcass, the Board shall write on the certificate after the serial number of such tire "recappable carcass."

(i) The applicant shall turn in all tires and tubes to be replaced, except when he is having his tire recapped, or if he can establish that he has no tires or tubes to turn in because he is acquiring a tire or tube necessary to equip a vehicle not equipped with the number of tires or tubes permitted by section 2.1 (e), replacing a lost or stolen tire or tube, or is a government agency forbidden by law to make such disposition.

(2) The Board shall indicate on the certificate the exact number, type, grade, and size of the tires or tubes or the amount and type of recapping service which may be acquired in exchange for the certificate.

(b) Issuance of certificates. When all of the foregoing steps have been taken, the Board shall issue the certificates by delivering or mailing it to the applicant or his agent.

(1) If the certificate to be issued by the Board is for recapping service, the Board shall note on Parts A and B thereof whether the certificate entitles the applicant to truck-type camelback or to passenger-type camelback, as provided in section 2.4 (c), and shall mark Part B thereof "good for implement or tractor tires only."

(2) If the certificate to be issued by the Board is for implement tires, the Board shall mark Part B thereof "good for implement or tractor tires only."

(3) If a consumer desires to obtain tires or tubes stored by him in a public warehouse, he shall inform the Board of this fact, and, if the Board issues a certificate to him, it shall tear off and destroy Part B of such certificate.

(4) By the Director. If the Director issues O. P. A. Form R–2 (Revised) for an allotment of tires or tubes under section 2.7, he shall tear off and destroy parts A and C of such certificate. Parts B and D thereof shall be marked "passenger-type tires only," "passenger-type tubes only," "truck-type tires only," or "truck-type tubes only," as the case may be.

SEC. 2.17 Action by certificate holders—(a) Use of certificate. A certificate properly executed and issued may be used by the person to whom it was issued within the time and for the purpose specified thereon. After the expiration date thereon, the certificate shall be void and the applicant shall surrender it to the issuing Board.

(b) Replaced tires or tubes to be turned in. If the certificate indicates that a tire or tube being replaced must be turned in and does not indicate that such tire is a recappable carcass the applicant shall, before acquiring from a dealer any tire or tube in exchange for the certificate, turn in the tire or tube to be replaced to such dealer, except in the case of purchase by mail. If the applicant acquires a tire or tube by mail, or withdraws it from a public warehouse, he shall within five days thereafter deliver the replaced tire or tube to a dealer. If the tire turned in is a recappable carcass, a dealer who is not a recapper shall transfer such tire to a recapper.

(c) Signing of certificates. The applicant or his agent shall sign and execute the appropriate portions of the certificate in accordance with the instructions thereon, prior to acquiring the tires, tubes or recapping service specified thereon. The same person shall sign Parts B, C and D of O. P. A. Form R–2 (Revised) where the signature of the certificate holder is required. No member or employee of the Board issuing the certificate, no authorized tire inspector, and no dealer shall act as agent of the applicant in signing Parts A, B, C, or D of OPA Form R–2 (Revised).

SEC. 2.18. Action by suppliers—(a) Turn in of tire or tube prerequisite to transfer. If the applicant is required to turn in a tire or tube, no dealer shall transfer any tire or tube pursuant to the certificate until the applicant has turned in to him the tire or tube to be replaced.

(b) Certificate to be completed. No dealer or warehouseman shall transfer tires, tubes or camelback until both he and the applicant have properly signed and executed the certificate in accordance with the instructions thereon.

(c) Delivery pursuant to certificate. If the foregoing requirements have been fulfilled, the dealer or warehouseman to whom the certificate has been surrendered shall deliver to the person indicated thereon, or to his agent, the exact number, type, grade and size of tires or tubes or the type of recapping service or camelback set forth on the certificate.

SEC. 2.19 Splitting of certificates. The holder of a certificate or part of a certificate who is unable to acquire from one supplier all the tires, tubes, recapping service or camelback which he has been authorized to acquire may return the certificate to the issuing Board and the Board shall thereupon cancel the returned certificate and issue as many certificates as are necessary to permit the acquisition of such tires, tubes, recapping service or camelback from several suppliers. In the event that the certificate or part of a certificate was issued by a Board in the Virgin Islands, it may be surrendered by the holder to the Director in San Juan who may issue as many certificates as are necessary.

SEC. 2.20 Revocation of certificates. (a) Any certificates, part of a certificate or authorization issued under Ration Order No. 1B shall be subject to revocation, cancellation, suspension, correction or modification by a Board or other agent designated for this purpose by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 2.21 Revocation of certificates issued by mistake. Any certificate issued to a person not entitled thereto on the basis of the facts stated in the application and which has not been used by the person to whom it was issued, may be revoked by the issuing board and the board may order that such certificate be surrendered to it. If in such case the board finds that the certificate holder is entitled to a tire or tube of a different grade or type, it shall, subject to quota limitations, issue a certificate for such tire or tube in lieu of the certificate revoked.

SEC. 2.22. Revocation of certificate or declaration of ineligibility after hearing. (a) (1) A Board, after hearing, may revoke or cancel any certificate already issued and unused and declare a consumer ineligible to receive a certificate for such period as it may deem appropriate in the public interest and require the surrender to it of certificates already issued pending the determination of the proceedings where a person has violated any of the provisions of ration orders 1B or 5E.

(2) Such order of revocation and declaration of ineligibility shall be made pursuant to the following procedure:

(i) Written notice of the date, time, place and purpose of the hearing and the violation with which he is charged shall be served upon the person (hereinafter called the respondent) against whom the proceedings are instituted at least three days before the date set for the hearing.

If the respondent admits the charge or fails to appear at the hearing, or if the Board determines after hearing that the respondent has committed any of the acts or violations contained in the charge, the Board may by order revoke the certificates issued to him, direct him to surrender such certificates to the Board unless the certificate has been surrendered to a dealer and declare that he shall not be eligible to receive a certificate for such period of time as the Board may deem appropriate in the public interest.

(ii) If a respondent against whom an order has been issued for failure to appear at the hearing shows, within a reasonable time not to exceed five (5) days from the effective date of such order, good cause to the Board for such failure, the Board may set aside such order and grant the respondent a full hearing on the charges made.

(iii) A copy of the order shall be served promptly on the respondent personally or by registered mail, return receipt requested, directed to his last known address, and two copies thereof shall be sent to the territorial office at San Juan. The Board shall fix the effective date of such order except that if it fails to do so such order shall become effective 24 hours after personal service or delivery by mail as evidenced by the return receipt.

(iv) The Board may designate one or more members to perform the functions prescribed in this paragraph. The Board may appoint volunteer hearing officers approved by the Director to conduct hearings pursuant to this section. In matters on which a hearing officer has been appointed, he shall preside at the hearings and make an oral or written report of his findings to the Board, which shall decide the matter.

(b) Any person against whom an order has been issued pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) may within fifteen (15) days after the effective date thereof appeal from such order by filing a statement of objections to the order with the board which issued it. Within three days after the receipt of the statement the board shall forward it, together with a copy of the notice instituting such proceedings, a copy of the record, if any, and a copy of the Board's order to the Hearing Commissioner for Puerto Rico at San Juan. Within five (5) days after receipt of the statement the Hearing Commissioner shall notify the respondent and the Territorial Enforcement Attorney of the time and place set for the hearing. The appeal shall be heard and determined pursuant to the provisions of section 1300.169 of Procedural Regulation 4 and amendments thereto.

Inspection of Tires

SEC. 2.23 Periodic inspection—(a) Vehicles subject to inspection. Every person controlling the use of a passenger automobile or commercial vehicle shall be issued a Tire Inspection Record (OPA Form PR–R–534) executed in accordance with the instructions thereon, and the Part B of which shall be duly certified and filed with the Local Board, and shall have the tires mounted on such vehicle inspected by a tire inspector appointed by the Director upon the recommendation of a Board. The record must be kept with the vehicle when in operation, unless its removal is permitted by Office of Price Administration order or authorization. [Rev. MPR 173]

WHEAT MILL FEEDS

Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 [1] is redesignated Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

Prices of wheat mill feeds previously having been controlled by Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 issued June 30, 1942, this revised regulation seeks to reflect more clearly the differences in prices and transportation costs between areas which have appeared from a more complete study of the industry. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this revised regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

The Administrator has considered all pertinent provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and has complied with all requirements thereof including the provisions of section 3 of this Act, as amended. The action taken in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 is in compliance with Executive Order 9328.

The statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this revised regulation has been simultaneously issued herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

"Bran for human consumption" means the wheat bran which is specially cleaned and prepared for use for human consumption.

"Carload quantity" means a shipment of one or more wheat mill feeds of 60,000 pounds or more.

"Heavy bran flake" means the special wheat product for human consumption which has a substantial quantity of the endosperm clinging to the bran, with the result that the crude fibre content does not exceed 7 percent.

"Jobber" means a person who buys and resells wheat mill feeds to any person other than a feeder or ultimate user without unloading into a warehouse.

"Less than carload quantity" means a quantity of less than 60,000 pounds other than a railroad mixed or pool car shipment.

"Missouri River rate break point" means any city and its switching limits along the Missouri River, Kansas City and northward, at which railroad rates change to proportional rates for eastbound railroad traffic.

"Mixed car shipment" means a shipment in carload quantity to a single buyer composed in part of wheat mill feeds and in part of products other than wheat mill feeds; Provided, That any shipment from a flour mill which contains 30,000 pounds or more of wheat mill feeds shall be considered a carload quantity and only the carload price shall be charged on such mill feed.

"Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any other Government, or any other political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

"Pool car shipment" means a shipment in carload quantity of two or more less-than-carload lots to two or more buyers combined for the purpose of obtaining the carload rate.

(ii) Where the carrier is owned or controlled by the seller, the reasonable value of the transportation in question, not exceeding the common or contract carrier rate, if any, or any maximum price prescribed by the Office of Price Administration for a like service if performed by a person other than the seller.

(iii) Except where loading or unloading charges have heretofore been included in transportation charges, no charges may be included in addition to such transportation charges for the loading or unloading of the commodity.

"Wheat germ oil cake" and "wheat germ oil meal" means the cake and meal secured in the removal of part of the oil from commercial wheat germs and shall contain not less than 29 per cent of protein.

"Wheat mill feeds" means all the products of milling wheat except heavy bran flakes and the following commodities which shall remain subject to the provisions, exceptions, and other terms of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Maximum Price Regulation No. 296 or any other regulation to which they are now so subject.

SEC. 6. Meaning of sale at destinations. This regulation in speaking of sales or purchases at a given destination means that the purchaser shall receive manual delivery of the wheat mill feed in question at that destination. If the wheat mill feed in question is physically located at said destination at the time of sale, and there delivered to said purchaser (sometimes referred to as a sale f. o. b. said destination), the purchaser may thereafter arrange and pay (in addition to the maximum price for the wheat mill feed at said destination) for its transportation elsewhere; and the purchaser may engage the seller as his agent to procure such transportation. If the wheat mill feed in question is not physically located at said destination at the time of the sale, the maximum price shall include and cover all transportation charges required to effectuate such a delivery of said wheat mill feed to the purchaser at said destination. Thus, if the buyer pays the seller the full maximum price, the seller must pay all said transportation charges required to effectuate such a delivery to said purchaser at said destination; and if he does not, he has violated this regulation. If the buyer pays any part of said transportation charges required to effectuate such a delivery as aforesaid, all said transportation charges so paid by the buyer must be deducted from the said maximum price to determine the amount the seller may actually receive in such a case; and if such deduction is not made, there has been a violation of this regulation.

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for sales by retailers of sacked wheat mill feeds. (a) The maximum price for the sale of wheat mill feeds, sacked, by a retailer shall be $4.00 per ton maximum markup over the maximum price which could lawfully have been paid the miller, jobber, or wholesaler for the quantity purchased or delivered by said persons to said retailer at retailer's store or place of sale as the destination as above set forth (from out of which lot the sale or delivery to the retailer's customer is made) plus the transportation charges actually incurred by the said retailer from his said store or place of sale to the destination, that is, his buyer's receiving point.

(b) Paragraph (a) of this section shall have no application to a sale by a miller as a retailer from his mill where the wheat mill feeds in question were produced. For such a sale, the maximum price shall be $1.00 per ton maximum markup for sales in carload quantities and $4.00 per ton maximum markup for sales in less than carload quantities over said miller's maximum price for sales in carload quantities sacked, at said mill where produced as the destination as above set forth, plus transportation charges actually incurred by said seller from his said mill to the destination, that is, his buyer's receiving point.

SEC. 12. Maximum prices for sales of wheat mill feeds shipped in bulk or in buyer's sacks. (a) The maximum price of any seller for the sale of wheat mill feeds in bulk shall be the maximum price in sacks as set forth in this regulation, less the customary differential used for bulk sales on July 3, 1942.

(b) The maximum price of any seller for the sale of wheat mill feeds in buyer's sacks shall be the maximum price in sacks above set forth less the customary differential used for sales in buyer's sacks on July 3, 1942.

SEC. 13. Maximum prices for sales of bran specially prepared as a substrate for growing bacterial cultures. The maximum price for any sale by any person of bran specially selected and prepared for use as a substrate for the growing of bacterial cultures shall be the maximum price for a like sale of wheat mill feeds at a like destination by a miller in carload quantities, sacked, as set forth in section 7 hereof, plus $3.00 per ton.

SEC. 14. Maximum prices for imported wheat mill feeds used in mixed feed. Any person importing wheat mill feeds for use in mixed feed produced by him shall in determining his maximum prices under Maximum Price Regulation 378 on his mixed feed for animals and poultry calculate his "cost" of any wheat mill feeds so imported and used by him at the maximum price thereof to him as if purchased from a domestic miller in carload quantities with his production plant as the destination.

SEC. 15. Maximum prices for export sales. For export shipments the maximum prices shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[2] For the purpose of determining maximum prices in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, the maximum domestic prices shall be the maximum prices for a sale computed hereunder as if the Port of Exit were the destination.

SEC. 16. Transportation rates. Wherever in this revised maximum price regulation wheat mill feed prices are determined by adding a rail transportation charge to a basic price, that rail transportation charge shall be calculated by using the rail rates in effect prior to May 15, 1943, until (a) August 1, 1943, for maximum prices which include a rail transportation charge from Enid, Oklahoma; Kansas City, Missouri; Missouri River Rate break points; Sterling, Colorado; and Ogden, Utah; (b) September 1, 1943, for prices including a rail transportation charge from Minneapolis, Minnesota; Billings or Great Falls, Montana; Spokane, Washington, and Seattle, Washington. Thereafter the rates then applicable shall be used in calculating maximum prices.

SEC. 17. Federal and State taxes including certain licenses or inspection fees. (a) Any tax upon or incident to the sale, delivery, processing or use of wheat mill feeds including license or inspection fees levied on a tonnage basis imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for wheat mill feeds, and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto: if at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing the tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect in addition to the maximum price, the amount of tax or fee actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax or fee paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

(b) This section shall have no application to the 3 per cent transportation tax mentioned in section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 and provided for in section 5 of this regulation.

SEC. 18. Evasive practices. The price limitations set forth in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of or relating to wheat mill feed, alone or in connection with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 20. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

(b) Persons affected by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 shall submit such records to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

SEC. 22. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, licenses suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

This Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 173 shall become effective July 16, 1943.

(1) Such transfers in any of the following classes shall not exceed the applicable stated percentage of the number of pairs of shoes within the same class which the establishment had in its inventory on April 10, 1943 (as reported on OPA Form R–1701) reduced by the number of pairs of shoes within that class which the establishment had in its inventory at the close of business on July 6, 1943 of types which were released from rationing control by Amendment No. 25, to this order.

(5) Shoes so transferred shall be marked "Odd Lot" after the sale to the consumer but before they are removed from the establishment. The mark shall be written or stamped on one shoe of each pair with ink, indelible stamp, or indelible pencil.

(3) Such transfers in any class shall not exceed the maximum amount specified for that class by paragraph (e) (1) above.

(4) The district office, if satisfied that the establishment is eligible, shall issue to it the number of non-rationed stickers, Form R–1711, requested, but not more than the maximum number of pairs of shoes within each class permitted to be transferred by the applicant as non-rationed. The district office (or the applicant if required by the district office) shall write on each sticker the class number for which the sticker may be used, the letters "O. L.", and a code number assigned by the district office. Such stickers shall be affixed to one shoe of each pair before the shoes are offered for sale or transferred as non-rationed shoes. A sticker may be affixed only to a shoe of the same class as that designated on the sticker.

(5) Shoes marked in accordance with this paragraph may be transferred as non-rationed by and to any person at any time on or after July 19, 1943.

(6) The price at which such shoes may be sold to any buyer by the establishment securing the permission to mark them non-rationed may not exceed the price paid for the shoes by the owner of the establishment or, if such price cannot be ascertained or the shoes were made by the owner of the establishment, a price twenty-five percent below the establishment's regular selling price for the shoes on July 1, 1943 to a buyer of the same class. PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR TABLE USE, SALES EXCEPT AT RETAIL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 is amended in the following respects:

1. Appendix C, entitled "Maximum Prices for Fruits and Vegetables Based on Maximum Prices, F. O. B. Country Shipping Point" is added to Article III, section 15, to read as set forth below:

APPENDIX C

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES BASED ON MAXIMUM PRICES F. O. B. COUNTRY SHIPPING POINT

(a) This appendix establishes maximum prices for certain fruits and vegetables, f. o. b. country shipping point. For these commodities, the maximum prices for carlot or truck-lot sales at any wholesale receiving point and the maximum prices for less-than-carlot or less-than-truckiot sales in any market are computed respectively from the maximum price, f. o. b. country shipping point, by the addition of the cost of transportation (including refrigeration and other protective services) and a stipulated dollar-and-cent markup.

(b) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Country shipping point" means a farm or other place in or near the producing area from which fruits and vegetables are sold, shipped, delivered or otherwise transferred to any person, or at which fruits and vegetables are prepared for sale, shipment, delivery, or other transfer to any person. "Prepared" means, for example, loading, sacking, grading, sizing or harvesting.

(2) "Cost of transportation" means:

(i) If shipment is by a common carrier whose maximum rates and charges are regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission or other Federal or State regulatory body, the amount actually paid to the carrier, in conformance with its lawfully established rates and charges, including charges for pre-cooling, icing and other protective or accessorial services actually performed. Any allowance made by the carrier to a shipper or consignee for performing pre-cooling or other services may, nevertheless, be included in "cost of transportation" and may be retained by the person performing the services for which the allowance is made. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be added.

(ii) If shipment is by a carrier for hire othe than a common carrier (such as a contract carrier) the amount actually paid to the carrier but not in excess of the maximum charges as determined by the General Maximum Price Regulation, amendments, and supplementary regulations thereto, or such other regulations of the Office of Price Administration as may be applicable to the services of such carrier at the time of movement. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be added.

(iii) If shipment is by a carrier other than described in (i) and (ii) above (such as an unregulated common carrier or a private carrier) the amount actually paid to the carrier but not in excess of an amount computed by applying to the actual weight of the shipment the lowest published rail carload rate between the rail stations nearest to the points of origin and destination plus rail charges for protective and accessorial services if equivalent services are performed. If the shipment is less than 20,000 pounds, an additional charge of 2 cents per 100 pounds may be made, Provided: That the total charge for a shipment of less than 20,000 shall not exceed the charge for a shipment of 20,000 pounds. In applying rail accessorial and protective charges which are stated in amounts per car, the per car charge may be made against a shipment of 20,000 pounds or more moving in a single conveyance, but only the proportion of such per car charge which the weight of the shipment bears to 20,000 pounds, may be made against a shipment of less than 20,000 pounds. When pre-cooling or icing, not included in the carrier's rates and charges, is performed by or for account of the shipper, the cost of this service, but not to exceed maximum prices prescribed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, may be added. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, may be added, if the shipment is subject to that tax.

(iv) If shipment is by a means owned or controlled by the seller an amount not in excess of the lowest of the rates mentioned in (i), (ii), or (iii) above, available to the seller. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942, may be added if the shipment is subject to that tax.

(c) The first person (including a grower) and every person thereafter who makes sales of any of the fruits or vegetables covered by this Appendix C shall notify his purchaser on his invoice or other written evidence of the sale the exact amount of the "cost of transportation" as defined herein.

(d) The maximum prices for sales of red sour cherries shall be as follows:

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
Maximum prices per pound, f. o. b. country shipping point.	Maximum prices per pound, for carlot or trucklot sales at any wholesale receiving point.	Maximum prices for less than carlot or less than trucklot sales to any person other than ultimate consumers.
10 cents per pound.....	10 cents per pound plus "cost of transportation" as defined above.	10 cents per pound plus "cost of transportation" as defined above, plus 1½ cents per pound.

2. The effective date of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 is amended to read as follows:

This regulation shall become effective July 10, 1943 as to Appendix C of Article III, section 15, and on July 20, 1943 as to Articles I through III except Appendix C of Article III, section 15.

This amendment shall become effective July 10, 1943.

WOOLEN AND WORSTED CIVILIAN APPAREL FABRICS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1410.102a (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The maximum price for a manufacturer's special sales to retail stores shall be the sum of:

(1) The manufacturer's maximum price for sales of the particular fabric to jobbers or cutters, determined pursuant to § 1410.102; plus

(2) The amount resulting from multiplying the maximum price for sales of the fabric to jobbers or cutters by the percentage figure representing the amount by which the manufacturer's average selling price for special sales to retail stores exceeded his average selling price for other sales during the calendar year 1941: Provided, That in no event shall the manufacturer's maximum price for special sales to retail stores exceed his maximum price for sales of the fabric to jobbers or cutters, determined pursuant to § 1410.102, divided by the division factor .85.

The percentage figure representing the amount by which the manufacturer's average selling price for special sales to retail stores exceeded his average selling price for other sales during the calendar year 1941 shall be determined with reference only to those woolen or worsted apparel fabrics of which the manufacturer, during that period, made special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters, and shall be computed in the following manner:

STEP 1: Segregate from total 1941 sales of woolen and worsted apparel fabrics, all sales of those styles of fabrics with respect to which special sales to retail stores as well as sales to jobbers or cutters were made during the calendar year 1941.

STEP 2: Determine the total amount received for each individual style of fabric from special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the number of yards of such style sold in special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 3: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 2 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 4: Determine the total amount received for each individual fabric from sales other than special sales to retail stores during the calendar year 1941 and divide by the total number of yards of such style sold in sales other than special sales to retail stores during that period.

STEP 5: Add together the results obtained by applying Step 4 to each individual style and divide by the total number of individual styles sold.

STEP 6: Subtract the result obtained in Step 5 from the result obtained in Step 3.

STEP 7: Divide the result obtained in Step 6 by the result obtained in Step 5.

This amendment shall become effective July 10, 1943.

§ 502.175 General outline of the order. This order is designed to relieve and prevent traffic congestion at ports in Puerto Rico by establishing a control over the movement to ports by railroad, motor vehicle, or watercraft, of freight destined for transshipment by ocean-going watercraft. If the Regional Director of the Office of Defense Transportation for Puerto Rico deems it advisable for the purpose of preventing undue traffic congestion, he is authorized to prohibit the movement of such freight to any warehouse, wharf, pier, dock, or other structure or facility in the port which he may designate. § 502.178 Application for and issuance of ODT permits. Application for an ODT permit may be made to the office of the Regional Director at San Juan or to any local office of the Office of Defense Transportation in Puerto Rico. ODT permits issued hereunder shall be issued by, or under the authority of, the Regional Director, shall be in such form as he may prescribe, and shall contain such terms and conditions as he may deem advisable to prevent undue congestion of traffic at any port.

§ 502.179 Suspension, alteration or cancellation of ODT permits. Any ODT permit issued hereunder may be suspended, altered or cancelled whenever in the judgment of the Regional Director traffic conditions, or other circumstances, make such suspension, alteration or cancellation necessary or proper to prevent undue congestion of traffic at any port.

§ 502.180 Suspension of provisions of this order and of orders issued hereunder. The provisions of this order, or any part thereof, and the provisions of any order issued hereunder, or any part thereof, may be suspended from time to time by written order of the Regional Director.

[Docket No. A–2018]

DISTRICT BOARD 10

ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 10 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of Mine Index No. 1209.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, has been duly filed with the Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of Union Mine, Mine Index No. 1209, of Union Mining Company, in District No. 10, for shipment by rail from the McLaren Fuel Company's preparation plant located on the Illinois Central and Missouri Pacific Railroads at Marion, Illinois, and for all the advantages and privileges granted to other mines by the order of February 17, 1942, in Docket No. A–1079.

Although this petition did not set forth sufficient facts upon which permanent relief may be based, reasonable necessity appears for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth.

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and the following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 10 for all shipments except truck is supplemented to include the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the schedule marked Supplement R annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

The original petition in this matter also requests that no exceptions be allowed with respect to the coals of this mine sold to off-line railroads for locomotive fuel use. Nevertheless, since locomotive fuel Price Exceptions 2–H, 61 and 64 established by Orders of the Director in Dockets Nos. A–98, A–125 and A–420, respectively, are applicable to the coals of all other mines in Price Group No. 5 of District No. 10 for which minimum prices have been established for all shipments except truck, including the mines involved in Docket No. A–1079, and since no reason has been advanced for denying the application of these Price Exceptions to the coals of Mine Index No. 1209, the relief granted herein affords this producer the same competitive opportunity available to all other producers similarly situated by making said Price Exceptions applicable to the coals of Mine Index No. 1209.

An order scheduling a hearing for the purpose of adducing facts upon which final relief in this matter may be based will be issued in due course.

The original petition further states that the mining operations of the said mine which is located in Williamson County, Illinois, have progressed from the No. 6 Vein to the No. 5 Vein, in which it is now operating. Although the minimum prices established for the coals produced in these two veins in Williamson County for truck shipments are identical, in the interest of accuracy the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 10 for truck shipments should be amended to reflect the seam in which the coals of this mine are actually produced.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 10 for truck shipments, be, and it hereby is amended by changing the seam designation for the Union Mine, Mine Index No. 1209 of Union Mining Company from "6" to "5".

Dated: June 8, 1943.

ORDER GRANTING PROVISIONAL APPROVAL FOR AMENDMENT

In the matter of the application of Appalachian Coals, Incorporated, for provisional approval as a marketing agency.

Order granting provisional approval for the amendment of subparagraph (b) of section 6, to the contract dated June 1, 1936, between Appalachian Coals, Incorporated and the M. A. Hanna Coal Company, covering the sale of coal produced by Clover Splint Coal Company.

Appalachian Coals, Incorporated, hereinafter referred to as the Applicant, having been granted provisional approval as a marketing agency pursuant to section 12 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, by order of the National Bituminous Coal Commission, (predecessor of the Bituminous Coal Division) dated September 22, 1937; and

Applicant having requested approval for the amendment of sub-paragraph (b) of section 6 of the agreement dated June 1, 1936 between Applicant and the M. A. Hanna Coal Company, covering the sale of coal produced by Clover Splint Coal Company, which amendment eliminates subparagraph (b) of section 6 of the said agreement and inserts in lieu thereof the following new subparagraph (b):

Where coal is sold to registered distributors authorized to accept and retain a discount from the Producer's f. o. b. mine price, and where the Sub-agent allows such discount to such distributor from said f. o. b. mine price, the Sub-agent's commission shall be ten percent (10%), computed on said f. o. b. mine price, which shall cover all compensation and any and all costs and expenses of selling, which expenses of selling shall include any discount to such distributor: Provided, however, Such discounts shall not exceed the maximum discount or price allowance prescribed from time to time by the Bituminous Coal Division upon such sales, upon one of which such sales only one such discount shall be allowed, and, Provided, further, The Producer shall have the right at any time, and from time to time, to require the Sub-agent to cease and desist from making sales subject to discounts to distributors, even though such discounts would have been covered by and included in, the Sub-agent's commission, as aforesaid.

It is ordered, That the aforesaid amendment to the said agreement is provisionally approved, effective thirty (30) days from the date hereof unless it shall be otherwise ordered.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the relief granted herein may be filed with the Division within twenty-five (25) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. B–370]

BROWN FUEL COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION FOR DISPOSITION OF COMPLIANCE PROCEEDING

Order granting application for disposition of compliance proceeding without formal hearing, directing code member to cease and desist, and cancelling hearing.

The above proceeding was instituted by the Bituminous Coal Division (the Division) acting in lieu of District Board for District No. 3 pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j), 5 (b) and 6 (a) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended (the Act), by a Notice of and Order for Hearing dated February 26, 1943 and served upon Brown Fuel Company (the Code Member) on March 4, 1943 to determine whether the Code Member had wilfully violated the Code, or orders, and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, particularly Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

The said proceeding was scheduled for hearing on March 31, 1943 and said hearing was postponed by Order of the Director dated Mar h 27, 1943 to a time and place to be thereafter designated; and

An application based upon admissions for the disposition of the above-entitled matter without formal hearing (the Application) was filed on April 16, 1943 pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division and notice thereof published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 1, 1943; and

Said Notice provided that interested parties desiring to do so might, within fifteen (15) days from the date thereof, file recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to the Application. It appears, however, that no such recommendations or requests have been filed.

In its application Code Member:

1. Admits its identity as set forth in the Notice of and Order for Hearing.

2. Admits the payment of sales agency commissions in excess of the maximum discounts allowable under the Order in General Docket No. 12, dated June 12, 1940, pursuant to sales agency contracts entered into after August 8, 1940, on coals produced at its Henshaw Mine (Mine Index No. 77), as set forth in the Notice of and Order for Hearing, and the failure to secure permission of the Division to pay said excess commissions as required by Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

3. Consents to the entry of an order directing it to cease and desist from violations of the Code and regulations thereunder.

4. Represents that it has not, to the best of its knowledge and belief, committed any other violations of the Act, the Code, or regulations thereunder.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by the Act, and upon the application filed pursuant to section 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, and upon evidence in the possession of the Division; it is found that:

1. The Brown Fuel Company is a corporation, duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of West Virginia, having its principal place of business in Brownton, West Virginia, and operates the Henshaw Mine (Mine Index No. 77) located in Barbour County, West Virginia.

2. The Code Membership of the Brown Fuel Company became effective on June 29, 1937.

3. The Code Member entered into a sales agency agreement with Eastern Coal and Coke Company on August 14, 1940, and during the period January 4 to August 29, 1941, sold through said sales agent a total of 13,928.8 tons of coal produced at Code Member's aforesaid mine and allowed to the above-named sales agent commissions in the amount of $1,992.53, in wilful violation of Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations. The allowable commissions should not have exceeded $1,592.17. However, on the fifteenth day of January 1943 the said sales agent refunded to the Code Member the sum of $400.36, the amount of the excess commissions paid to him .

4. The Code Member entered into a sales agency agreement with MacQuown Fuels on October 16, 1940 and during the period January 22 to December 30, 1941 sold through said sales agent a total of 9,040.6 tons of coal produced at Code Member's aforesaid mine and allowed to the above-named sales agent commissions in the amount of $1,393,83 in wilful violation of Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations. The allowable commissions should not have exceeded $452.04. Code Member has demanded a refund of $941.79 from said sales agent, this being the amount of the excess commission allowed said sales agent.

5. The Code Member entered into a sales agency agreement with A. K. Althouse & Company January 30, 1941 and during the period February 3 to March 15, 1941 sold through the above-named sales agent 439.95 tons of coal produced at Code Member's aforesaid mine and allowed the above-named sales agents commissions in the amount of $69.18 in wilful violations of Rule 13 (A) of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations. The allowable commissions should not have exceeded $44.00. On March 7, 1942 said sales agent refunded to Code Member $25.18 the amount of the excess commission received by him.

Now, therefore, upon the basis of the foregoing findings, the said admissions and the said consent filed by the Code Member pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division;

It is ordered, That the aforesaid application be and it hereby is granted.

It is further ordered, That the Brown Fuel Company, its successors, assigns, and other persons in privity with it, cease and desist from further violations of the Bituminous Coal Code and regulations made thereunder. Notice is hereby given that upon failure to comply with any of the terms or provisions of this Order, the Division may apply to any Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States having jurisdiction for the enforcement hereof, or this matter may be reopened by the Director and such action taken and orders taken and orders entered as may be necessary and proper under the circumstances.

It is further ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter be and the same is hereby cancelled.

Dated: June 25, 1943.

S. Laser, (the Registered Distributor) on March 8, 1943, to determine whether said registered distributor had violated any provisions of section 4 II (i) of the Act, the Marketing Rules and Regulations, pertinent orders of the Division, and the Distributor's Agreement (the Agreement) dated August 4, 1939; and

The said proceeding was scheduled for hearing on April 14, 1943 pursuant to said Notice of and Order for Hearing, and said hearing was postponed by an Order of the Director dated April 9, 1943, to a time and place to be thereafter designated; and

An application (the Application) based upon admissions for the disposition of the above-entitled matter without formal hearing, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division, was filed on April 9, 1943; and

Notice of the Application was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 3, 1943, pursuant to said § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure; and

Said Notice provided that interested parties desiring to do so might within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of said Notice, file recommendations or requests for informal conferences with respect to the Application. It appears, however, that no such recommendations or requests have been filed.

In his Application the Registered Distributor:

A. Admits his identity as set forth in the Notice of and Order for Hearing.

B. Admits that paragraphs 1 to 9, inclusive, of the said Notice of and Order for Hearing correctly describe the transactions involved herein and the provisions of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, Distributor's Rules and Regulations, and the Distributor's Agreement applicable to such transactions; and that he wilfully committed the acts, and failed to take certain action, which resulted in violations of the Code and regulations thereunder as set forth in paragraphs 1 to 9 inclusive, of said Notice of and Order for Hearing.

C. Consents to the entry of an order (1) directing the Registered Distributor, his successors, assigns, and other persons in privity with him to cease and desist from further violations of the Act, the Code, regulations made thereunder, and the Agreement; (2) suspending his registration as a registered distributor for a period of 60 days beginning with the effective date of said Order; and (3) directing him to return to the Code Member producers named in paragraph 3 of the said Notice of and Order for Hearing the excess commissions or discounts totalling $89.90 as follows:

Watson Coal Company	$4.03
Crescent Coal Company	69.16
J. M. Bates Coal Company	4.53
Smokeless Coal Company	12.18

D. Represents that he has not, to the best of his knowledge and belief, committed any other violations of the Act, the Code or regulations thereunder.

E. Agrees to restore to the Code Members listed in paragraph C (3) above the amounts set opposite their respective names.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in the Division by the Act, upon the application, filed pursuant to section 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for Disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, and upon evidence in the possession of the Division;

It is found that:

A. Thos. S. Laser, operating as Southwest Coal Sales, 2019 Foshay Tower, Minneapolis, Minnesota is a registered distributor, Registration No. 5414.

B. The registration of said Thos. S. Laser, operating as Southwest Coal Sales, became effective as of November 15, 1940.

C. Said Registered Distributor wilfully violated;

1. Paragraph (e) of the Agreement by accepting and retaining commissions, while acting as subsales agent for the Rainbow Coal Company, a Code Member, located in District No. 14, on approximately 5076.65 net tons of various sizes of coal produced at said Code Member's Rainbow Mine (Mine Index No. 184) and sold to various purchasers during the period October 18, 1940 to October 29, 1941, inclusive, in excess of the commissions provided in the subagency contract between the Distributor and said Code Member, no modification of said subagency contract having been reduced to writing and filed with the Statistical Bureau as required by Rule 4 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

2. Paragraph (e) of the Agreement by accepting or retaining commissions, while acting as subsales agent for the Harding Coal Company, a Code Member, located in District No. 14, on approximately 5611.90 net tons of various sizes of coal produced at said Code Member's Harding Mine (Mine Index No. 47) and sold to various purchasers during the period November 20, 1940 to November 14, 1941, inclusive, in excess of the commissions provided in the sub-agency contract between the Distributor and said Code Member, no modification of said sub-agency contract having been reduced to writing and filed with the Statistical Bureau, as required by Rule 4 of section II of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

3. Paragraph (a) of the Agreement by purchasing for resale and reselling, during the period November 19, 1940 to January 7, 1942, inclusive, to various purchasers in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Huron, South Dakota, approximately 782.35 net tons of various sizes of coal produced at their respective mines by Watson Coal Company (Mine Index No. 117), Crescent Coal Company (Mine Index No. 131), J. M. Bates Coal Company (Mine Index No. 103), and Smokeless Coal Company (Mine Index No. 90) and accepted and retained discounts thereon in excess of the maximum distributor's discounts prescribed by Order of the Division issued in General Docket No. 12 on June 19, 1940.

4. Paragraphs (b), (c) and (e) of the Agreement by granting 2% discounts from effective minimum prices to the purchasers of approximately 436.25 net tons of coal produced at their respective mines by Crescent Coal Company (Mine Index No. 131), Carbon Coal Company (Mine Index No. 16), Smokeless Coal Company (Mine Index No. 90), New Union Coal Company (Mine Index No. 77), and Rainbow Coal Company (Mine Index No. 184) purchased for resale from said producers and resold to S. Brand Coal Company and A. A. Carlstrom and Son, both of St. Paul, Minnesota, during the period October 21, 1940 to July 7, 1941 which discounts were prohibited by section 4 II (i) 4 of the Act and Rule 4 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

5. Paragraphs (b) and (e) of the Agreement by granting adjustments for alleged substandard quality or preparation to various purchasers during the period November 14, 1940 to July 21, 1941, inclusive, which adjustments had the effect of reducing the sales prices below the effective minima, on approximately 481.50 net tons of various sizes of coal produced at their respective mines by said Carbon Coal Company, Crescent Coal Company, New Union Coal Company, Rainbow Coal Company and by Paris Purity Coal Company (Mine Index No. 43) without reporting such adjustments to the Statistical Bureau as required by section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

6. Paragraph (b) of the Agreement by granting discounts from the effective minimum prices during the period October 8 to November 7, 1940, inclusive, to the Pittsburg Coal Company of Wisconsin (a non-registered distributor at that time) on approximately 297.15 net tons of coal produced at their respective mines by said Rainbow Coal Company, New Union Coal Company, Carbon Coal Company and by Boyd Excelsior Coal Company (Mine Index No. 13) which had the effect of reducing the sales prices on said coal below the effective minima.

7. Paragraph (e) of the Agreement by prepaying freight charges, during the period August 27 to October 15, 1941, inclusive, on approximately 155.90 net tons of coal produced by the said Harding Coal Company, and by Boyd-Sicard Coal Company (Mine Index No. 14), and sold to Allen Edwards Fuel Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota, which prepayment of freight was prohibited by Rule 1 (j), section VII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

8. Paragraph (e) of the Agreement by failing to file copies of invoices, spot orders, commitments and contracts during the period October 1, 1940, to December 27, 1941, while acting as subsales agent of the Harding Coal Company (a Code Member) relating to approximately 8080.45 net tons of various sizes of coal produced by said Code Members and sold to various purchasers, as required by Rule 3 of section (b) and Rule 7 of section (b) (i) of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

9. Paragraph (e) of the Agreement by failing to file copies of invoices, spot orders, commitments and contracts during the period October 7, 1940 to December 31, 1941 while acting as subsales agent for said Rainbow Coal Company (a Code Member), relating to approximately 11,866.15 net tons of various sizes of coal produced by said Code Member and sold to various purchasers, as required by Rule 3 of section (b) and Rule 7 of section (b) (i) of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

Now, therefore, upon the basis of the foregoing findings and the said admissions and the consent filed by said Registered Distributor pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division,

It is ordered, That the Application for disposition of this compliance proceeding without formal hearing be, and the same is, hereby granted.

It is further ordered, That Thos. S. Laser, the Registered Distributor, return to the Code Member producers named in paragraph 3 of the said Notice of and Order for Hearing the excess discounts retained by him in the amount of $89.90 as follows:

Watson Coal Company	$4.03
Crescent Coal Company	69.16
J. M. Bates Coal Company	4.53
Smokeless Coal Company	12.18

It is further ordered, That the registration of Thos. S. Laser, an individual operating as Southwest Coal Sales, as a registered distributor, Registration No. 5414 be, and the same is, hereby suspended for a period of sixty (60) days beginning fifteen (15) days after the date of this Order. Prior to the termination of this period of suspension the Registered Distributor shall file with the Division an affidavit as required by § 304.15 of the Rules and Regulations for the Registration of Distributors which shall be accompanied by evidence that the refunds totalling $89.90 have been made to the Code Members as required by this order.

It is further ordered, That in the event that the Distributor shall violate any of the agreements set forth in said application, or fail to comply with this Order, this matter may be reopened and such action taken and orders entered herein as may be necessary and proper under the circumstances and jurisdiction of this matter is hereby expressly reserved for this purpose.

It is further ordered, That Thos. S. Laser, his successors, assigns, and other persons in privity with him cease and desist from further violations of the provisions of section 4 II (i) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, the Bituminous Coal Code, the Distributor's Agreement, the Marketing Rules and Regulations, and pertinent orders of the Division. Notice is hereby given that upon any failure to comply with the Cease and Desist Order herein, the Division may apply to any Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States having jurisdiction for the enforcement thereof, or this matter may be reopened by the Division and such action taken and orders entered as the Director may deem just and proper under the circumstances.

It is further ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter, which has heretofore been postponed by Order dated April 9, 1943 to a time and place to be thereafter designated, be, and the same is, hereby cancelled.

Dated: July 10, 1943.

[Docket No. B-6]

CLYDE H. HOYT COMPANY

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER SUSPENDING REGISTERED DISTRIBUTOR

In the matter of the Clyde H. Hoyt Company, registered distributor, Registration No. 4566, Respondent.

On May 28, 1943, after notice and hearing, W. A. Cuff, a duly designated Examiner of the Division, submitted a report in which he found that respondent, The Clyde H. Hoyt Company, a registered distributor (Registration No. 4566), wilfully violated sections 4 II (i) 11 and 12 of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, Rule 10 of section II, Rules 11 and 12 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations and paragraphs (d), (e) and (g) of respondent's Distributor's Agreement, by wilfully accepting and retaining distributor's discounts from the effective minimum prices during the period between October 1, 1940, and March 22, 1941, inclusive, on approximately 6,206.65 tons of bituminous coal, purchased for resale, and resold to the Blue Line Fuel Company, a retailer affiliate. The Examiner further found that in the period between February 14, 1941, and March 20, 1941, inclusive, respondent sold, as a sales agent, 108 tons of bituminous coal, to its retailer affiliate, on which it accepted and retained sales agency commissions.

An opportunity was afforded to all parties to file exceptions to the Examiner's Report but no exceptions have been filed.[1]

After consideration of the record, I believe that the Report is accurate and adequate and follows principles laid down by me in such cases as Matter of Central States Fuel Co., Docket No. B-53, and Matter of Huerfano Trading Company, Docket No. B-272. I believe, therefore, that the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law should be adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director. I believe, however, that a suspension of respondent's registration for a period of thirty days is, in the light of the nature and seriousness of its violations, more appropriate than the period recommended by the Examiner.

On the basis of the entire record, It is ordered, That the proposed findings of fact and proposed conclusions of law are approved and adopted as the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the Director;

It is further ordered, That the registration of The Clyde H. Hoyt Company, as a distributor (Registration No. 4566), is suspended, effective fifteen days from the date hereof, for a period of thirty days thereafter; that respondent shall at least five (5) days prior to the expiration of said thirty-day period, petition the Division for reinstatement as a registered distributor; that any application for reinstatement subsequently filed by respondent shall be accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that during the period in which respondent's registration as a distributor was suspended, respondent neither directly nor indirectly transacted business as a registered distributor, nor received, nor was promised a discount which distributors are entitled to receive by virtue of registration, and that satisfactory proof of the facts as set forth in such affidavit be a further condition to reinstatement of respondent as a registered distributor.

It is further ordered, That upon reinstatement as a registered distributor, respondent shall cease and desist from violation of sections 4 II (i) 11 and 12 of the Act, Rule 10 of section II, Rules 11 and 12 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations and paragraphs (d), (e) and (g) of respondent's Distributor's Agreement, or from otherwise violating the Act, or rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Dated: July 10, 1943.

Director.

PRESS WIRELESS, INC.

ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of Press Wireless, Inc. Revised Charges for Radiophoto Reception Service.

At a meeting of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of July, 1943;

It appearing that Press Wireless, Inc., has filed with the Commission new tariff schedules, effective July 7, 1943, revising its presently effective tariff schedules for Radiophoto Reception Service furnished at New York, N. TRANSPORTATION AND DELIVERY OF FLOWERS IN CUYAHOGA COUNTY, OHIO

RECOMMENDATION OF JOINT ACTION PLAN

Pursuant to a provision of a general order issued by the Office of Defense Transportation for the purpose, among others, of conserving and providently utilizing motor vehicles and vital equipment, materials and supplies (General Order ODT 17, as amended, 7 F.R. 5678, 7694, 9623; 8 F.R. 8278, 8377), Elsie Kirchner, Lakewood Floral Co., Eickhoff Florists, F. H. Ziechmann, Nick Castello, McFarlands Florists, Bramley-Pepper Florist, A. J. Heil, L. A. Ellacott, and Jos. W. Fifer, all of Cuyahoga County, Ohio, have filed with the Office of Defense Transportation for approval a joint action plan relating to the transportation and delivery by motor vehicle of flowers and related articles in Cuyahoga and adjoining counties.

The participants in the plan, wholesale and retail florists, propose to eliminate wasteful operations in the transportation and delivery of flowers and related articles by reducing the number of delivery trips and by transferring orders. Each will make not more than one delivery trip a day in the three general directions, northeast, south, and west, serving customers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga, and Summit Counties. Sunday deliveries to hospitals are to be discontinued; and all other Sunday deliveries are to be curtailed as much as practicable. Orders received by a participant in the western portion of Cuyahoga County for deliveries in the eastern portion of the delivery area, and vice versa, will be transferred to the participant nearest the delivery point. A truck will not be started on a delivery trip unless fully loaded. The participants estimate that effectuation of the plan will result in savings of 35 percent of their truck-mileage, based on their 1941 experiences.

It appearing that the proposed joint action plan is in conformity with General Order ODT 17, as amended, and that the effectuation thereof will accomplish substantial conservation and efficient utilization of motor trucks and vital materials and supplies, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, I have approved the plan and recommend that the Chairman of the War Production Board find and certify under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with said joint action plan, is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of July, 1943.

Director.

(2) The adjusted maximum price under this order for any seller of fluid milk in gallon glass containers affected by this order shall be determined by determining the differential in cents between the seller's maximum price prior to this order for fluid milk in gallon glass containers and his maximum price prior to this order for fluid milk in quart glass containers sold at wholesale or at retail as the case may be in the particular locality, and applying the same differential in cents to the seller's adjusted maximum price under this order for such sales of fluid milk in quart glass containers.

(3) The adjusted maximum prices hereinabove specified are for fluid milk in glass containers. The adjusted maximum price under this order for any seller of fluid milk in paper or fiber containers affected by this order shall be determined by determining the differential in cents between the seller's maximum price prior to this order for such fluid milk in paper or fiber containers and his maximum price prior to this order for fluid milk in glass containers of the corresponding size in the particular locality, and applying the same differential in cents to the seller's adjusted maximum price under this order for such fluid milk in glass containers.

(4) The adjusted maximum price under this order for any seller of skim milk, plain buttermilk or Bulgarian buttermilk affected by this order shall be determined by determining the differential in cents between the seller's maximum price prior to this order for such item and his maximum price prior to this order for fluid milk in the particular locality and in the same container size, and applying the same differential in cents to the seller's adjusted maximum price under this order for such milk.

(5) Maximum prices for fluid milk sold to the Armed Forces of the United States and to Federal, State, County and Municipal Institutions. The maximum delivered price of fluid milk sold and delivered by sellers, whose places of business are in the localities enumerated above, to the Armed Forces of the United States and to Federal, State, County and Municipal Institutions, shall be an adjusted maximum price equal to the adjusted maximum price hereinabove specified for sales at wholesale in the locality of the seller's place of business.

(6) No seller affected by this order shall change his customary allowances or discounts unless such change results in a lower price.

(7) In the case of single unit sales, any adjusted maximum price resulting in a fraction of a cent must be reduced to the next lower even cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent and may be increased to the next higher even cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more. In the case of multiple unit sales, the fractional unit price, if any, shall be multiplied by the number of units, and, if the result contains a fractional cent, it shall be similarly adjusted. Home deliveries shall be considered multiple unit sales unless separate collections are made for single units delivered.

(8) Definitions. For purposes of this order:

(a) "Milk" means cow's milk produced, processed, distributed and sold for consumption in fluid form as whole milk, having a milk-fat content of not less than 3.8%, except that where a lower-minimum milk-fat content is prescribed by legal authority, then the term "milk" shall include milk of a milk-fat content of not less than such legal minimum. The term "milk" shall also include chocolate milk.

(b) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale of fluid milk in bottles or paper containers to any person, including an industrial or commercial user, other than an ultimate consumer. College dormitories, fraternities and sororities shall be considered commercial users.

(c) "Sale at retail" means a sale of fluid milk to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(d) Where the name of any city or town mentioned in this Order is also the name of a sales area as defined by the Oregon Milk Control Board, the name of such city or town shall, for the purposes of this Order, include the area within the boundaries of such sales area as defined by said Board. The name of any other city or town includes the area within a radius of 25 miles in the case of Klamath Falls, 15 miles in the case of Tillamook, and 3 miles in all other cases, from the city limits if said city or town is an incorporated municipality, and within a radius of 3 miles from the center of said city or town if it is not an incorporated municipality.

(9) Any maximum price determined under this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(10) This order may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

As tenders of Engineers preferred stock are received, they will be numbered upon their receipt and on a specified date (not less than three weeks after such invitation is mailed to the stockholders) the tenders will be drawn by lot until all of the El Paso common stock held by Engineers is disposed of. The consummation of the transaction would result in the retirement of a maximum of 25,678 shares of Engineers preferred stock. (The odd share of El Paso common stock would be sold for cash.) The cash to be paid out by Engineers would vary between a maximum of $770,340, if nothing but $6 preferred stock were drawn by lot, and a minimum of $564,916, if nothing but $5 preferred stock were drawn by lot.

Engineers states in its application that the filing of the plan is pursuant to section 11 (e) for the purpose of enabling Engineers to comply with the Order of the Commission rendered pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Act, dated September 16, 1942 (Holding Company Act Release No. 3796), ordering (among other things) that Engineers divest itself of its interest in El Paso, and that said plan is in compliance with said Order insofar as the plan relates to the divestment of Engineers' interest in El Paso, and is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

Engineers proposes to hold the shares of its preferred stock acquired under the plan as reacquired securities without their cancellation.

Engineers has requested that the hearing upon the application be held on July 19, 1943.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to the plan filed by Engineers pursuant to section 11 (e); and

It further appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest that said hearing be held on July 19, 1943;

It is ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the Act and Rules of the Commission thereunder, with respect to the plan be held on the 19th day of July 1943 at 10:00 a. m., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, or any other officer or officers designated by the Commission to preside at such hearing, shall exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said declaration, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the plan is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of the Act and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

2. Whether the proposed plan is in compliance with the Order of the Commission, dated September 16, 1942 (Holding Company Act Release No. 3796), ordering Engineers to divest itself of its interest in and sever its relationship with El Paso.

3. Whether the accounting treatment to be made on the books of Engineers with respect to the acquisition of the preferred stock under the plan will be in conformity with the standards of the Act and the Rules and Regulations of the Commission promulgated thereunder.

4. Whether, and, if so, to what extent, it may be appropriate in the public interest or in the interest of investors and consumers to impose any terms or conditions in connection with the application herein if granted.

By the Commission.

SOUTHERN UNION GAS COMPANY, ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENT AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 9th day of July, A. D. 1943.

Notice is hereby given that declarations or applications (or both) have been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Southern Union Gas Company and its subsidiary, Arkansas Western Gas Company, in the form of an amendment designated as Amendment No. 8 to its application, heretofore filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for approval of a Plan to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act. This Commission, by order dated September 19, 1942, supplemental order dated November 16, 1942, supplemental order dated January 21, 1943, and supplemental order dated May 17, 1943, has approved said Plan as heretofore modified.

All interested persons are referred to said Amendment No. 8, which is on file in the office of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

As a step in further compliance with the order of the Commission dated September 19, 1942, Southern Union Gas Company proposes to divest itself of all interest in, and all ownership and control of, its subsidiary, Arkansas Western Gas Company.

The amendment states that Southern Union owns all of the 2,500 presently outstanding shares of the 6% Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $50, of Arkansas Western and 10,196.7 shares of the presently outstanding 11,270 shares of common stock, without par value, of Arkansas Western.

It is proposed that, by amending its Articles of Incorporation, Arkansas Western will reclassify all of its 3,000 shares of preferred and 12,250 shares of common stock presently authorized into 106,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $5 per share. Arkansas Western proposes to issue the new common stock to its preferred and common stock holders in the ratio of 7.6545 new shares for each of the shares of the preferred and common stock, presently outstanding, without distinction as between such preferred and common stock. In lieu of issuing certificates for fractional shares of its new common stock, cash at the rate of $5 per share of such new stock will be paid to persons otherwise entitled to such fractional shares. In addition, Arkansas Western proposes to pay in cash any dividends accumulated and unpaid on the preferred stock to the date of exchange.

The amendment further states that the exchange will result in Southern Union receiving 97.187 shares of the new common stock of Arkansas Western which Southern Union proposes to distribute as a dividend to its common stockholders on the basis of one share of Arkansas Western stock for each ten shares of Southern Union common stock. If requested by Southern Union, Arkansas Western proposes to issue certificates representing its new common stock directly to the Southern Union stockholders entitled to such stock and further proposes, in lieu of issuing certificates for fractional shares of its new common stock, to pay cash to the Southern Union stockholders at the rate of $5 per share of such new stock to such persons otherwise entitled to such fractional shares.

Arkansas Western further proposes to close out the "Earned Surplus—Restricted" account set up pursuant to the Commission's order dated December 13, 1940, in which there exists a credit balance of $120,000, by crediting its Capital Stock Account with approximately $7,560, and its Capital Surplus Account with the remainder, approximately $112,440.

Southern Union further proposes to pay into the sinking fund for application to the redemption of its 25-Year Sinking Fund 6% Debentures cash in an amount sufficient to retire $200,000 principal amount of such debentures.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held in respect to such matters; and that said declarations shall not become effective nor said applications be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That the proceedings in this matter be reconvened and a hearing under the applicable provisions of said Act and the Rules of the Commission thereunder be held on July 23, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings should notify the Commission in the manner provided by the Rules of Practice, Rule XVII, on or before July 19, 1943;

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings at such time. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all power granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to the Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters:

1. Whether the proposed reclassification and distribution of the stock of Arkansas Western is in furtherance of, and not inconsistent with, the order of this Commission entered herein on September 19, 1942, and is necessary to enable Southern Union to comply with the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Act.

2. Whether the proposed transactions are fair and equitable as between Southern Union and the minority stockholders of Arkansas Western.

3. Whether the proposed payments in cash, in lieu of issuing fractional shares, are fair and equitable to the minority stockholders of Arkansas Western and to the common stockholders of Southern Union.

4. Whether the proposed accounting entries and adjustments on the books of Arkansas Western and of Southern Union are appropriate

5. Generally, whether, in any respect, the proposed transactions are detrimental to the public interest or to the interest of investors or consumers or will tend to circumvent any provisions of the Act or the Rules, Regulations or Orders promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given to the applicants or declarants, and to all other persons, said notice to be given to the applicants or declarants and to the Department of Public Utilities of the State of Arkansas by registered mail, and to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

BRENTLINGER AND HOSEA, INCORPORATED

FINDINGS AND ORDER REVOKING REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 10th day of July 1943

1. Brentlinger & Hosea, Inc., 602–3 Fletcher Trust Building, Indianapolis, Indiana, an Indiana corporation (hereinafter referred to as the "registrant"), is registered as a dealer pursuant to section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

2. The Commission instituted a proceeding pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether or not the registration of the registrant as a dealer should be revoked.

3. The registrant has admitted the facts set forth in the order for hearing and has consented to the revocation of its registration.

4. On the basis of the admission of the registrant, the Commission finds:

(a) The registrant has defrauded its customers in the execution of transactions with them at prices bearing no reasonable relationship to the prevailing market prices;

(b) The registrant has induced certain customers to purchase and sell various securities, including securities registered on a national securities exchange, by means of false representations as to: prevailing market prices, the market places upon which such transactions were to be effected, the registrant's profits or charges, and facts concerning the issuers of the securities;

(c) The registrant has falsely notified certain customers as to the capacity in which it was acting; has failed to notify certain customers of the capacity in which it was acting; and, in certain cases in which the registrant was acting as a broker, has failed to disclose or to offer to disclose to its customers the names of the persons from whom the securities were purchased or to whom they were sold, and the date and time of the transactions, and has failed to disclose the source and amount of its commission or remuneration;

(d) The registrant has failed to maintain full records of its transactions for customers and of securities carried by it;

(e) The registrant has failed to disclose to customers for whom it effected transactions in the stock of Gunning, Inc., an agreement under the terms of which the registrant received a commission and stock for distributing the stock of Gunning, Inc.;

(f) With the exception of certain of the transactions disclosed in paragraph (b) above, the transactions mentioned above were effected otherwise than on a national securities exchange and by means of the mails and instrumentalities of interstate commerce.

5. The Commission further finds that the registrant, in acting and failing to act in the manner described in paragraph 4 above, has willfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933 and sections 9 (a) (4), 15 (c) (1) and 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and that it is in the public interest to revoke the registrant's registration.

On the basis of the foregoing, and pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; It is ordered, That the registration of Brentlinger & Hosea, Inc., as a dealer be and it hereby is revoked.

By the Commission.

ASSOCIATED GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR MODIFICATION OF DIVESTMENT ORDER AND FOR PERMISSION TO FILE SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER AND FOR FURTHER HEARINGS AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 9th day of July 1943.

In the matter of Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, Respondents.

The Commission having, on September 4, 1941, instituted proceedings against Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and said respondents having duly filed their answer on November 17, 1941, setting forth, among other things, that respondents' present holding company system consists of four integrated public utility systems, together with additional systems and incidental businesses retainable under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act; and the Commission having, on August 13, 1942, issued its Findings and Opinion, in which (1) it directed respondents to dispose of all of their interests in certain named companies, which companies included, among others, Jersey Central Power & Light Company and its subsidiary, Agincourt Land Corporation, (2) it provided that "inasmuch as there is some doubt as to whether the Trustees desire that Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation be included within the proposed New York-Northern Pennsylvania system or be held by or under common control with such system as an additional system we shall reserve jurisdiction to consider the question later," and (3) it ordered that jurisdiction be reserved with respect to all issues not disposed of in said order; and

Respondents at this time having filed a petition for modification of the divestment order and for permission to file a supplemental answer, in the following regards:

1. Respondents in their answer had alleged that the properties of Bradford Electric Company were retainable with the properties included in the New York-Northern Pennsylvania group described in paragraph 24 of their answer, as amended. Respondents now seek to adduce evidence that the properties of Bradford Electric Company are retainable with the properties included in the Western Pennsylvania group described in respondents' answer as amended.

2. Respondents in their answer had proposed that one of the four groups of integrated electric utility properties consists of the so-called Florida-Georgia group. Since the introduction of evidence in the section 11 (b) (1) proceedings, one of the companies in said group, namely Florida Power Corporation, has completed interconnection of its properties in Franklin County, Florida, serving Carrabelle and vicinity. In view of said interconnection and in view of other circumstances, respondents now desire to adduce additional evidence showing that said properties in Franklin County, Florida, and the properties owned by said Florida Power Corporation in Gulf County, Florida, serving Apalachicola, Port St. Joe and vicinity, are retainable under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act.

3. Respondents now seek to adduce evidence that the properties of Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation and Canadea Power Corporation are retainable under section 11 (b) (1) with the properties included in the New York-Northern Pennsylvania group.

4. Respondents now seek to adduce evidence that the electric properties of Jersey Central Power & Light Company constitute part of the single integrated public utility system of the Eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group, that the gas facilities of Jersey Central Power & Light Company constitute either part of or one or more additional integrated public utility systems retainable with the companies comprising the Eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group, and further that the business conducted by Agincourt Land Corporation is reasonably incidental and economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of the Eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest that permission to file a supplemental answer be granted and that a hearing be held in regard to the issues raised by the petition and supplemental answer filed by the Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation:

It is ordered, That permission to file a supplemental answer in the proceedings be and hereby is granted.

It is further ordered, That a hearing be held on August 3, 1943, at 10 o'clock a. m., e. w. t., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on said day by the hearing room clerk in room 318 at which hearing the respondents and any other interested persons shall be given an opportunity to be heard with respect to the matters filed in the petition and with respect to any issue raised in the respondents' supplemental answer.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues to be presented at such hearing, special attention will be directed to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the electric properties of Bradford Electric Company, together with the other electric facilities in the presently dseignated Western Pennsylvania group, constitute a single integrated system within the meaning of the Act; and, if not, whether the electric facilities of Bradford Electric Company constitute a retainable additional system to the Western Pennsylvania group within the meaning of the Act.

2. Whether the utility properties of Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation and Canadea Power Corporation, together with the properties of the companies listed in respondents' answer designated as the New York-Northern Pennsylvania group, exclusive of the properties of Bradford Electric Company, constitute a single integrated public utility system within the meaning of the Act; and, if not, whether the utility properties of Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation and Canadea Power Corporation constitute one or more retainable additional systems to the New York-Northern Pennsylvania group within the meaning of the Act; and whether the nonutility properties of Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation and Canadea Power Corporation may be retained, pursuant to the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of the Act.

3. Whether the electric properties of Jersey Central Power & Light Company, together with the companies listed in respondents' answer and designated therein as the Eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group, constitute a single integrated public utility system within the meaning of the Act, and, if not, whether they constitute an additional system retainable under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act; and whether the gas facilities of Jersey Central Power & Light Company constitute an additional integrated public utility system retainable with the properties of the companies comprising the Eastern Pennsylvania-New Jersey group.

4. Whether the business conducted by Agincourt Land Corporation is reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of an integrated public utility system.

5. Whether the electric facilities of Florida Power Corporation situated in the northwestern part of Florida constitute, in whole or in any part thereof, part of a single integrated public utility system within the meaning of the Act and, if not, whether they constitute, in whole or in part thereof, an additional system retainable under section 11 (b) (1) of the Act.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matters. The officer so designated to preside is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this order to the Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation and that notice is hereby given of said hearing to all persons heretofore having participated in the section 11 (b) (1) proceeding and to all other persons including security holders of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation and all its subsidiaries, all states, municipalities, and political subdivisions of states within which are located any utility assets of the respondents or of any of their subsidiaries or of any company hereinbefore mentioned by name in this order and all Federal and State commissions, state security commissions, and all agencies, authorities, or instrumentalities of the United States Government or of one or more states, municipalities or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over respondents or its subsidiaries of such companies or over any of the businesses, affairs or operations of any of them; and that such notice shall be given further by general release of the Commission, distributed to the press, and mailed to the mailing list of the Commission for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice shall be given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.143-3 of Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.], as amended by Treasury Decision 5174, approved October 28, 1942, is further amended by adding to the next to the last paragraph thereof the following:

However, in the determination of the tax to be withheld at the source under section 143 (b) with respect to remuneration paid on or after July 1, 1943, for labor or personal services performed within the United States by a nonresident alien, the benefit of the personal exemption of $500 shall be allowed prorated upon the basis of $1.40 per day for the period of employment during any portion of which labor or personal services are performed within the United States by such alien. Thus if A, a nonresident alien seaman employed by the X Shipping Corporation, is paid upon the termination of the voyage and such voyage covers 100 days, and A performed personal services within the United States during, or incident to, such voyage, the amount of $140 will be allocated as the portion of the personal exemption to be allowed as a credit against the remuneration of A for personal services performed within the United States during such voyage and withholding shall be applied against the balance, if any, of such remuneration. If, for example, the total remuneration paid to A for such voyage is $800 of which the sum of $120 is allocable to sources within the United States, there is no withholding. As to what constitutes remuneration for labor or personal services rendered within the United States, see section 119 (a) (3) and § 19.119-4 of Regulations 103. The amount of the compensation allocable to labor or personal services performed within the United States together with the amount of the personal exemption, prorated as set forth in this paragraph, shall be shown on the annual withholding return, Form 1042.

SEC. 507. TIME FOR PERFORMING CERTAIN ACTS POSTPONED BY REASON OF WAR. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

(a) Amendments to the Internal Revenue Code. The Internal Revenue Code is amended by inserting after section 3803 the following new sections:

SEC. 3804. TIME FOR PERFORMING CERTAIN ACTS POSTPONED BY REASON OF WAR.

(a) Individuals. The period of time after December 6, 1941, during which an individual is continuously outside the Americas (if such period is longer than ninety days), and the next ninety days thereafter, shall be disregarded in determining, under the internal revenue laws, in respect of any tax liability (including any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax) of such individual—

(1) Whether any of the following acts was performed within the time prescribed therefor:

(A) Filing any return of income, estate, or gift tax (except income tax withheld at source and income tax imposed by Chapter 9 or any law superseded thereby);

(B) Payment of any income, estate, or gift tax (except income tax withheld at source and income tax imposed by Chapter 9 or any law superseded thereby) or any installment thereof or of any other liability to the United States in respect thereof.

(C) Filing a petition with the Board of Tax Appeals for redetermination of a deficiency, or for review of a decision rendered by the Board;

(D) Allowance of a credit or refund of any tax;

(E) Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax;

(F) Bringing a suit upon any such claim for credit or refund;

(G) Assessment of any tax;

(H) Giving or making any notice or demand, for the payment of any tax, or with respect to any liability to the United States in respect of any tax;

(I) Collection, by the Commissioner or the collector, by distraint or otherwise, of the amount of any liability in respect of any tax;

(J) Bringing suit by the United States, or any officer on its behalf, in respect of any liability in respect of any tax; and

(K) Any other act required or permitted under the internal revenue laws specified in regulations prescribed under this section by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary;

(2) The amount of any credit or refund (including interest).

(b) Other taxpayers and other circumstances. In any case to which subsection (a) does not apply in which it is determined by the Commissioner, under regulations prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary, that—

(1) By reason of an individual being outside the Americas, or

(2) By reason of any locality (within or without the Americas) being an area of enemy action or being an area under the control of the enemy, as determined by the Commissioner, or

(3) By reason of an individual in the military or naval forces of the United States being outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia, it is impossible or impracticable to perform any one or more of the acts specified in subsection (a), then in determining, under the internal-revenue laws whether such act was performed within the time prescribed therefor, in respect of any tax liability (including any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to tax) affected by the failure to perform such act within such time, and in determining the amount of any credit or refund (including interest) affected by such failure, there shall be disregarded such period after December 6, 1941, as may be prescribed by such regulations.

(c) Limitation on time to be disregarded. The period of time disregarded under this section shall not extend beyond whichever of the following dates is the earlier:

(1) The fifteen day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; or

(2) In the case of an individual with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under this section, the fifteenth day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of such individual qualifies.

(d) Exceptions—(1) Tax in jeopardy; bankruptcy and receiverships; and transferred assets. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) or (b), any action or proceeding authorized by section 146 (regardless of the taxable year for which the tax arose), 273, 274, 311, 872, 900, 1013, 1015, 1025, or 3660, as well as any other action or proceeding authorized by law in connection therewith, may be taken, begun, or prosecuted. In any other case in which the Commissioner determines that collection of the amount of any assessment would be jeopardized by delay, the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) shall not operate to stay collection of such amount by distraint or otherwise as authorized by law. There shall be excluded from any amount assessed or collected pursuant to this paragraph the amount of interest, penalty, additional amount, and addition to the tax, if any, in respect of the period disregarded under subsection (a) or (b). In any case to which this paragraph relates, if the Commissioner or collector is required to give any notice to or make any demand upon any person, such requirement shall be deemed to be satisfied if the notice or demand is prepared and signed, in any case in which the address of such person last known to the Commissioner or collector is in an area for which United States post offices under instructions of the Postmaster General are not, by reason of the war, accepting mail for delivery at the time the notice or demand is signed. In such case the notice or demand shall be deemed to have been given or made upon the date it is signed.

(2) Action taken before ascertainment of right to benefits. The assessment or collection of any internal revenue tax or of any liability to the United States in respect of any internal revenue tax, or any action or proceeding by or on behalf of the United States in connection therewith, may be made, taken, begun, or prosecuted in accordance with law, without regard to the provisions of subsection (a) or (b), unless prior to such assessment, collection, action, or proceeding it is ascertained that the person concerned is entitled to the benefits of subsection (a) or (b).

(3) Expiration of period of limitations prior to enactment of this section. This section shall not operate to extend the time for performing any act specified in subsection (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J) if such time under the law in force prior to the date of enactment of this section expired prior to such date.

(e) Definitions. For purposes of this section—

(1) Americas. The term "Americas" means North, Central, and South America (including the West Indies but not Greenland), and the Hawaiian Islands.

(2) When individual ceases to be outside Americas or within an area of enemy action. For the purpose of determining whether any act specified in subsection (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J) was performed within the time prescribed therefor, if any period of time is disregarded under this section by reason of any individual being outside the Americas or within an area of enemy action or control, such individual shall not, if he returns to the Americas or leaves such area after the date of enactment of this section, be deemed to have returned to the Americas or ceased to be within such area before the date upon which the Commissioner receives from such individual a notice thereof in such form as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall by regulations prescribe. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under this section by reason of being outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia.

(3) When executor, administrator, or conservator qualifies. For the purpose of determining whether any acts specified in subsection (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J) was performed within the time prescribed therefor, the month in which an executor, administrator, or conservator qualifies, if he qualifies after the date of enactment of this section, shall be deemed to be the month in which the Commissioner receives from him a notice thereof in such form as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall by regulations prescribe.

SEC. 3805. INCOME TAX DUE DATES POSTPONED IN CASE OF CHINA TRADE ACT CORPORATIONS.

In the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, no Federal income tax return of, or payment of any Federal income tax by, any corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922 (42 Stat. 849, U.S.C., Title 15, chapter 4), shall become due until the fifteenth day of the sixth month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President. Such due date is prescribed subject to the power of the Commissioner to extend the time for filing such return or paying such tax, as in other cases.

(b) Effect of amendments upon periods fixed under laws other than Internal Revenue Code.

(1) Public Law 490, Seventy-seventh Congress. The amendments made by this section shall not be construed to shorten any period fixed under the provisions of section 13 or 14 of the Act approved March 7, 1942 (Public Law 490—77th Congress), within which any act may be done, except that any action or proceeding authorized under section 3804 (d) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, as well as any other action or proceeding authorized by law in connection therewith, may be taken, begun, or prosecuted without regard to the period so fixed.

(2) Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940. (A) The amendments made by this section shall not be construed to shorten any period fixed under the provisions of section 513 of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 within which any act may be done, except that any action or proceeding authorized under section 3804 (d) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, as well as any other action or proceeding authorized by law in connection therewith, may be taken, begun, or prosecuted without regard to the period so fixed.

(B) Article II of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as amended, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

SEC. 207. Section 205 of this Act shall not apply with respect to any period of limitation prescribed by or under the internal revenue laws of the United States.

(c) Retroactive effect. The provisions of sections 3804 and 3805, as added by subsection (a) of this section, shall be effective as if they were enacted on December 7, 1941; except that the phrase "date of enactment of this section", when used in subsections (d) (3) and (e) (2) and (3) of section 3804, means the date of enactment of this Act. Any amount of interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax otherwise allowable as a refund or credit under the internal-revenue laws (including sections 3805 and 3804, except subsection (d) (2)) may be refunded or credited without regard to section 3804 (d) (2). No interest shall be allowed or paid by the United States upon any amount refunded or credited by reason of this subsection.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTORY PROVISIONS

§ 472.0 Scope of regulations—(a) Subjects covered. These regulations relate to the provisions of sections 3804 and 3805 of the Internal Revenue Code, added by section 507 of the Revenue Act of 1942, enacted October 21, 1942, concerning the postponement, by reason of the present war, of the time for performing certain acts. They deal with:

(1) The acts (with respect to which periods of time may be disregarded) specified in section 3804 and these regulations. For a list of such acts, see section 3804 (a) (1) and § 472.102.

(2) The circumstances under which periods of time are disregarded under section 3804 (a) and section 3804 (b) in determining whether the acts referred to above are timely performed, and in determining amounts of interest and of refunds and credits.

(3) The duration of the period of time to be disregarded under section 3804 in each case, expressed in some cases in terms of a postponed due date and in others in terms of a period of days to be excluded, in determining whether an act is timely performed and in determining amounts of interest and of refunds and credits.

(4) General limitations and exceptions under section 3804.

(5) Postponement under section 3805 of certain income tax due dates of China Trade Act corporations.

(b) Treasury Decision 5216 superseded. The preliminary regulations under section 3804 (relating to certain notices to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under section 3804 (e) (2) and (3)), prescribed by Treasury Decision 5216, approved January 19, 1943, are hereby superseded. For provisions now in force relating to such notices to the Commissioner, see § 472.105 of these regulations.

(c) Numbering of sections. Inasmuch as these regulations constitute part 472 of Title 26 of the 1943 Supplement to the Code of Federal Regulations, each section of the regulations bears a number commencing with 472 and a decimal point. References to sections not preceded by "472." are references to sections of law. References to sections of law are references to sections of the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise expressly indicated.

§ 472.1 Introductory provisions—(a) Taxes to which section 3804 is applicable. Section 3804 is applicable only in the case of Federal taxes. But the section is applicable to all Federal taxes, whether income tax, manufacturers' excise tax, or any other tax, and whether imposed by the Internal Revenue Code or by any other internal revenue law. While the section is applicable to all Federal taxes, it is not applicable to all acts with respect to each tax. For a list of the acts to which the section has application, see § 472.102.

(b) General purpose of section 3804. Section 3804 has for its purpose the postponement of the time for performing acts affecting Federal tax liabilities and rights in the cases specified in the section in which timely performance is impossible or impracticable by reason of the war. Such cases include those in which individuals are outside the Americas, or in which members of the military or naval forces of the United States are serving outside the continental United States (including cases in which such members are serving on sea duty). Impairment or stoppage of transportation and communications in the foregoing cases makes clear the necessity for the suspension of time limitations, both in the case of acts to be performed by the taxpayer (for example, making a return and payment of income tax, or filing a claim for refund or credit of any tax) and in the case of acts to be performed by the Government (for example, the assessment or collection of any tax). In some cases assets and essential records of taxpayers (including taxpayers other than individuals) are in an enemy country or enemy controlled territory; and in such cases, depending upon the circumstances, a period of time may be disregarded under section 3804 (see subparts I and J).

(c) Outline of section 3804. Section 3804 (a) relates only to the tax liability of individuals outside the Americas, but is applicable whether or not the individual is a citizen or resident of the United States.

Section 3804 (b) relates to the tax liability of corporations, trusts, and estates, and, in cases in which no period of time is disregarded under section 3804 (a) or with respect to which a different or additional period of time is to be disregarded, to the tax liability of individuals. Section 3804 (b) is operative only as provided by these regulations.

Section 3804 (c) contains an over-all limitation on the period of time to be disregarded under section 3804. Section 3804 (c) provides that the period of time disregarded under section 3804 in respect of any tax liability shall in no event extend beyond whichever of the following dates is the earlier:

(1) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; or

(2) In the case of an individual with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded, the 15th day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of such individual qualifies.

Section 3804 (d) contains exceptions to the general rules under section 3804 for postponing the time for performing certain acts.

Section 3804 (e) contains definitions.

(d) Provisions of section 507 (b) of Revenue Act of 1942—(1) Public Law 490 (77th Congress). Sections 13 and 14 of the Act approved March 7, 1942 (Public Law 490, 77th Congress) postpone the due dates for filing income tax returns and paying income tax (for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940) in case of certain members of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or serving outside the continental United States, and in case of certain civilian employees of the United States detained by enemy governments or besieged by enemy forces. Under the provisions of section 507 (b) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1942, the time for filing the returns and paying the tax in such cases may not be shortened under any provision of section 3804, except section 3804 (d) (1) (relating to tax in jeopardy, bankruptcy and receiverships, and transferred assets).

The postponed due date under these regulations in every case to which sections 13 and 14 of Public Law 490 apply is the same date as for a later date than that provided under such sections, except as provided in section 3804 (d) (1). The due dates fixed under these regulations therefore govern in all such cases. (See §§ 472.202, 472.502, and 472.503).

(2) Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940. Section 513 of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 authorizes the deferment of collection of income tax from any person in the military service (as defined in such Act) whose ability to pay the tax is materially impaired by reason of such service. Under the provisions of section 507 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1942, if such a deferment for any taxable year is granted such person, the time for paying the tax for such year may not be shortened under any provision of section 3804 except section 3804 (d) (1) (relating to tax in jeopardy, bankruptcy and receiverships, and transferred assets). Except in cases to which section 3804 (d) (1) applies, no provision of these regulations shall be construed to shorten the time which is allowed under section 513 with respect to any taxable year for paying the income tax for such year.

(e) Provisions of section 507 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Section 507 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 provides, in part, that section 3804 shall be effective as if it were enacted on December 7, 1941; except that the phrase "date of enactment of this section", when used in sections 3804 (d) (3) and 3804 (e) (2) and (3), means the date of enactment of the Act, that is, October 21, 1942. Section 507 (c) also provides for the refund or credit of any amount of interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax collected at any time (whether before, on, or after October 21, 1942) with respect to any period required to be disregarded under section 3804. No interest is payable by the United States upon the amount of any such refund or credit.

SUBPART B—GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 472.101 Definitions and use of terms. As used hereinafter in these regulations:

(a) The terms defined in the applicable laws shall have the meanings so assigned to them.

(b) The term "member of the military or naval forces of the United States" includes any individual in the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Army Nurse Corps, Female, the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the Navy Nurse Corps, Female, the Women's Reserve branch of the Naval Reserve, the Women's Reserve branch of the Coast Guard Reserve, and the Women's Reserve branch of the Marine Corps Reserve (Marine Corps Women's Reserve), and any commissioned officer of the Coast and Geodetic Survey or of the Public Health Service.

(c) The term "active duty" includes active service in any branch of the military or naval forces of the United States mentioned in paragraph (b) above, as well as the period during which a member of the military or naval forces of the United States on active duty is absent therefrom on account of sickness, wounds, leave, or other lawful cause.

(d) The term "continental United States" means the States of the Union and the District of Columbia.

(f) The term "tax" or "tax liability" means any tax due the United States under any internal revenue law (including any interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax) or any other liability to the United States in respect thereof.

(g) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(h) The term "collector" means collector of internal revenue.

§ 472.102 Acts postponed—(a) Acts specified in section 3804. (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), and (J). The acts specified in subsection (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), and (J) of section 3804 with respect to which a period of time may be disregarded under such section in determining whether such acts are timely performed are:

(1) Assessment of any tax.

(2) Giving any notice with respect to, or making any demand for the payment of, any tax.

(3) Collection, by the Commissioner or the collector, by distraint or any other proceeding, of any tax.

(4) Bringing suit by the United States, or any officer on its behalf, for any tax.

(b) Other acts. The other acts with respect to which a period of time may be disregarded under section 3804 in determining whether such acts are timely performed are:

(1) Filing any return of income, estate, or gift tax (except the return by a withholding agent of income tax required to be withheld at source and the return by an employer of income tax imposed by Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code or any law superseded thereby).

(2) Payment of any income, estate, or gift tax (except payment by a withholding agent of income tax required to be withheld at source and payment by an employer of income tax imposed by Chapter 9 of the Internal Revenue Code or any law superseded thereby) or any installment of such tax.

(3) Filing a petition with the Board of Tax Appeals or The Tax Court of the United States for redetermination of a deficiency, or for review of a decision rendered by such Board or Tax Court.

(4) Allowance of a credit or refund of any tax.

(5) Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax.

(6) Bringing a suit upon a claim for credit or refund of any tax.

(7) Release of a power of appointment, as defined in section 811 (f) (2), which was created on or before October 21, 1942, except in the case of a release by a person under a legal disabilty who by reason thereof is granted a longer period under any provision of the internal revenue laws than under these regulations within which to effect such release.

(8) Release of a power of appointment, as defined in section 1000 (c), which was created on or before October 21, 1942, except in the case of a release by a person under a legal disability who by reason thereof is granted a longer period under any provision of the internal revenue laws than under these regulations within which to effect such release.

(9) Filing any return of capital stock tax for any year ending on or after June 30, 1942, of any corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922.

(10) Payment of any capital stock tax for any year ending on or after June 30, 1942, by any corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922.

§ 472.103 Computation of time. For the purposes of these regulations, in determining the duration of any period of time during which a member of the military or naval forces of the United States is serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States, the period shall be deemed to commence at the first moment of the day following the date on which the member commences to serve on sea duty or at the first moment of the day following the date of departure of the member from the continental United States, as the case may be, and shall be deemed to terminate at the last moment of the date on which the member ceases to serve on sea duty or the date of return of the member to the continental United States, as the case may be. A similar rule is applicable to the determination of the duration of any period of time during which an individual is outside the Americas.

§ 472.104 Exceptions—(a) Tax in jeopardy; bankruptcy and receiverships; transferred assets. Section 3804 (d) (1) contains exceptions in certain cases under which collection of tax and action preliminary thereto may be effected notwithstanding the fact that in such cases such collection or action would otherwise be stayed because a period of time is or would be disregarded under the provisions of section 3804. Such exceptions are applicable to cases relating to tax in jeopardy, bankruptcy and receivership, and transferred assets.

For example, if the 90-day or 150-day period after the mailing of notice of a deficiency of income tax of an individual (before the expiration of which the assessment of the deficiency is prohibited under section 272 (a)) is extended under the terms of section 3804 (a) by reason of the individual being outside the Americas for more than 90 days, the deficiency may nevertheless by reason of section 3804 (d) (1) be assessed before the expiration of such extended period if the Commissioner believes that the assessment or collection of the deficiency will be jeopardized by delay. Similarly, for example, if the 10-day period after notice and demand under section 3690 (before the expiration of which collection of certain taxes by distraint and sale is prohibited under section 3690) is extended under the terms of section 3804 (a) by reason of an individual being outside the Americas for more than 90 days, collection by distraint and sale may nevertheless by reason of section 3804 (d) (1) be effected before the expiration of such extended period if the tax is in jeopardy.

If under any provision of law the Commissioner or the collector is, in any case to which section 3804 (d) (1) is applied, required to give any notice to or make any demand upon any person, and if the address of such person last known to the Commissioner or collector is in an area for which United States post offices under instructions of the Postmaster General are not, by reason of the war, accepting mail for delivery at the time the notice or demand is signed, the requirement for giving notice or making demand is deemed to be satisfied if the notice or demand is prepared and signed. In such case, the notice or demand is deemed to have been given or made upon the date it is signed. In each such case a record, available for inspection by any person, relating to the notice or demand, shall be maintained in the Office of the Commissioner. There shall be set forth in such record the name and last known address of the taxpayer, a statement of the character of the notice or demand or a reference to the provision of law under which it is issued, the date on which the notice or demand was signed, and the taxable period and kind of tax involved.

(b) Action taken before ascertainment of right to benefits. Section 3804 (d) (2) contains an exception which has the effect of validating action taken, without regard to a period of time required to be disregarded under section 3804 but otherwise pursuant to law, in collecting tax or taking action preliminary thereto if such action is taken prior to the time it is ascertained that the person concerned is entitled to the benefits of section 3804. Section 3804 (d) (2) applies to cases in which the action taken would, except for such section 3804 (d) (2), be prohibited. Thus, for example, if the facts of a case are such that a period of time is disregarded, thereby extending the 10-day period under section 3690 after notice and demand before the expiration of which distraint and sale is prohibited, but property of the taxpayer is distrained upon and sold before the expiration of such extended period, the collector not being aware of the extension of the period, the distraint and sale are nevertheless valid. See, however, section 507 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1942 under which the taxpayer may obtain a refund or credit (without interest) of the amount collected from him, if any, of interest, penalty, additional amount, or addition to the tax (but not of the tax itself) which is attributable to any period required to be disregarded.

Section 3804 (d) (2) does not apply to cases in which a lapse of time is not, under the law pursuant to which action is taken, a condition precedent to the taking of such action, and in which therefore neither section 3804 (a) nor section 3804 (b) may operate to preclude the taking of such action prior to the expiration of an extended period of time. Thus, for example, an investigation to determine liability for any tax may be made, or an assessment of manufacturers' excise tax or alcohol tax may be made, even after it is ascertained that the taxpayer is entitled to the benefits of section 3804 (a) or (b), since under the law pursuant to which such investigation or assessment is made no lapse of time is prescribed as a condition precedent to the taking of such action.

(c) Expiration of period of limitations prior to October 21, 1942. Section 3804 (d) (3) provides that section 3804 shall not operate to extend the time for performing any act specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J) (see § 472.102 (a)) if such time under the law in force prior to October 21, 1942 (the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942), expired prior to such date.

§ 472.105 Notices to Commissioner under section 3804 (e) (2) and (3)—(a) Requirement. If a period of time is disregarded under any provision of section 3804, the time within which the acts specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J) (see § 472.102 (a)) may be performed by or on behalf of the Government may be extended indefinitely (subject to the limitations provided in section 3804 (c) (1) and (d) (3)) unless the notice provided for in section 3804 (e) (2) or (3) is given to the Commissioner. For purposes of determining whether such acts are timely performed, the event fixing the date of termination of the period to be disregarded, if such event occurred after October 21, 1942 (the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1942), shall not be deemed to have occurred until the notice described in paragraph (b)) of such event is received by the Commissioner.

The notice provided for in section 3804 (e) (2) or (3) should be furnished by the person concerned to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., after the occurrence of one of the following enumerated events, in case a period of time is disregarded under section 3804 (including cases in which a period of time is disregarded under Subpart I or J of these regulations) and the date of termination of such period is dependent upon the time when:

(1) An individual (whether or not the taxpayer) returns to the Americas; or

(2) An individual (whether or not the taxpayer) in the military or naval forces of the United States returns to the continental United States or ceases to serve on sea duty; or

(3) An individual (whether or not the taxpayer) leaves an area of enemy action or control; or

(4) A person qualifies as executor, administrator, or conservator of the estate of an individual with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under section 3804.

In order that periods of time within which acts may be performed, and interest or penalty, if any, may be properly computed, notice should be furnished to the Commissioner in every case in which the termination of a period disregarded under section 3804 is dependent upon the time when an individual returns to the Americas or to the continental United States, or upon the time when an individual ceases to serve on sea duty, or upon the time when an individual leaves an area of enemy action or control, or upon the time when an executor, administrator, or conservator qualifies as such. Thus, the notice should be furnished in those cases in which the event (fixing the date of termination of the period to be disregarded) occurred on or before October 21, 1942, although in such cases failure to furnish the notice does not under the provisions of section 3804 (e) (2) or (3) extend the period within which the Government may perform the acts specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), or (J).

With the exception noted in the last preceding sentence, the consequence of failure to furnish the information called for in paragraph (b) is the extension in favor of the Government of the time within which the acts specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (G), (H), (I), and (J) may be performed. Such failure cannot operate to extend the time within which other acts specified in section 3804 (see § 472.102 (b)) may be performed. While no time is prescribed for furnishing the information, it is to the advantage of the taxpayer that the information be furnished as promptly as possible for each period disregarded under section 3804.

(b) Form and contents of notice. No particular form is prescribed for giving the notice provided for in section 3804 (e) (2) or (3). The notice shall be filed, in duplicate, with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., and it shall be stated therein that the notice is filed pursuant to section 3804 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Each such notice shall be signed and dated by the person filing it, and shall contain the following information:

(1) Name and present address of the taxpayer.

(2) Name and present address of the person furnishing the information, if not furnished by the taxpayer.

(3) Kind and amount of tax or taxes which are believed to be involved (for example, income, estate, or gift tax).

(4) Address of each collector with whom returns of the tax or taxes involved have been or are intended to be filed.

(5) Each taxable year or period believed to be involved.

(6) For the period, if any, during which the individual was a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, (i) if outside the continental United States or serving on sea duty on December 7, 1941, the last date prior to December 7, 1941, on which the individual left the continental United States or commenced to serve on sea duty; (ii) each date after December 6, 1941, on which the individual left the continental United States or commenced to serve on sea duty; and (iii) each date after December 6, 1941, on which the individual returned to the continental United States or ceased to serve on sea duty.

(7) For the period, if any, during which the individual was not a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, (i) if outside the Americas on December 7, 1941, the last date prior to December 7, 1941, on which the individual left the Americas and the name of the port of departure; (ii) each date after December 6, 1941, on which the individual left the Americas and the name of each port of departure; and (iii) each date after December 6, 1941, on which the individual returned to the Americas and the name of each port of entry.

(8) If any period of time is disregarded under section 3804 by reason of an indivdual being in a locality which is an area of enemy action or control (see subparts I and J), the beginning and ending dates of each period after December 6, 1941, during which the individual was within such a locality and the name of the locality.

(9) In the case of a person who has qualified as an executor, administrator, or conservator of the estate of an individual with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under section 3804, the date on which, and the name and location of the court in which, such person qualified as such, together with the information called for in subparagraphs (1) to (8), inclusive.

In case more than one period of time is disregarded under section 3804 with respect to a taxpayer, information previously furnished in such case to the Commissioner in notices given under this section of these regulations need not be included in subsequent notices to the Commissioner thereunder.

In case a person, having the intent of giving notice pursuant to the provisions of section 3804, furnishes the notice prior to the receipt by such person of advise as to the requirements of this section of these regulations (whether before or after the promulgation thereof), such notice will be considered as satisfying such provisions as of the date of actual receipt thereof in Washington, D. C., by the Commissioner, if in the opinion of the Commissioner there has been substantial compliance with this section. A notice furnished to a collector will not be considered as a notice to the Commissioner.

§ 472.106 Different periods of time disregarded with respect to same matter. This section applies to the case of any person with respect to whom under one provision of these regulations a specified period of time is disregarded in the determination of any matter, and under another provision of these regulations a longer period of time is disregarded in the determination of the same matter. Unless a contrary intent is expressly indicated in these regulations or in a determination by the Commissioner with respect to such person, the longer period of time shall be the one disregarded in determining whether the act is timely performed. For example, if a member of the military forces of the United States who is serving on active duty outside the continental United States on March 15, 1943, returns to the continental United States on May 29, 1943, and does not again serve outside the continental United States until after September 15, 1943, under § 472.202 the due date for filing the separate income tax return of the member and paying the tax for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1942, is September 15, 1943. If the spouse of such member has gross income of less than $1,200 for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1942, under § 472.403 the due date for filing the separate income tax return of the spouse and paying the tax for such taxable year is likewise September 15, 1943. If, however, the spouse leaves the Americas on December 1, 1942, and returns thereto on November 2, 1943, under § 472.503 the due date for filing the separate income tax return of the spouse and paying the tax for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1942, is January 31, 1944 (the 90th day after the date of the return of the spouse to the Americas). Inasmuch as the longer period of time is to be disregarded under the provisions of this section, the due date for filing the income tax return of the spouse and paying the tax for the taxable year is January 31, 1944, instead of September 15, 1943. (In the foregoing example it is assumed that the member had for the taxable year gross income of $1,200 or more. For that reason the due date of the member for filing a separate income tax return and paying the tax for the taxable year is not postponed under § 472.702 or § 472.703 by reason of the spouse of the member being outside the Americas.)

This section also applies in case under one provision no period of time is disregarded and under another provision a period of time is disregarded, and in such case a similar rule shall be applied, that is, unless a contrary intent is expressly indicated in these regulations or in a determination by the Commissioner, the disregarded period of time is applicable in determining whether the act is timely performed. For example, if a wife's gross income is $1,200 or more for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1942, the due date of her separate income tax return and of payment of the tax for such taxable year is not postponed under § 472.402, even though the due date of her husband's return and tax payment for such year is postponed under § 472.202 by reason of his being a member of the naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty. But if her due date for such taxable year is postponed under § 472.502, by reason of her being outside the Americas, the disregarded period of time prescribed in § 472.503 is applicable in determining whether her return is timely filed and her tax is timely paid.

§ 472.107 Computation of amount of credit or refund and of interest thereon—(a) Application of section. This section applies to the determination of the period of time, if any, which shall be disregarded under these regulations for the purpose of determining under the internal revenue laws the amount of any credit or refund and the amount of interest upon any credit or refund.

(b) General rule. If any period of time is disregarded under these regulations with respect to any taxpayer in determining whether any act specified in § 472.102 is timely performed, such period of time shall also be disregarded for the purpose specified in paragraph (a), except in the cases specified in paragraph (c) (2), (3), and (4).

(c) Exception when amount of credit or refund would not be affected—(1) Application of paragraph. This paragraph applies only to cases in which the disregarding of the period of time prescribed in paragraph (b) would not result:

(i) In a credit or refund being allowable where a credit or refund would not otherwise be allowable, or

(ii) In a greater amount of credit or refund being allowable than would otherwise be allowable.

(2) When taxpayer is an individual and section 3804 (a) is applicable. In case the taxpayer is an individual, if:

(i) The facts of the particular case are such that the conditions specified in paragraph (c) (1) is met, and

(ii) A period of time is required to be disregarded under section 3804 (a) by reason of such individual being outside the Americas continuously for 91 or more days after December 6, 1941, and

(iii) The period of time required to be disregarded under section 3804 (a) is different from the period of time required to be disregarded under paragraph (b), then only the period of time required to be disregarded under section 3804 (a) shall be disregarded for the purpose specified in paragraph (a).

(3) When taxpayer is an individual and section 3804 (a) is not applicable. In case the taxpayer is an individual, if:

(i) The facts of the particular case are such that the condition specified in paragraph (c) (1) is met, and

(ii) No period of time is required to be disregarded under section 3804 (a), then no period of time shall be disregarded for the purpose specified in paragraph (a).

(4) When taxpayer is not an individual. In the case of a taxpayer other than an individual, no period of time shall be disregarded for the purpose specified in paragraph (a) if the facts of the particular case are such that the condition specified in paragraph (c) (1) is met.

SUBPART C—TAX OF MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.201 Application of subpart C. This subpart applies to the cases in which a period of time is disregarded in respect of the tax liability of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States on active duty. Section 472.202 relates to the due date for filing income tax returns and the due date for paying income tax, in the case of taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940. Section 472.203 relates to (a) income tax liability (other than due dates of returns and payments) with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, (b) income tax liability with respect to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941, and (c) tax liability with respect to all taxes other than income tax.

§ 472.202 Income tax due dates for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940—(a) Application of section. This section applies only to the due dates of returns and of payments of income tax for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

(b) Circumstances under which due date is postponed. The due date for any income tax return and for any payment (including any installment payment) of income tax is postponed in the case of any individual in the military or naval forces of the United States in case:

(1) At any time on the day on which the return or payment would otherwise become due the individual is serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States; or

(2) The date on which the return or payment would otherwise become due falls prior to the 90th day after the last day of a period of 91 days or more of continuous service by the individual on sea duty or outside the continental United States (for provisions relative to computing duration of service on sea duty or outside the continental United States, see § 472.103); or

(3) The date on which the return or payment would otherwise become due occurs after the individual, while serving outside the continental United States or on sea duty (irrespective of the duration of such service), dies or becomes incompetent.

See section 53 for provisions relating to the date when an income tax return would otherwise (that is, but for this section of these regulations) become due. See section 56 for provisions relating to the date when an income tax payment would otherwise become due.

(c) New due date. The new due date, in the case of any postponement required by paragraph (b), is the earliest of the following dates (except in the case of certain installment payments as prescribed in paragraph (e)):

(1) The 15th day of the fourth month following the month in which the individual ceases (except by resaon of death or incompetency) to be a member of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States, unless prior to the expiration of such 15th day he is again a member of the military or naval forces serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States; or

(2) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; or

(3) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of the taxpayer qualifies.

(d) Installment privilege where due date for payment of tax is postponed. In case the due date for paying the tax (as distinguished from the due date of an installment of the tax) is postponed under the provisions of paragraph (b), the tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in accordance with the provisions of section 56 (b) in four equal installments instead of in a single payment. In such case the first installment is to be paid on or before the new due date prescribed by paragraph (c), the second installment on or before the 15th day of the third month, the third installment on or before the 15th day of the sixth month, and the fourth installment on or before the 15th day of the ninth month, after such new due date. This is true even though the date on or before which the second, third, or fourth installment is to be paid falls after the date prescribed in subparagraphs (2) or (3) of paragraph (c).

(e) Installment privilege where due dates for paying installments are postponed. In any case in which the taxpayer has exercised the installment privilege, in accordance with section 56 (b), for paying the tax for any taxable year, if the due dates of more than one installment (but not the first installment) of the tax for such year are postponed under the provisions of paragraph (b), the new due dates for such postponed installments shall be as follows:

(1) The new due date of the first postponed installment shall be the new due date prescribed in paragraph (c);

(2) The new due date of the second postponed installment shall be the 15th day of the third month after the new due date of the first postponed installment; and

(3) The new due date of the third postponed installment, if any, shall be the 15th day of the sixth month after the new due date of the first postponed installment.

However, in no event shall the new due date of the second or third such postponed installment be later than the earlier of the dates prescribed in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (c).

§ 472.203 Tax liability in general—(a) Application of section. This section shall apply, in the case of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, to:

(1) Income tax liability with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, other than in the case of due dates of returns and payments (as to such dates, see § 472.202); and

(2) Income tax liability with respect to taxable years beginning before January 1, 1941; and

(3) Tax liability with respect to all taxes other than income tax.

If the circumstances are such that a period of time is required to be disregarded under paragraph (b), the period of time prescribed in paragraph (c) shall be disregarded, in the above cases of tax liability to which this section applies, in determining, under the internal revenue laws, whether any act specified in § 472.102 was performed within the time prescribed therefor.

(b) Circumstances under which period of time is disregarded. In the cases specified in paragraph (a), the period of time prescribed in paragraph (c) shall be disregarded if the member of the military or naval forces of the United States serves, after December 6, 1941, on sea duty or outside the continental United States:

(1) Continuously for 91 days or more (for provisions relative to computing duration of service on sea duty or outside the continental United States, see § 472.103); or

(2) For any period (irrespective of the duration of such period) if, while on sea duty or outside the continental United States, he dies or becomes incompetent.

(c) Period of time disregarded. If a period of time is required to be disregarded under paragraph (b), the period of time disregarded shall commence at the first moment of the day following the date on which the taxpayer commences to serve on sea duty or at the first moment of the day following the date of departure of the taxpayer from the continental United States, whichever is the earlier. It shall terminate at the last moment of whichever of the following dates is the earliest:

(1) The 15th day of the fourth month following the month in which the taxpayer ceases (except by reason of death or incompetency) to be a member of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States, unless prior to the expiration of such 15th day the taxpayer is again a member of the military or naval forces serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States; or

(2) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; or

(3) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of the taxpayer qualifies.

The application of § 472.203 (c) (1) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. On April 1, 1943, the Commissioner duly mailed to A, a member of the military forces of the United States, a notice of deficiency in respect of A's income tax for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1941. Under the provisions of section 272, A has 90 days after the notice is mailed within which to file a petition with The Tax Court of the United States for a redetermination of the deficiency. A leaves the continental United States on May 1, 1943, and serves on active duty outside the continental United States until he returns thereto on April 30, 1944. A does not again serve outside the continental United States until after October 14, 1944. Under the provisions of this section the last day on which A may timely file a petition with The Tax Court of the United States for a redetermination of the deficiency is October 14, 1944. This date is determined as follows: the day on which the notice of deficiency was mailed, that is, April 1, 1943, is excluded and the day of A's departure from the continental United States, that is, May 1, 1943, is included in determining that portion of the 90-day period which had expired on A's departure from the continental United States, which is 30 days; the period of time which is disregarded commences at the first moment of May 2, 1943, the day following A's departure from the continental United States, and terminates at the last moment of August 15, 1944, the 15th day of the fourth month following the month in which A ceases to serve outside the continental United States; and the 60th day thereafter (the 90 days for filing a petition with The Tax Court less 30 days thereof which had expired on A's departure from the continental United States) is October 14, 1944.

SUBPART D—JOINT RETURN IF HUSBAND OR WIFE IS MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.301 Joint return if husband or wife is member of armed forces. This subpart applies to the election of husband and wife to make a joint return (or separate returns) of income for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, in case:

(a) Either the husband or wife is a member of the military or naval forces of the United States; and

(b) The due date for filing the return of the member for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.202; and

(c) The spouse and the member would be entitled to file a joint return for such taxable year if an election to file such a return is timely made. (For provisions relating to joint returns, see sections 51 (b) and 400 and regulations promulgated thereunder.)

In such a case the election to file a joint return (or separate returns) for such taxable year may be made on or before the last day on which a return of the member may be timely filed under § 472.202. That is, an election may be made to file a joint return where a separate return or returns have previously been filed, or where neither the spouse nor the member has filed a return; or an election may be made to file separate returns where a joint return has previously been filed. In any such case the due date of the joint return and tax thereunder is the date on or before which the election may be timely made under this section. However, where separate returns are made, the due date of the return and tax of neither taxpayer is affected by this section, but is governed by the provisions of these regulations applicable to the due date of the separate return and tax of the respective taxpayer. In any case in which the due dates of the returns of both spouses are postponed under these regulations and one of such postponed due dates is later than the other (as, for example, where both spouses are members of the military or naval forces of the United States serving outside the continental United States and one of the spouses returns later than the other), the election may be made on or before the later due date of the two. But see § 472.402 for provisions under which a spouse is required to make an income tax return and pay the tax due thereunder on the normal due date.

In case the member is not required under section 51 to make a return for a taxable year (as, for example, where the member does not have any gross income for the taxable year by reason of the exclusion from gross income provided in section 22 (b) (13)) but the facts are such that the due date would be postponed if he were required to make a return for such year, this subpart shall nevertheless have application in the same manner and to the same extent as though the member were required to make a return for such year and the due date thereof were postponed.

SUBPART E—INCOME TAX OF SPOUSE OF MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.401 Application of subpart E. This subpart applies to the income tax liability, with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, of the spouse of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States in case:

(a) The due date for filing the return of the member for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.202; and

(b) The spouse and the member would be entitled to file a joint return for such taxable year if an election to file such a return is timely made. (For provisions relating to joint returns, see sections 51 (b) and 400 and regulations promulgated thereunder.)

In case the member is not required under section 51 to make a return for a taxable year (as, for example, where the member does not have any gross income for the taxable year by reason of the exclusion from gross income provided in section 22 (b) (13)) but the facts are such that the due date would be postponed if he were required to make a return for such year, this subpart shall nevertheless have application in the same manner and to the same extent as though the member were required to make a return for such year and the due date thereof were postponed.

§ 472.402 Return and tax payment if spouse's gross income is $1,200 or over. If the spouse of the member of the military for naval forces of the United States has for the taxable year gross income of $1,200 or more (or $1,500 or more, in the case of a taxable year beginning in 1941), the due date of the income tax return and of payment of the tax of the spouse for such year is not postponed under the provisions of this subpart. Such due date of the spouse may, however, be postponed under provisions of these regulations other than this subpart if the spouse is also a member of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States (see Subpart C), or if the spouse is outside the Americas (see Subpart F), or if the circumstances are such as to fall within the provisions of Subpart J. The filing of a return by the spouse does not preclude the making of a joint return subsequently by the husband and wife (see § 472.301).

§ 472.403 Income tax due dates postponed if spouse's gross income is less than $1,200. If the spouse of the member of the military or naval forces of the United States has for the taxable year gross income of less than $1,200 (or less than $1,500, in the case of a taxable year beginning in 1941), the income tax return and tax of the spouse for such year shall be due at the same time as the return and tax of the member for such year are due under the provisions of § 472.202. If the due date for paying the tax is postponed under this section, the tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in four equal installments, as provided in § 472.202 (d).

§ 472.404 Matters other than due dates. In the case of the income tax liability for a taxable year of a spouse of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States, the disregarded period of time under § 472.203 in the case of tax liability of the member shall also be disregarded with respect to the income tax liability for such year of the spouse in determining whether any act specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (D), (E), (F), (G), (H), (I), or (J) was performed within the time prescribed therefor. Thus, for example, in the case of the income tax of the spouse for such year, the time within which the spouse may file a claim for refund is thereby extended, and the time within which the United States may enforce collection against the spouse is thereby extended. In no event, however, shall this section operate to extend any period prescribed in Subchapter C of Chapter 36 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to distraint) before the expiration of which distraint or sale for the collection of income tax may not be made.

§ 472.405 Income of spouse under community property law. This section applies to the income tax liability, with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, of the spouse of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States in case:

(a) The due date for filing the return of the member for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.202; and

(b) The spouse and member are domiciled in a so-called community property state; and

(c) Community income is derived by the spouse during the taxable year but is neither actually nor constructively received by the spouse during such year.

In such case the inclusion, in a return made by the spouse for the taxable year, of such community income shall be deemed to be timely for all purposes if so included in a return filed on or before the due date, under § 472.202, of a return of the member for such taxable year. The tax with respect to such community income shall be deemed to be timely paid for all purposes if paid at or before the time or times fixed by § 472.202 for the payment of tax by the member for such year. The provisions of this section do not postpone the due date of the spouse for filing a return of, or paying the tax with respect to, income other than such community income. In cases in which a return for any taxable year is filed from which such community income has been excluded, such community income shall be included in an amended return for such taxable year filed on or before the due date, under § 472.202, of a return of the member for such year.

For the purpose of determining whether the due date of the income tax return and of payment of the tax for a taxable year is postponed under the provisions of §§ 472.402 and 472.403, community income neither actually nor constructively received by the spouse during such year shall be excluded in ascertaining the amount of the gross income of the spouse for such year.

For purposes of determining any due date under this subpart, receipt of community income by the member of the military or naval forces of the United States shall not be deemed to constitute constructive receipt of such income by the spouse of such member.

SUBPART F—TAX OF INDIVIDUAL NOT MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.501 Application of subpart F—(a) Individuals to whom applicable. This subpart applies to the tax liability of any individual other than a member of the military or naval forces of the United States. (For provisions relating to different periods of time disregarded with respect to same matter, see § 472.106.)

(b) Acts with respect to which period of time is disregarded. If a period of time is required to be disregarded under § 472.502, the period of time prescribed in § 472.503 shall be disregarded, in the above cases of tax liability to which this subpart applies, in determining, under the internal revenue laws, whether any act specified in § 472.102 was performed within the time prescribed therefor.

§ 472.502 Circumstances under which period of time is disregarded. In the cases specified in § 472.501, the period of time prescribed in § 472.503 shall be disregarded if the individual is, after December 6, 1941, outside the Americas:

(a) For a period of 91 or more days continuously; or

(b) For any period (irrespective of the duration of such period) if, while outside the Americas, he dies or becomes incompetent; or

(c) For any period (irrespective of the duration of such period) if the individual makes a voyage or departs upon a voyage from (or to) a point of land in the Americas to (or from) a point of land outside the Americas, on which voyage while en route a point or points of land within the Americas are touched, and

(1) The period during which the individual is outside the Americas plus the period of the stopover or stopovers within the Americas equals or exceeds 91 days, or

(2) The individual dies or becomes incompetent during the period of a stopover within the Americas while en route on the voyage.

For purposes of paragraph (c), above, the term "voyage" means a voyage by vessel or aircraft (whether or not continuously on the same vessel or aircraft), if in case of a stopover en route at a point of land within the Americas the voyage is resumed not later than the 30th day after the date of arrival at the point within the Americas.

The due date for any income tax return and for any payment (including any installment payment) of income tax, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, is postponed in the case of any civilian officer or employee of any executive department, independent establishment, or agency (including corporations) in the executive branch of the Federal Government who, at the time the return or payment would otherwise become due, is detained by any foreign government with which the United States is at war, or is beleaguered or besieged by enemy forces. For the postponed due date in such case, see § 472.503.

§ 472.503 Period of time disregarded—(a) General rule. If a period of time is required to be disregarded under § 472.502, the period of time disregarded is the aggregate of the following periods:

(1) The period during which the individual is continuously outside the Americas, including, if § 472.502 (c) is applicable, the period or periods of any stopovers while en route on a voyage; plus

(2) The next 90 days after the period referred to in subparagraph (1).

Example. On February 1, 1943, the Commissioner duly mailed to A, a civilian, a notice of deficiency in respect to A's income tax for the taxable year beginning on January 1, 1941. Under the provisions of section 272, A has 90 days after the notice is mailed within which to file a petition with The Tax Court of the United States for a redetermination of the deficiency. A leaves the Americas for England on March 1, 1943, and returns to the Americas on March 31, 1944. A does not again leave the Americas until after August 30, 1944. Under the provisions of this section the last day on which A may timely file a petition with The Tax Court of the United States for a redetermination of the deficiency is August 30, 1944. This date is determined as follows: the date on which the notice of deficiency was mailed, that is, February 1, 1943, is excluded and the day of A's departure from the Americas, that is, March 1, 1943, is included in determining that portion of the 90-day period which had expired on A's departure from the Americas, which is 28 days; the period of time which is disregarded commences at the first moment of March 2, 1943, the day following A's departure from the Americas, and terminates at the last moment of June 29, 1944, the 90th day after the date of A's return to the Americas; and the 62nd day thereafter (the 90 days for filing a petition with The Tax Court less 28 days thereof which had expired on A's departure from the Americas) is August 30, 1944. If A makes his income tax return for 1942 on a calendar year basis, the due date for filing his income tax return for such taxable year is June 29, 1944 (the 90th day after A's return to the Americas).

However, in case an income tax due date of a civilian employee of the United States is postponed under § 472.502 by reason of the employee being detained by a foreign government with which the United States is at war or by reason of the employee being beleaguered or besieged by enemy forces, the new due date is the 15th day of the fourth month following the month in which the employee returns to the continental United States (or, if such 15th day falls after either date prescribed in paragraph (c), below, then the new due date is the earlier of the dates prescribed in paragraph (c)).

(b) Death or incompetency of individual. If the individual dies or becomes incompetent while outside the Americas or, if § 472.502 (c) is applicable, while on a stopover within the Americas, the period of time disregarded is the aggregate of the following periods:

(1) The period during which the individual is continuously outside the Americas plus (if § 472.502 (c) is applicable) the period of the stopover or stopovers within the Americas (subject to the limitations prescribed in section 3804 (c) (see paragraph (c), below)); and

(2) The period, if any, after the period prescribed in subparagraph (1) terminating at the last moment of the earlier of the two dates prescribed in section 3804 (c).

(c) Limitation on time to be disregarded. As provided in section 3804 (c), the period of time disregarded with respect to the tax liability of an individual shall not extend beyond whichever of the following dates is the earlier:

(1) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; or

(2) The 15th day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of the individual qualifies.

(d) Installment privilege where due date for payment of income tax is postponed. In case the due date for paying income tax (as distinguished from the due date of an installment of the tax) is postponed under the provisions of § 472.502, the tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in accordance with the provisions of section 56 (b) in four equal installments instead of in a single payment. For example, if the postponed due date for paying income tax is June 29, 1944, as determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c), above, the tax may be paid in four equal installments, the first on June 29, 1944, the second on September 15, 1944, the third on December 15, 1944, and the fourth on March 15, 1945. This is true even though the date on or before which the second, third, or fourth installment is to be paid falls after the date prescribed in subparagraph (1) or (2) of paragraph (c), above.

(e) Installment privilege where due dates for paying income tax installments are postponed. In any case in which the taxpayer has exercised the installment privilege, in accordance with section 56 (b), for paying income tax for any taxable year, if the due dates of more than one installement (but not the first installment) of the tax for such year are postponed under the provisions of § 472.502, the new due dates for such postponed installments shall be as follows:

(1) The new due date for the first postponed installment shall be the new due date determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), and (c), above;

(2) The new due date of the second postponed installment shall be the 15th day of the third month after the new due date of the first postponed installment; and

(3) The new due date of the third postponed installment, if any, shall be the 15th day of the sixth month after the new due date of the first postponed installment.

However, in no event shall the new due date of the second or third such postponed installment be later than the earlier of the dates prescribed in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (c), above.

SUBPART G—JOINT RETURN IF NEITHER HUSBAND NOR WIFE IS MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.601 Joint return if neither husband nor wife is member of armed forces. This subpart applies to the election of husband and wife to make a joint return (or separate returns) of income for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, in case:

(a) The due date for filing the return of either of the individuals for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.502 by reason of the individual being outside the Americas; and

(b) Such individual and spouse would be entitled to file a joint return for such taxable year if an election to file such a return is timely made. (For provisions relating to joint returns, see sections 51 (b) and 400 and regulations promulgated thereunder.)

In such a case the election to file a joint return (or separate returns) for such taxable year may be made on or before the last day on which a return of the individual (whose due date is postponed by reason of being outside the Americas) may be timely filed under § 472.503. That is, an election may be made to file a joint return where a separate return or returns have previously been filed, or where neither spouse has filed a return; or an election may be made to file separate returns where a joint return has previously been filed. In any such case the due date of the joint return and tax thereunder is the date on or before which the election may be timely made under this section. However, where separate returns are made, the due date of the return and tax of neither taxpayer is affected by this section, but is governed by the provisions of these regulations applicable to the due date of the separate return and tax of the respective taxpayer. In any case in which the due dates of the returns of both spouses are postponed under these regulations and one of such postponed due dates is later than the other (as, for example, where both husband and wife have been outside the Americas and one of the spouses returns to the Americas later than the other), the election may be made on or before the later due date of the two. But see § 472.702 for provisions under which a spouse is required to make an income tax return and pay the tax due thereunder on the normal due date.

In case the individual who is outside the Americas is not required under section 51 to make a return for a taxable year (as, for example, where the individual does not have any gross income for the taxable year) but the facts are such that the due date would be postponed if he were required to make a return for such year, this subpart shall nevertheless have application in the same manner and to the same extent as though such individual were required to make a return for such year and the due date thereof were postponed.

SUBPART H—INCOME TAX OF SPOUSE OF INDIVIDUAL NOT MEMBER OF ARMED FORCES

§ 472.701 Application of subpart H. This subpart applies to the income tax liability, with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, of the spouse of an individual not a member of the military or naval forces of the United States in case:

(a) The due date for filing the return of such individual for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.502 by reason of the individual being outside the Americas; and

(b) Such individual and spouse would be entitled to file a joint return for such taxable year if an election to file such a return is timely made. (For provisions relating to joint returns, see sections 51 (b) and 400 and regulations promulgated thereunder.)

In case the individual who is outside the Americas is not required under section 51 to make a return for a taxable year (as, for example, where the individual does not have any gross income for the taxable year) but the facts are such that the due date would be postponed if he were required to make a return for such year, this subpart shall nevertheless have application in the same manner and to the same extent as though such individual were required to make a return for such year and the due date thereof were postponed.

§ 472.702 Return and tax payment if spouse's gross income is $1,200 or over. In the case of the spouse of an individual whose income tax return and payment due date is postponed under § 472.502, if such spouse has for the taxable year gross income of $1,200 or more (or $1,500 or more, in the case of a taxable year beginning in 1941), the due date of the income tax return and of payment of the tax of the spouse for such year is not postponed under the provisions of this subpart. Such due date of the spouse may, however, be postponed under provisions of these regulations other than this subpart if such spouse is also outside the Americas (see Subpart F), or is a member of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States (see Subpart C), or if the circumstances are such as to fall within the provisions of Subpart J. The filing of a return by the spouse does not preclude the making of a joint return subsequently by the husband and wife (see § 472.601).

§ 472.703 Income tax due dates postponed if spouse's gross income is less than $1,200. In the case of the spouse of an individual whose income tax return and payment due date for a taxable year is postponed under § 472.502, if such spouse has for such year gross income of less than $1,200 (or less than $1,500, in the case of a taxable year beginning in 1941), the income tax return and tax of the spouse for such year shall be due at the same time as the return and tax of such individual for such year are due under the provisions of § 472.503. If the due date for paying the tax is postponed under this section, the tax may, at the option of the taxpayer, be paid in four equal installments as provided in § 472.503 (d).

§ 472.704 Matters other than due dates. In the case of the income tax liability for a taxable year of the spouse of an individual whose income tax return and payment due date for a taxable year is postponed under § 472.502, the disregarded period of time under § 472.503 in the case of tax liability of such individual shall also be disregarded with respect to the income tax liability for such year of the spouse in determining whether any act specified in section 3804 (a) (1) (D), (E), (F), (G), (H), (I), or (J) was performed within the time prescribed therefor. Thus, for example, in the case of the income tax of the spouse for such year, the time within which the spouse may file a claim for refund is thereby extended, and the time within which the United States may enforce collection against the spouse is thereby extended. In no event, however, shall this section operate to extend any period prescribed in Subchapter C of Chapter 36 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to distraint) before the expiration of which distraint or sale for the collection of income tax may not be made.

§ 472.705 Income of spouse under community property law. This section applies to the income tax liability, with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, of the spouse of an individual not a member of the military or naval forces of the United States in case:

(a) The due date for filing the return of such individual for such taxable year is postponed under the provisions of § 472.502; and

(b) The spouse and such individual are domiciled in a so-called community property state; and

(c) Community income is derived by the spouse during the taxable year but is neither actually nor constructively received by the spouse during such year.

In such case the inclusion, in a return made by the spouse for the taxable year, of such community income shall be deemed to be timely for all purposes if so included in a return filed on or before the due date, under § 472.503, of a return of such individual for such taxable year. The tax with respect to such community income shall be deemed to be timely paid for all purposes if paid at or before the time or times fixed by § 472.503 for the payment of tax by such individual for such year. The provisions of this section do not postpone the due date of the spouse for filing a return of, or paying the tax with respect to, income other than such community income. In cases in which a return for any taxable year is filed from which such community income has been excluded, such community income shall be included in an amended return for such taxable year filed on or before the due date, under § 472.503, of a return for such year of the individual who is outside the Americas.

For the purpose of determining whether the due date of the income tax return and of payment of the tax for a taxable year is postponed under the provisions of §§ 472.702 and 472.703, community income neither actually nor constructively received by the spouse during such year shall be excluded in ascertaining the amount of the gross income of the spouse for such year.

For purposes of determining any due date under this subpart, receipt of community income by the individual who is outside the Americas shall not be deemed to constitute constructive receipt of such income by the spouse of such individual.

SUBPART I—TAX OF CORPORATIONS, TRUSTS, AND ESTATES

§ 472.801 Application of Subpart I—(a) Persons to whom applicable. This subpart applies to the tax liability of corporations, trusts, and estates. Sections 472.801 (b), 472.802, 472.803, and 472.804 apply to all corporations, trusts, and estates, except that such sections shall not apply with respect to the determination, in the cases to which § 472.805 applies, of the amount of interest payable by foreign corporations subject to section 231 (a). Except to the extent provided in § 472.805 and in § 472.806 (relating to China Trade Act corporations), no period of time is disregarded with respect to any corporation, trust, or estate unless the Commissioner determines under these regulations that a period of time shall be disregarded with respect to such corporation, trust, or estate.

Such determinations may be made by the Commissioner upon his own initiative based upon the facts available to him, or upon application by any interested person. Applications for such determinations shall be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Notice of each determination under this subpart shall, if practicable, be furnished to the taxpayer or taxpayers whose tax liability is affected thereby.

(b) Acts with respect to which period of time is disregarded. If the circumstances are such that a period of time is required to be disregarded under § 472.802 in determining whether any act specified in § 472.102 was performed within the time prescribed therefor, the period of time prescribed under § 472.803 shall be disregarded, in the above cases to which this subpart applies, in determining, under the internal revenue laws, whether such act was performed within the time prescribed therefor. Thus, under this subpart a period of time may be disregarded with respect only to such act or acts as are specified in the determination of the Commissioner.

§ 472.802 Circumstances under which period of time is disregarded. In the cases specified in § 472.801, the period of time prescribed under § 472.803 shall be disregarded in any case in which timely performance of any act specified in § 472.102 is determined by the Commissioner to be impossible or impracticable:

(a) By reason of any individual being outside the Americas; or

(b) By reason of any locality being an area of enemy action or control, as determined by the Commissioner; or

(c) By reason of any member of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States.

Whether or not the circumstances of a particular case are such that a period of time shall be disregarded is dependent upon the facts of the particular case. In general, consideration will be given to the fact of absence, as indicated above, of individuals who are directors or officers of the corporation or fiduciaries or beneficiaries of the trust or estate, and to the fact that assets and essential records are in an area of enemy action or control.

§ 472.803 Period of time disregarded. If the Commissioner determines under § 472.802 that the circumstances of a particular case are such that a period of time shall be disregarded with respect to any corporation, trust, or estate, or class of corporations, trusts, or estates, the Commissioner shall also determine the duration of such period. The Commissioner may subsequently modify the duration of such period if in his opinion such action is necessary or desirable in order to carry out the purpose and intent of section 3804. No period prior to December 7, 1941, nor after the 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President, shall be disregarded. The duration of the period which shall be disregarded under this subpart shall be stated in the determination or determinations by the Commissioner with respect to the taxpayer or taxpayers affected.

§ 472.804 Inspection of determinations made by the Commissioner. Each determination made by the Commissioner under this subpart with respect to a taxpayer shall be available for inspection by the same persons as are entitled to inspect the return of the taxpayer (or would be so entitled if the return were filed). Such inspection shall be subject to the same conditions as in the case of inspection of the return of the taxpayer.

§ 472.805 Interest payable by foreign corporations subject to section 231 (a). In determining the amount of interest payable by any foreign corporation with respect to income tax imposed by section 231 (a) for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1939, there shall be disregarded the period beginning with December 7, 1941, and ending with the 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President; except that there shall be included in the period disregarded only that portion thereof during which payment of such tax by the corporation was prevented due to restrictions imposed with respect to the corporation by any foreign government with which the United States is at war or by the government of any country under the control of the enemy.

§ 472.806 China Trade Act corporations—(a) Income tax. Section 3805 provides that in the case of any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, no Federal income tax return of, or payment of any Federal income tax by, any corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922, shall become due until the 15th day of the sixth month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President. Section 3805 further provides that such due date is prescribed subject to the power of the Commissioner to extend the time for filing such return or paying such tax, as in other cases.

(b) Capital stock tax. In the case of the capital stock tax, for any year ending on or after June 30, 1942, of any corporation organized under the China Trade Act, 1922, no return or payment of such tax shall become due until the 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President.

SUBPART J—TAX OF INDIVIDUAL IN EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES

§ 472.901 Application of Subpart J—(a) Individuals to whom applicable. This subpart applies to any tax liability of an individual or class of individuals with respect to which no period of time is disregarded under Subparts C to H, inclusive, or with respect to which a period of time is disregarded under such subparts but with respect to which a different or additional period of time is to be disregarded. No period of time is disregarded under this subpart with respect to any tax liability unless the Commissioner determines under these regulations that a period of time shall be disregarded with respect to such tax liability.

Such determinations may be made by the Commissioner upon his own initiative based upon the facts available to him, or upon application by the individual. Applications for such determinations shall be filed with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Notice of each determination under this subpart shall, if practicable, be furnished to the individual or individuals whose tax liability is affected thereby.

(b) Acts with respect to which period of time is disregarded. If the circumstances are such that a period of time is required to be disregarded under § 472.902 in determining whether any act specified in § 472.102 was performed within the time prescribed therefor, the period of time prescribed under § 472.903 shall be disregarded, in the above cases to which this subpart applies, in determining under the internal revenue laws, whether such act was performed within the time prescribed therefor. Thus under this subpart a period of time may be disregarded with respect only to such act or acts as are specified in the determination of the Commissioner.

§ 472.902 Circumstances under which period of time is disregarded. In the cases specified in § 472.901, the period of time prescribed under § 472.903 shall be disregarded in any case in which no period of time is disregarded under any other subpart of these regulations or in which the period of time disregarded under any other subpart is considered by the Commissioner to be inadequate to carry out the purpose and intent of section 3804, if in such case the timely performance of any act specified in § 472.102 is determined by the Commissioner to be impossible or impracticable:

(a) By reason of any individual (whether or not the taxpayer) being outside the Americas; or

(b) By reason of any locality being an area of enemy action or control, as determined by the Commissioner; or

(c) By reason of any member (whether or not the taxpayer) of the military or naval forces of the United States serving on sea duty or outside the continental United States.

Whether or not the circumstances of a particular case are such that a period of time shall be disregarded is dependent upon the facts of the particular case.

§ 472.903 Period of time disregarded. If the Commissioner determines under § 472.902 that the circumstances of a particular case are such that a period of time shall be disregarded under this subpart with respect to any individual or class of individuals, the Commissioner shall also determine the duration of such period. The Commissioner may subsequently modify the duration of such period if in his opinion such action is necessary or desirable in order to carry out the purpose and intent of section 3804. No period prior to December 7, 1941, nor after the 15th day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President, nor after the 15th day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of the individual qualifies as such, shall be disregarded. The duration of the period which shall be disregarded under this subpart shall be stated in the determination or determinations by the Commissioner with respect to the individual or class of individuals.

§ 472.904 Inspection of determinations made by the Commissioner. Each determination made by the Commissioner under this subpart with respect to a taxpayer shall be available for inspection by the same persons as are entitled to inspect the return of the taxpayer (or would be so entitled if the return were filed). Such inspection shall be subject to the same conditions as in the case of inspection of the return of the taxpayer.

PART 328—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices and for other relief for the coals of certain mines.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines, changes in certain shipping points and the elimination of Mine Index No. 2899; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 328.11 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R and § 328.34 (General prices for high volatile coals in cents per net ton for shipment into all market areas) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-mentioned matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

The original petition requests that Breeding No. 1 Mine, to which Mine Index No. 2899 was originally assigned be eliminated from the Schedules of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for All Shipments Except Truck and for Truck Shipments because it is the same mine to which Mine Index No. 5467 was thereafter assigned. In order that the said schedules may properly reflect the continuity of operation of this mine, it has been determined to delete Mine Index No. 2899 and to retain Mine Index No. 5467.

Dated: June 30, 1943.

PART 1293—HAND TOOLS SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule V as Amended July 13, 1943 to Limitation Order L-157]

HAND FORKS, HAND HOOKS, HAND RAKES, HAND HOES, HAND EYE HOES AND HAND CULTIVATORS.

§ 1293.6 Schedule V to Limitation Order L-157—(a) Definitions: For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures, stamps, forges or otherwise fabricates hand forks, hand hooks, hand rakes, hand hoes, hand eye hoes, or hand cultivators.

(2) "Hand cultivator" means a tined hoe or rake designed for manual operation. Hand cultivator shall not include a hand wheel cultivator.

(3) "Lend-lease Government" means the government of any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States." (Lend-Lease Act.)

(b) Simplified practices. Pursuant to Order L-157, the kinds, grades, styles, sizes, weights, and finishes set forth in Appendix A and Tables 1 through 6 of this schedule are established for the manufacture, stamping, forging or fabricating of hand forks, hand hooks, hand rakes, hand hoes, hand eye hoes, and hand cultivators.

(c) Effective date of simplified practices. On and after the 8th day of April 1943, no producer shall put in process any steel for the purpose of manufacturing, stamping, forging or otherwise fabricating hand forks, hand hooks, hand rakes, hand hoes, hand eye hoes, or hand cultivators other than such forks, hooks, rakes, hoes, eye hoes or cultivators as conform to the kinds, grades, styles, sizes, weights and finishes as established by paragraph (b) and Appendix A, Table 1 through Table 6 of this schedule. On and after the 8th day of May 1943, no producer shall manufacture, stamp, forge, or fabricate a hand fork, hand hook, hand rake, hand hoe, hand eye hoe or hand cultivator not conforming to the kinds, grades, styles, sizes, weights and finishes established in paragraph (b), and Appendix A, Table 1 through Table 6 of this schedule, except with the express permission of the War Production Board. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph a producer may put in process steel for the purpose of manufacturing, stamping, forging or otherwise fabricating hand eye hoes, or may manufacture, stamp, forge or fabricate a hand eye hoe, not subject to the limitations of kinds, patterns, widths, depths, handle lengths, weights or finishes as set forth in Table 5 of Appendix A to this Schedule, provided such hand eye hoes are for export under a license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare or to fill an order of a Lend-lease Government. Materials and finishes, however, shall conform to the requirements of this Order L-157.

(d) Records. Each producer of hand forks, hand hooks, hand rakes, hand hoes, hand eye hoes, or hand cultivators shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time require.

Issued this 13th day of July 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—EXPLANATIONS AND LIMITATIONS

(1) Grades. A, B, and C designate qualities of complete tools; A designating the best quality. Limitations applying to quality are given separately at the foot of each table. Handle grades A, B, and C are defined in Simplified Practice Recommendation R76-40, Ash Handles, issued by the National Bureau of Standards, United States Department of Commerce. Handle grade requirements shall not be construed as prohibiting the substitution for ash of other suitable species of wood having characteristics as nearly comparable as possible to the respective grades of ash for which they are substituted, provided all handles other than ash be marked with the name of the species of wood of which they were made.

(2) Finishes. Except where otherwise stated, blades and tines shall be natural finish, i. e., dipped in their natural state (except that they may be wire brushed to remove scale or rust) in paint, enamel, lacquer, or other protective coating. Wood handles shall be finished so that the grain of the wood is plainly visible.

(3) Material. No alloy steels shall be used in the construction of any tool listed in Table 1 through Table 6.

(4) Tolerances. Dimensions and weights given herein are subject to commercial tolerances.

PART 3023—OIL AND GAS BURNING DOMESTIC SPACE HEATERS

[Limitation Order L-173 as Amended July 13, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of metals for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3023.1 General Limitation Order L-173—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Domestic space heaters" means any device (except electric) for the direct heating of the space in and adjacent to that in which the device is located, designed for use without heat distribution pipes or ducts as integral parts of such heating devices, and includes but is not limited to circulating heaters, radiant heaters, floor furnaces and wall furnaces: Provided, That "domestic space heaters" does not include direct fired gas unit heaters.

NOTE: Paragraph (1) amended Sept. 19, 1942.

(2) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum classified as grade No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, or 6, including Bunker "C" fuel oil, kerosene range oil, gas oils and any other liquid petroleum product used for the same purpose as the above designated grades.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic space heaters using fuel oil as fuel, except:

(i) To fill a contract, subcontract or purchase order for such heaters for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, War Shipping Administration, or Maritime Commission of the United States; or

(ii) For use in a building or project authorized under Preference Rating Order P-55-b or rated under Preference Rating Order P-55 or any order in the P-19 series; or

(iii) Any number of such heaters (other than floor or wall furnaces) in any calendar quarter beginning after June 30, 1943, which he can manufacture, fabricate, or assemble by using a total weight of iron and steel not in excess of 8% of the total weight of iron and steel which he used in the manufacture, fabrication or assembly of such heaters during the twelve months' period, July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941: Provided, That any heater manufactured under this subparagraph (iii) is of a capacity not greater than 30,000 B. T. U. output per hour.

(2) No person shall manufacture, fabricate, or assemble any floor or wall furnaces using gas as fuel except:

(i) To fill a contract, subcontract or purchase order for such floor or wall furnaces for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, War Shipping Administration, or Maritime Commission of the United States; or

(ii) For use in a building or project authorized under Preference Rating Order P-55-b or rated under Preference Rating Order P-55 or any order in the P-19 series.

(c) Replacement parts. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prohibit or limit the production, by any manufacturer, of replacement parts for domestic space heaters using fuel oil or gas as fuel.

(d) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(e) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may apply for relief by addressing a letter to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(f) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued by the War Production Board, or to be issued by it hereafter, limits the use of any material to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern, unless otherwise specified therein.

(h) Routing of correspondence. Reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-173.

Issued this 13th day of July 1943.

Recording Secretary.

If the last day on which the stamps were good for use by a consumer is not the last day of a calendar month and the next calendar month has a day which corresponds thereto, then a "month", as used in this paragraph, is the period from the last day on which the stamps were good for use by a consumer to and including the corresponding day of the next calendar month; otherwise it is the period from the last day on which the stamps were good for use by a consumer to and including the last day of the next calendar month.

Notices

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

LEGAL ASSISTANCE FOR NAVAL PERSONNEL

1. The following instructions relative to the establishment of legal assistance offices in the naval service are hereby promulgated:

2. Purpose. These instructions are issued for the purpose of establishing in naval districts and elsewhere in the naval service legal assistance offices to provide legal assistance to naval personnel in the conduct of their personal affairs and to expand such services where now being rendered. This action is being taken in cooperation with the American Bar Association and various State bar associations.

3. Legal-assistance offices. The Commandant of each naval district, and the Commandant or other commanding officer of each navy yard, naval station, Marine Corps base, Marine barracks, or other naval activity where qualified lawyers are available in the naval service, will establish a legal-assistance office and assign one or more officers to perform duties as hereinafter described. The officer in command of any of the forces afloat may, if considered desirable, also establish a legal-assistance office with such modifications as may be necessary to meet existing conditions. Where a legal office already exists, such legal-assistance office may be a section of, or otherwise assimilated with, such legal office.

4. Local supervision. The district legal officer of each naval district shall, under the direction of the commandant, exercise general supervision and coordination of all legal-assistance offices within the district.

5. General supervision. The general organization, supervision, and direction of such legal-assistance offices and officers is assigned to the Judge Advocate General, who will collaborate with the American Bar Association in the establishment of a system of legal assistance. The district legal officers and other local legal officers will collaborate with the State and local bar associations and legal-aid societies within their respective districts. (See paragraphs 11 and 12.)

6. Qualifications of legal-assistance officers. Legal-assistance officers shall be members of the bar of a State, Territory, or the District of Columbia but need not necessarily be commissioned officers. However, where available, officers so designated should possess sufficient maturity and legal experience to inspire confidence and to discharge their duties efficiently. If there is no such qualified person available for such assignment, a suitable officer may be assigned as acting legal-assistance officer until a qualified legal-assistance officer becomes available. Such acting officer may perform all the functions of a legal-assistance officer except giving legal advice and counsel or otherwise practicing law.

7. Duties and services of legal-assistance officers. Legal-assistance officers, in addition to any other duties which may be assigned to them, shall render such personal legal assistance to naval personnel and their dependents (including all components of the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, and persons serving with naval forces anywhere, and where necessary the personnel of other branches of the armed forces) as is deemed necessary or desirable for their morale or efficiency, which may include but is not necessarily limited to the following:

(a) Establish contact with the committees on war work of bar associations and legal-aid societies for the purpose of arranging for the designation of members of the civilian bar to serve with such legal-assistance offices.

(b) Collaborate and maintain liaison with such designated civilian lawyers in the organization and operation of any such legal-assistance office.

(c) Interview, advise, and assist naval personnel and, in proper cases, refer such personnel to an appropriate bar committee or legal-aid organization or to such individual civilian lawyers as may have been designated by such bar committee or organization or other individual lawyers, avoiding, however, at all times in referring legal matters to civilian lawyers which may involve fees favoring any particular civilian lawyer or lawyers directly or indirectly.

(d) If practicable, make arrangements to have one or more civilian lawyers visit each legal-assistance office at regular intervals during prescribed hours to interview any naval personnel who may desire their advice, counsel, or services. Such visits should be well publicized and, so far as practicable, be confined so as to correspond with the most appropriate intervals in the schedule of naval duties of naval personnel.

(e) Perform such other services necessary to accomplish the objects and purposes of such legal-assistance offices.

(f) Legal-assistance officers, however, will not advise or assist naval personnel in any case in which such personnel are or may be involved in an investigation or court martial or other official proceedings. In all such matters legal-assistance officers shall be governed by existing regulations, orders, and practices. Nor will legal-assistance officers appear in person or by pleadings in or before civil courts, boards, or commissions as attorneys for persons otherwise entitled to the advice and counsel of such legal-assistance officers. This provision, however, will not be construed to interfere with the present practice of naval officers appearing in police or other criminal courts as representatives of the Commandant or commanding officer where naval personnel may be involved.

(g) Legal-assistance officers will as far as possible avoid handling legal matters which should in their judgment appropriately be handled by private counsel. In no event should a legal-assistance office act as a collection agency nor lend its aid to defeat the fair collection or legal enforcement of any just debt or obligation. Also, except in unusual circumstances, legal-assistance officers will render legal service only at the legal-assistance office.

8. Direct action of legal-assistance officers. The Judge Advocate General's Office and the district legal officers are authorized to correspond directly with each other and with legal-assistance offices in the performance of their supervisory duties. Except where otherwise ordered by competent authority, all legal-assistance officers are authorized to correspond directly with, and refer legal matters to, legal-assistance offices of other naval districts, yards, or stations and appropriate organizations and persons insofar as they relate to personal legal matters of the persons served.

9. Confidential and privileged character of services rendered. The usual attorney and client relationship shall be maintained by legal-assistance offices. All matters upon which the office is consulted by persons entitled to do so, and the files thereof, will be treated and considered as confidential and privileged in a legal rather than a military sense. Such confidential matters will not be disclosed by the personnel of the office to anyone, except upon the specific permission of the person concerned, and such disclosure may not lawfully be ordered by superior naval authority. Strict observance of this rule is essential to the proper working of the office in order to establish confidence in its integrity and to assure all naval personnel regardless of rank or grade that they may disclose frankly and completely all material facts of their legal matters to the office personnel without fear that such confidences will be disclosed or used against them in any way.

10. Variations in procedure. Local conditions may make variations from the above-prescribed procedures necessary for the proper and effective organization and operation of any particular legal-assistance office. For this reason the provisions of these instructions are intended to be flexible and should be liberally construed in order that the purpose for which such office is established may be accomplished.

OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION.

DELIVERY OF DAIRY PRODUCTS IN DUBOIS, PENNSYLVANIA

RECOMMENDATION OF JOINT ACTION PLAN

Pursuant to a provision of a general order issued by the Office of Defense Transportation for the purpose, among others, of conserving and providently utilizing motor vehicles and vital equipment, materials and supplies, (General Order ODT 17, as amended, 7 F.R. 5678, 7694, 9623; 8 F.R. 8278, 8377), Dubois Dairy Company, S. R. Kitchen, doing business as S. R. Kitchen Dairy and V. T. Smith, doing business as V. T. Smith Dairy, of Dubois, Pennsylvania, and Wm. Fairman, doing business as Wm. Fairman Dairy and B. E. Knarr, doing business as Knarr Stock Farms, of Luthersburg, Pennsylvania, have filed with the Office of Defense Transportation for approval a joint action plan relating to the transportation and delivery by motor vehicle of dairy products in Dubois and vicinity.

The participants in the plan propose to eliminate wasteful operations in the transportation and delivery of dairy products by limiting retail deliveries to an every-other-day basis. They will operate their delivery trucks daily, serving half of their respective customers each day with a 2-days' supply. Trucks will leave the processing plants fully loaded and will make only one trip a day over any segment of a route. The participants estimate that effectuation of the plan will result in savings of 40 percent or approximately 120,000 truck-miles a year. Exchange of customers is not contemplated.

It appearing that the proposed joint action plan is in conformity with General Order ODT 17, as amended, and that effectuation thereof will accomplish substantial conservation and efficient utilization of motor trucks and vital materials and supplies, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, I have approved the plan and recommend that the Chairman of the War Production Board find and certify under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with said joint action plan, is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of July 1943.

Director.

DELIVERY OF MEATS, GROCERIES AND DAIRY PRODUCTS IN PRARIE DU CHIEN, WISCONSIN

RECOMMENDATION OF JOINT ACTION PLAN

Pursuant to a provision of a general order issued by the Office of Defense Transportation for the purpose, among others, of conserving and providently utilizing motor vehicles and vital equipment, materials and supplies, (General Order ODT 17, as amended, 7 F.R. 5678, 7694, 9623; 8 F.R. 8278, 8377), the grocers and dairymen of the Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, listed in Appendix A hereto, have filed with the Office of Defense Transportation for approval a joint action plan relating to the transportation and delivery by motor vehicle of meats, groceries and dairy products in Prairie du Chien.

The participants in the plan propose to eliminate wasteful operations in the transportation and delivery of meats, groceries and dairy products by reducing the frequency of deliveries. Meats and groceries will be delivered to retail customers generally on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week and on the preceding day instead when a holiday occurs on the regular delivery day. Dairy products will be delivered to hospitals in accordance with General Order ODT 17, as amended, and to retail customers generally on an every-other-day basis. No extra or special deliveries will be made except of dairy products to hospitals as provided for by General Order ODT 17, as amended.

It appearing that the proposed joint action plan is in conformity with General Order ODT 17, as amended, and that the effectuation thereof will accomplish substantial conservation and efficient utilization of motor trucks and vital materials and supplies, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, I have approved the plan and recommend that the Chairman of the War Production Board find and certify under section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with said joint action plan, is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of July 1943.

Director.

An opinion accompanying Amendment No. 1 to Order No. A-2 under § 1499.159 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Paragraph (a) (2) is added to read as follows:

(a) Adjustment provisions for particular commodities under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price for a particular commodity established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 as hereinafter provided. Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(2) Ladle brick. The following adjustment provision, subdivision (i) permits the granting of relief to producers of ladle brick who are unable to maintain or expand their production under their existing maximum prices whenever there is a general shortage in the essential supply of the commodity. The extent of relief to be granted under the provision is set forth therein.

(i) Whenever it appears that a shortage exists or threatens to exist in the essential supply of ladle brick, and that a producer of such commodity is unable to maintain or expand his production at his maximum price or prices, the Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 or on its own motion, by order, adjust his maximum price or prices by an amount necessary to permit the maintenance or expansion of such production upon a basis which will cover total costs.

In determining the amount of adjustment which may be granted, consideration will be given to such factors as:

(a) Revenue from sales of such commodity and from all other sources, and

(b) Production; mining, development, processing, and transportation costs; administrative and sales expenses; depreciation and depletion charges; taxes (excluding Federal and State income taxes); and capital investment.

(ii) Before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of subdivision (i) it is suggested that each applicant obtain from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that his application may receive prompt action.

The term "ladle brick" herein means low heat duty refractory brick used principally to fine ladles in the iron and steel industry. These bricks are manufactured from certain highly silicious fire clays by the dry press, wire cut or soft mud process.

This Amendment No. 1 to Order No. A-2 shall become effective July 15, 1943.

§ 6.1102 Composition of the Naval Reserve. The Naval Reserve as established by the Naval Reserve Act of 1938 is a component part of the United States Navy and consists of the Fleet Reserve, the Organized Reserve, the Volunteer Reserve, and the Merchant Marine Reserve.

(c) The battalion commander shall be an officer of class D–O or class DE–O not above the rank of commander designated by the Commandant. He shall be senior to the division commanders of the battalion and to the line officers on his staff.

(d) The relation of the battalion commander to the division commander in his battalion should be analogous to the relation existing between a division commander afloat and the commanding officers of the ships of his division.

§ 6.1305 The squadron. (a) The aviation squadron is the basic unit of organization for the aviation component. It will consist of officers and men of the Organized Reserve attached thereto and officers and men of the Volunteer Reserve associated therewith.

(b) The number of enlisted men of class O–2 attached to each squadron shall not exceed the number authorized by the Bureau of Naval Personnel for the squadron as a whole nor for each of the pay grades.

(c) The number of V–2 men associated with each squadron shall not exceed the number prescribed from time to time by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(d) The squadron commander shall be the senior naval aviator attached thereto and shall be a naval aviator of the Organized Reserve designated by the Commandant or of the Regular Navy. Including the squadron commander, each squadron is allowed 32 officers of class A–0, not more than 2 of whom may be above the grade of lieutenant, and 1 medical officer and 1 supply officer of the Organized Reserve. In addition, subject to the approval of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, in each individual case, officers of the Volunteer Reserve may be attached to squadrons.

§ 6.1306 Tables of organization. Tables of organization will be issued annually by the Bureau of Naval Personnel indicating locations at which organizations of the Naval Reserve are authorized, the character and composition of the organization at each location, the number of officers and men allowed each organization in a pay status and the number of officers of the various grades and classifications, and number of men of the various rates required in the organization for mobilization purposes.

§ 6.1307 Organization of Volunteer Reserve. Except as indicated in §§ 6.1303 (c), 6.1305 (c), 6.1308, 6.1309, 6.1310, 6.1311, 6.1312, 6.5102 (d), 6.5703 (a), 6.5803, and 6.5806 (a) the Volunteer Reserve is unorganized and consists of individuals to be mobilized as such and trained either individually or in groups.

§ 6.1308 Naval Communication Reserve. (a) For purposes of administration, instruction and training, units of the Volunteer Reserve for communication duties will be composed of officers of classes C–V (G) and C–V (S) and men of class V–3, organized into communication or radio units. Officers of classes C–V (L) and C–V (X) should be encouraged, but not required, to take an active part in the peacetime training and drill-

(b) Communication and radio units of the Naval Communication Reserve will normally consist of officers of classes C–V (G) and C–V (S) and men of class V–3 residing in the same locality, organized by authority of the District Commandant, with the approval of the Bureau of Naval Personnel and the Chief of Naval Operations. These Units will consist of such numbers of officers and men as are designated in paragraph (f) of this section.

(c) For purposes of administration and training, communication and radio units of the Naval Communication Reserve may be combined into sections, each section to be commanded by a designated section commander, who shall have a staff unit to assist him.

(d) Section commanders are responsible to the District Commandant, through the District Communication Reserve Commander, and such officers of the Regular Navy as the Commandant may designate.

(e) Each district will be allowed 1 NCR commander's staff unit and not more than 10 sections, each with its own commander's staff unit. Each section will be allowed a maximum of 10 units, but the total personnel in a district shall not exceed the total quota prescribed by the Department.

(f) Composition of units:

(1) NCR district commander's staff unit (1 per district). The complement of the NCR district commander's staff unit is 8 officers and 8 enlisted men of classes, grades, and ratings as specified from time to time by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(2) NCR section commander's staff unit (maximum 10 per district). The complement of the NCR section commander's staff unit is 5 officers and 7 enlisted men of classes, grades, and ratings as specified from time to time by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(4) NCR communication unit. The complement of the NCR communication unit is that of a radio unit plus 1 officer and 6 men for visual communication duties.

(5) The above complements constitute standard units. Commandants may permit variations in the complements of the above units depending on the local procurement conditions.

(6) For purposes of administration, officers of classes C–V (L) and C–V (X) residing in or assigned to the district, but not actively associated with communication or radio units, should be added to the Naval Communication Reserve district commander's staff unit.

§ 6.1309 Medical specialists units. (a) Medical specialists units shall be composed of Naval Reserve medical officers, qualified as specialists, who, in time of war or national emergency, may be assigned to hospital ships, station ships, base and naval hospitals, as staff thereof, or to augment the Regular Navy Medical Corp staff.

(b) Each medical specialists unit shall be composed of 8 medical officers and 1 dental officer of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service). Units assigned neuro-surgical duties shall include 2 or 3 additional medical officers, qualified in this specially. In addition, when these units are called into active service, 6 nurses of the Naval Reserve Nurse Corps shall be assigned to each unit when their services are required. Two additional nurses shall be assigned if the unit is assigned neuro-surgical duties. (e) The officer personnel of medical specialists units will be assigned by the District Commandant or by the Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, from Naval Reserve officers within the mobilization and procurement quotas allocated by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. After due allowance is made for the complete formation of medical specialists units assigned to each district, "alternates" for the various specialists in each unit may be assigned, but will be made a charge against the quota of the district in which the unit is located, and not to the activity controlling the mobilization assignment of the unit, provided the district quota of these officers is not exceeded. These "alternates" should be younger medical and dental officers qualified in their specialty. However, the "alternates" as a general rule, will not be called for service with the units unless circumstances prevent the principals from serving. In time of national emergency and provided their services are not required with the units, these "alternates" may be assigned to mobilization stations as unassigned medical and dental specialists.

§ 6.1310 Laboratory research units. (a) Laboratory research units are intended to provide groups of qualified laboratory research workers which in time of war or national emergency will be assigned to hospital ships, base hospitals, or to other medical-department activities to prosecute laboratory research work as required.

§ 6.1312 Naval Intelligence Reserve. (a) The Naval Intelligence Reserve will consist of officers of class I–V (S) and such enlisted men as may be assigned thereto, in accordance with such instructions as may be issued from time to time, organized by zones and subzones established by Commandants of the naval districts for purposes of instruction and training in accordance with the policy and authority of the Chief of Naval Personnel and the Chief of Naval Operations.

(b) The administrative unit for instruction and training is the zone. The subunit of training and instruction is the subzone. Zones and subzones are administered through officers appointed by the District Commandant.

(c) Full advantage should be taken by District Commandants of the many regular officers detailed to various duties at many distant localities, whose interest and responsibilities in intelligence in general provide excellent liaison and advice for Reserve Intelligence personnel.

§ 6.1313 Bands. Where authorized by the Bureau of Naval Personnel a band may be organized for association with a battalion or squadron of the Organized Reserve. The membership of such band shall be confined to men of classes V–1 and V–2. Instruments or music will not be furnished by the Bureau.

ADMINISTRATION

§ 6.1401 Administration while performing active duty. Officers and men of the Naval Reserve, except as otherwise provided herein, or in accordance with such instructions as may be issued by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, while performing active duty will be governed in the same manner in all respects as are officers and men of the Regular Navy.

§ 6.1402 Administration while on inactive duty. (a) While on inactive duty, members of the Fleet Reserve will be governed in the manner prescribed in §§ 6.9101–6.9804.

(b) While on inactive duty members of the Organized Reserve, Volunteer Reserve, and Merchant Marine Reserve will be governed in the manner prescribed in §§ 6.1101–6.8708.

§ 6.1403 Administrative duties of commanding officers of Naval Reserve organizations. (a) Each Naval Reserve organization will be administered by its commanding officer in accordance with the instructions of the District Commandant and the rules and regulations set forth herein, and in other departmental publications and orders.

(b) The administrative functions of the commanding officer include matters with respect to discipline, preservation of equipment, pay, clothing accounts, reports, returns, and the keeping of records of the organization.

§ 6.1404 Administrative duties of Commandants of naval districts. (a) The Commandants of the several naval districts under the supervision of the various bureaus and offices concerned are charged with the procurement, administration, training, and readiness for war of the Naval Reserve under their jurisdiction and for the maintenance, operation, and repair of material assigned for this purpose, including armories, aviation bases, and floating equipment. To assist him in these duties, the Commandant may appoint officers of the Naval Reserve, including those in both active, and inactive-duty status to duty on his staff. Such officers will be considered as in the same status as other officers of the Commandant's staff but need not necessarily reside in the vicinity of district headquarters. These officers will not be attached to or associated with divisions, battalions, or squadrons of the Organized Reserve, nor with organizations of the Volunteer Reserve. Unless otherwise indicated in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, naval reservists are under the jurisdiction of the Commandant of the naval district in which they maintain their official residences, except that for purposes of mobilization they are under the district or activity which controls their mobilization assignment (§ 6.4301).

(b) Director of Naval Reserve. When practicable and warranted, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will assign to duty at each Naval District Headquarters an officer of the active list of the Regular Navy of the rank of commander or captain as director of Naval Reserve of such district. As a member of the Commandant's Headquarters' Staff, this officer, under the direction and supervision of the Commandant, will administer the Naval Reserve, performing by direction such of the duties enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section as the Commandant may delegate to him. In performing his duties, the director of Naval Reserve must keep in close touch with the work of other members of the Headquarters' Staff, especially the personnel officer, intelligence officer, communication officer, and war plans officer, in order that all matters affecting the Naval Reserve may be properly coordinated. The purpose in centralizing Naval Reserve matters in the hands of a senior officer of the active list of the Regular Navy is to facilitate their receiving the attention their importance warrants. Assignment as director of Naval Reserve does not necessarily preclude assignment to other duties, as for example, personnel officer, but does impose full responsibility, subject to the Commandant's action, for the Naval Reserve. In time of war or national emergency it may be necessary to order retired officers in lieu of active officers as directors of Naval Reserve or as inspector-instructors or instructors referred to herein. Directors of Naval Reserve are assisted in their duties of training the Naval Reserve by inspector-instructors and instructors whose duties are set forth in §§ 6.5101–6.5904.

(c) Assistant to the Director of Naval Reserve. A Naval Reserve officer will be ordered to duty at district headquarters as an assistant to the director of Naval Reserve in districts where the work load warrants such assignment. This officer will perform such duties in connection with the Naval Reserve as may be assigned him. An important function of this officer is to provide the continuity in Naval Reserve administrative policies and contacts necessary for the efficiency of the Naval Reserve, despite comparatively frequent changes in officers ordered as directors of Naval Reserve.

(d) Members of all classes of the Naval Reserve residing in the District of Columbia, Prince Georges, Montgomery, St. Marys, and Charles Counties, Maryland, and Arlington, Fairfax, Stafford, King George, Westmoreland, and Prince William Counties, Virginia, and the city of Alexandria, Virginia, are under the jurisdiction of the Commandant, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., who is charged with the same duties and responsibilities with relation thereto as are the Commandants of naval districts.

(e) Reservists and retired men residing in United States possessions not included within limits of naval districts will be under the supervision of Commandants of naval stations, as follows:

(1) Those residing in Samoa, under the Commandant, Naval Station, Tutuila.

(2) Those residing in Guam, under the Commandant, Naval Station, Guam.

(f) Reservists and retired men residing in the West Indies outside the limits of the Tenth Naval District will be under the supervision of Commandants as follows:

(1) The Commandant, U. S. Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba;

Those residing within the U. S. Naval Reservation, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, or employed at the U. S. Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and residing in the vicinity thereof.

(2) The Commandant, Tenth Naval District; Those not covered by paragraph (f) (1) of this section.

(g) Reservists and retired men residing permanently or for periods in excess of 6 months in Asiatic countries will be under the jurisdiction of the Commandant, Sixteenth Naval District.

(h) Reservists and retired men residing in the Republic of Panama will be under the jurisdiction of the Commandant, Fifteenth Naval District.

§ 6.1405 Administrative duties of the Bureau of Naval Personnel. The Bureau of Naval Personnel is charged with the procurement, education, training, discipline, and distribution of officers and men of the Naval Reserve and with their organization, administration, and mobilization. Accordingly, the principal duties of the Bureau of Naval Personnel may be enumerated as follows.

(a) Determines the number of officers and men required from year to year in the various classes of the Naval Reserve to meet the needs of the Navy and their apportionment among the various naval districts for purposes of procurement, administration, and training, within appropriations available for these purposes.

(b) Prescribes the details of instruction, training, and other activities of the various units and individuals of the Naval Reserve both ashore and afloat.

(g) Supervises the ordering of reservists to and from active or training duty.

(h) Keeps the individual records of officers and men.

(i) Maintains statistics and records of the drilling and training activities of the various organized units and of the various classes within the various naval districts.

(j) Supervises the annual selection of enlisted men of the Naval Reserve for appointment as midshipmen to the Naval Academy.

(k) Supervises the procurement of armories, aviation bases, and equipment for shore instruction.

(l) Supervises the assignment of shipkeepers for vessels assigned to training the Naval Reserve and determines the number to be so assigned; also the number and assignment of reservists for active duty in connection with the other reserve activities.

(m) Is directly responsible for expenditures under the Naval Reserve appropriation. Determines the amount of money required from year to year for the Naval Reserve and prepares and presents the Naval Reserve budget.

(n) Determines, and, insofar as practicable, carries into execution the measures that are necessary in time of peace to insure that the personnel of the Merchant Marine shall be of maximum service to the country in time of war.

(o) Carries out, insofar as permitted by the funds and personnel available, the policies relating to the Naval Reserve, and apportions the funds and distributes the personnel accordingly.

§ 6.1406 Quotas of officers and men. The Bureau of Naval Personnel will publish quotas of officers and men of the Naval Reserve from time to time with designations and for purposes as indicated hereinafter:

(a) Mobilization quota. The mobilization quota for a naval district or for some other activity, such as an office or a bureau of the Navy Department, is the number of officers and the number of enlisted men in each class of the Naval Reserve required to fill such district's or activity's mobilization needs, or such part thereof as policies with respect to the Naval Reserve may currently require filled.

(b) Procurement quotas—(1) Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service). The procurement quota for the Organized Reserve and the Volunteer Reserve (General Service) is the number of officers and the number of men in each class which a naval district is required to procure and maintain on its rolls for mobilization purposes both within and without the district.

(2) Volunteer Reserve (Special Service). (i) The procurement quota for the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) is the number of officers in each class which a naval district is required to procure. Except as indicated in § 6.5804 (b) and in paragraphs (b) (2) (ii) and (b) (2) (iii) of this section, the procurement and mobilization quotas for the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) shall be identical, unless specifically directed otherwise by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(ii) Officers of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) whose mobilization assignment is controlled by a District Commandant are a charge against such district's procurement quota even though they may have been appointed from another district, or may have their official residence in another district. A change in such an officer's mobilization assignment to or from a district therefore entails a corresponding correction in the charge against the procurement quotas of the respective districts.

(iii) Officers of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service), who are designated by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to fill the mobilization requirements of an office or bureau of the Navy Department and activities which are administered directly by them, will not be charged against the procurement quota of the district from which appointed.

(3) Merchant Marine Reserve. Procurement in the Merchant Marine Reserve is not limited by a quota.

(c) Allowed quota, Organized Reserve. The allowed quota, Organized Reserve, is the number of officers and men in each of the classes of the Organized Reserve (required to perform weekly drills and 14 days' annual training duty with pay), not including officers of this class on active duty, which the Commandant is authorized to maintain on the rolls.

(d) Training quota. The training quota is the number of officers and men of the various classes of the Volunteer Reserve and Merchant Marine Reserve to whom the Commandant is authorized to give 2 weeks' training duty with pay.

§ 6.1407 Establishment of organizations. (a) No battalion, division, or squadron of the Naval Reserve shall be established or abolished without the authority of the Chief of Naval Operations and the Secretary of the Navy; nor shall the number of battalions, divisions, or squadrons in any location be increased or decreased without such authority.

(b) Organizations of the Volunteer Reserve other than sections and units of the Naval Communication Reserve shall be established or abolished by District Commandants in accordance with instructions issued by the Chief of the Bureau of Naval Personnel. In issuing such instructions, due consideration will be given to the recommendations of the Bureau or Office of the Navy Department having cognizance of the specialty for which the unit is maintained.

(c) No section or unit of the Naval Communication Reserve shall be established or abolished without the authority of the Chief of Naval Operations; nor shall the number of such sections or units in any location be increased or decreased without such authority.

§ 6.1408 Naval Reserve flag for merchant vessels. (a) A suitable flag or pennant has been prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, which may be flown from the mainmasthead as an emblem of the Merchant Marine Reserve on seagoing vessels documented under the laws of the United States under a warrant issued for each such vessel by the Secretary of the Navy.

(b) In order to be eligible for such warrant, the vessel must first have been determined by the Chief of Naval Operations as suitable for service as a naval auxiliary in time of war so designated by the Secretary of the Navy and the master or commanding officer and not less than 50 per centum of the other licensed officers must be members of the Navy or the Naval Reserve.

(c) Such flag or pennant shall not be flown in lieu of the National Ensign.

(d) When any vessel which has been authorized to fly the Merchant Marine flag is for any reason no longer eligible to fly same, the warrant of authorization shall be returned to the Chief of Naval Personnel for cancellation.

§ 6.1409 Naval Reserve yacht pennant. (a) A suitable pennant has been prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, which may be flown as an emblem of the Naval Reserve from the foremasthead on yachts and similar vessels documented under the laws of the United States, under a warrant issued for each such yacht or similar vessel by the Secretary of the Navy.

(b) In order to be eligible for such warrant, the yacht or similar vessel must first have been determined by the Chief of Naval Operations as suitable for service as a naval auxiliary in time of war, and so designated by the Secretary of the Navy, and the master or owner must be an officer of the Navy or the Naval Reserve.

(c) Such pennant shall not be flown in lieu of the National (or yacht) Ensign.

(d) When any yacht which has been authorized to fly the Naval Reserve yacht pennant is for any reason no longer eligible to fly same, the certificate of authorization shall be returned to the Chief of Naval Personnel for cancellation.

§ 6.1410 Accountability for funds. Any officer or man who by virtue of his position in the Naval Reserve obtains and handles any funds intended for or belonging to any Naval Reserve organization or individual thereof shall account for the receipt and expenditure of such funds. Accounts are required for funds such as those received from private sources or from the proceeds of social functions given for the benefit of Naval Reserve organizations or as a result of assessments or contributions by members of the organization, etc. The commanding officer of the Naval Reserve organization in receipt of funds of this nature will cause an audit of the funds to be made quarterly by a board appointed by him. This board will consist of at least two officers. The audit shall contain a certificate that the cash, as shown on hand, has been counted and verified by the auditing board. Any shortage of funds shall be reported immediately by the commanding officer of the Naval Reserve organization to the Commandant of the naval district. These accounts and the audits thereof will then be made a part of the record of the Naval Reserve organization. A report of each audit and of the state of the account will be made to the Commandant of the naval district by the commanding officer within 10 days after completion of the audit.

§ 6.1411 Shipkeepers, number allowed. (a) At the beginning of each fiscal year an allotment of funds under the Naval Reserve appropriation will be made to each naval district to cover the active-duty pay and allowances required for duty as shipkeepers. The term "shipkeepers" as herein used applies to all enlisted Reservists on active duty, with pay, during peacetime, other than training duty, whether employed afloat or ashore. Within his allotment for this purpose, the Commandant will issue the necessary orders to enlisted Reservists selected for this duty, in accordance with § 6.1705.

(b) The Commandants of naval districts may, within their allotments for this purpose, authorize subsistence allowances or quarters allowances or both for enlisted shipkeepers other than those of the Fleet Reserve, in accordance with the provisions of Part D, Chapter 10, Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual (available in Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department). New authorization will be required in each case upon reenlistment, extension of enlistment, or change of duty, and a copy forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(c) In addition to the foregoing a specified number of enlisted men of the Fleet Reserve for duty as shipkeepers will be allowed for each naval district, whom the Commandant may place on active duty for this purpose. Requests for payment of subsistence or quarters allowances for these shall be submitted to the Bureau for action, the same as for men of the Regular Navy.

(d) Shipkeepers are to be subsisted in general mess either afloat or ashore when practicable. They shall be furnished quarters either afloat or ashore whenever such quarters are available for them.

PRECEDENCE

§ 6.1501 Precedence, line and staff. Line officers of the Naval Reserve take precedence with line officers of the Regular Navy, and staff officers with staff officers of the Regular Navy of the same corps.

§ 6.1502 Precedence of officers on inactive duty. Except while performing active duty, other than training duty, commissioned and warrant officers of the Naval Reserve of the same rank or grade will take precedence among themselves according to date of commission or warrant; and with respect to officers of the Regular Navy next after the junior of their own rank or grade. Officers of the same date of commission or warrant shall take precedence according to the order in which their names appear on the official Naval Reserve Register as kept in the Navy Department.

§ 6.1503 Precedence of officers on active duty during peacetime. During peacetime, each officer of the Naval Reserve who reports for active duty other than training duty, on or after July 1, 1938, shall take precedence next after that officer of the Regular Navy of the same rank or grade whose length of service in such rank or grade on the date the active duty began is one-half or the nearest one-half of that of the Reserve officer. In the event the date an officer last reported for active duty should be prior to July 1, 1938, for purposes of precedence he will be considered as having reported for active duty on that date. Thereafter, officers of the Naval Reserve who are advanced to higher grades while performing active duty other than training duty shall, during the continuance of such duty, take precedence among themselves and with other officers of the Navy in accordance with date of such advancement or promotion.

§ 6.1504 Precedence of officers on active duty during war or national emergency. (a) When mobilized with the Regular Navy for war or a national emergency, each officer of the Naval Reserve shall take precedence next after that officer of the Regular Navy of the same rank or grade whose length of service in such rank or grade on the date of the declaration of such national emergency or war is one-half or the nearest one-half of that of the Reserve officer.

(b) In the event the date a Naval Reserve officer last reported for active duty should be prior to the date upon which such war or national emergency was declared or proclaimed by proper authority, he will be considered as having reported on the later date.

(c) A Naval Reserve officer appointed after the declaration of the war or national emergency shall take precedence, upon reporting for active duty, next after the officer of the Navy of the same rank or grade whose length of service in such grade or rank on the date the Reserve officer reports for active duty, is one-half or the nearest one-half of that of the Reserve officer.

(d) When mobilized with the Regular Navy for war or a national emergency, Naval Reserve officers who are advanced to higher grades or ranks subsequent to reporting for active duty, shall during the continuance of such active duty, take precedence among themselves and with other officers of the Navy in accordance with the dates of such advancement or promotion.

§ 6.1505 Details of computing precedence. (a) In the event the computation of one-half of the Reserve officer's service in grade on date of mobilization as provided for in §§ 6.1503 and 6.1504 gives him a date of precedence identical with the date of rank of an officer or a group of officers of the Regular Navy of the line or staff corps of which he is a member, the Reserve officer takes precedence next after the junior officer of the line or staff corps of the Regular Navy, having the same date of rank. If the computation results in a date of precedence for the Reserve officer between the dates of rank of two officers or two groups of officers of the Regular Navy, the following rules shall apply:

(1) If the date for the Reserve officer is exactly midway between two officers or two groups of Regular Navy officers, or above that point, the Reserve officer shall take precedence next after the junior officer immediately preceding.

(2) If the date for the Reserve officer is below the midway point between two officers or two groups of Regular Navy officers, the Reserve officer shall take precedence next after the senior officer next following.

(b) In case there is no officer of the same rank or grade and corps in the Regular Navy senior in date of rank to the date of precedence of the Reserve officer on mobilization, the Reserve officer shall take precedence next after the senior officer of the Navy in his grade.

(a) Ensigns, U. S. Navy and U. S. Naval Reserve.

§ 6.1507 Precedence in parades. In parades of forces which include United States troops, the order of precedence will be as follows:

(a) Cadets, U. S. Military Academy.
(b) Midshipmen, U. S. Naval Academy.
(c) Cadets, U. S. Coast Guard.
(d) Regular Army.
(e) U. S. Marines.

(i) Marine Corps Reserve.
(j) Naval Reserve.
(k) Other organizations of the Organized Reserve, National Guard, Naval Militia, Reserve Officers Training Corps, and other training units in the order prescribed by the Grand Marshal of the parade.
(l) Veterans and other patriotic organizations in the order prescribed by the Grand Marshal of the parade.

§ 6.1508 Date of rank of former officers of Navy or Coast Guard appointed in Naval Reserve. (a) Former officers of the Navy or Coast Guard who are appointed in the Naval Reserve in the same grades or ranks held in the Regular Navy or Coast Guard as a result of application therefor made within 1 year from date of resignation from the Navy or Coast Guard, shall be given the same dates of rank in their Naval Reserve commissions as held by them in the Navy or Coast Guard.

(c) A former officer of the Regular Navy or Coast Guard appointed in the Naval Reserve as the result of application made more than 1 year from date of separation from the Navy or Coast Guard, will be given a date of rank in his Naval Reserve commission as of the date of application therefor.

(4) For duty involving flying in actual control of aircraft. A candidate for appointment, promotion, active duty or training duty involving actual flying of aircraft, must be examined and found to be physically and psychologically qualified to serve as a pilot of naval aircraft.

(5) Special examinations as directed. Special examinations and examinations by boards of medical survey may be ordered as required or at the request of a Reserve officer, to determine his physical fitness for retention, retirement or discharge, or other disposition.

(c) Officers on active duty shall report for physical examination annually in accordance with requirements for officers of the Regular Navy.

§ 6.1602 Quadrennial physical examinations of officers. (a) All officers of the Naval Reserve shall be examined physically in the manner prescribed in § 6.1603 once every 4 years, or oftener, as may be deemed necessary, and if upon such examination they are found not physically qualified for active service, they shall be honorably discharged, or, within the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, placed on the honorary retired list. In determining an officer's qualifications for active service, due consideration shall be given to the character of the duty to be assigned him in the event of war or national emergency.

(b) A physical examination for any purpose covered by § 6.1601 will be deemed sufficient to fulfill the requirements of this section, if properly reported on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y; or in the case of officers of classes A–O, A–V (G), A–V (N), and A–V (T), upon Form NMS Aviation No. 1, accompanied in either case by a fingerprint record, B. (d) Physical defects considered not to be sufficiently serious to disqualify an officer from the performance of the duties of his rank, corps, and classification, may be waived by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. For 4 years thereafter, additional waivers for the same disability will not be required for the performance of active or training duty or release therefrom, provided the degree thereof has not materially increased.

(e) Commandants shall notify all officers of the Naval Reserve in their districts at least 60 days in advance of the dates on which they are due for physical examination. If after being so notified an officer has not appeared for examination, or submitted a satisfactory excuse to do so within 30 days after the date on which he became due for examination, the Commandant shall submit a report to the Bureau of Naval Personnel in order that the officer concerned may be discharged from the Naval Reserve.

§ 6.1603 Physical examination of officers; by whom conducted. (a) Physical examinations of Naval Reserve officers for promotion and physical examinations of candidates for appointment as Naval Reserve officers shall, if practicable, be conducted by statutory boards of medical officers composed of medical officers of the regular Navy or Naval Reserve or of both. If impractical to assemble a statutory medical board without incurring mileage or other expense, the physical examination may be conducted by one medical officer of the regular Navy or of the Naval Reserve. Reports of such examination shall be reviewed by a statutory board [1] of medical officers convened in the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, together with the medical history of the candidate on file in the Department.

(b) Physical examinations of officers for active duty or training duty and release therefrom and quadrennial physical examinations shall be conducted by a medical officer of the Regular Navy or Naval Reserve, if available. If a medical officer of the Regular Navy or Naval Reserve is not available without incurring mileage or other expense, quadrennial physical examinations may be conducted by Army or Army Reserve medical officers, medical officers of the Public Health Service or of the Veterans' Administration or, in special cases, by a reputable physician. Reports of such examination shall be reviewed by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery together with the medical history of the officer on file in the Department.

(c) Those medical officers of the Navy, Naval Reserve, Army, and Army Reserve who are qualified to conduct physical examinations for flying are hereby designated as the agencies to conduct these examinations in accordance with the existing instruction of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. § 6.1604 Physical examinations; enlisted men. (a) Candidates for enlistment or reenlistment in the Naval Reserve shall be examined physically by a medical officer of the Navy or Naval Reserve. If a medical officer of the Navy or Naval Reserve is not available without incurring expense to the Government, such examinations may be conducted by Army or Army Reserve medical officers, medical officers of the Public Health Service or of the Veterans' Administration, if agreeable to such officers upon authorization by the Commandant in each case.

(b) Except as provided for repeated periods of training or other duty and short periods of group training, an enlisted man is required to be examined physically by a medical officer of the Navy or Naval Reserve prior to or upon reporting for active duty or training duty, with or without pay, and to be found physically qualified to perform active duty. Prior to detachment from ship or station for release from active duty or training duty, he shall be given a physical examination to determine whether or not his health has been adversely affected by such duty or training duty. Appropriate entries of such examinations shall be made in his health record.

§ 6.1605 Physical examination for repeated periods of training and group training. (a) Members of the Naval Reserve ordered or authorized to perform repeated periods of training duty or other duty, or periods of group training will not be required to take a physical examination prior to each period of duty, nor upon completion thereof, except in case of injury, sickness, or disease, provided that officers authorized to perform duty involving actual control of aircraft shall have passed a satisfactory flight physical examination within 6 months immediately preceding any period of duty.

(b) In case of injury, sickness, or disease incurred by any member of the Naval Reserve performing such duty, appropriate entries shall be made in his health record, and on his orders and required reports submitted.

§ 6.1606 Physical standards. The physical standards prescribed for the Naval Reserve are the same as those prescribed for the Regular Navy, with due consideration, however, for age in grade and the character of duty to be assigned in the event of war or a national emergency.

§ 6.1607 Reports and records of physical examinations. (a) The result of every physical examination shall be entered in the Reservist's health record and will become a part of his medical history.

(b) The results of all physical examinations of officers, other than those for duty involving flying in actual control of aircraft, shall be reported on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y, sufficient copies being prepared for district records, the original and one copy being forwarded to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

(g) The reports of Statutory Medical examining boards shall be made on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y or N. M. S. Aviation 1, as the case may be. No other papers will be required. The Form Y or N. M. S. Aviation 1 should clearly indicate the purposes of the examination at the top of the form, and a notation should appear under the signatures of the medical officers, indicating that they are members of a statutory board.

(h) If an officer is found not physically qualified, the report of the Board of Medical officers shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery via the Commandant of his naval district, who shall make appropriate recommendation as to retention, waiver, discharge, or transfer to the honorary retired list or to another class.

(b) In case a reservist changes his official residence from one district to another, his service and health records and all other papers shall be forwarded to the Commandant of the district to which he has transferred, together with a report of his address in that district.

(c) Except as indicated in §§ 6.1404 (d), (e), and (f) and 6.9303, when a Reserve officer is granted permission to leave the United States or its possessions for an indefinite length of time, his records shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel via the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations (Director of Naval Intelligence); and the records of enlisted men of the Organized, Volunteer, and Merchant Marine Reserves, granted such permission shall be retained at the district headquarters until such time as the man's term of service expires and he is discharged. At that time his service and health records shall be closed out and forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel and Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, respectively.

Generally, the home port as listed in the Department of Commerce publication, American Documented Sea-Going Vessels of 500 Gross Tons and Over, will determine the district in which the records will be carried. In cases where the vessels regularly operate from ports in two or more districts, the records shall be carried in that district in which is located the owner's or operator's main officer. The records of members who have been unemployed on any vessel for a period of 6 months shall be forwarded to the district of official residence.

(b) Fitness reports, complete in all respects are required as follows:

(1) Officers on active duty, semiannually on March 31, and September 30; upon detachment; and upon change in reporting senior, on Bureau of Naval Personnel Forms B. N. P. 310 or B. N. P. 311, as prescribed for officers of the Regular Navy. Copies of such fitness reports shall be forwarded to the Commandant of the naval district in which the Reserve officer's records are carried, and to the activity controlling mobilization assignment, if such activity is different from the district in which his records are carried.[1]

(2) Training duty, with or without pay, other than short periods of group training, on Bureau of Naval Personnel Form B. N. P. 961 for Naval Reserve Aviators and B. N. P. 960 for all other officers, in accordance with §§ 6.5306 (j) and 6.5307 (e).

(3) All officers except those who have been performing active duty for the whole year, shall submit as of June 30, of each year, an annual fitness report; on Bureau of Naval Personnel Form B. N. P. 937 for officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve, and on Bureau of Naval Personnel Form B. N. Merchant Marine Cadet Corps Schools. The reporting senior for officers of the Organized Reserve shall be the officer's immediate commanding officer or next senior in the chain of command; and for officers of the Volunteer Reserve who are associated with or attached to organizations of the Organized or Volunteer Reserve the commanding officer of such organization.

The District Commandant shall be the reporting senior for all other officers of the Volunteer Reserve and for officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve and Midshipmen, Merchant Marine Reserve. Commandants may, however, designate senior officers on duty at district headquarters as the reporting officers for Reserve officers of appropriate classes and corps.[1]

N. P. 937 or Form B. N. P. 976 shall be forwarded via official channels. Forwarding officers shall comment as fully as practicable except that Commandants may use a stamped endorsement signed by direction in forwarding fitness reports whenever an officer of his staff is the reporting senior. In the cases of officers of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) who are assigned to another naval activity for mobilization, copies of all fitness reports shall be forwarded to such activity.[1]

(c) When an officer who is attached to one district performs training duty in another district, the Commandant of the district in which the duty is performed shall forward a fitness report in duplicate to the Commandant of the district in which the Reserve officer's records are carried. If the officer is a naval aviator, the amount of syllabus flying carried out shall be reported to the Commandant of the district to which the Reserve officer is regularly attached.

(d) If any fitness report referred to in this section contains entries of an unsatisfactory or unfavorable nature, it shall be referred by the reporting senior to the officer reported on, for statement, before the report is forwarded for filing with his record. Such entries as marks below 2.5 or otherwise unsatisfactorily low, "prefer not to have him under my command," "not recommended for retention," or adverse comments, are considered as unfavorable. Failure to recommend the officer for promotion is not of itself unfavorable. Reporting seniors are encouraged to refer reports to officers for their inspection even though not considered unsatisfactory or unfavorable, whenever knowledge of such remarks based on lack of experience, etc., would be helpful to the officer in improving his fitness.

(e) Recommendations as to any action desired, such as discharge, transfer, or retirement, will not be included in the forwarding endorsements on annual fitness report Forms B. N. P. 937 or B. N. P. 976, but shall be made the subject of separate correspondence.

(f) In forwarding annual fitness reports for officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve, the reporting senior shall state whether or not the officer concerned has applied, while in a volunteer status, for training duty during the period since last report, and, if refused, the reasons for such refusal. Such data included in one annual fitness report need not be repeated in the next annual fitness report. A summary of such information shall be included in forwarding endorsements on applications for promotion, or on special fitness reports at the time of examination for promotion.

§ 6.1811 Official channels for correspondence. (a) Whenever an officer or man of the Naval Reserve finds it necessary to write a letter on an official subject to one of the Bureaus of the Navy Department or to other authority higher than the commanding officer of the organization to which attached, the letter shall be routed via the organization commander through the usual channels for official correspondence. Such letters should be kept to the minimum. If the commanding officer, battalion or squadron commander, or District Commandant has the information upon which to base a reply, a reply should be made direct to the writer instead of the letter being forwarded to the addressee, however, if the originator of the letter is not satisfied with the reply received, upon resubmission, letter shall be forwarded to the addressee via official channels.

(b) In the event the correspondence contains matter of a secret, confidential or restricted nature, the provisions of article 75½, U. S. Navy Regulations, shall be followed.

Requests from officers of other than class A–V (T) will be considered separately, and in general will be approved only when the applicants are associated with, and active in, an aviation activity of the naval service, and when it is clearly shown that the individuals will be employed in connection with such phases of utility flying as are necessary to the training of Naval Reserve aviation squadrons, or are employed in connection with flights considered to be of definite value to the aeronautical organization of the Navy. § 6.1901 Employment of reservists in civil branch of public service. (a) When not on active duty, members of the Naval Reserve may accept employment in any civil branch of the public service and may receive the pay and allowances incident to such employment in addition to any pay and allowances to which they may be entitled under the provisions of sections 313, 314, and 315 of the Naval Reserve Act of 1938. (52 Stat. 1184; 34 U.S.C. 855*l*–855*n*.)

(b) When not on active duty, members of the Naval Reserve may be employed in civilian occupations, including the practice of professions, or occupations before or in connection with any department of the Federal Government.

§ 6.1902 Military leave. (a) All officers and employees of the United States or of the District of Columbia who are members of the Naval Reserve shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties without loss of pay, time, or efficiency rating on all days during which they may be employed with or without pay under the orders or authorization of competent authority, on training duty for periods not to exceed 15 days in any 1 calendar year.

(b) Competent authority is defined as the Bureau of Naval Personnel, the Commandants of naval districts, the commanding officers authorized to issue authority or orders for active duty and training duty.

§ 6.1903 Civilian guests; Naval Reserve vessels. (a) The Commandants of the various naval districts and the Commandant, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., are authorized to grant requests of such civilians as they may deem proper to embark as passengers on district vessels (including motorboats) assigned to training the Naval Reserve during short training cruises, provided accommodations are available and the presence of such passengers on board will not interfere with the proper training of the Naval Reserve.

(b) The names of such passengers and the dates of arrival on board and departure shall be entered in the log book and reported to the Bureau of Naval Personnel in accordance with Article 861 (2), Navy Regulations.

(c) Before embarking on such cruises, civilian guests will be required to sign a certificate of waiver in case of accident in the following form:

I agree that any injury incurred by me on the cruise I am about to take shall be at my own risk.
In case of accident notify ---------- Address: ----------
Signature: ----------

(d) Commandants of naval districts shall issue appropriate instructions governing visits of civilians aboard Naval Reserve vessels.

§ 6.1904 Appointment of midshipmen from enlisted men. (a) The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to appoint midshipmen to the Naval Academy from enlisted men of the Naval Reserve and Marine Corps Reserve under similar conditions so far as applicable as prescribed by law for appointments from enlisted men of the Navy. Not more than 100 midshipmen shall be appointed in any 1 year under this authority, except that in the event the quota of midshipmen from the enlisted men of the Regular Navy is not filled in any 1 year, the Secretary of the Navy may fill such vacancies with additional men from the Naval Reserve.

(b) Only enlisted men of the Naval Reserve who meet the following requirements will be selected as a result of a competitive examination for appointment as midshipmen:

(1) Must be citizens of the United States who are not more than 21 years of age on April 1 of the year in which appointed.

(2) Must have been in the Naval Reserve at least 1 year by July 1 of the year in which appointed. In this computation service in the Marine Corps Reserve shall be credited.

(3) Must be attached to or associated with an organization of the Organized Reserve and have maintained efficiency by attending therewith at least 27 drills or periods of equivalent instruction or duty during the period between July 1 of the year preceding appointment and the third Wednesday in the following April, which is the date of mental examination for admission. Not more than 7 of these periods may be periods of equivalent instruction or duty. Active service may be accepted in lieu of the required drills on the basis of 1 month's service on active duty as the equivalent of three drills with an organization of the Organized Reserve.

(4) Must have a good record.

(5) Must submit application prior to October 1 of the year preceding appointment. This application shall be routed to the Bureau of Naval Personnel via commanding officer, Commandant of district, and Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. If the man is on active duty, the application shall be forwarded via the commanding officer of the ship or station where he is serving, and via the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. Transcript from service record and report of physical examination on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y in duplicate shall be attached to it.

(6) Must be recommended by their commanding officers. No other recommendations are necessary. If a candidate is transferred prior to October 1 of the year preceding his competitive examination for appointment, the commanding officer of the organization from which he is being transferred will prepare all the reports and recommendations as required above and forward them via the organization to which the candidate is being transferred.

(7) Must take a competitive examination which is held on the third Wednesday in April of each year and is the regular examination given to candidates nominated for appointment as midshipmen.

(8) Must meet the same moral, mental, and physical requirements as are required of other candidates for appointment as midshipmen. Regulations governing the admission of candidates into the Naval Academy as midshipmen and sample examination papers may be obtained upon application to the Bureau of Naval Personnel through official channels.

(c) The candidate's commanding officer shall forward to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, as soon as practicable after the third Wednesday in April, a report showing attendance at the required number of drills or periods of equivalent duty or instruction, or active service in lieu thereof, between July 1 of the preceding year and the date of examination.

(d) Except in time of national emergency or war, reservists are not eligible to attend the Naval Academy preparatory school, and may not be assigned to active duty for this purpose, either with pay or without pay.

(e) Any enlisted man of the Naval Reserve making application for appointment to the Naval Academy who has made a false statement as to his age when applying for enlistment or subsequent thereto shall be automatically barred from competing for such appointment, and his further retention as a member of the Naval Reserve will be decided on the merits of the case and the recommendations of his commanding officer. If discharge is directed, subject man will be given a special order discharge—"For misstatement of age."

(f) In time of national emergency or war, when the mobilization of the Organized Reserve makes attendance at drills as contemplated in paragraph (b) (3) of this section impracticable, the Chief of Naval Personnel may prescribe eligibility requirements for appointments to the Naval Academy from the Naval Reserve and for attendance at a Naval Academy Preparatory School.

§ 6.1905 Deaths. (a) In case of death of a reservist, his service record shall be closed out as of the date of death with appropriate entries and forwarded via the Commandant of his naval district to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(b) If a reservist dies while in an inactive duty status, a report of death, in letter form, will be forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel. There shall be included in this report all pertinent information obtainable, such as full name, rank or rate, file or serial number of deceased, date and place of birth; source of information; date, place, and cause of death; and names and addresses of next of kin. A copy of this letter, together with terminated health record shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

(c) If a member of the Naval Reserve dies while on active duty or training duty, reports required in the cases of personnel of the Regular Navy shall be made.

(d) Commandants of naval districts and commanding officers of organizations are authorized to furnish funeral escorts, as provided by Navy Regulations, for members of the Naval Reserve (inactive) when such request is made by the next of kin and when it can be done without expense to the Government.

(e) An escort of one person may be provided at Government expense in accordance with U. S. Navy Travel Instructions to escort the remains of a member of the Naval Reserve who dies while performing active duty or training duty.

(f) Members of the Naval Reserve who die while on active or training duty are entitled to burial in national cemeteries. Their next of kin are entitled to receive the national flag in accordance with the provisions of Article 1882, U. S. Navy Regulations.

(h) Funeral expenses are allowed for deceased members of the Naval Reserve and accepted applicants for enlistment therein, who die while on active duty or training duty or while performing authorized travel to or from such duty, under such regulations as may be prescribed for members of the Regular Navy and Marine Corps.

§ 6.1906 Bonding of supply officers. (a) Supply officers of the Naval Reserve are required to execute fidelity bonds when ordered to active or training duty in time of peace, if such duty involves the handling of money or property accounts. The procedure outlined in the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts Manual will be followed in such cases.

(b) Every officer of the Supply Corps in the Naval Reserve is required to file in the Office of the Judge Advocate General of the Navy a partially executed bond, signature cards, and an application for bond of the surety selected by him, in order to expedite his bonding if and when he is ordered to active duty in time of war or national emergency.

(c) The preparation and filing of bonds is under the cognizance of the Judge Advocate General of the Navy, who will furnish Reserve supply officers bond forms and signature cards, together with information and instructions in regard to the procedure to be followed. When completed, these forms will be returned to the Office of the Judge Advocate General of the Navy for file.

(d) No cost to the Reserve supply officer is involved unless and until his bond is in fact executed by a surety company and approved by the Navy Department, at which time the usual premium must be paid by the Reserve officer.

The surety executing bond will inform the Reserve officer as to the amount of the premium due.

§ 6.1907 Naval Militia. (a) No officer or man of the Naval Reserve shall be a member of any other naval or military organization except the Naval Militia.

(b) Of the Organized Militia, as provided by law, such part as may be duly prescribed in any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, shall constitute a Naval Militia.

(c) Any officer or enlisted man of such Naval Militia may be appointed or enlisted in the Naval Reserve and assigned to the Organized Reserve in the grade, rank, or rating not above the rank of ensign for which he may be qualified in accordance with the physical and professional standards prescribed for members of the Organized Reserve and for which there may be a vacancy in a unit of the Organized Reserve.

(d) Each member of the Naval Militia appointed or enlisted in the Naval Reserve and assigned to the Organized Reserve shall be required to qualify for the rank, grade, or rating which he holds in the Organized Reserve, in accordance with the physical and professional standards prescribed for the Organized Reserve, within 1 year after the date of his appointment or enlistment therein.

(e) Officers and men of the Naval Reserve who are members of the Naval Militia of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia shall stand relieved from all service or duty in said Naval Militia when on active duty in time of war or national emergency, or when ordered to such duty.

SUBPART B—PROCUREMENT

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

§ 6.2101 Persons eligible for the Naval Reserve. (a) Except as provided in §§ 6.1101–6.12305, only male citizens of the United States and of the insular possessions of the United States who have attained the age of 17 years and who, by appointment or enlistment therein, or by transfer thereto, obligate themselves to serve in the Navy in time of war or when in the opinion of the President a national emergency exists, are eligible for membership in the Naval Reserve.

(b) In time of peace, no person who is drawing a pension, disability allowance, disability compensation, or retired pay from the Government of the United States, shall be appointed, enlisted, or reenlisted in the Naval Reserve. In time of war or national emergency, when the services of a person who is drawing a pension, disability allowance, disability compensation, or retired pay are desired, he may be appointed or enlisted in the Naval Reserve if physically and otherwise qualified: Provided, That before being ordered to active duty, he shall be required to execute a notice to the Veterans' Administration of re-entrance into active service as provided in § 6.7305. Such persons shall be released from active duty and discharged from the Naval Reserve when their services are no longer required and in any event, not later than six months after the end of the war or national emergency.

(c) All statements made in applications for appointment or enlistment are held to be material facts and any misstatement or omission of such material facts will be considered as grounds for discharge.

§ 6.2102 Procurement policy; general. (a) A basic requisite of the Naval Reserve is its immediate availability for mobilization, and its members are under a continuous liability therefor. The vital importance of the civilian effort in modern warfare is also recognized. Consequently an individual whose civilian occupation, either personally or as one of a group, is such that his immediate separation from his civilian occupation on mobilization will not be to the best interests of the national defense should not be admitted to the Naval Reserve. The foregoing principles should constantly be borne in mind by those responsible for the procurement of officers and men. Applicants should understand that upon accepting any Reserve status it is continuously assumed thereafter that they are immediately available for any naval service on mobilization.

(b) Persons whose availability for mobilization is considered by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to be incompatible with the availability requirements in paragraph (a) of this section, or who are civilian employees of the Navy shall not be appointed or enlisted in or transferred to the Organized Reserve.

(c) The provisions of paragraph (b) of this section shall likewise apply to the Fleet Reserve and Volunteer Reserve except as follows:

(1) Especially desirable applicants may be commissioned in the Volunteer Reserve even if not immediately available for mobilization provided they will be so available within 30 days thereafter.

(2) A civilian employee of the Navy may be commissioned in the Volunteer Reserve provided that his services are required to fill a mobilization billet in the organization in which he is employed, and that he cannot satisfactorily perform such duty in civilian status.

(3) Persons whose special qualifications and services the Chief of Naval Personnel deems to be of outstanding value to the Navy, may be commissioned in the Volunteer Reserve even though their civilian status may preclude their being ordered to active duty on mobilization. Before such a person shall be appointed, a mobilization billet shall be specifically approved by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. The procurement and mobilization quotas and the charges against these because of such appointments, shall conform to the requirements of § 6.1406.

(d) Availability for mobilization of persons employed in merchant ships will not be a factor in determining eligibility for commission or enlistment in the Merchant Marine Reserve. It is considered that the mobilization of Merchant Marine Reservists other than those serving in ships taken over by the Navy would unduly interfere with the normal operation of the Merchant Marine. Insofar as practicable, it is therefore proposed to man merchant ships placed in commission with their own licensed and unlicensed personnel.

§ 6.2103 Procurement of officers. (a) The commissioning of an officer in the Naval Reserve makes him a part of the Naval Establishment, the standards of which must not be jeopardized through failure to insure that his character, ability, and loyalty conform thereto and will be maintained throughout his commissioned status. The Bureau of Naval Personnel considers the approval or disapproval of applications for appointment in the Naval Reserve and recommendations for waivers, of such importance as to warrant the personal attention of the District Commandants, whenever practicable. When it is impracticable for the Commandant to interview a candidate personally, the forwarding endorsement shall so state. In addition to the interview by the Commandant, each candidate shall be personally interviewed by not less than two suitable officers, one of whom, when practicable (Medical Board excluded) shall be of the corps or branch to which the candidate aspires. Each shall record his opinion as to the candidate's fitness for appointment, especially as to his officer-like qualities, as part of the forwarding report. Where it is impracticable for a candidate to apply at district headquarters or to the Chief of Staff of a district for interview, the Commandant may designate two suitable officers for interview who reside nearest the vicinity of the candidate. Retired officers of the Navy and Marine Corps and Naval Reserve officers of suitable rank and proven judgment may be designated for this duty, subject to their own consent. Action on applications for appointment, unaccompanied by reports of the foregoing interviews, will be deferred until such reports are received.

(b) As a matter of policy, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will not approve appointments in the Naval Reserve of foreign-born persons who have been naturalized less than 10 years, and who have not resided continuously during the 10-year period in the United States.

(c) Before an application is forwarded to the Department, an investigation of the candidate will be made. The investigation must be sufficiently thorough to permit positive recommendation and to satisfy the Commandant of the candidate's wholehearted loyalty and of his moral and professional qualifications for appointment as an officer in the Naval Reserve. The following checks, insofar as necessary to satisfy this requirement, should be made:

(1) Personal interview, telephone contact, or other means for verification of the letters of recommendation submitted by the candidate. Verification of letters includes questions of authenticity, degree of positiveness, and character of the signer.

(2) Check of candidate's statements in general with respect to his employment, previous service or work, interviews, or other contacts with employers.

(3) Check of candidate's moral standing, standing in community, background, integrity, and racial extraction.

(4) Nature of associates, personal characteristics, type of memberships in organizations.

(5) Evaluation of the reasons given by the candidate for wishing to join the Naval Reserve.

(d) If, as a result of the personal interviews and investigations, there remains any doubt as to the loyal intentions of the candidate or as to the bad effect of any influences to which he may be subject, the forwarding endorsement should so state.

(e) In regard to personnel available for conducting the investigations and checks, the services of any officer or officers who may be available and suitable for this duty may be utilized, including active or retired officers of the Regular Navy, Marine Corps, or of the Naval Reserve. In each naval district there are specialists whose talents particularly fit them for such investigations and checks. Every officer of the Naval Reserve should have a sufficient interest in the suitability of those who seek to become a part thereof to justify his giving a reasonable amount of time and effort in assisting in these investigations and checks. Local liaison in each naval district with other Government agencies may often serve the interests of the Navy in assisting the Commandant to verify the suitability of candidates. Commandants should cooperate with local Army and Marine Corps procurement agencies in interchanging information regarding candidates found to be undesirable on account of other than physical or professional reasons.

(f) For the purpose of insuring maximum security to the Naval Establishment from undesirables, Form B. N. P. 944 shall be used in reporting investigations of candidates, and shall accompany all applications. Form B. N. P. 944 is considered to have been properly submitted when the remark "Satisfactory" can be entered under each item, or other remarks as may be found necessary, and the whole subscribed to by the officer or officers designated to make the investigation. For detailed instructions in the use of this form see paragraph (c) of this section.

§ 6.2104 Officers, and midshipmen; by whom appointed and term of service. (a) Persons appointed to commissioned grades in the Naval Reserve shall be commissioned by the President to serve during the pleasure of the President.

(b) Persons appointed to warrant grades shall be warranted by the Secretary of the Navy to serve during the pleasure of the Secretary of the Navy.

(c) Midshipmen, U. S. Naval Reserve, shall be appointed to serve during the pleasure of the Secretary of the Navy. Such appointments will be made in accordance with instructions issued by the Chief of Naval Personnel.

(d) Officers above the grade of lieutenant commander will be procured in accordance with § 6.3503.

§ 6.2105 Appointments of officers; responsibility for. (a) The Bureau of Naval Personnel is charged with the approval or disapproval of applications for appointment in the Naval Reserve and may recommend such applicants as meet its requirements to the Secretary of the Navy for commission or appointment. In making its recommendations, due consideration will be given by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to the recommendations of the Commandant of the naval district through whom the application is submitted, to cognizance of the specialty for which appointment is sought, as to professional qualifications, and to the recommendations of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery as to physical qualifications.

(b) Commandants of naval districts are charged with the responsibility of procuring and recommending candidates for appointment as officers of all classes of the Naval Reserve under general instructions of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, except those who are commissioned after graduation from the Naval R. O. T. C. units and other training activities directly under the Bureau's supervision.

(c) Officers of the Organized Reserve will be procured only to fill vacancies in units of the Organized Reserve and allowed quotas.

(d) Officers of the Volunteer Reserve (General Service) will be procured within quotas.

(e) Officers of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) will be procured within quotas, to fill assigned mobilization stations, both within and without the naval district.

(f) Commandants of naval districts are responsible for the procurement of officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve, in accordance with instructions issued by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

§ 6.2106 Procedure in making application for appointment. (a) Applications for appointment as commissioned officers in the Naval Reserve shall be submitted on Form B. N. P. 953 by applicants for the following:

(ii) If foreign born. (a) Certificate of naturalization, under the seal of the court in which naturalized. (b) Certificate of naturalization, under the seal of the court in which naturalized, of the parent during the minority of the candidate, together with the affidavit of a parent that the candidate is the child of the parent whose certificate of naturalization is submitted. (c) In special cases where the candidate certifies that neither (a) nor (b) is obtainable, the affidavits of two reputable citizens acquainted with him (see paragraph (b) (1) (i) (d) of this section). § 6.3201 Promotion by seniority on lineal precedence list. Officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) will be promoted in the order of their seniority in accordance with the provisions of §§ 6.3201–6.3207.

§ 6.3202 Lineal precedence list. (a) For purposes of promotion, line officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) will be arranged on a lineal precedence list in each grade, according to dates of commission therein. Officers of class A–V (N) will, however, be placed on a separate precedence list. Upon transfer to another class after termination of their active duty and final disposition of promotion status in accordance with the provisions of § 6.10201 (c), these officers will be transferred to the appropriate precedence list.

(b) Staff officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) will become eligible for consideration for promotion when the line officer next senior becomes so eligible. In cases where several line officers of the Organized Reserve or Volunteer Reserve (General Service) have the same date of rank on the lineal precedence list, staff officers of the same date of rank will become eligible for consideration for promotion on the same date as the junior of such line officers.

§ 6.3203 Computation of number of vacancies in each grade; Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service). Commissioned line officers of the Organized Reserve and of the Volunteer Reserve (General Service) of the rank of lieutenant commander and lieutenant shall not exceed the percentages of 16 and 37 percent, respectively, of the total number of commissioned line officers of the ranks of lieutenant commander and below in the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) combined, exclusive of Commissioned warrant officers.

§ 6.3204 Computation of number of vacancies in each rank. Computations to determine the number of officers in each rank will be made semiannually on December 31 and June 30. No officer will be reduced in rank as a result of any computation. After establishing by examination their physical and professional qualifications, officers will, if morally and otherwise qualified, be promoted by seniority to fill vacancies in the various grades.

§ 6.3205 Five years' service in grade required. For officers of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) 5 years' continuous service in grade in these classes is required as a prerequisite to eligibility for promotion to the next higher grade, computed from date of rank.

§ 6.3206 Fifty-six days' active service required. (a) A minimum of 56 days' active or training duty in grade, other than short periods of group training, is required as a prerequisite to eligibility for promotion to the next higher grade, computed from date of rank. In this computation, prior active or training duty as an aviation cadet or prior commissioned service in the Regular Navy may, in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, be accepted as equivalent to an equal amount of active or training duty in a commissioned status, in the Naval Reserve for the purpose of establishing eligibility for promotion.

(b) At the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, a lesser amount of training duty may be required of line and staff officers while in the Volunteer Reserve (General Service), but in no case shall such line officer be promoted who has performed less than 28 days' active or training duty in grade, nor a staff officer with less than 14 days, with a naval activity. The provisions of § 6.1810 (f) shall be complied with.

(c) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, as to minimum amounts of active or training duty required, credits will be given for the satisfactory completion of correspondence courses in lieu of training duty at the rate of one course for each period of 14 days such duty.

A report of such examinations certified by the commanding officer or Commandant concerned shall be forwarded annually with the officer's annual fitness report or with his application for promotion.

(e) Active duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps is not considered as active or training duty for purposes of promotion, but will be credited in part for this purpose on the basis of 2 weeks' such credit for each tour of such duty performed in the capacity of a Reserve officer on active duty, of approximately 6 months duration, provided the minimum active or training duty with a naval activity required by paragraph (b) of this section has been performed.

§ 6.3207 Required to qualify for promotion when due. (a) Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, an officer of the Organized Reserve or Volunteer Reserve (General Service) will be required to qualify for promotion within a period of 6 months from date of notification that he is due therefor. If he qualifies within this period, he will be promoted without loss of precedence. If he fails to qualify, he may be discharged, or, in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel retained in his rank for a further period of 6 months. During this second 6 months' period, should he qualify he may be promoted but his date of precedence in the next higher grade shall not be earlier than the date of his qualification therefor. At the end of 1 year should he fail to qualify he shall be discharged, or transferred in present rank to that Special Service class of the Volunteer Reserve in which qualified for original appointment.

(b) Especially desirable officers in the grades of ensign and lieutenant (junior grade), in lieu of being discharged at the end of the 1-year period, in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, may be retained in present rank for a further period of 2 years. During this additional 2-year period, should they qualify they may be promoted, but their date of precedence in the next higher grade shall not be earlier than the date of their qualification therefor. At the end of this additional 2-year period, should they fail to qualify they shall be discharged, or transferred in present rank to that Special Service class of the Volunteer Reserve in which qualified for original appointment.

(c) Desirable officers of class A–V (G) who fail to qualify professionally, may, if so recommended, and in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, be retained in rank and class but not beyond their thirty-fifth birthday. This provision will not preclude the discharge of such officer at any time.

§ 6.3301 Computation of number of vacancies in each grade, Volunteer Reserve (Special Service). (a) The number of officers, Volunteer Reserve (Special Service), authorized for each grade and class thereof will be determined by the mobilization requirements, as approved by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, due consideration being given to the recommendations of other bureaus and offices, and will be published from time to time in tables of quotas.

(b) Vacancies in the authorized number in each grade and class below that of commander may be filled by the promotion of those officers qualified therefor in accordance with §§ 6.3302 and 6.3605. Such vacancies may also be filled by original appointments in accordance with §§ 6.2101–6.2107 and 6.2301–6 2320.

(c) Nominations of officers for promotion to fill vacancies will be made to the Bureau of Naval Personnel by the District Commandants or by the agency controlling mobilization assignment.

(d) Nominations shall include a recommendation from the activity controlling the mobilization assignment, which recommendation shall indicate that such assignment warrants the higher rank. Nominations (or recommendations) shall also positively indicate the existence of a vacancy in grade and class in mobilization quotas.

(e) Vacancies in one grade and class authorize a corresponding excess in lower grades in the same class, provided that the total authorized for any grade and all grades above it, is not exceeded.

§ 6.3302 Eligibility for consideration for promotion; officers Volunteer Reserve (Special Service). (a) An officer of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) will become eligible for consideration for promotion to fill a vacancy in the next higher grade, after a minimum of 5 years' service in grade, or with a lesser amount of service if so recommended by the Commandant and/or the bureau or office concerned, provided he meets the requirements for original appointment in such grade and class.

(b) He must also have performed a sufficient amount of active or training duty with or without pay or have performed such other duties or activities (including the preparation of papers on technical subjects relating to the work of the specialty in which appointed), as to satisfy the Commandant, bureau or office concerned of his interest in preparing himself for active service. Satisfactory completion of a correspondence course in his specialty will be considered in determining such interest. The provisions of § 6.1810 (f) shall be complied with.

(c) No promotion shall be made to a higher grade in excess of the mobilization requirements of that grade.

§ 6.3303 Officers required to qualify for promotion. (a) An officer of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service) whose nomination for promotion is approved will be required to qualify therefor within a period of 6 months from date of notification by the District Commandant of such approval; or, in case written examination is required as provided for in § 6.3605, within a period of 6 months from date of notification that such examination is required. If qualified as above, he will be promoted, taking date of new rank as of date of nomination. If he fails so to qualify he may be discharged, or, in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, retained in his rank for a further period of 6 months. During this second 6-month period, if he qualifies, he will be promoted but will take date of rank as of date of receipt of his papers in the Navy Department.

(b) At end of the 1-year period should he fail to qualify, he may be discharged, or:

(1) Transferred in present rank to that Special Service class of the Volunteer Reserve in which qualified for original appointment including the requirements of § 6.2301 (c).

(2) Upon recommendation of the bureau or office having cognizance of his specialty, retained in present rank and mobilization assignment.

(1) He must be performing permanent duties which would entitle him to appointment in the higher grade were he receiving his original appointment. In order to establish the permanency of his duties, the Bureau of Naval Personnel requires that he shall have been employed continuously for at least 3 months immediately preceding his application for promotion, under conditions warranting the higher rank in accordance with § 6.2401, provided that the total cumulative service in such position shall not be less than 1 year.

(b) The master of the vessel.
(c) The owners or operators of the vessel or their agent.
(d) The Commandant of the naval district.

(3) He must be physically qualified for original appointment in the higher grade.

(b) Officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve not employed on shipboard will be eligible for consideration for promotion to grades not above that of lieutenant commander when the mobilization station to which assigned warrants the higher rank. The scope of their examination for promotion shall be the same as prescribed for officers of the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service), in § 6.3605.

(c) The fitness of an officer of the Merchant Marine Reserve for promotion will be determined from letters of recommendation from persons designated as competent authority. These letters must substantiate the fact that the officer concerned has actually been employed as prescribed in paragraph (a) (1) of this section and that the record of his service has been satisfactory. The Commandant of the naval district shall make the necessary arrangements for physical examination, and shall forward report of examination with letters of recommendation from the master, owners, or other required authority and his own recommendation to the Bureau of Naval Personnel via the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

§ 6.3402 Promotion of Merchant Marine Reserve officers on active duty. (a) Officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve, serving on active duty, will become eligible for consideration for promotion to grades not above that of lieutenant commander, when the line officer of the Organized Reserve or Volunteer Reserve (General Service), next senior, becomes so eligible, provided they have fulfilled the requirements of §§ 6.3205 and 6.3206 (a) as to service in grade and active service in grade and qualify by professional examination as prescribed for officers of corresponding classifications of the Organized Reserve and Volunteer Reserve (General Service) in §§ 6.3601–6.3606.

(b) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, Merchant Marine Reserve officers serving on active duty must possess the license required for original appointment in the grade to which promotion is to be made were they performing the duties listed in the first column of the table in § 6.2401 (d) for passenger or combination vessels over 5,000 gross tons.

PROMOTIONS OF OFFICERS ABOVE GRADE OF LIEUTENANT COMMANDER

§ 6.3501 Selection boards. (a) No officer shall be initially appointed in the Organized, Volunteer, or Merchant Marine Reserve in the grade or rank of rear admiral, captain, or commander, nor promoted to such grade or rank, except upon recommendation therefor by a selection board.

(b) For the purpose of complying with the above provisions of law, selection boards will be convened by the Secretary of the Navy, from time to time, as may be required. Each such board will be composed of not less than five officers of the corps and of or above the grade for which selections are to be made, one of whom shall if practicable be an officer of the Naval Reserve. The procedure will in general be the same as that followed by selection boards for the Regular Navy.

(c) Selection boards shall be furnished a letter of information on the state of the Naval Reserve which shall include pertinent information relative to mobilization needs and such recommendations as the various chiefs of bureaus and officers concerned may make in this connection.

§ 6.3502 Promotion above grade of lieutenant commander in Organized Reserve. (a) In the Organized Reserve, the authorized number of officers in grades or ranks above that of lieutenant commander is one-half of 1 per centum, or the nearest fraction thereof, of the actual number of enlisted men regularly assigned to the divisions or other units, of the Organized Reserve and entitled to drill pay.

(b) To determine the authorized number of officers in such higher grades or ranks, computations shall be made by the Bureau of Naval Personnel annually as of June 30 and the resulting numbers as so computed shall be held and considered for all purposes as the authorized number on the date of computation, which number shall not be varied between the dates of such computations. But no officer shall be reduced in rank as a result of any computation so made, nor shall his promotion in time of war be restricted on account thereof. The number of officers of command rank authorized in the Organized Reserve as computed in accordance with this section, may be reduced by the number of such officers who have been transferred to the Volunteer Reserve under circumstances which in the opinion of the Secretary of the Navy should not properly create a vacancy in the Organized Reserve for an officer of command rank. Such vacancies shall again become available at the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy or upon separation of the officers concerned from the Volunteer Reserve.

(c) Of the authorized number in such higher grades or ranks, at least two-thirds shall be apportioned to the grade or rank of commander.

(d) The distribution of the number authorized in such higher grades or ranks among classes D–O, DE–O, E–O, A–O, SC–O, and MC–O shall be in the same proportion as the total number of officers in any class bears to the total actual number of officers on the rolls of the Organized Reserve as a whole as of the date of the computation. For purposes of computations, selections, and promotions, officers of classes D–O, DE–O, and E–O will be considered as constituting one class.

(e) The vacancies in each grade in each class having been thus determined, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will then initiate action toward the convening of the necessary selection board or boards, in accordance with the provisions of § 6.3501.

(f) The Bureau of Naval Personnel will submit to the foregoing selection board or boards the names of Naval Reserve officers eligible for consideration for selection in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section, together with their records and other pertinent data. The list of names shall be limited to those whose records in the Bureau of Naval Personnel on October 1 of the fiscal year in which selection is to be held, indicate eligibility in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section.

(g) The selection boards shall make recommendations for promotion to the grades of commander and captain in numbers not exceeding those required to fill existing and prospective vacancies in these grades.

(h) Except as provided in § 6.3505, as a prerequisite for eligibility for consideration for selection, officers of the Organized Reserve must have served not less than 5 years in the next lower grade as of the date of the computation, and otherwise be eligible for promotion in accordance with § 6.3206 (a). Line officers must have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course in strategy and tactics. Staff officers must have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course appropriate to their class. When a correspondence course appropriate to their class is not available, the course in Navy Regulations and Customs will be required in lieu thereof.

§ 6.3503 Promotion above grade of lieutenant commander in Volunteer Reserve. (a) The number of officers appointed or promoted to grades or ranks above that of lieutenant commander in the Volunteer Reserve shall not exceed mobilization needs for such officers for duties appropriate to these grades or ranks. Vacancies in one grade and class authorize a corresponding excess in lower grades in the same class, provided that the total authorized for any grade and all grades above it, is not exceeded.

(b) Annually, as of June 30, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will make a survey as to the number of officers above the grade of lieutenant commander required in the various classes of the Volunteer Reserve to meet mobilization needs. In accordance with the results of this survey, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will recommend to the Secretary of the Navy the number of officers to be promoted to the grade of captain in each class of the Volunteer Reserve, and the number to be appointed or promoted to the grade of commander. Depending upon the Secretary of the Navy's approval, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will then initiate action toward the convening of the necessary selection boards in accordance with the provisions of § 6.3501.

(c) The Bureau of Naval Personnel will submit to the foregoing selection boards the names of Naval Reserve officers eligible for consideration for selection in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section, together with their records and other pertinent data, and the names of all eligible civilian candidates for appointment in such higher grades, together with such information with respect to them as may be available. The list of names shall be limited to those whose records in the Bureau of Naval Personnel on October 1 of the fiscal year in which selection is to be held, indicate eligibility in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(d) The selection boards shall make recommendations for promotion to the grades of commander and captain, and for appointment to the grade of commander in the Volunteer Reserve (Special Service), in numbers not exceeding those approved by the Secretary of the Navy.

(e) Except as provided in § 6.3505, as a prerequisite to eligibility for consideration for selection the following requirements shall be met as of the date of survey of mobilization needs:

(1) General Service officers must have served not less than 5 years in next lower grade as of the date of the survey, and have performed not less than 6 weeks of active or training duty, with or without pay, during the last 4 years of such service. In addition to the above, line officers must have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course in strategy and tactics; and staff officers must have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course appropriate to their class. When a correspondence course appropriate to their class is not available, the course in Navy Regulations and Customs will be required in lieu thereof. The foregoing active or training duty may be performed in periods of 2 or more weeks each, but during this time, not more than 2 years shall elapse without the performance of at least one period of training duty.

(2) Special Service officers must have served not less than 5 years in the next lower grade as of the date of the survey, and have performed at least 2 weeks' active or training duty, with or without pay, during the last 4 years of such service. They must also have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course appropriate to their class, but the Bureau of Naval Personnel may accept appropriate training assignments accomplished, in lieu of the correspondence course, upon recommendation of the Commandant and the bureau or office concerned. Continuous active duty in grade in the Regular Navy or the Naval Reserve for a period of 4 months, shall be accepted in lieu of the 2 weeks active or training duty and the correspondence course required herein. Officers who have attained national prominence in the specialty for which selections are to be made, and who are so certified and recommended by the chief of bureau or office having cognizance of the specialty, will be eligible for consideration for selection even though they do not meet the other requirements set forth herein.

(3) Civilian candidates must have attained national prominence in the specialty for which selections will be made and must be so certified and recommended by the Chief of the Bureau or Office having cognizance of such specialty.

(4) Chiefs of bureaus and offices certifying candidates as nationally prominent, shall include in their certification a detailed statement of qualifications and achievements which, in their opinion, entitle the candidates to such recognition.

§ 6.3504 Promotion above grade of lieutenant commander in the Merchant Marine Reserve. (a) The number of officers appointed or promoted to grades or ranks above that of lieutenant commander in the Merchant Marine Reserve shall not exceed mobilization needs for such officers for duties appropriate to these grades or ranks. Vacancies in one grade and class authorize a corresponding excess in lower grades in the same class, provided that the total authorized for any grade and all grades above it, is not exceeded.

(b) Annually, as of June 30, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will make a survey as to the number of officers above the grade of lieutenant commander required in the Merchant Marine Reserve to meet mobilization needs. In accordance with the results of this survey, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will recommend to the Secretary of the Navy the number of officers to be promoted to the grades of captain and commander. Depending upon the Secretary of the Navy's approval, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will then initiate action toward the convening of the necessary selection boards in accordance with the provisions of § 6.3501.

(c) The Bureau of Naval Personnel will submit to the foregoing selection boards the names of officers eligible for consideration for selection in accordance with paragraphs (e) and (f) of this section, together with their records and other pertinent data. The list of names shall be limited to those whose records in the Bureau of Naval Personnel on October 1 of the fiscal year in which selection is to be held, indicate eligibility in accordance with paragraphs (e) and (f) of this section.

(d) Selection boards shall make recommendations for promotion to the grades of captain and commander, in numbers not exceeding those approved by Secretary of the Navy.

(e) Except as provided in § 6.3505, as a prerequisite to eligibility for consideration for selection, deck and engineer officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve must have met the following requirements as of the date of survey of mobilization needs:

(1) Must have served not less than 4 years in the next lower grade as of the date of the survey and have satisfactorily completed a correspondence course in strategy and tactics.

(2) Must be employed as master or chief engineer of a vessel of over 5,000 gross tons and have been continuously so employed during the 2 preceding years. If employed on shore, must be so employed in a position of high authority, trust, and responsibility in connection with the management of operation of tankers, cargo, or passenger vessels of approximately equal size, and have been continuously in the service of the same employer during the preceding 2 years.

(3) During the preceding 4 years must have performed at least 4 weeks' active or training duty, with or without pay; and since first commissioned in the Naval Reserve, satisfactorily have completed a correspondence course in addition to the one mentioned in paragraph (e) (1) of this section.

(f) Except as provided in § 6.3505, as a prerequisite to eligibility for consideration for selection officers of class MC–M and SC–M must comply with the provisions of § 6.3503 (e) (2).

§ 6.3505 Promotion to grade of rear admiral. (a) In time of peace there shall be allowed in the Naval Reserve one officer in the grade or rank of rear admiral.

(b) Whenever this grade becomes vacant, it shall be filled by the selection therefor of an officer of the next lower grade.

(c) All officers who, on June 30 of the fiscal year during which the selection board meets, will have completed not less than 4 years in the next lower grade in the Organized Reserve, the Volunteer Reserve, or the Merchant Marine Reserve will be eligible for consideration for selection to fill such vacancy.

If he qualifies within this period he will be promoted without loss of precedence. If he fails so to qualify, he may be discharged, or in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel retained in his rank for a further period of 6 months. During this second 6-month period, should he qualify, he may be promoted, but his date of precedence in the next higher grade shall not be earlier than the date of his qualification therefor. At the end of the year should he fail to qualify, he may be discharged or:

(b) An officer shall be allowed a reasonable time to complete his examina-

(f) Advancements to chief petty officer rating, advancements in the hospital corps and changes in rating to hospital corps ratings may be made only after approval by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(g) For the purpose of fulfilling requirements as to drills, as a prerequisite for advancement, due credit will be given for drills missed on account of absence in the performance of active or training duty; and for drills performed without compensation.

(b) Shipkeepers may be advanced in rating under the same conditions as provided in §§ 6.3701 and 6.3708, excepting that 14 days' training duty will not be required and credit may be given for constructive drills at the rate of 3 drills per month for each month actually served at shipkeeper duty, toward meeting the minimum requirement of 36 drills as required for advancement of enlisted men of the Organized Reserve: And further provided, That funds in the Commandant's allotment for pay of shipkeepers are available for the increase of pay. In the latter case a certification to the effect that the course is not available shall be placed on the report of examination, Form B. N. P. 971, by the commanding officer of the organization.

(5) Have passed the required professional examinations as prescribed for enlisted men of the Navy for similar grade, except that certain subjects may be exempted when instructional literature and material is not available for training, and where lack of equipment precludes practical demonstration. The examination report, Form B. N. P. 971, shall indicate the subjects exempted for lack of facilities.

(b) For advancement to chief petty officer (acting appointment), class V–3, enlisted men must have complied with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, as modified below:

(1) Have served 2 years in next lower pay grade.

(2) Have attended the number of drills required by paragraph (a) (2) of this section during each of the last 2 years preceding advancement.

(e) Instructions relative to advancement of telegrapher ratings will be covered in separate publications.

§ 6.3704 Requirements for advancement in class V–4. Enlisted men of class V–4 may be advanced in rating in time of peace after having served one enlistment in such rating, provided that they have satisfied all requirements as to qualification prescribed by the Bureau of Naval Personnel and in accordance with policies presented from time to time by the bureaus and offices concerned or when the individual is assigned to a new mobilization billet requiring a higher rating or when the importance of his present billet justifies.

§ 6.3705 Requirements for advancement in class V–5. Enlisted men of class V-5 shall not be advanced in rating in that class but may be appointed aviation cadets in the manner prescribed in §§ 6.10101–6.10506.

For men in classes O–2 and V–2, active or training duty performed on a shore aviation station will be considered as duty on a cruising vessel for purposes of qualifying for permanent appointment.

(c) In the case of men on active duty in connection with the instruction, training, and drilling of the Naval Reserve, each period of 6 months' continuous duty will be credited at a double value for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section. The issuance of permanent appointments to men in this category is also dependent upon the availability of funds to cover the increased pay involved.

(d) During the 4-year period necessary to establish eligibility the average marks in proficiency in rating, conduct, and ability as leader of men must not be less than 3.5 and no mark (except marksmanship) less than 3.2.

(e) When recommending men for permanent appointment, commanding officers will forward to the Bureau of Naval Personnel page 9–10 of current service record entered to date and a copy of the report of examination on Form B. This endorsement shall be signed by the commanding officer.

(f) Permanent appointments are issued to protect chief petty officers in their ratings and may not be revoked by the commanding officer. The man concerned should be given an opportunity to make a written statement, and this statement should be forwarded with the recommendation of the commanding officer in the premises.

(g) The effective date of permanent appointment will be determined by the Bureau of Naval Personnel and will be stated on the face of the appointment. When an appointment is received, an entry will be made in the service record of the man and the appointment will be delivered to him at quarters or at drill assemblage. It is the property of the man but may be put with his service record or continuous-service certificate if he so desires.

(h) Failure to receive an honorable discharge or to reenlist within three months of date of honorable discharge cancels permanent appointment.

The assignment of marks is not required for the practical factors.

§ 6.3710 Changes in rating in same pay grade. Changes in rating within the same pay grade may be made under the same conditions as are prescribed for advancements in rating, except as to the requirements for length of service in rating or pay grade, and performance of drills or active or training duty.

(1) The district mobilization quota is not exceeded thereby, and

(2) The services of the officer can be utilized on mobilization.

(3) If the foregoing conditions cannot be met, the Bureau shall be advised and instructions requested.

Not more than 1 period of such instruction or duty shall be performed under the provisions of this paragraph, in any 1 calendar week, not more than 3 in any 1 calendar month, nor more than 16 in any 1 fiscal year.

(b) A period of equivalent instruction or duty may be allowed officers and men attached to squadrons for an unbroken period of not less than 1½ hours' practical or theoretical ground instruction or for actual flying in Navy aircraft. Such equivalent instruction or duty can be performed only at such times as may be acceptable to the commanding officer of the aviation base or station; it cannot be performed on a date on which a drill is held for the organization to which the individual is assigned; it need not be designated in advance; and it may be instruction or duty for either a squadron, a group of individuals, or an individual. Officers and men performing equivalent instruction or duty under authority of this paragraph will obtain certificates from the commanding officer of the station for presentation to their organization commanders as evidence of the instruction received or duty performed. Not more than 1 period of equivalent instruction or duty shall be performed under the provisions of this paragraph in any 1 calendar week; not more than 3 in any 1 month; nor more than 16 in any 1 fiscal year.

(c) Equivalent instruction or duty performed under the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, will not be credited to the organization for purposes of competitive standing.

§ 6.5306 Training duty with pay. (a) Officers and men of the Naval Reserve may be permitted, on their own application, to perform training duty with pay and allowances in accordance with the succeeding paragraphs of this section and §§ 6.1701 and 6.1702.

(b) Quotas for training duty with pay for the various classes of the Naval Reserve shall be prescribed by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, in accordance with § 6.1406. Under these quotas no individual or organization shall be given in excess of 14 days' training duty with pay, exclusive of travel time, annually, without authority of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(c) Officers and men assigned to training duty with pay, of any character, including duty on District or Departmental Naval Reserve Policy Boards and duty in connection with selective service conferences, unless otherwise specified, shall be charged against these quotas. Special duty of this character assigned officers of the Naval Reserve shall be in lieu of the annual training duty prescribed for the organizations to which they are attached.

(d) Officers and men are interchangeable in the ratio of three men for one officer, in the Volunteer Reserve training quotas. Quotas are not interchangeable between the surface and aviation components.

(e) In the discretion of the District Commandants, a part of the officer training quota may be utilized by placing Naval Reserve medical officers on 2 weeks or less of training duty with pay at several conveniently located centers in each naval district, for the purpose of conducting the necessary physical examinations of reservists residing in the vicinity. The medical officers so detailed may be permitted to remain in their own home communities and permitted to carry on their private practice during this period of training duty, so long as it does not interfere with the conduct of these physical examinations. This should assure sufficient remuneration for them to conduct additional physical examinations gratuitously throughout the year. Also, at less convenient and far-removed locations, Naval Reserve medical officers may be placed on short periods of training duty for a few days only, under these same conditions.

(f) Where no flight pay is involved, orders to officers for training duty with pay and allowances, including mileage, may be issued by Commandants of naval districts within the quotas prescribed by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. Orders to training duty involving the flight pay will be issued by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(g) Upon completion of training duty with pay, a copy of the orders, with all endorsements, shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, and to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Section), under provisions of §§ 6.1701 (d) and 6.1702 (d).

(h) Orders to enlisted men for training duty with pay, within prescribed quotas may be issued by Commandants of naval districts. Flight orders and revocations thereof, however, will be issued by the commanding officer under whom serving and a copy forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(i) Officers and men performing training duty with pay shall be examined physically and found qualified therefor prior to commencement, and shall again be examined physically upon completion thereof, and entries made in health records, in accordance with §§ 6.1601 (b) (2) and 6.1604. In addition, officers and men shall have been vaccinated and given anti-typhoid prophylaxis and entries to that effect made in their health records prior to commencement of such duty, in accordance with provisions of § 6,2509.

(j) Fitness reports shall be submitted upon all officers performing training duty with pay, afloat or ashore, on Form B. N. P. 960 or 961. Marks should be assigned only for proficiency in grade and class. An officer of class I–V (S), C–V (S), or E–O, for example, should not be marked on his ability to stand a deck-watch, but if able to do so satisfactorily notation should be made. If the duties assigned include a deck-watch or an engine-watch, this fact, together with marks thereon, should be noted in the appropriate places. Comments regarding physical condition or age or recommendations as to retention in the Naval Reserve or as to promotion are not required, except as they may be incident to remarks on performance of duty. If discharge from inefficiency or other good and sufficient reason should be considered desirable, this should be made the subject of a separate letter.

(k) Funds provided for pay of Reserve personnel called to training duty are intended for training such personnel in their mobilization duties. In general if requests for training duty with pay are not in accordance with the type of experience associated with the mobilization-duty, they should not be approved. For example, personnel who will be limited to duty on shore during war ordinarily should not be paid for duty afloat. While there are some classes for duty on shore whose mobilization efficiency may be increased by association with forces afloat, the limited funds for peacetime training do not warrant their use for this purpose. Encouragement of these classes to associate with forces afloat while in port or at sea is desirable but only on a voluntary basis.

(l) Requests for training duty with pay, to be performed outside the jurisdiction of the District Commandant to whom the request is made, before favorable action thereon, shall be referred to the commanding officer under whom the duty is requested, if ashore, or to a Force or Type Commander or the senior officer present if afloat.

§ 6.5307 Training duty without pay. (a) Officers and men of the Naval Reserve who desire to perform training duty without pay or allowances and without expense to the Government for travel to and from such duty, may apply to the Commandant of their naval district. In accordance with §§ 6.1701 and 6.1702, Commandants are authorized to approve such request when the duty is to be performed at activities or on board vessels within their jurisdiction. In the case of a request for training duty without pay in another district or on board a vessel outside his jurisdiction, the Commandant receiving the request will forward it with recommendation to the Commandant or commanding officer concerned, if ashore, or to a Force or Type Commander or the senior officer present if afloat, for approval or disapproval and return. The necessary orders will be issued by the Commandant of the district to which the reservist making the request is attached.

(b) In cases where time does not permit securing the approval of the Commandant concerned requests may be made to a Force or Type Commander or the senior officer present of any naval force who is authorized to approve such requests if available accommodations and other circumstances warrant such action, informing the Commandant concerned.

(c) Commandants of naval districts and the Commandant, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., are authorized to issue authority to any officer or enlisted man of the Naval Reserve to perform repeated periods of training or other duty, without pay, any one period not to exceed 1 week in duration, at the activities or on board vessels within their jurisdiction. Such authority may cover a period not in excess of 1 year, but may be renewed from year to year by the Commandant. Officers of classes A–O and A–V (G) or of other classes who hold effective letters of authority to solo naval aircraft, may be authorized to make flights under authority for repeated periods of duty, in the same manner as they are authorized to perform flights while in an inactive duty status. Such flights shall constitute authorized training duty. Physical examinations will not be required prior to each period of authorized training duty without pay, performed under authority prescribed herein, nor upon the completion thereof, except in case of injury, sickness, or disease, provided that officers authorized to perform flights shall have passed a satisfactory flight physical examination within 6 months immediately preceding any period of duty. In case injury, sickness, or disease is incurred by any member of the Naval Reserve performing such duty, appropriate entries shall be made and required reports submitted. A separate fitness report need not be submitted for officers for each repeated period of training or other duty, but a fitness report submitted at the end of the period covered by the authorization will be considered as part of the officers' official record. The authorization to perform the duty shall be retained at the activity or on board the vessel where the duty is performed, until it expires or is canceled. At the expiration of each period, it shall be signed by the commanding officer, as to date and time of reporting and detachment, and by the reservist performing the duty, as to disease or injury while in a duty status. Completed copies shall then be forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel and the Commandant, and a copy retained for future reference.

(d) Officers and men performing training duty without pay, except as indicated in paragraph (c) of this section, shall be examined physically and found qualified therefor prior to commencement of such duty, and shall again be examined physically upon completion thereof, and entries made in health records. In addition, officers and men shall have been vaccinated and given anti-typhoid prophylaxis, and entries to that effect made in their health records prior to commencement of such duty, in accordance with provisions of the Manual of the Medical Department, United States Navy (available in the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department).

(e) Fitness reports shall be submitted upon all officers performing training duty without pay, afloat or ashore, as required by §§ 6.1810 and 6.5306 (j).

(f) An entry shall be made in fitness reports and enlisted records to indicate that duty performed was without pay. If records of enlisted men are not available on board ships in which training duty without pay is performed, the Commandant concerned will be furnished the necessary information for entry in such records, as required herein.

§ 6.5308 Group training duty. (a) In accordance with § 6.1703, group training duty may be authorized for officers and men of the Naval Reserve who perform short periods of training duty in vessels or at shore stations, when training duty of this nature is conducted by groups of officers and men.

(b) Written orders thereto as training duty without pay will be issued in accordance with § 6.1703.

(c) Records will be maintained by the Commandants and appropriate entries will be made on the fitness reports and in the service records.

(d) Physical examinations will not be required for reservists participating in group training duty.

(e) The Naval Reserve educational centers will enroll applicants without reference to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, except for courses in Naval Intelligence, which must be forwarded to the Chief of Naval Operations for approval.

(f) The officer in charge of each Naval Reserve educational center shall furnish the enrollee with a list of books required, the instruction sheets and question sets, and proceed with the conduct of the course.

(g) When a student completes a course, his record card shall be sent to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, with a letter of transmittal in which is shown the student's rank, class, address, the naval district in which his records are kept, and a statement as to whether the course was satisfactorily completed, with the average mark received to two decimal places.

§ 6.5404 Enrollment in Naval War College correspondence courses. (a) Applicants for enrollment in Naval War College correspondence courses will make application to their District Commandant, who shall forward the application to the Naval War College for enrollment.

(b) At the end of each month, the Naval War College shall inform the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the names of all Reserve officers who have been enrolled, who have been disenrolled, and who have completed a correspondence course during the month.

§ 6.5405 Instructional courses conducted by bureaus and offices. (a) Officers of the Naval Reserve are expected to complete the instructional course of the bureau or office prepared for their particular qualifications as indicated in § 6.5202.

(b) Application for these instructional courses will be made to the Commandants of the naval districts. Commandants shall issue these courses except where the course requested is conducted by the bureau or office concerned, in which case they shall forward applications to the appropriate bureau or office.

(c) Officers on duty in the naval districts may be assigned additional duty by the Commandants to assist Naval Reserve officers in these instructional courses.

(d) Commandants shall require officers to report completion of instructional courses issued by them, and shall maintain a record of such completions, reporting to the Bureau of Naval Personnel monthly the names of officers having completed such courses during the month.

(e) Bureaus and offices conducting instructional courses shall report to the Bureau of Naval Personnel monthly the names of officers enrolled or disenrolled and of those having completed courses during the month.

COMMANDING OFFICERS OF STATIONS AND VESSELS TO WHICH NAVAL RESERVISTS REPORT FOR TRAINING DUTY; NAVAL RESERVE INSTRUCTORS AND INSPECTOR-INSTRUCTORS OF THE NAVAL RESERVE

§ 6.5501 Commanding officers of stations and vessels to which naval reservists report for training duty. (a) Commandants will, when ordering individual naval reservists to training duty, with or without pay, to stations or vessels, indicate the type of training it is desired the reservist will be given during the training period.

(b) The type of training to be conducted will be such as to qualify the officer or man for his particular mobilization assignment.

(c) Commanding officers of stations and vessels will provide for the particular training indicated by assigning officers attached to the station or vessel additional duty to assist in the required training.

§ 6.5502 Naval Reserve instructors. (a) Depending upon current availability, a limited number of officers of the Regular Navy will be issued orders by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to report to Commandants for duty as instructors of naval reservists in localities where their services are most needed or can best be utilized in the training and instruction of divisions, squadrons, or other authorized organizations of the Naval Reserve. To further provide instructors of the Regular Navy, Commandants shall recommend to the Bureau of Naval Personnel the issue of additional duty orders as Naval Reserve instructors for officers most available and best suited for such duty. In making these recommendations, Commandants shall endeavor to limit travel required of instructors as much as practicable, and shall give due consideration to the effect upon paramount duties of officers concerned.

(b) It is desirable, where travel is not involved, to use the regular petty officers of the recruiting services and shipkeepers who are sufficiently trained to assist in the instruction, and Commandants shall make such arrangements as may be possible to that end.

§ 6.5503 Naval Reserve instructors' attendance at regular drills. (a) Officers or petty officers who are assigned to instruct Naval Reserve divisions, squadrons, and other authorized organizations, in their immediate vicinity, shall attend each regular drill insofar as practicable. Officers assigned to instruct organizations not in their immediate vicinity will be issued travel orders by the Bureau of Naval Personnel for the purpose of attending regular drills of such organizations in accordance with instructions issued annually. The number of drills attended in the case of these latter officers is dependent upon funds available for travel. Such funds will generally, however, provide for attendance of at least two drills per month from September through May.

(b) In attending regular drills, instructors shall wear appropriate uniforms.

§ 6.5504 Duties of Naval Reserve instructors. (a) The duties of instructors of naval reservists are essentially advisory. Reserve officers in command of units are responsible for the efficiency of their commands, and instructors shall in no way usurp the functions of these officers. Reserve commanding officers shall, however, lose no opportunity to utilize to the fullest extent the experience and practical and theoretical knowledge of the instructors.

(b) Advice of the instructor on all matters pertaining to training and instruction should be freely sought and freely given. Instructors shall prepare and deliver such lectures, conduct such classes, and assist in the planning and execution of instructions for the benefit of both officers and men, as commanding officers may require in carrying out the training instructions. Instructors shall further assist commanding officers in obtaining necessary instructional books and material.

(c) The commanding officer of a Naval Reserve aviation base is responsible for the instruction of naval aviation reserve personnel attached to the base or squadron. He shall have direct supervision over all military activities of the Naval Reserve and Marine Corps Reserve aviation squadrons assigned to the base. For military purposes Naval and Marine Corps aircraft temporarily at a base come under the jurisdiction of the commanding officer of the base during such stay.

§ 6.5505 Inspector-instructors. (a) Inspector-instructors will perform the duties normally required of Naval Reserve instructors except insofar as instructions contained in this section, or otherwise promulgated by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, makes the instructions for Naval Reserve instructors inapplicable to inspector-instructors.

(b) Inspector-instructors will ascertain by informal inspections that organizations to which they are assigned meet required standards as to personnel, training, armories, equipment, records, etc. When no expense for travel is involved, they may be ordered by Commandants to inspect organizations to which they are not assigned.

(c) Inspection should be conducted with a view toward correcting errors and mistakes, ensuring compliance with regulations, orders and instructions, and observance of standard training methods and procedures.

(d) Inspector-instructors shall keep Commandants informed of the state of training of personnel, the adequacy of armory facilities and equipment, and recommend necessary measures to improve efficiency.

(e) Inspector-instructors shall furnish pertinent information to the reporting seniors for annual fitness reports of commanding officers of battalions or separate divisions to which they are assigned, provided they are senior to such commanding officers. The reports of other officers attached to such organizations shall be forwarded via the inspector-instructor and shall be accompanied by his comments for the Commandant's information as appropriate.

(f) Upon recommendation of the Commandant, subject to approval of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, inspector-instructors may be ordered to accompany divisions on their annual training cruises to supervise their instruction.

§ 6.5506 Travel orders for inspector-instructors of the Naval Reserve and Naval Reserve instructors. (a) Instructors will submit requests to the Bureau of Naval Personnel for orders to visit and instruct assigned organizations, as many trips as practicable being made the subject of one request. Requests need not specify exact dates on which travel is to be performed. Request must be submitted sufficiently in advance of the proposed travel to allow orders to be issued. Where orders involving travel expense are required for inspector-instructors, Commandants will request such orders from the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(b) In the event that any travel for which orders have been issued is not performed, the Bureau of Naval Personnel should be advised accordingly forthwith, in order that the obligation of funds therefor may be removed.

(d) Aviation squadrons shall perform their annual training duty as a unit or as nearly a complete unit as possible. Training duty for those officers who, for good reason, are unable to perform their training with their squadrons, may be arranged for groups of not less than three officers whose qualifications and experience are such that they may jointly carry out the parts of the annual syllabus for Naval Reserve aviation training prescribed by the Bureau. Naval aviators on extended active duty at the various Naval Reserve aviation activities may be utilized, when necessary, to complete such groups. In such cases, the Commandants, in forwarding endorsements, will state that one or two regularly assigned officers, as the case may be, will be available to carry out these requirements.

§ 6.5607 Record of regular drills. The commander of each organization for which regular drills are prescribed shall keep a permanent record of each officer and man of his organization, showing the number of drills prescribed during the month, the name of the person, the date of the drill, the period during which he was actually present and under instruction in uniform, and the character of drill and instruction for the entire period. They shall report the results of their inspections to the Naval Reserve Inspection Board.

§ 6.5903 Duties of the Naval Reserve Inspection Board. (a) In addition to the annual report prescribed in § 6.5901, as soon as practicable after each inspection, the Naval Reserve Inspection Board shall submit to the Chief of Naval Personnel a special report on each organization inspected, with a copy to the District Commandant and a copy to the commander of the organization concerned.

(b) In making its reports, the Board shall take into consideration analyses of the reports of cruises, target practices, and active training duty of the various organizations as such and the degree to which they have conformed with the prescribed training syllabi.

(c) The Board and subboards shall, sufficiently in advance, publish schedules of inspections, procedures, and instructions for the conduct of inspections of the various organizations.

§ 6.5904 Inspection of organizations of Volunteer Reserve. Commandants of naval districts will arrange for such additional inspections of Naval Reserve activities in their districts as may be practicable and desirable. Normally the district intelligence officer, the district communication officer, the district medical officer, etc., should be required to inspect the Naval Intelligence Reserve, the Naval Communication Reserve, and the medical specialists' and laboratory research units, respectively. When this is not practicable, any qualified officer suitably located should be designated to make the inspections.

SUBPART F—DISCIPLINE, DISCHARGES, RESIGNATIONS, AND RETIREMENTS

DISCIPLINE

§ 6.6101 Naval reservists subject to naval regulations. All members of the Naval Reserve, when employed on active duty, authorized training duty, with or without pay, drill, or other equivalent instruction or duty, or when employed in authorized travel to or from such duty, or appropriate duty, drill, or instruction, or during such time as they may by law be required to perform active duty, or while wearing a uniform prescribed for the Naval Reserve, shall be subject to the laws, regulations, and orders for the government of the Navy.

§ 6.6102 Disciplinary action not barred by release from duty status. Disciplinary action for an offense committed while subject to the laws, regulations, and orders for the government of the Navy shall not be barred by reason of release from duty status of any person charged with the commission thereof.

§ 6.6103 Retention on or return to duty status for disciplinary action. For the purpose of carrying the provisions of §§ 6.6101–6.6104 into effect, members of the Naval Reserve may be retained on or returned to a duty status without their consent, but not for a longer period of time than may be required for disciplinary action.

§ 6.6104 Reduction in rating. (a) Enlisted men of the Naval Reserve may be reduced in rating under the same conditions prescribed for those of the Regular Navy in Part D, Chapter 5, Section 1, of the Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual (available in the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department), except that reduction in rating in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph shall be accomplished by the District Commandant.

(b) Enlisted men of classes 0–1, 0–2, V–1, and V–2 may be reduced in rating at their own request. Such reductions in rating shall be accomplished by the commanding officer, reports being made as required by § 6.1807 (f).

DISCHARGES

§ 6.6201 Discharge of officers and men. (a) In time of peace no officer or man of the Naval Reserve shall be discharged except upon the expiration of his term of service or upon his own request or for full and sufficient cause in the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy or in the cases of enlisted men in the discretion of the Chief of Naval Personnel.

(b) Officers and men of the Naval Reserve on active duty shall be subject to separation from the Naval Reserve in the same manner as may be provided by or in pursuance of law for the separation of officers and men of the Regular Navy.

(c) Officers and enlisted men whose services are determined to be of greater value to the Government in the event of war, in present civilian occupation than they would be if mobilized as naval reservists, will be discharged upon recommendation by the District Commandants, but without prejudice to their later reappointment or reenlistment in the grade or rate held at the time of discharge, provided they are qualified in accordance with current instructions and are needed to fill vacancies in quotas.

§ 6.6202 Discharge of officers for cause. (a) Officers of the Naval Reserve, on inactive duty, may be discharged by the Secretary of the Navy for full and sufficient cause, including the following:

(1) Failure to keep the Bureau of Naval Personnel and the District Commandant informed of official residence.
(2) Failure to reply to official communications.
(3) Failure to submit such reports as may be required by the Secretary of the Navy.
(4) Obvious lack of interest.

(b) Within a reasonable time, prior to discharge for cause, under the provisions of this section, officers shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the Secretary of the Navy, or such administrative authority or other agency as he may designate, which opportunity will be considered as having been given through the mailing of notice to their address on file in the Navy Department.

(c) Pursuant to the discretion vested in the Secretary of the Navy by the foregoing provisions, officers under consideration for discharge for cause may submit such statement as they desire to the Chief of Naval Personnel via official channels. In cases of officers about to be recommended for discharge for cause by the Commandant, the officer concerned shall first be notified by the Commandant that such action is contemplated and that he is thereby offered an opportunity to make such statement as he may desire. Officers receiving notification of their pending discharge are also privileged to state their case in person to the Chief of Naval Personnel or to the Commandant of the naval district or to such officer attached to the Bureau of Naval Personnel or to the staff of the Commandant of the naval district not below the rank of commander as may be assigned such duty by the Chief of Naval Personnel or the Commandant. The written statement submitted by the officer will be transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy for his consideration with the letter of the Chief of Naval Personnel recommending discharge.

(d) Officers receiving notification of their pending discharge shall promptly acknowledge same and will be given approximately 30 days, exclusive of the usual length of time required for transmittal of a letter through the mails, in which to prepare a statement or otherwise to be heard. Extensions of time in which to prepare a statement may be granted in the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

§ 6.6203 Routine administrative discharges of officers. Officers of the Naval Reserve on inactive duty may be discharged by the Secretary of the Navy for the following administrative reasons:

(a) Age in grade.
(b) Failure to appear for or failure to pass prescribed physical or professional examinations.
(c) Failure to carry out agreement entered into prior to appointment.
(d) Civilian occupation incompatible with Naval Reserve status.
(e) Approval of a claim for a pension, permanent disability allowance or compensation, or retired pay as defined in § 6.7304 (a).

§ 6.6204 Discharge of retired officers and men. Officers and enlisted men who have heretofore been transferred to the retired list of the Naval Reserve Force of the Naval Reserve or to the Honorary Retired List with pay or who may hereafter be so transferred, shall at all times be subject to the laws, regulations, and orders for the government of the Navy, and shall not be discharged therefrom without their consent, except by sentence of a court-martial, or, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, when sentenced by civil authorities to confinement in a State or Federal penitentiary as a result of a conviction for a felony.

§ 6.6205 Resignations of Naval Reserve officers. (a) The President, or the Secretary of the Navy acting for him, may accept the resignation of a commissioned officer of the Naval Reserve. The Secretary of the Navy may accept the resignation of a warrant officer, cadet, or midshipman of the Naval Reserve.

(b) A Naval Reserve officer submitting his resignation will include therein the precise reason therefor.

§ 6.6206 Discharge of enlisted men. (a) An enlisted man shall be discharged by the commanding officer of his organization or, if not attached to an organization, by the Commandant of his naval district for the following reasons:

(1) Expiration of enlistment (honorable, good, or indifferent).
(2) At his own request or to enlist in some other military or naval service other than the Naval Militia (special order of commanding officer).
(3) Civilian occupation incompatible with Naval Reserve status, after approval by the District Commandant (character of discharge warranted by service record).
(4) For cause after notification of approval by the Chief of Naval Personnel (undesirable, or special order of the Bureau of Naval Personnel).
(5) For inaptitude, after approval by the District Commandant, under the conditions set forth in paragraph (g) of this section.
(6) By approved sentence of court-martial (dishonorable or bad conduct).
(7) Physical or mental disability (after approval by the Bureau of Naval Personnel).

(b) Except in time of war or national emergency when members of the Naval Reserve are retained on active duty for the duration thereof, upon expiration of his enlistment or extension thereof a reservist shall be issued a discharge, the character of which is determined from his service records, in accordance with the provisions of Part D, Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual (available in the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department). In case the entries in the service record are incomplete, the character of the discharge will in general be "good," unless further information regarding the man is known, entitling him to an honorable or indifferent discharge. In order to merit an honorable discharge, he must have served his full term of enlistment or extension thereof and received the marks and other credits prescribed in Part D, Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual, and in addition have displayed zealous interest in those Naval Reserve activities open to him. Nonattendance at drills or nonperformance of training duty should in no case be made the basis for an indifferent discharge. However, an indifferent dischage may be based on unsatisfactory or slovenly performance of drills, even though the marks for proficiency in rating and conduct, during a few short periods of active or training duty, may be in excess of 2.75 for proficiency and 3.0 for conduct. Conversely, a good discharge may be issued even though the marks are below 2.75 and 3.0 respectively, provided the man's exemplary performance of drills, etc., is such as to outweigh the low marks received during a few short periods of training duty. In all cases where the character of discharge is not in agreement with the marks, etc., assigned (or absence thereof), explanatory entry should be made in the man's record.

(c) The enlistment contract of an enlisted man of the Naval Reserve is deemed to be automatically terminated upon his acceptance of an appointment as a commissioned or warrant officer, Merchant Marine cadet, or Naval Reserve midshipman. Issuance of a discharge certificate in such cases is not required, but appropriate entries showing acceptance of appointment as an officer, cadet or midshipman should be made in the service record.

(d) In special order discharges where the character of the discharge is "indifferent," or "under age," unless special instructions are issued by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to the contrary, the following notation shall be made on the discharge certificate: "Awarded under honorable conditions."

(e) Men discharged as undesirable or for inaptitude, by sentence of a court-martial, or for physical or mental disability shall in no case be recommended for reenlistment. A statement from the man concerned, if obtainable, shall be included with recommendation for discharge as undesirable.

(f) Sentences of courts-martial involving dishonorable or bad conduct discharge of naval reservists shall be referred to the Bureau of Naval Personnel for approval, before being carried into execution.

(g) Inaptitude discharges shall be given to those men in their first enlistment whose general qualifications are such as not to warrant further retention in the Naval Reserve and only when they have already demonstrated inaptitude therefor. In this classification are those who give insufficient evidence of being able to adapt themselves to the requirements of the Naval Reserve. Inaptitude discharges shall normally bear the notation "Awarded under satisfactory conditions."

§ 6.6207 Honorable discharge. In time of peace an honorable discharge shall be issued only on the expiration of enlistment. In general, an honorable discharge will carry with it recommendation for reenlistment.

§ 6.6208 Character of discharge to be entered on discharge certificate. The character of discharge shall be entered on the discharge certificate, in the service record, and in the continuous-service certificate.

§ 6.6209 Discharge of enlisted men for enlistment or appointment in other naval or military organizations. Prior to the mobilization of the Naval Reserve, Commandants of naval districts and commanding officers of Naval Reserve organizations are authorized to issue special order discharges to enlisted reservists desiring to enlist or to accept appointment in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard. Such discharge should be mailed to the recruiting officer or appointing officer requesting it, for delivery to the prospective recruit or candidate for appointment, prior to his enlistment or appointment in the other naval or military organization, or return to the issuing officer in case of rejection. Subsequent to the mobilization of the Naval Reserve, no such discharges shall be issued without the prior authority of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

HONORARY RETIRED LIST

§ 6.6301 Honorary Retired List defined. The Honorary Retired List of the Naval Reserve shall be composed of officers of the Honorary Retired List existing on June 30, 1938, transferred to the Honorary Retired List, and of officers and men of the Naval Reserve thereafter transferred thereto in accordance with the provisions of §§ 6.6303, 6.6304 or 6.6305 on account of age, age-in-grade, physical disability, or completion of 20 years' service in the Naval Reserve.

§ 6.6302 Discretionary transfer of officers to the Honorary Retired List. Officers of the Naval Reserve found not physically qualified for active service as the result of any physical examination conducted or reviewed by a board of medical officers, shall, within the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, be honorably discharged or placed on the Honorary Retired List, except where transfer to the Retired List with retirement pay in accordance with § 6.7501 is indicated.

§ 6.6303 Service eligibility for transfer to Honorary Retired List. In determining whether an officer shall be discharged or transferred to the Honorary Retired List on account of physical disabilities, or on account of age-in-grade for ages below 64 years, the following will be eligible for transfer to the Honorary Retired List:

(a) Those who have had honorable service on active duty as commissioned or warrant officers, cadets, midshipmen, or in enlisted status, in any of the services enumerated in § 6.6305, at any time between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, inclusive, or during any other war or national emergency declared by the President of the United States.

(b) Those whose physical disqualifications are due to injuries or diseases incurred in line of duty while performing active military or naval service as defined in § 6.7301 (a), except officers transferred to the Retired List with retirement pay in accordance with § 6.7501.

(c) Those who have had a total of 15 years' meritorious service, commissioned or otherwise, in any of the services enumerated in § 6.6305.

An officer may be discharged instead of being placed on the Honorary Retired List even though he meets one or more of the above requirements, should his separation from the Naval Reserve be determined to be desirable and warranted as a result of consideration of his record of service. Each case will be decided on its merits by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

§ 6.6304 Retirement for age-in-grade. Officers of the Organized Reserve (who have not been transferred to the Volunteer Reserve in accordance with § 6.4103 (a)), Volunteer Reserve and Merchant Marine Reserve shall be transferred to the Honorary Retired List or discharged when they arrive at the years of age in grade indicated in the following table, unless the retention of the officer in question is deemed essential through inability to find a suitable replacement, or there are other compelling reasons to the contrary:

Grade	Class of Reserve and age-in-grade
	Organized	Volunteer general	Volunteer special	Merchant Marine
Commander	58	58	58	.....
Lieutenant commander	52	52	54	62
Lieutenant	46	46	48	60
Lieutenant (jr. gr.)	40	40	42	58
Ensign	40	40	42	52

§ 6.6305 Compulsory transfer of officers and enlisted men to Honorary Retired List. Officers and enlisted men of the Organized Reserve, Volunteer Reserve, and Merchant Marine Reserve, shall be placed on the Honorary Retired List without pay or allowances, except as provided in § 6.7401, for the following reasons:

(a) Upon reaching the age of 64 years.

(b) Upon their own request, after 20 years' service in the Naval Reserve. Service in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Naval Auxiliary Service, Naval Reserve Force, Naval Militia, National Naval Volunteers, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve Force, and Marine Corps Reserve shall be counted as service in the Naval Reserve under the provisions of this section.

§ 6.6306 Advancement on retired list of naval reservists who have been specially commended. Naval reservists who have been specially commended for their performances of duty in actual combat with the enemy by the head of the executive department under whose jurisdiction such duty was performed, shall, when placed on the Honorary Retired List, be advanced to the next higher grade.

§ 6.6307 Members of the Honorary Retired List; pay of. Except as provided in § 6.7401, members of the Honorary Retired List will not be entitled to any pay or allowance while in an inactive duty status.

§ 6.6308 Transfers to Honorary Retired List; by whom effected. (a) Transfers of officers to the Honorary Retired List will be effected by the Secretary of the Navy or by the Bureau of Naval Personnel with the prior approval of the Secretary of the Navy.

(b) Transfers of enlisted men to the Honorary Retired List will be effected by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

They shall receive the pay and allowances, including longevity pay, as provided by law for the reserve forces of the United States. § 6.7104 Reservists in travel status entitled to pay. Members of the Naval Reserve, when traveling under competent orders, to and from active duty or training duty with pay, are considered as on active duty and are entitled to pay for necessary travel time by shortest usually traveled route, including travel to and from designated place of physical examination if the orders place the individual in an active duty status prior to commencement of travel.

§ 6.7105 Flight pay. Commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men of the Naval Reserve, while employed on active duty or on training duty with pay which involves actual flying in aircraft, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, shall receive the same increase of pay of their grades, ranks, or ratings as may be received by commissioned officers, warrant officers, and enlisted men in similar grades, ranks, or ratings in the Regular Navy for the performance of similar duty.

(b) An officer of the Naval Reserve, upon release from active duty or training duty with pay, is not entitled to mileage greater than that from his last duty station to the place from which ordered to active or training duty; i. e., to the place to which their orders to such duty were addressed.

§ 6.7107 Transportation, men. (a) When traveling under competent orders in a pay status, enlisted men of the Naval Reserve are entitled to receive transportation, with subsistence and transfers en route, or cash in lieu thereof, as provided for men of the Regular Navy under provisions of the Navy Travel Instructions.

(b) An enlisted man of the Naval Reserve, upon release from active duty or training duty, with pay, is not entitled to transportation greater than that from his last duty station to the place from which ordered to active or training duty; i. e., the place to which his orders to such duty were addressed, except that enlisted men retained on active duty at the time of reenlistment will be entitled to transportation in kind to their homes as shown in their shipping articles on first release from such active duty.

§ 6.7108 Transportation of officers and men performing active or training duty without pay. (a) When authorized by the Bureau of Naval Personnel officers and enlisted men of the Naval Reserve may be issued transportation in kind, including Pullman accommodations (where specified in the U. § 6.7110 Transportation of household effects. (a) Enlisted men of the Naval Reserve are not entitled to the transportation of household effects when ordered to training duty. Officers of the Naval Reserve, ordered to training duty, are entitled to the transportation of household effects up to the weight allowance prescribed for officers of the Regular Navy upon temporary change of station.

(b) Naval Reserve personnel, when ordered to active duty or temporary active duty for purposes other than training, are entitled to the transportation of their household effects as for a permanent or temporary change of station, as the case may be, under the same general conditions as personnel of the Regular Navy, from their homes and/or place of storage to place of duty. Upon termination of active duty or temporary active duty, the permanent or temporary change of station allowances, as the case may be, are authorized between points in the United States but limited in cost to shipment of the same weight within allowance from place of duty to place to which mileage has been or will be obtained; or, if no mileage is involved, then to place selected as home or place of abode upon release. Shipment must be made within 1 year from termination of duty.

§ 6.7111 Subsistence, men. (a) While performing active duty or training duty with pay, enlisted men of the Naval Reserve are entitled to subsistence in kind or cash in lieu thereof, in accordance with the provisions of Part D, Chapter 10, Bureau of Naval Personnel Manual. When a general mess is available they shall be subsisted in such general mess or commuted rations may be authorized for them. When a general mess is not available, their subsistence allowances shall be the same as for enlisted men of the Regular Navy.

(b) Within the numbers authorized to perform training duty with pay and within their allotments for subsistence of shipkeepers and stationkeepers, the Commandants of the naval districts may authorize commuted rations, subsistence allowances and/or quarters allowances for enlisted reservists performing duty with pay and for shipkeepers or stationkeepers, exclusive however of enlisted men of the Fleet Reserve. The prior authority of the Bureau of Naval Personnel is required for these latter. The Bureau of Naval Personnel shall be furnished with a copy of the letter authorizing the payment of commuted rations, subsistence allowances, and/or quarters allowances for the jacket of each man for whom such authorization is issued. New authorization is required in each case upon reenlistment, extension of enlistment, or change of duty.

(c) When authorized by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, subsistence in kind will be allowed enlisted men of all classes while performing authorized training duty without pay and subsisted in general mess. The commanding officers of vessels and shore station at which such duty is performed will inform the District Commandant of the estimated total cost of subsistence for each man performing training duty without pay. The costs for subsistence furnished in this manner will not be charged to the Commandant's allotment under the Naval Reserve appropriation. The Commandant's monthly reports of training duty, however, will include an estimate as to the total cost of such subsistence.

§ 6.7112 Subsistence allowances while performing short periods of training duty without pay. (a) Subject to allotments made to the various naval districts for this specific purpose, officers and men of the Naval Reserve will be allowed cash in lieu of subsistence during short periods of training duty on board motorboats or vessels assigned to training the Naval Reserve in which a general mess is not maintained, at the rate of 30 cents per meal during the time they are actually on board and away from their home port for periods of not less than 24 hours.

(b) Before making such a cruise for which cash subsistence allowance is desired, authority must be obtained from the Commandant. Requests for such allowances should state the number of individuals to be paid and the number of meals per individual.

(c) After the termination of the cruise, the commanding officer will submit a letter to the Commandant forwarding the names and grades of the individuals making the cruise, the number of meals for which each is entitled to commutation, the number of the motorboat or name of vessels on which the cruise was made, and date and time of leaving and returning to home port.

(e) The district supply officer will prepare a public voucher in payment to the commanding officer. The public voucher will show, in addition to other information, the designation of the organization which made the cruise, the number of the motor boat or name of vessel in which the cruise was made, and the date and time of commencement and expiration of cruise. A copy of each public voucher on which subsistence has been paid in accordance with this section must be furnished to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(f) When funds are available for this purpose, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will give the Commandants of naval districts money allotments therefor, which allotments will be charged with the cash paid in lieu of subsistence during such cruises and with the estimated costs of subsistence furnished in kind to enlisted men performing training duty without pay on board Naval Reserve vessels in which a general mess is maintained.

(g) Within the allotment granted him for this specific purpose, the Commandant of each naval district will submit an annual requisition under the Naval Reserve appropriation, which will cover the estimated total amount of cash which will be paid in lieu of subsistence during these cruises. The allotment granted by the Bureau of Naval Personnel shall not be exceeded at any time.

§ 6.7113 Money allowance for quarters. Enlisted men of the Naval Reserve on active duty and during periods of training duty with pay are entitled to money allowance for quarters, under the same conditions as prescribed for enlisted men in the Regular Navy.

INACTIVE DUTY PAY AND ALLOWANCES

§ 6.7201 Drill pay. (a) Officers and enlisted men of the Naval Reserve shall receive compensation at the rate of one-thirtieth of the monthly base pay of their grades, ranks, or ratings, not to exceed $10, for attending under competent orders, each regular drill duly prescribed under the authority of the Secretary of the Navy, including drills performed on Sunday, for the organization to which attached, or for the performance of an equal amount of such other equivalent instruction or duty, as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy.

(b) Officers and enlisted men of the Naval Reserve shall receive compensation at the rate of one-thirtieth of the monthly base pay of their grades, ranks, or ratings, not to exceed $10, for the performance of each period of appropriate duty, as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy.

(c) At the beginning of each fiscal year, subject to approval by the Secretary of the Navy, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will issue instructions designating locations at which organizations of the Naval Reserve will be maintained, the forms of organizations prescribed, the ones for which drill in a pay status is prescribed, and indicating the officers and men ordered to attend such drills.

§ 6.7202 Compensation limited to 60 drills. No officer or enlisted man shall receive pay for more than 60 drills or periods of other equivalent instruction or duty or appropriate duties in any one fiscal year.

§ 6.7203 Flight pay; pilots. For officers and enlisted men performing aerial flights in the capacity of pilots duly prescribed as a part of their training, other than flying performed while in the status of performing active or training duty with pay, the pay and pay limits prescribed in § 6.7201 shall be increased by 50 percent for any quarter during which not less than 4 hours of such flying has been performed.

§ 6.7204 Compensation for performance of administrative duties. (a) In addition to the pay to which they may otherwise become entitled, such officers of the Naval Reserve as may be designated by the Secretary of the Navy regularly assigned to and commanding organizations prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy, shall receive compensation at the rate of $240 per year for the faithful performance of administrative duties connected therewith. Such pay is not dependent on drills, nor may it be increased 50 percent for flying.

(b) At the beginning of each fiscal year, subject to approval by the Secretary of the Navy, the Chief of Naval Personnel will issue instructions designating the organizations the commanding officer of which will be entitled to compensation for the faithful performance of their duties as such.

§ 6.7205 Not entitled to drill pay or compensation for performance of administrative duties while on active or training duty. Pay under the provisions of §§ 6.7201 and 6.7204 shall not accrue to any officer or enlisted man during a period when he shall be lawfully entitled to pay for active duty or training duty.

§ 6.7206 Compensation paid by Bureau of Supplies and Accounts. (a) The compensation and pay allowed by §§ 6.7201, 6.7203, and 6.7204 will be paid by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts in accordance with instructions issued by that Bureau.

(b) Checks for compensation will be delivered through the respective commanding officers of reserve organizations in the naval districts.

(c) Checks received by commanding officers of reserve organizations and not delivered to the payee named therein within 30 days from the date of receipt will be returned to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Section), with a statement of the reason for nondelivery in each case.

COMPENSATION FOR INJURIES

§ 6.7301 Compensation for injury, under United States Employees' Compensation Commission. (a) If in time of peace any member of the Organized Reserve, the Volunteer Reserve, or the Merchant Marine Reserve is physically injured in the line of duty while performing active military or naval service, or dies as the result of such physical injury, he or his beneficiaries shall be entitled to all the benefits prescribed by law for civil employees of the United States who are physically injured in the line of duty or who die as a result thereof, and the United States Employees' Compensation Commission shall have jurisdiction in such cases and shall perform the same duties with reference thereto as in the cases of civil employees of the United States so disabled. Where a person who is eligible for the benefits prescribed herein under the United States Employees' Compensation Commission is also eligible for pension under the provisions of § 6.7302, he shall elect which benefit he shall receive, and for the purposes of such benefits all members of the Naval Reserve shall be considered as performing active military or naval service while performing active duty with or without pay, training duty with or without pay, drills, equivalent instruction or duty, appropriate duty, or other prescribed duty, or while performing authorized travel to or from such duties. For the purposes of determining the benefits to which entitled, naval reservists so physically injured while performing the foregoing duties in a nonpay status will be held and considered as receiving the pay and allowances they would have received if in a pay status. In no case shall sickness or disease be regarded as an injury in connection with the provisions of this section.

(b) A naval reservist physically injured in the line of duty while performing active duty or training duty (with or without pay) will, during the continuance of such duty, be given the same medical care and treatment as is prescribed in Chapter 21 of the Manual of the Medical Department for a member of the Regular Navy.

(c) A naval reservist, physically injured not due to his own misconduct and in the line of duty while performing active duty or training duty, requiring treatment or hospitalization beyond the period covered in his orders for active or training duty, is entitled, under the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, to such treatment and hospitalization upon the expiration of active or training duty in the following order of precedence:

(1) In the facilities of a naval hospital.

(2) In the facilities of a United States Marine Hospital or United States Public Health Service relief station.

(3) In the facilities of any other Government hospital relief station.

(4) In the facilities of civilian institutions under the care of physicians designated by the Commission.

(5) In the facilities of civilian institutions or by nondesignated physicians in localities where there are no designated physicians.

(d) Reasonable charges for hospitalization and treatment to which the reservist is entitled by law after the expiration of his active duty or training duty are payable by the United States Employees' Compensation Commission only when the forms required by the Commission have been submitted and treatment rendered in accordance with the Compensation Act and the Regulations of the Commission.

(e) The Compensation Act requires, where practicable, that Government medical facilities be utilized. A list of medical facilities available to beneficiaries of the Compensation Act, to which injured reservists must be sent as stipulated in the Act, may be obtained on request to the Commission.

(f) In the event the list is not available and the injury occurs in the vicinity of a place where there is a United States Government activity employing civil personnel, the official in charge of that activity will be communicated with for the purpose of ascertaining if there is a United States hospital or designated physician to which the man may be sent for examination and treatment. If such facilities are available, the injured person must report for treatment without further delay. If no such facilities are available in the vicinity and the injury is such as to make medical or hospital treatment necessary, the injured person may be sent to the nearest competent physician or hospital which may be available. In case of hospitalization, ward service only is allowable, unless the condition of the injured person necessitates the use of a private room. It will, however, be permissible for the injured person to select a private room, provided he will, himself, pay the difference between the private room rate and the rate fixed for general ward service. Reasonable charges for such medical or hospital services will be paid by the Commission in accordance with the regulations. If hospital treatment is not necessary but medical treatment for the injury is necessary, it may be secured in the same general manner.

(g) It is the duty of the reservist who incurs an injury, however slight, while on active duty, to give written notice (Form CA–1) to his official superior within 48 hours after the injury. In cases where the reservist's condition is such that he cannot give such notice, the report (Form CA–1) shall be rendered by the official superior of the injured reservist.

(h) It is the duty of the official superior (commanding officer) of a naval reservist who incurs an injury on active duty, however slight, to secure immediately a record of the cause, nature, and extent of the injury and the name of any witness. He shall see that the injured reservist submits the notice of injury (Form CA–1), as indicated above. When a reservist is injured while on active duty the official superior shall submit a report (Form CA–2), together with Form CA–1, as soon as practicable after the injury, to the United States Employees' Compensation Commission, Washington, D. C. If the injury results in death, Form CA–3 also is required. The reports should not be delayed more than 3 days, if not at sea. Complete instructions on forms and procedure are contained in Commission's Rules and Regulations, which shall be obtained from the Employees' Compensation Commission.

(i) The commanding officer or other person in authority having immediate knowledge thereof, shall immediately make a written report in duplicate to the Commandant of the naval district in which the injured reservist resides, setting forth the circumstances under which injured, the nature and extent of the injury, so far as known, and what action, if any, has been taken to provide treatment, as well as any other information that may be of value in establishing the injured person's right or the right of his beneficiaries to compensation or hospital or medical service. The Commandant of the injured reservist's naval district should promptly transmit a copy of the report to the United States Employees' Compensation Commission.

(j) Under the terms of the Compensation Act, all original claims for compensation for disability shall be made within 60 days after the injury. For any reasonable cause shown, the Commission may allow original claims for compensation for disability to be made at any time within 1 year. In order to facilitate payment, claim for compensation on Form CA–4 should be submitted 18 days after the pay stops, if the injury seems likely to result in prolonged disability. If the disability lasts for less than 18 days, Form CA–4 should be submitted upon termination of such disability. All original claims for compensation for death must be made within 1 year after the death.

§ 6.7302 Pensions for disability, under Veterans' Administration. (a) For disability resulting from personal injury or disease contracted in line of duty or for aggravation of a pre-existing injury or disease contracted or suffered in line of duty when such disability was incurred in or aggravated by active military or naval service other than a period of war service as provided in Part I of the Veterans Regulations, the United States shall pay to any person thus disabled and who was honorably discharged from such period of service in which said injury or disease was incurred, or pre-existing injury or disease aggravated, a pension, but no pension shall be paid if the disability is the result of the person's own misconduct: Provided, That active service, including service for training purposes, performed by a reserve officer or member of the enlisted reserves of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, shall be considered as active military or naval service for the purpose of granting benefits under Part II of the Veterans Regulations, and it shall not be required that such reserve officer or enlisted man shall have been discharged from the service. Pension under this paragraph shall not be paid concurrently with active duty pay or employee's compensation. Where a person who is eligible for pension hereunder is also eligible for the benefits of the Employees Compensation Act, he shall elect which benefits he shall receive.

(b) Members of the Naval Reserve are considered to be in active naval service for the purpose of receiving the foregoing benefits while performing active duty or training duty with or without pay, under orders issued in accordance with the provisions of §§ 6.1701–6.1711.

(c) Claims for pension must be filed by the claimant on the prescribed Veterans' Administration form.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Veterans' Regulations, see 38 CFR Part 35.

§ 6.7303 Medical treatment and hospitalization for sickness and disease. Any member of the Organized Reserve, Volunteer Reserve, or Merchant Marine Reserve who becomes ill or contracts a disease in line of duty during the performance of active duty or training duty with or without pay shall be entitled, at Government expense, to such medical, hospital, or other treatment as is necessary for the appropriate treatment of such illness or disease until the disability resulting from such illness or disease cannot be materially improved by further hospitalization or treatment, and to the necessary transportation and subsistence incident to such medical and hospital treatment and return to their homes when discharged therefrom. Treatment or hospitalization for such illness or disease shall not be continued for more than 10 weeks following discharge from active or training duty except on the approved recommendation of a Board of Medical Survey, consisting of one or more medical officers of the Navy or on authorization of the Surgeon General of the Navy based on the certificate of a reputable physician that the illness or disease is a continuation of the illness or disease which was sustained or contracted during the period of active or training duty and that further benefit will result from continued treatment.

§ 6.7304 Naval reservists in receipt of pensions, disability allowances, etc., not permitted to participate in Naval Reserve activities in pay status. (a) No officer or enlisted man of the Naval Reserve who may be drawing a pension, disability allowance, disability compensation, or retired pay from the Government of the United States (and "retired pay" as here used shall not include pay of members of the Fleet Reserve, Fleet Marine Corps Reserve, or members of the Honorary Retired List), or who has a claim pending therefor, shall be placed on or continued on active or training duty with pay or allowances, or permitted to perform drills, equivalent instruction or duty, appropriate duties, or administrative functions with pay, except that he may be, in time of war or national emergency, ordered to active duty: Provided, That upon entering active service he shall notify the Veterans' Administration in the manner prescribed in § 6.7305. This prohibition shall apply from the date of submission of a claim for pension or other disability allowance until payment thereunder ceases or the claim is disallowed.

(b) The immediate commanding officer of the reservist concerned shall be promptly informed regarding the submission of any such claim, who in turn shall inform the District Commandant, the Bureau of Naval Personnel, and the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Division).

§ 6.7305 Certificate for disability allowance or waiver thereof. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, no member of the Naval Reserve shall be certified for payment of any compensation or allowance for active or training duty, drills, equivalent instruction or duty, appropriate duties, administrative functions, or uniform allowances unless and until he has submitted to the Commandant of his naval district or his commanding officer an affidavit in the following form:

ARMORIES

§ 6.8201 Procurement of armories. (a) The Commandants of naval districts will arrange for the procurement of suitable armories at locations where battalions and divisions of the Organized Reserve have been authorized. Where rental is involved, current instructions relative to leases of real estate will be followed.

(b) So far as practicable, all Naval Reserve activities at localities where armories have been provided will be centered therein, including the activities of the Naval Communication Reserve.

§ 6.8202 Armory expenses. All armory expenses, including rent, heat, light, water, telephone, janitor service, and wharfage for Naval Reserve floating equipment, will be met from annual allotments made to the Commandants of the various naval districts for this purpose.

§ 6.8203 Joint occupancy of armories. In those cases where an armory is occupied jointly by a battalion or division with another organization of the Naval Reserve, the battalion or division commander will be in direct charge of the armory and will act as senior officer present insofar as the use of space and armory equipment is concerned, but such officer will not be directly concerned with the procurement and training of such other organization quartered in the armory.

§ 6.8204 Fire prevention. Smoking regulations will be posted in each building occupied by Naval Reserve activities. The regulations will be drawn up by the senior administrative officer of the Naval Reserve units using, or the military custodian of, the building. The degree to which smoking is permitted will depend in each case on the local fire hazard. In any event, smoking will not be permitted during classes nor in places not under surveillance. Trash containers in locations other than offices should have metal covers. All trash containers should be emptied at the end of each drill.

§ 6.8401 Assignment of floating equipment. Subject to their availability and the approval of the Chief of Naval Operations, vessels and other floating equipment will be assigned to the various naval districts for the use of the Naval Reserve. Such vessels and equipment shall not be diverted to other uses nor decommissioned without the authority of the Chief of Naval Operations.

§ 6.8402 Maintenance, operation, and repairs; floating equipment. Subject to the approval of the material bureaus having cognizance, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will make annual allotments to the various naval districts for the maintenance, operation, and repairs of vessels and boats assigned as district craft for use of the Naval Reserve, and, depending upon the availability of funds, special allotments for emergencies or major projects of overhaul. These allotments will be administered by the Commandants of the naval districts to which made, and monthly reports of expenditures thereunder submitted to the Bureau of Naval Personnel. Technical features of repairs and alterations, and authorizations of alterations are under the cognizance of the same material bureaus as for vessels of the Regular Navy.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

§ 6.8501 Allotments to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. The Bureau of Naval Personnel will allot to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, for administration by that Bureau, the funds appropriated for medical outfits, medicine, hospital supplies, etc., for issue to Naval Reserve vessels, armories, and aviation bases.

§ 6.8601 Records of invoices and issues. (a) The district accounting officer, or other supply officer designated by the Commandant, shall be the accounting officer for all material and equipment issued for the purpose of training and instructing the Naval Reserve in the district. All such material and equipment will be invoiced to the Commandant of the district.

(b) A record shall be maintained at district headquarters of all medical supplies of value and all medical equipment, by item and value, issued to Naval Reserve units.

(c) A report shall be made to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery at the end of each fiscal year, indicating the average complement, the total value of medical supplies issued during the year, and a list of medical equipment on hand for each Naval Reserve unit on June 30.

(d) Requisitions for and property surveys of medical stores and equipment from Naval Reserve units, containing the recommendation and consent of the Commandant, shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery for approval.

(e) Recommendation as to modification in the items of medical equipment and quantities and kind of medical supplies furnished the various types of Naval Reserve units shall be made to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery by the Commandant as indicated.

§ 6.8602 Accountability and responsibility for Government property. (a) In order that Government property issued to Naval Reserve organizations may be properly safeguarded and accounted for, a custodian for such property should be designated for each armory or drill hall where such property is kept, and the custodian shall give custody receipts to the district accounting officer or other officer responsible for the rendition of equipage returns.

(b) The commanding officer of each organization will be the custodian of its property.

(c) The commanding officer shall designate the supply officer to keep account of the Government property in his custody. If no supply officer is attached to the organization, the commanding officer will designate an officer to act as material officer.

(d) The supply officer or, if none is attached, the material officer, under the orders of the commanding officer, shall render quarterly equipage returns through the Commandant, in the manner prescribed for supply officers afloat; and in addition shall render annual inventory as of March 31 each year covering all Government property in his custody, in the manner prescribed for supply officers afloat. All items of arms and armory equipment shall be kept in the armory at all times, except when issued to the organization for the use for which intended, or to separate details thereof.

(f) Paragraph (e) of this section shall not be interpreted as applying to books, pamphlets, and other instructional literature. Reservists should be encouraged to draw these on custody receipt for home study and reading. Indefinite retention of books so drawn is not authorized, and their return shall be required within a reasonable length of time.

(g) Reservists will be held responsible for the loss of Government equipment in their possession.

(h) Medical supplies and equipment shall be placed under the control of the medical officer who shall be accountable to the commanding officer for their proper preservation and use.

(i) Reports of medical supplies and equipment required from Naval Reserve organizations shall be prescribed by the Commandant.

(j) Requisitions and receipted priced invoices for medical supplies and equipment, and property survey reports shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery via the Commandant.

(k) Items of lost or damaged equipment shall be surveyed and reports thereon made on the prescribed forms.

§ 6.8603 Procurement of material and equipment. Required articles of equipment necessary for the instruction and training of the organization are procurable, subject to the availability of funds or the availability of the required articles without exchange of funds between appropriations, from the Commandant of the naval district or through the Commandant from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, or through the Bureau of Naval Personnel from other Bureaus. (b) Commanding officers of organizations will initiate the necessary action toward procurement of items required to fill allowance, where armory conditions are such that use can be made thereof. This action should be in the form of a letter to the District Commandant indicating the item desired, number on hand and number allowed. In the event the items desired are not chargeable against the Naval Reserve Appropriation, the letter should be forwarded with the Commandant's recommendation to the Bureau of Naval Personnel. Items chargeable against the Naval Reserve Appropriation should be covered on stub requisition, where thus procurable, or open purchase requisition, chargeable against the district's allotment of funds under the subhead concerned. Requests for ammunition should indicate the make and type of arm in which it is to be fired.

(c) The standard allowance list herein prescribed may be amended from time to time by the Chief of Naval Personnel.

§ 6.8605 Navy training courses allowed for use by Naval Reserve. (a) From time to time the Bureau of Naval Personnel will prescribe allowances of Navy training courses for use in instructing the Naval Reserve. These allowances will prescribe the number of each course apportioned each naval district as a whole. Distribution within any district will be a function of the Commandant.

(b) On March 31 each year an inventory shall be taken in each naval district of the number of usable copies of each course on hand, including those in use. As soon thereafter as practicable each District Commandant shall submit a report to the Bureau of Naval Personnel showing for each course, the District allowance, number on hand, and number required to fill allowance.

(c) The Bureau of Naval Personnel will then take the necessary action to fill allowances, insofar as courses for this purpose are available, or at such time as they may become available. Requests from the naval districts to the Bureau of Naval Personnel for courses will not be necessary. Requests from organizations for courses should be addressed to the District Commandant.

(d) Additional copies of any course will not become available for filling allowances oftener than once every six years, when the course is reprinted.

§ 6.8606 Equipment loaned to States for use of Naval Militia. Such vessels, material, armament, equipment, and other facilities of the Navy as are or may be made available for the Naval Reserve shall be available in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy for issue or loan to the several States, Territories, or the District of Columbia, for the use of the Naval Militia, but no such facilities of the Navy shall be furnished for use by any portion or unit of the Naval Militia unless at least 95 per centum of its personnel belongs to the Naval Reserve and is attached to or associated with an organization of the Organized Reserve and unless its organization, administration, and training conform to the standards prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy for units.

UNIFORMS

§ 6.8701 Uniforms prescribed. Officers and men of the Naval Reserve shall wear the uniforms prescribed for officers and men of corresponding ranks or ratings in the Regular Navy.

§ 6.8702 Uniforms required, officers. (a) Except as noted in paragraph (b) of this section, and in § 6.8703 (c), commissioned and warrant officers of the Naval Reserve are required to possess the following: Service dress blue, service dress white, overcoat (or raincoat), leggings, undress belt; aviation working dress (if an aviator). All other items of uniform prescribed for officers of the United States Navy are optional for officers of the Naval Reserve, but such uniforms must be of regulation pattern.

(b) Chaplains shall not wear the cocked hat, epaulets, swords, sword belts, nor full dress trousers. They may wear the vestments of the church to which they belong on occasions requiring it.

(c) Aviation cadets shall wear the uniform prescribed for them by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

§ 6.8703 When uniforms are to be worn. (a) Except as noted in paragraphs (b) and (c), of this section, members of the Naval Reserve shall wear the uniforms of their ranks or ratings when at drills and when performing authorized training duty with or without pay. They may wear such uniforms at ceremonies and memorial services. They shall not wear them at unauthorized times.

(b) Civilian clothes may be worn when in an active duty status in conformity with the customs of the Regular Service.

(c) Officers of the Merchant Marine Reserve employed on vessels requiring its officers to wear uniforms, may be permitted to wear such uniforms while performing active or training duty. Merchant Marine Reserve officers so equipped are not required to possess the Naval Reserve uniforms listed in § 6.8702 (a) except when ordered to active duty in time of war or a national emergency.

§ 6.8704 Uniform gratuities; Naval Reserve officers—(a) In time of peace. (1) In time of peace, upon first reporting for active or training duty with pay, at a location where uniforms are required to be worn, or after the authorized performance of 14 drills, an officer of the Naval Reserve shall be paid a sum not to exceed $100 as reimbursement for the purchase of the required uniforms, and thereafter he shall be paid an additional sum of $50 for the same purpose upon the completion of each period of not less than 4 years in the Naval Reserve. This latter amount of $50 shall not become due any officer until he has completed at least 150 drills or periods of other equivalent instruction or duty or appropriate duties, and 56 days' active or training duty, or 75 drills and 84 days' active or training duty, or 112 days' active or training duty. No officer shall be entitled to either of the above mentioned sums until the expiration of four years from the date of the receipt of the last previous gratuity.

(2) Active duty performed under his commission as an officer of class A–V (N), in time of peace, may be counted in computing the required 112 days' active or training duty to entitle such officer to the additional payment of $50 four years after receipt of the $150 uniform gratuity as an officer of class A–V (N).

(3) The word "drills" as used herein is to be interpreted as the regular drills of the various units authorized and performed in accordance with § 6.5302.

(4) Reimbursement in the above amounts for uniforms purchased and in the possession of the officer will be made by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Master Accounts Division) upon certification by the Reserve Officer and the Bureau of Naval Personnel that the prescribed conditions have been met. Form S&A 445 will be used for $50 payments and S&A Form 445A for $100 payments. In the cases of officers of the Volunteer Reserve and the Merchant Marine Reserve, three certified copies of the orders to active or training duty entitling them to the uniform gratuity, with all endorsements, shall accompany this form.

(b) In time of war or national emergency. (1) Upon first reporting for active duty with pay in time of war or national emergency, at a location where uniforms are required to be worn (regularly or occasionally), officers of the Naval Reserve who have in their possession the required uniforms, and who have not theretofore received any uniform gratuity, are entitled to the peacetime allowance of $100; and in addition, the further sum of $150 for the purchase of the required uniforms, without regard to whether uniforms are required to be worn at the place of reporting for duty or whether they have the required uniforms in their possession.

(2) Claims for the $100 gratuity will be submitted to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Master Accounts Division) direct, using form S&A 445A, which must be accompanied only by three certified copies of the officer's orders to active duty, bearing the endorsement required by paragraph (b) (4) of this section. Certified copies of the oath of office are not required for this purpose.

(3) Claims for payment of the additional $50 gratuity will be submited to the Bureau of Naval Personnel on Form S&A 445.

(4) Upon first reporting for active duty (other than duty for physical examination) in time of war or national emergency, Naval Reserve officers will be paid a uniform gratuity of $150 by the disbursing officers first opening their pay accounts. The disbursing officers will endorse the original and all copies of each reserve officer's orders to show the activity, date and amount of credit, the statement "Oath executed at (place) on (date) copies filed (pay number)", name and symbol number of the disbursing officer. An officer who received the $150 gratuity under a prior commission is not entitled to another $150 gratutiy under new orders to active duty.

(5) Retired officers of the Naval Reserve ordered to active duty are not entitled to a uniform gratuity.

(6) Officers of class A–V (N) are not entitled to an initial $150 uniform gratuity in addition to the $150 gratuity as provided in § 6.10404.

§ 6.8705 Issues of uniforms to enlisted men of the Naval Reserve. The issues of clothing to enlisted men of the Naval Reserve or the granting of cash allowance in lieu of clothing issues, will be governed by the provisions of the Executive Orders issued by the President for the fiscal year concerned.

§ 6.8706 Men required to replace lost or damaged articles of uniform. Members of the Naval Reserve receiving a gratuitous issue of uniforms are required to replace at their own expense any lost or damaged article thereof. For this purpose, cash requisitions should be submitted in the manner prescribed in the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts Manual.

§ 6.8707 Stowage of uniforms in armories. In order to maintain proper supervision of uniforms and to give instruction in the marking, care, and stowage of them, as well as to insure that they shall not be worn at unauthorized times, men of the Naval Reserve shall be required to keep their uniforms at armories, or drill halls, if suitable locker facilities are available.

§ 6.8708 Issue of bedding, clothes bags, and buckets. Clothes bags, mattresses, pillows, mattress covers, pillow covers, blankets, buckets, and hammocks with clews and lashings, when required in connection with the training on shipboard of enlisted members of the Naval Reserve, are obtainable on requisition chargeable against the naval district's allotment of funds under the Construction and Repair subhead of the Naval Reserve Appropriation, in the manner prescribed in the Bureau of Construction and Repair Manual (now Bureau of Ships Manual). They will be issued, cleaned, and accounted for in the manner prescribed in the Bureau of Ships Manual. These items, except bags and hammocks, when issued to organizations of the Naval Reserve will be marked as follows: "U. S. Naval Reserve"; this will be in stencil black letters, in the center and lengthwise of the blanket, mattress, etc.; 2-inch letters will be used for blankets, mattresses, and mattress covers, and 1-inch letters for the other items.

SUBPART I—FLEET RESERVE

PURPOSE

§ 6.9101 Purpose. The purpose of the Fleet Reserve is to provide an available reserve of ex-officers and ex-enlisted men of the Regular Navy who may be utilized without further training to fill those billets requiring experienced personnel in the initial stages of mobilization.

COMPOSITION OF FLEET RESERVE

§ 6.9201 Officers. The officer personnel of the Fleet Reserve shall be composed of ex-officers of the Regular Navy who have been appointed in accordance with § 6.9401, and designated as follows:

DE–F. Line officers.
CC–F. Engineer officers, for construction duties.
SC–F. Supply Corps officers.
MC–F. Medical Corps officers.
DC–F. Dental Corps officers.
CEC–F. Civil Engineer Corps officers.
ChC–F. Chaplain Corps.

§ 6.9202 Enlisted men. Enlisted men of the Fleet Reserve shall be comprised in the following classifications and designations:

F–2. Those who are transferred direct from the Navy thereto after 4 or more years' naval service, and those who, after an equal amount of such naval service, have been honorably discharged and are enlisted in the Naval Reserve and assigned to this class.

F–4–c. Those men who served in the Regular Navy prior to July 1, 1925, who were either in the Navy or Naval Reserve Force on that date and thereafter transfer to the Naval Reserve after 16 years' naval service.

F–4–d. Those men who served in the Regular Navy prior to July 1, 1925, who were either in the Navy or Naval Reserve Force on that date and thereafter transfer to the Naval Reserve after 20 years' naval service.

F–5. Those men who first enlist in the Navy after July 1, 1925, or who reenlist with broken service after that date and transfer to the Naval Reserve after 20 years' naval service.

ADMINISTRATION

§ 6.9301 Maintenance of records for classes F–2, F–4, and F–5, and physical examinations of Fleet Reserves. (a) Commandants will maintain records showing the physical and professional qualifications of men of classes F–2, F–4, and F–5, and retired men attached to their districts.

(b) Men will be classified professionally in accordance with the type or types of vessels on which they are best qualified to serve.

(c) Enlisted men transferred to the Fleet Reserve after 16 years' or more service in the Regular Navy shall be examined physically at least once during each 4-year period. The Bureau desires to complete these examinations without cost to the Government, with the minimum inconvenience to the men concerned, and insofar as is practicable, employing the following plan:

(1) Fleet reservists will be authorized by Commandants to undergo physical examination at any time during the fourth fiscal year following the fiscal year of transfer to the Fleet Reserve and during each fourth year thereafter. No certain time within these fourth years will be specified.

(2) When physical examinations are due, the men should be ordered by the Commandant of the naval district in which they reside to report for such examination to the nearest Regular Navy activity where the services of a medical officer are available, to the nearest Naval Reserve aviation base, or to the nearest Naval Reserve armory. When ordered to an armory the men should report only on drill nights. Unless Naval Reserve medical officers of classes MC-V (G) and MC-V (S) volunteer for this service, it is not desired that members of the Fleet Reserve be ordered to report to such officers at their private offices for physical examination.

(3) To avoid inconvenience in cases where the reservist's civil pursuits require that he be out of the district where his records are kept, permission may be granted to use the facilities of any other district for this examination.

(4) Report of physical examination will be made in duplicate on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y, which may be obtained from the naval medical supply depot, Brooklyn, N. Y.

(d) In the case of the failure of a fleet reservist of classes F–4 and F–5 to present himself for physical examination during the time mentioned above, or up until such time during the fourth year as the Commandant may decide upon with a view to completing the examination within the 4-year period, specific orders involving transportation and active duty pay will need to be issued by the Commandant concerned.

(e) Enlisted men who are or have been transferred to the Fleet Reserve after 16 years or more of service in the Regular Navy, and who are found unfit for any duty in accordance with § 6.9604 (a), shall be transferred to the retired list of the Regular Navy.

(f) The cooperation of the service is enjoined to accomplish the majority of the necessary physical examinations without the necessity of issuing orders except in extreme cases. When orders are necessary, it is desired that men be kept on active duty for this purpose as short a time as possible. If practicable no man should be retained more than 1 day at the naval activity where the inspection and examination is held nor shall any man be ordered to report, without prior reference to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, whose probable period of active duty, including travel time, will exceed three days.

(g) Members of the Fleet Reserve, reporting for inspection in accordance with orders issued as directed in paragraph (e) of this section, will be paid active-duty pay by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts direct for such time as they are actually at a naval activity for this purpose and for the necessary time to perform the travel to and from their homes. They shall also be furnished transportation in kind with the necessary cash allowances for travel involved by the naval districts.

(h) In order that the accounts of those men who report for inspection may be so adjusted as to allow active-duty pay in lieu of retainer pay for the period of active duty, it will be necessary that the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts be furnished some authentic voucher in duplicate. To the end that the procedure may be uniform in all the districts, the order issued to reservists will contain paragraphs reading:

You will enter on the back of this order the place from which you started to travel and the date and hour of departure and the place, date, and hour of your arrival home. You will sign your name after these entries.

The officer to whom you report for this inspection will indorse on the back of this order and over his signature the place, date, and hour of reporting and the date and hour of release.

Upon your arrival home you will forward this order to the Commandant of the ----------, ----------
who will cause two copies of it to be prepared, certified, and forwarded to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Section), which bureau will make the necessary adjustment in your pay accounts.

(i) A minimum of clerical effort will be required and chance of error reduced if forms are printed on the back of the order and the carbon copies (prepared when the original orders are issued) as follows:

I started travel in compliance with the within order from ---------- on (Place)
----------, ----------
(Date) (Hour)
On the return trip I arrived at ----------, on ----------, ---------- (Place) (Date) (Hour)
There was no avoidable delay en route in performing the travel.

(Sign your full name)

The man named in the within order reported in compliance therewith at ---------- (Place of
---------- on ----------, ---------- inspection) (Date) (Hour)

(Signature and rank of officer to whom he reported)

The man named in the within order completed the duty prescribed and was directed to return to the place from which he was called to duty, at ---------- on (Place of inspection)
----------, ----------
(Date) (Hour)

(Signature and rank of officer)

On carbons but not on the original: The reverse side of this sheet and the foregoing endorsements are true copies of the originals.

(Signature and rank of officer)

(j) Failure of any member to report for physical examination and inspection as required by paragraph (e) of this section, in obedience to lawful order, will result in forfeiture of any pay which may be due him. Pay so forfeited shall be the pay due and unpaid him on the date notice of forfeiture is received by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Section), and shall include pay thereafter becoming due him until such time as he reports for examination and inspection or until he is relieved of the necessity for reporting. However, there shall be no forfeiture if satisfactory excuse for failure to report is furnished the Commandant. When resumption of retainer pay is authorized, the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Section) will be notified of the inclusive date from which resumption is effective.

§ 6.9302 Permission to leave the United States for short periods. Members of the Fleet Reserve who desire to leave the United States or its possessions for short periods may obtain permission in the manner outlined in § 6.1804.

§ 6.9303 Permission to leave the United States for extended periods, members of Fleet Reserve and men of the Retired List of the Regular Navy. (a) Enlisted men of the Fleet Reserve and retired men who desire to reside outside the United States or its possessions for periods in excess of 6 months, should forward their requests to the Bureau of Naval Personnel via the Commandant of the naval district or naval station at which their records are carried, and when such residence is to be in Asiatic countries, the requests should, in addition, be forwarded via the Commander in Chief, Asiatic Fleet. Permissions thus granted shall be for periods of 1 year only, but may be renewed at the discretion of the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

(b) Records of Fleet Reserve men and retired men granted permission to reside abroad, shall, except as provided in § 6.1404 (d), (e), and (f), be retained in the naval districts in which they formerly resided. Where residence outside the United States is to be for periods in excess of 6 months in Asiatic countries, their records shall be forwarded to and maintained by the Commandant of the Sixteenth Naval District.

(c) The records of officers of the Fleet Reserve shall be carried and maintained as provided in § 6.1809.

(d) Changes of official residence of officers and men of the Fleet Reserve and Retired List shall be reported to the Chief of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts via the Commandant of the naval district or naval station at which their records are carried, in accordance with § 6.1803.

(e) Transfers to the Fleet Reserve in the Fifteenth Naval District and Republic of Panama will not be made until approval for residence therein has first been obtained from the Commandant of the district or his designated representative.

APPOINTMENT AND TRANSFER TO THE FLEET RESERVE

§ 6.9401 Assignment of officers to Fleet Reserve. (a) Ex-commissioned and ex-warrant officers of the Regular Navy who have been honorably discharged therefrom after not less than 4 years' service therein, may, within 10 years of such separation, subject to their own consent and in the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, be appointed in the Naval Reserve in the permanent rank last held by them in the Regular Navy, and assigned to the Fleet Reserve. Their dates of rank shall be governed by the provisions of § 6.1508.

(b) Officers appointed under the foregoing provision shall not, in time of peace, be ordered to active duty, except with their own consent, and shall be under no obligation to perform training or drill duty during that period, but shall be paid in advance $20 per annum. No commissioned or warrant officer of the Fleet Reserve shall be certified for payment of annual advance pay unless and until he has submitted to the Commandant of his naval district an affidavit in the form prescribed by § 6.7305 (a).

(c) The physical examination given at time of separation from the Regular Navy is acceptable if it is recorded on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form Y, for appointments on applications made within 4 months of such separation. Otherwise a physical examination reported on this form will be required. A flight physical examination is also required in the case of a candidate for aviation duties reported on Bureau of Medicine and Surgery Form NMS Aviation No. 1.

(d) Applications for appointment in the Fleet Reserve will be addressed in letter form to the Bureau of Naval Personnel via the District Commandant, the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery and other Bureaus or offices concerned and shall show and be signed with the full legal name of the applicant. They must be accompanied by, or include, the following:

(2) Fingerprint record, B. N. P. 680.

(3) Two recent photographs of the applicant's head and shoulders, one profile and one full face, each about 2½'' x 2½''.

§ 6.9402 Assignment to class F–2 upon termination of service in the Regular Navy. (a) The Secretary of the Navy may require any person, when enlisting in the Regular Navy, and may authorize any enlisted man in such service to obligate himself, to serve 4 years in the Fleet Reserve upon termination of his enlistment.

(b) Men who have so obligated themselves and are recommended for reenlistment shall be transferred to the Fleet Reserve, F–2, upon termination of their enlistment in the Regular Navy, unless they apply for reenlistment or extension of their enlistment in the Regular Navy, in which event they may be reenlisted or may extend their enlistment in the Regular Navy.

(c) Ex-officers of the Regular Navy and ex-enlisted men of the Regular Navy who have been honorably discharged therefrom and recommended for reenlistment, after not less than 4 years' service therein, may, subject to their own consent and in the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy, be appointed or enlisted in the Naval Reserve in the ranks or ratings last held by them in the Regular Navy, and assigned to the Fleet Reserve.

(d) For all purposes of the Naval Reserve Act of 1938 a complete enlistment during minority shall be counted as 4 years' service and any enlistment terminated within 3 months prior to the expiration of the term of such enlistment shall be counted as the full term of service for which enlisted.

(e) Except as otherwise provided, men transferred or assigned to the Fleet Reserve under the provisions of this section shall not, in time of peace, be ordered to active duty, except with their own consent, and shall be under no obligation to perform training duty or drill during that period, but shall be paid in advance $20 per annum. (b) Veterans Administration Insurance Form 350 (Application for National Service Life Insurance) will be executed in duplicate on the date the aviation cadet reports as such for active duty for training, and both the original and duplicate will be transmitted to the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Division). The form of insurance to be applied for by aviation cadets shall be the 5-year level premium term policy, and, as required by law, the amount shall be $10,000. The effective date of the policy will be the date of entry upon active duty as an aviation cadet.

(c) Upon termination of aviation cadet status the cognizant commanding officer will notify the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts (Retainer Pay Division) by letter, stating the date of such termination and requesting that no further premiums be paid by the Government.

Such aviation cadets not commissioned as ensigns, A–V (N) or second lieutenants, (NAVC), will be informed that they have the option of continuing to pay the premiums from their personal funds or of converting to some higher form of insurance, after the insurance has been in effect for one year, or of permitting the insurance to lapse.

(d) When the aviation cadet so insured has been commissioned an ensign in class A–V (N), the insurance shall be continued in force as required by law. The allotment method with corresponding deduction from pay in the handling of payment of premiums upon National Service Life Insurance shall be employed for all class A–V (N) officers. Immediately following commissioning as ensigns, class A–V (N), this compulsory allotment shall be registered commencing first payment the month in which the officer executed the oath and acceptance of office, to extend for an indefinite period. If the officer desires to carry a higher form of insurance, he may do so upon making proper application therefor in the manner prescribed by the Veterans' Administration, at any time after being commissioned in class A–V (N) and prior to the date of expiration of the policy. The 5-year level term policy automatically expires five years after its effective date of issuance, which period commenced upon the date of entry upon active duty undergoing training as an aviation cadet, prior to the commencement of service as a commissioned officer. Prior to expiration of such 5-year periods, officers class A–V (N) shall be required to make application for conversion to some other form of insurance in the amount of $10,000, in the manner prescribed by the Veterans' Administration.

(e) Upon first reporting for active duty aviation cadets who may be holding National Service Life Insurance and/or United States Government Life Insurance policies, shall be required to surrender such policies when applying for the new policy. Such individuals will receive whatever cash surrender value may have accumulated upon their old policies.

(f) Aviation cadets and officers of class A–V (N) will not be permitted to borrow against their insurance policies. Officers of class A–V (N) are not permitted to stop their allotments to the Veterans' Administration for the payment of the premiums on their policies, although they may register new allotments upon renewal or conversion.

NATIONAL BOTTLING COMPANY

National Bottling Company, a corporation, St. Louis, Missouri, is engaged in the production and selling of non-alcoholic beverages. During each of the months from June through September, 1942, inclusive, the company used closures in bottling such beverages in excess of its proper quota under Conservation Order M-104, the total excess usage for the four months being 9,533 gross. During this time the company was familiar with the terms of Conservation Order M-104 and its violations thereof were wilful.

These violations of Conservation Order M-104 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.364 Suspension Order No. S-364. (a) The quota of closures, made of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate, as defined in Conservation Order M-104, to which National Bottling Company, its successors and assigns, would otherwise be entitled for use in the bottling of nonalcoholic beverages for the year beginning July 1, 1943, is hereby reduced by the following amounts, per calendar quarter:

Calendar quarter:	Amount of reduction (gross)
Third Quarter, 1943	4,399
Fourth Quarter, 1943	1,027
First Quarter, 1944	700
Second Quarter, 1944	3,299

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve National Bottling Company, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on July 13, 1943, and shall expire on June 30, 1944.

PART 1029—FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT AND ATTACHMENTS AND REPAIR PARTS THEREFOR

[Limitation Order L-257 as Amended July 14, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of critical materials entering into the manufacture of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts therefor, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1029.15 Limitation Order L-257—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby, except as herein otherwise specified, are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order (and any orders supplementary hereto, unless otherwise indicated):

(1) "Producer" means any person, other than a supplier, to the extent that he is actively engaged in the current manufacture (in the United States) of farm machinery and equipment or of repair parts for farm machinery and equipment, but does not include any person who did not manufacture any farm machinery and equipment or repair parts in 1940 or 1941.

(2) "Small producer" means any producer whose total net sales (including exports and sales by affiliates) of all products did not exceed $100,000 during the calendar year 1941; and includes any other producer who has been classified by the Smaller War Plants Corporation as a "smaller, distressed producer" and is specifically designated as such for the purpose of this order by the War Production Board.

(3) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, fabricate, or otherwise alter materials by physical or chemical means.

(4) "Supplier" means any person engaged in the manufacture (for sale to a producer in the United States) of materials, parts, assemblies or subassemblies to be physically incorporated into farm machinery and equipment or repair parts manufactured by such producer, or to be resold by such producer as repair parts.

(5) "Machinery and equipment" means agricultural machinery, mechanical equipment and implements (including all attachments used in conjunction therewith) of the types ordinarily manufactured for farm use, and listed on Schedule A attached hereto.

(6) "Farm use" means use for the production or care of crops, livestock, livestock products, or other produce on a farm (or elsewhere in the case of poultry), or use for any civilian purpose with respect to horseshoes, muleshoes, oxenshoes, and harness hardware.

NOTE: The words "nails for such shoes" deleted from paragraph (b) (6).

(7) "Farm machinery and equipment" means machinery and equipment which is manufactured specifically for farm use, including irrigation and drainage equipment (excluding tile), horseshoes, muleshoes, oxenshoes, harness hardware, and water well casing (fabricated by other than pipe mills); but excluding repair parts, and also excluding all of the following: tracklaying type tractors, fencing, poultry netting and wire, wire fencing, bale ties or straps, oil well casing and water pipe, grain bins and corn cribs, water storage tanks, nails (all kinds), and sundry hardware (including hand tools, chains, barn door track, pulleys, scales, and similar items not specified on Schedule A).

(8) "Non-farm machinery and equipment" means machinery and equipment, as defined in paragraph (b) (5) above, which is manufactured pursuant to rated orders for any purpose other than farm use.

(9) "Attachment" for machinery and equipment means a supplementary appliance which may be added to an otherwise complete machine to extend the utility of such machine.

(10) "Repair parts" means all types of replacement parts considered separately or as assemblies which are manufactured for use and used in the repair and maintenance of "farm machinery and equipment" and shall include plow shares and shapes, and water pump cylinders. No item listed on Schedule A shall be deemed a repair part.

(11) "Base production" means the weight of a producer's total manufacture in the United States of any item of farm machinery and equipment for sale in the United States during either the calendar year 1940 or 1941, in whichever year such weight was the greater.

(12) "United States" means the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and all other territories and possessions of the United States.

(c) Restrictions on production for domestic farm use[1] (1) Except as provided in paragraph (d), during the period July 1, 1943, to September 30, 1944, inclusive, no producer shall manufacture, for sale in the United States:

(i) A total quantity by weight of any item of farm machinery and equipment listed in Schedule A in excess of that quantity obtained by multiplying the applicable quota percentage for such item by his base production of such item;

(ii) Any item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts except to the extent listed on production schedules which have been approved pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (e) hereof; or

(iii) Any item of farm machinery and equipment requiring rubber tires, except upon specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board.

(2) During the period July 1, 1943 to September 30, 1944, inclusive:

(i) No person who is not a producer shall manufacture any farm machinery and equipment or repair parts of an aggregate value exceeding $2,500, and

(ii) No item of farm machinery and equipment not listed on Schedule A or on an approved production schedule shall be manufactured for sale in the United States.

(3) The War Production Board may, by specific written directions issued to any producer or class of producers, increase or decrease any quota or authorized use of materials as established pursuant to this order, or any order supplementary hereto; and may transfer any portions of such quota between producers, taking into consideration the amount and weight of materials to be used, the need for particular items at the time required in particular areas, the labor and transportation situation in the manufacturing areas involved, and such other factors as may be appropriate.

(d) Exceptions (1) Repair parts. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to restrict or control producers in the manufacture of repair parts for sale in the United States, subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) with respect to production and delivery schedules.

(2) Bracketed items on Schedule A. Wherever, in Schedule A, two or more items are bracketed together, the producer shall apply the respective percentages to his base production of each item in the bracket, and the total permissible weight thus determined may be distributed among all or any one or more of such bracketed items (regardless of the individual quota percentages) at his election.

(3) Attachments may be lumped together. Any producer, instead of conforming to the respective quota percentages for items of attachments as indicated in Schedule A, may at his election manufacture not more than an aggregate of 75% of his total base production of all attachments, and the total permissible weight thus determined may be distributed among all or any one or more of such items of attachments as he may see fit: Provided, That once such election is made, it shall apply to all attachments to be manufactured.

(4) Small producers. Any small producer may substitute for the quota percentage listed on Schedule A for any item or items which he manufactures, the quota percentage 100%, but only to the extent that the weight of his total manufacture of all items for sale in the United States during the period July 1, 1943, to September 30, 1944, does not exceed, in the aggregate, 100% of his total base production thereof.

(5) Uncompleted L-170 production. During the period July 1, 1943 to September 30, 1944, inclusive, producers may manufacture for sale in the United States, in addition to the manufacture otherwise permitted by this order, all uncompleted domestic quotas under Order L-170 (including all amendments, appeals and specific authorizations), and also all uncompleted quotas for the American possessions under Schedule B-6 of Order L-170.

NOTE: The date "June 30, 1944," changed to "September 30, 1944," in paragraphs (c) (1), (c) (2), (d) (4) and (d) (5).

(6) Substitute materials. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to the manufacture for sale in the United States by any person of any of the following items of farm machinery and equipment (other than those made from iron and steel):

Bee hives
Farm gates
Feed trucks
Grit boxes
Hog troughs
Laying nests
Livestock feeders
Milk stools
Poultry feeders
Poultry waterers;

Provided, however, That such items are made entirely (except for nails and essential strappings and fastenings, and except for doors in the case of livestock feeders) from any one or more of the following materials:

Glass or other ceramic products
Plain concrete
Fibre board
Wood fibre products
Plywood (produced with binder or adhesive not restricted by Conservation Order M-25 or any other applicable M or L order)
Gum and other hardwood lumber
Softwood lumber (subject to the restrictions of Conservation Order M-208 and all other applicable M and L orders).

(7) Substitution for critical materials encouraged. To the extent that the weight of any item or items of a producer's quota as established by paragraph (c) has been or will be increased by his substituting for more critical materials entering into such item or items any one or more of the materials listed in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph (d), such increased weight shall not operate to reduce the number of units which he would otherwise be authorized to manufacture pursuant to said paragraph (c). In addition, if any such producer has made, or shows that he can make, in any item or items of his quota as established by paragraph (c), a substitution of any of the materials so listed for more critical materials entering into such item or items, he may apply by letter to the War Production Board for reconsideration of his quota based on such substitution.

(8) Assignments of quota. All assignments of quota specifically authorized by appeal under Limitation Order L-170 for the period starting November 1, 1942, are hereby re-authorized for the period covered by this Order L-257. The assignee, in computing his additional quota, shall apply the applicable percentage on Schedule A to the assignor's base production of each item transferred, and the assignor's quota is, to that extent, revoked.

(e) Production schedules. (1) Subject to the provisions of this order, on and after July 1, 1943, each producer shall schedule his production and make deliveries of each item of farm machinery and equipment (and also non-farm machinery and equipment) and repair parts in accordance with such production and delivery schedules as may be authorized or prescribed for him in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) The War Production Board may, at any time, authorize or direct in writing any change in any such production or delivery schedule; and no producer shall alter any such schedule as approved, prescribed or modified pursuant to this paragraph (e), unless authorized or directed to do so in writing by the War Production Board.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, producers may schedule their production of items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts as if the orders therefor bore a rating of AA-2.

(4) On and after July 1, 1943, the delivery schedules for all items for farm use, and for export, as approved or modified pursuant to this paragraph (e), shall be maintained without regard to any preference ratings already or hereafter assigned to particular contracts, commitments or purchase orders, unless otherwise specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board.

(f) Further restrictions—(1) Items containing iron and steel. No person shall manufacture, from iron or steel (excluding screws, nails, rivets, bolts, wire, strapping or small hardware for joining or other similar essential purposes), any of the following items:

Bee hives
Milk stools
Tongues
Silos (except for ladders, chutes and platforms)
Cattle stalls
Stanchions
Stock pens
Marking poles
Thills
Farm gates
Boxes for farm wagons and trucks (not motor trucks)
Farm wagon gears
Farm trucks (not motor trucks);

Provided however, That nothing in this paragraph (f) (1) shall be deemed to prevent the manufacture of:

(i) Cattle stalls, stanchions, stock pens, marking poles, or farm gates from re-rolled rail steel, plus strappings and essential hardware (and plus necessary wire in the case of farm gates), or

(ii) Farm wagon gears or farm trucks from re-rolled rail and axle steel, "top cuts," or Bessemer process steel, plus iron castings and wheels, and plus not more than 100 pounds of open-hearth process steel per item.

(2) Restrictions on sale for domestic use. Subject to such directions as may be issued from time to time as to rationing control by the War Food Administrator, no person shall sell any item of new farm machinery and equipment (except poultry equipment, horseshoes, muleshoes, oxenshoes, and harness hardware) which was manufactured for sale in the United States, and which he knows or has reason to believe will not be used in the hands of the ultimate consumer for farm use, except to fill a contract or purchase order bearing a preference rating of AA-4 or higher.

NOTE: The words "nails for such shoes" deleted from paragraph (f) (2).

(g) Excess inventory. Any producer may sell to any other producer any material in his inventory which is in excess of his requirements for the items of farm machinery and equipment and repair parts authorized to be manufactured under the provisions of this order. Such sales shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(h) Standardization, simplification, substitution and conservation of critical materials. (1) In the manufacture of any item of farm machinery and equipment or repair parts, no producer shall use any materials which are prohibited by M-orders or other restrictions on use of critical materials as now or hereafter ordered by the War Production Board.

(2) The War Production Board may from time to time issue supplementary orders or schedules establishing required specifications with respect to the manufacture of any item or items of farm machinery and equipment (or non-farm machinery and equipment) and repair parts. "Required specifications" may include requirements to standardize or simplify the types, sizes or models of, or the specifications for, any such item or items; to eliminate, reduce or conserve the use of critical materials in the production thereof; and to substitute less critical for more critical materials in the production thereof. On and after the effective date of any such supplementary order or schedule no farm machinery and equipment and repair parts affected thereby shall be manufactured except in accordance therewith.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Order L-170. Except as herein otherwise provided, this order shall become effective as of July 1, 1943, and shall supersede Limitation Order L-170 as of that date. Supplementary Limitation Order L-170-a shall remain in full force and effect until revoked or modified.

(l) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Farm Machinery and Equipment Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L-257.

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,

QUOTAS COVERING MANUFACTURE FOR DOMESTIC FARM USE OF FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT FOR THE PERIOD JULY 1, 1943, TO JUNE 30, 1944

Producers are not restricted by any quota percentage in the manufacture of repair parts.

Quotas for new machinery and equipment for farm use are expressed as a percentage of the net shipping weight of each item produced during 1940 or 1941, whichever was higher. In accordance with paragraph (d) (2), production of "bracketed items" may be distributed among all or any one or more items included in the particular bracket, so long as the total weight does not exceed that determined by applying the various quota percentages to the items in the particular bracket.

"Small producers" may use the quota percentage of 100% for any item or items they manufacture, so long as their aggregate production of all items does not exceed 100% of their total 1940 or 1941 production, whichever was higher, as provided in paragraph (d) (4).

Quotas for each item of attachments, unless election is made to lump together all attachments pursuant to paragraph (d) (3), are expressed as the same percentage as that listed for the machine with which the particular attachment is used (except engines).

Any item of farm machinery and equipment not provided for in this Schedule A is not to be manufactured for sale in the United States, unless specifically exempted under the order. Moreover, any manufacture of an item in excess of the percentages established in this Schedule A, even though it may be scheduled for production under paragraph (e), is permitted only if specifically authorized pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) or on appeal.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Interpretation 3 of General Limitation Order L–123 as Amended]

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Limitation Order L–123 as amended:

It has been the practice of the motor repair industry to take in trade a broken down fractional horsepower motor and repair it for redelivery to another customer, on a similar basis, rather than to engage in repair of a fractional horsepower motor at the point of operation. The sale of the fractional horsepower motor for replacement would be within the exemption provided by paragraph (c) of Order L–123 [§ 1226.1] with respect to delivery of maintenance and repair parts, if it is the practice of the seller to take in trade the broken down motor, to repair it or have it repaired where practicable, and to resell it under similar conditions.

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

PART 3096—PAPER AND PAPERBOARD

[General Conservation Order M–241 as Amended July 14, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply, for defense, for private account and for export, of various materials and facilities required in the manufacture and distribution of paper and paperboard; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3096.1 General Conservation Order M–241—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Produce" includes all operations involved in the manufacture of paper or paperboard in primary roll or sheet form and only includes secondary operations when such operations are performed by an integral part of the paper machine (Yankee, Harper, Fourdrinier, or Cylinder).

(3) "Mill" means a congregation of pulp preparation and roll and sheet finishing equipment, paper machines and subsidiary facilities located and operated together as a single producing unit for the production of paper and paperboard.

(4) "Base period" means the six month period from October 1, 1941 through March 31, 1942.

(5) "Paper merchant" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying and reselling paper and/or paperboard.

(c) Restrictions on production of paper and paperboard. (1) Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph (c), no person or persons shall produce paper or paperboard in any mill which has not produced paper or paperboard since August 1, 1942.

(2) Each manufacturer of paper and/or paperboard shall for each mill operated by him determine quarterly a production quota, calculated as follows:

(i) Determine, separately for each class of paper and paperboard on List A the quantity thereof produced at such mill during the period from October 1, 1941 through March 31, 1942;

(ii) Subtract from the result for each class on List A the quantity produced at such mill during such period of each of the grades of paper or paperboard on List B falling within such class;

(iii) Multiply the remainder for each class by percentage figure set opposite the particular class on List A;

(iv) Add together the several tonnages obtained by (iii), and divide by two.

The quantities shall be measured to the nearest ton, in tonnages delivered from the paper machine (Yankee, Harper, Fourdrinier or Cylinder). The method and basis for determining such tonnage shall be that method and basis followed at the particular mill in the past, or any other practicable method and basis, provided the same method and basis are used to determine both current production and production during the base period. If any machine unit of any mill was shut down during the base period for as much as 72 consecutive hours, excluding vacations and holidays, there may be added to (i) for such mill for the class of paper or paperboard principally produced on such machine unit, whatever quantity thereof could have been produced on such machine unit during the down time at the average rate of operation during the preceding month.

The War Production Board may from time to time by amendment change the classification and/or percentages on List A or change List B specifying a particular date for the change to take effect. Quotas for production after any such date shall be calculated according to Lists A and B as amended, until further amended. If the effective date of any such amendment is other than the first day of a calendar quarter, the quota for the quarter within which such date falls shall be recalculated by adding together (i) the proportion of the old quota which equals the proportion of the quarter preceding such date and (ii) the proportion of the new quota which equals the proportion of the quarter following such date, including such date.

(3) No person or persons shall during the second calendar quarter of 1943 or any calendar quarter thereafter produce at any mill any quantity of paper and/or paperboard in excess of the quota for such mill for such quarter determined according to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (c), except:

(i) To the extent and upon the conditions stated in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (c); or

(ii) To the extent specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board pursuant to paragraph (c) (5) of this order subject to any condition imposed by the War Production Board in such authorization: and, Provided, That,

(a) Within such quota there may be produced at any mill any quantities of any one or several kinds of paper and/or paperboard, provided that the aggregate during any quarter does not exceed such mill's quota for that quarter; and

(b) Regardless of and over and beyond any such quota, any person may produce at any mill, unless restricted by paragraph (c) (1) or by paragraph (e), any quantity of any kind of paper on List B.

(c) Regardless of and over and beyond any such quota, any person may produce at any mill any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard manufactured as a side run to fill out additional width on a paper machine, provided such ex-quota side run is held for and limited to delivery to a paper mill for use as a substitute for pulp for remanufacture into paper or paperboard.

(4) If one person owns only one mill and such mill is equipped with only one machine unit for the manufacture of paper and/or paperboard, such person may, unless restricted by paragraph (c) (1) or by paragrapl (e), elect in lieu of operating under his base period production quota, to produce at such mill during any calendar week any quantity of paper and/or paperboard required to occupy such machine 120 hours during such week: Provided, That such person shall in no other week during the same calendar quarter operate such mill in excess of 120 hours.

(5) If any person owns more than one mill, and can show that by combining or exchanging the several quotas of such mills, or parts thereof, significant quantities of critical materials will be saved, transportation reduced, labor released in areas where needed, or other materials or facilities required in the national defense conserved, he may submit to the War Production Board, in writing, a plan for such combination or exchange, stating the quantity and kinds of paper and/or paperboard produced at each mill involved during each month of the year from October 1, 1941 through September 30, 1942, the quantity and kinds of paper expected to be produced at each such mill during each quarter under such plan, how long he proposes to operate under such plan, his reasons for desiring to adopt such plan, and the respects wherein he conceives that such plan will accomplish the purposes mentioned. The War Production Board may thereupon approve, modify, or disapprove such plan or may impose upon the execution of any such plan whatever conditions it may deem appropriate to this order. Upon receipt from the War Production Board of approval in writing of such a plan the proponent may produce at the mills designated in such plan the quantities and kinds of paper and/or paperboard provided for in such plan, subject to any modifications or conditions imposed by the War Production Board in its approval. No person shall undertake or attempt to carry into effect any such plan unless and until he receives such approval.

(d) Reserve production. Each manufacturer of paper and/or paperboard shall reserve in the production schedule of each of his mills for the month of March, 1943, and for each calendar month thereafter, time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver within such month, at the order of the War Production Board, 2% of such mill's potential production as calculated from Lists A and B appended for the current calendar quarter. In general this should amount to approximately 6% of each month's production. The War Production Board may on or before the 15th day of any month, by telegram or letter, direct any manufacturer to employ such reserve to produce any kind of paper and/or paperboard usually produced at such mill, and any quantity thereof, not to exceed in the aggregate for any one month 2% of such mill's potential production for the current quarter, and sell and deliver the same within the month to any person named by the War Production Board. The manufacturer may refuse so to produce and deliver only for the reasons specified for the refusal of rated orders in § 944.2 (b) of Priorities Regulation No. 1. If the manufacturer does not on or before the 15th of any month receive from the War Production Board directions as to the disposition of such reserve (or has received directions as to the disposition of a part but not of the remainder) he may employ the same (or such remainder) as he may desire, consistent with the other provisions of this order.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. Unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board, by telegram or letter, or excepted by paragraph (e) (4):

NOTE: Former paragraph (1) revoked and following paragraphs redesignated (1), (2), (3), (4).

(1) No person shall knowingly deliver to any person except a paper merchant and no person except a paper merchant shall accept delivery of, any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if the inventory of such grade in the hands of the person accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either (i) in excess of two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads greater than sixty days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of consuming such grade of paper or paperboard for the preceding quarter or his average rate of consuming such grade of paper or paperboard as projected for the then current quarter;

(2) No person shall knowingly deliver to a paper merchant, and no paper merchant shall accept delivery of, any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if the inventory of such grade in the hands of such paper merchant is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either (i) in excess of two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads, greater than ninety days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of distributing such grade of paper or paperboard for the preceding quarter or his average rate of distributing such grade of paper or paperboard as projected for the then current quarter;

(3) No person shall produce at any mill any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if his inventory of such grade at such mill is, or will by virtue of such production become, in excess of (i) two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads, greater than sixty days' supply, on the basis of either the average rate of shipment of such grade from such mill for the preceding quarter or the average rate of shipment of such grade from such mill as projected for the then current quarter.

(4) The term "grade of paper or paperboard" refers to the classification on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB–514, as revised February 24, 1943, each caption (except those which are further broken down by following captions) representing a separate grade. If a person's gross inventory of a grade is in excess of two carloads or sixty days' supply, as above, but his inventory of a particular item within that grade is less than thirty days' supply (or, in the case of a paper merchant, less than sixty days' supply), he may accept delivery of or produce, and others may deliver to him, any quantity of such item as may be required to provide him with thirty days' supply (or in the case of a paper merchant sixty days' supply). The restrictions of this paragraph (e) apply equally to paper and paperboard of foreign and domestic origin, and apply to intra company deliveries as defined in § 944.12 of Priorities Regulation No. 1. They do not, however, apply to those papers commonly reported on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB–514 as revised February 24, 1943, under the captions "Blueprint and similar base stock" (07610); "photographic and other sensitizing stock" (07611); and "cigarette" (08512), or to any paper or paperboard after it is printed or converted beyond waxing or coating, or to inventories held by or for any agency or government referred to in § 944.1 (b) (1) and (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 1, or by or for the United States Government Printing Office.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(2) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(3) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Pulp and Paper Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–241.

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

LIST A

Column 1 lists general classes of paper and paperboard by names common in the trade. Each class includes all grades of paper or paperboard reported on the United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB–514 February 24, 1943 by the code numbers, respectively as indicated, set out under the name. In the calculation of a mill's quota there should first be determined the whole quantity of each class produced at the mill during the base period, then subtracted from the result for each class the quantity produced at the mill during the base period of any kind of paper or paperboard on List B falling within such class, then the remainder multiplied by the percentage in column 2, and the several results added and the total divided by two (See (c) (2) of Order M–241 as amended.)

Class of paper or paperboard	Percentage
Newsprint (01100 to 01300 inclusive)	90

Column 1 lists the grades of paper and paperboard which may in general be manufactured without restriction. (See (c) (3) of Order M–241, as amended). The general class within which each falls, according to the classification on List A, is indicated in Column 2. Prior to the application of the percentages in List A, in the calculation of a mill's quota, the amount produced during the base period of each grade of paper and paperboard listed in column 1 below is to be subtracted from the total quantity produced during the base period of the general class shown on List A within which each such grade falls. If the general class is not shown on List A, the production of such general class is not to be considered in calculating the quota (See (c) (2) (ii) of Order M–241 as amended). The grades of paper and paperboard listed in Column 1 are further identified by the numbers in parenthesis following each, being the code numbers for each on the United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB–514 of February 24, 1943.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[Interpretation 11 to CMP Reg. 1]

USE OF ALLOTMENTS TO REPLENISH INVENTORY

The following interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Reg. 1:

(a) An allotment may be used to replace an inventory controlled materials used to manufacture the product for which the allotment was made. This is specifically covered in paragraph (u) (1) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1 [§ 3175.1]. It is not necessary for a manufacturer to delay production until he receives delivery of controlled materials ordered on the basis of the allotment.

(b) A manufacturer of Class A products need not accept an order unless he receives an allotment of enough controlled materials for its manufacture even though he has enough in inventory to fill the order. However, if his inventory is excessive (more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2) he must fill the order out of the excess. This follows from the fact that he must take inventories into account in applying for an allotment.

(c) It is not necessary that the quarter for which an allotment is made and the quarter in which delivery of the Class A product is to be made be the same. The allotment may be for an earlier or a later quarter depending on when the manufacturer needs the allotment.

In illustration of the above, the X Company receives an order on July 1, 1943, calling for delivery of 100 transmission assemblies on September 1, 1943. Ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel are required to fill the order. The X Company has a sufficient quantity of steel on hand to fill the order but it is, nevertheless, entitled to an allotment of ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel from its customer, assuming its inventory is not more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2. The X Company may fill the order from stock on hand and obtain a fourth quarter allotment which it may use to replenish its inventory. If, in the above case, the X Company did not have controlled materials on hand to fill the order it would not be able to accept the order for delivery on September 1, 1943. If the date for delivery of the Class A products were changed to February 1, 1944, the allotment quarter would precede the quarter in which delivery of the product would be made.

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS [1]

[Limitation Order L-197, as Amended July 14, 1943]

STEEL SHIPPING DRUMS

Section 3270.15 Limitation Order L-197 as amended January 29, 1943 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3270.15 [1] Limitation Order L-197—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Drum" means any single walled cylindrical or bilged container with a capacity of 110 gallons or less (including but not limited to buckets, kits and pails) constructed wholly of steel. The term shall not be deemed to refer to cans, or high and low pressure gas steel cylinders, or to any container not susceptible of commercial use in the transportation and storage of commodities.

(2) "Used drum" means a drum which has been partially, or wholly filled with any product or commodity, for storage or shipping purposes, in the course of business.

(3) "New drum" means any drum which is not a used drum.

(b) Restrictions on use. (1) No person shall use any drum, new or used, for packing any product which he had not packed in drums prior to September 14, 1942.

(2) No person shall pack in a drum any product listed without an asterisk in Schedule A.

(3) No person shall pack in a new drum any product listed with a single asterisk in Schedule A.

(4) Before October 1, 1943, no person shall pack in a new drum any product listed with a double asterisk in Schedule A. On and after that date, no person shall pack any product listed with a double asterisk in Schedule A in a new drum unless such drum has a capacity of not less than 2 nor more than 6 gallons and is constructed of 28 gauge steel or lighter, and then only provided that he does not, in any quarter, pack in drums of such capacity a greater proportion of his total pack of a product than he packed in drums of such capacity in the corresponding quarter of 1941.

(5) Nothing in this order shall prevent the purchase of ends or other parts or accessories for drums. The affixing of ends or other parts to used drums shall not cause them to be regarded as new drums.

(c) General exceptions. (1) Nothing in this order shall apply to the use of drums for storage purposes by any person having less than 5 drums in use for all purposes.

(2) The restrictions on use specified in paragraph (b) of this order shall not apply to:

(ii) Drums which are used for the sale or delivery of commodities which are to be physically incorporated into ships, guns, tanks, military vehicles, aircraft, ammunition, armament, weapons, gunsighting devices and radio and sound equipment;

(iii) Drums which are used for the sale or delivery of commodities which are to be used for maintenance, repair or operating supplies for ships.

(3) The provisions of this order shall not apply:

(i) to drums constructed wholly of heavier than 14 gauge steel;

(ii) to used drums constructed wholly of lighter than 23 gauge steel having a capacity of 25 gallons or more.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form PD-717, in triplicate.

(4) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L-197.

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

Section 3270.25 Limitation Order L-279 is amended to read as follows:

§ 3270.25 Limitation Order L-279.

Definitions

(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

[1] Formerly Part 3061, § 3061.1.

(1) "Paper shipping sack" means any single-wall, duplex, or multi-wall paper sack designed for use as (a) a primary container for packing a particular commodity for storage or shipment, (b) a container shipping sack for combining a number of packages of a particular commodity into a single shipping unit, or (c) an overslip shipping sack for covering a single package of a particular commodity for shipment. This does not include the following: sacks designed as liners for outer containers which are not bags, combination textile-paper bags (bags made of textile laminated with paper), grocers and variety bags (as defined in Order L–261), bags made wholly from cellophane, glassine, parchment, or waxed paper, or flat envelope types of containers made on envelope machines (such as lithographic seed envelopes).

(2) "Single-wall sack", "duplex sack", and "multi-wall sack" mean, respectively paper shipping sacks made with one wall, with two walls, and with more than two walls.

(3) "Sack manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing paper shipping sacks for sale or for his own use in packing any commodity produced or processed by him.

(4) "Commercial user" means any person who uses paper shipping sacks for packing any commodity produced or processed by him.

Restrictions

(b) Restrictions on manufacture. No sack manufacturer shall manufacture any paper shipping sack which does not conform to all applicable restrictions of each schedule of this order.

(c) Restrictions on users' inventories. No commercial user shall, at any time, accept delivery of paper shipping sacks which will increase his supply to more than the larger of the following amounts (this restriction applies to all paper shipping sacks, whether or not of the sizes and styles or for the commodities specifically mentioned in any schedule of this order):

(1) A total of 1½ carloads of all sizes and styles for all commodities (exclusive of sacks then in transit to him); or

(2) Reasonably anticipated requirements of any size and style for any particular non-seasonal commodity during the next 90 days after the delivery of the sacks or any particular seasonal commodity during the next 120 days after the delivery of the sacks (with a ½-car leeway in either case, where necessary to round out a full car).

(d) Inventories of multiple-unit organizations. Any commercial user who maintains an inventory of paper shipping sacks at more than one location may, at his option, apply the inventory restrictions of paragraph (c) above either to the inventory of each such location separately or to the collective inventory of all such locations.

Inventory Exceptions

(e) Exceptions. The inventory restrictions of paragraph (c) above shall not prohibit acceptance of the sacks specified below:

(1) Sacks in transit. Any sacks placed in transit to a commercial user on or before July 14, 1943.

(2) Sacks in process. Any sacks which were actually started in process on or before July 14, 1943 plus any additional amount of sacks necessary to round out a full carload, provided both amounts were included in the same purchase order.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(g) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–279.

Such statement shall be made on Form PD–600 in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix A to this order. If there is any inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed. War Production Board may issue to any person further and different instructions with respect to preparing and filing Form PD–600.

(f) Applications by suppliers. Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of, or to use, glycol ethers during any calendar month, beginning with August, 1943, shall file application on or before the 25th day of the preceding month. Applications respecting deliveries or use in July, 1943, shall be filed not later than June 28, 1943. In any case, the application shall be made on Form PD–602 in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix B to this order. If there is any inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed. War Production Board may issue further and different instructions to any supplier with respect to preparing and filing Form PD–602.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: "War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–336".

Issued this 14th day of July 1943.

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 13th day of July, A. D. 1943.

It appearing, that, due to a track washout and damage to a bridge caused by flood conditions near Lennoxville, Province of Quebec, Dominion of Canada, between Sherbrooke, Quebec, and Island Pond, Vermont, on the Canadian National Railways and Grand Trunk Railway, these carriers by railroad are unable to transport the traffic offered to them; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to avoid congestion of traffic and in order to best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people:

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of July, 1943;

It appearing that The Western Union Telegraph Company has filed with the Commission new tariff schedules, effective July 11, 1943, revising its presently effective tariff schedules to provide for the application of "RX" service to messages in the Tourate classification, such new schedules being designated as follows: The Western Unicn Telegraph Co., Tariff F. C. C. No. 176, 6th Revised Page 34, 1st Revised Page 39.

It is ordered, That the Commission, upon its own motion, without formal pleading, enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the above-cited tariff schedules, insofar as they provide for the application of "RX" service to messages in the Tourate classification;

It is further ordered, That insofar as the above-cited tariff schedules provide for the application of "RX" service to messages in the Tourate classification, the operation of such schedules shall be suspended, and the effectiveness thereof shall be deferred, until October 11, 1943, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission; and that during such period of suspension, no changes shall be made in the provisions whose operation is hereby so suspended, or in the provisions sought to be altered thereby, unless authorized by the Commission;

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order shall be filed in the offices of the Federal Communications Commission with the above-cited tariff schedules herein suspended in part; that The Western Union Telegraph Company, and all other carriers which participate in the rendition of the service provided under such tariff schedules be, and they are hereby, each made a party respondent to this proceeding;

[F. R. Doc. 43-11235; Filed, July 13 1943; 10:50 a. m.]

[Haulage Request TR-2]

TRANSPORTATION AND STORAGE OF SPECIFIED MATERIALS

It is requisite to the prosecution of the war that the maximum amount of essential materials be delivered to essential war industries with a minimum dislocation of the general economy, with a minimum of delay and with a minimum of strain upon transportation facilities already severely taxed. This can best be accomplished through voluntary arrangements which permit materials to be consumed as near as may be to their source. Now, therefore, it is hereby requested that:

SECTION 1. Purchases, sales, exchanges, and common use of facilities. All persons engaged in producing, supplying or distributing the materials listed on Schedule X hereto annexed (herein referred to as "Schedule X materials") may make such purchases, sales, exchanges or loans of Schedule X materials and may arrange for such common use of transportation and storage facilities as may be requisite or necessary in order to attain the most efficient utilization of such facilities. All such purchases, sales, exchanges or loans and all such arrangements for common use of transportation and storage facilities shall remain subject to review and adjustment by the War Production Board to the end (1) that no producer, supplier or distributor of any Schedule X material shall be deprived of an opportunity to share equitably in the available supply of such material and the use of transportation and storage facilities, (2) that no consumer shall be inequitably treated in the distribution of Schedule X materials by reason of such arrangements, and (3) that such arrangements shall not go beyond the purpose and objective of this request.

SEC. 2. Reports. All persons who effect purchases, sales, exchanges or loans of Schedule X materials or arrangements for common use of transportation and storage facilities pursuant to section 1 hereof, and who desire to obtain therefor the protection provided by any certificate of the Chairman of the War Production Board to the Attorney General of the United States issued with respect to this request, shall inform the War Production Board by letter giving the following information:

1. Names and addresses of parties, including names and addresses of persons to whom inquiries concerning the report should be directed.

2. Effective date and duration of arrangement.

3. Kind and quantity of material involved.

4. Location of points of origin and destination of Schedule X materials to be shipped or location of storage facilities to be jointly used.

A separate letter for each Schedule X material involved shall be filed. Further information may be specifically requested in particular cases.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 13; and

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

A minimum price of $2.55 per ton has been established for Size Group No. 13 coals produced by the Huddleston #1 Mine, Mine Index No. 1782, of the Huddleston Coal Company (M. E. Huddleston) for truck shipment, instead of the price of $3.55 per ton as proposed in the petition for the reason that analogous coals have been priced in this size group at $2.55 per ton and the proposed price appears to be a typographical error.

Dated: June 30, 1943.

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE COAL

Section 602.12 of Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 2, issued June 19, 1943, is amended by deleting the phrase "whichever is larger" in the first sentence of the second paragraph thereof, which section, as amended, shall hereafter read as follows:

§ 602.12 Restrictions on shipments by producers and wholesalers. (a) This section shall apply only to anthracite in the egg, stove, chestnut, and pea sizes.

(b) All producers and wholesalers who ship coal by rail or water shall immediately arrange their distribution schedules so that, by September 1, 1943, they shall, so far as is practicable, and to the extent orders are received, have supplied by all methods of transportation to the same destinations to which their coals were shipped during the base period, not less than 100 percent of the tonnages of anthracite shipped to such destinations during the base period, or five-twelfths of the tonnages shipped to such destinations during the period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943. In order to accomplish this program, producers and wholesalers may disregard the sequence of orders on hand and shall afford such preference as may be necessary, to orders from destinations which are not receiving the same proportions of tonnages (as compared with other destinations) which they received during the base period. Furthermore, producers and wholesalers shall, so far as practicable, and to the extent such producers and wholesalers provide for distribution to retail dealers, maintain the same relative proportion of shipments to such retail dealers as existed during the period April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943: Provided, however, That if, in any case, because of a decrease in production or a reduction in tonnages available to any wholesaler, it becomes impossible for any producer or wholesaler to maintain the quotas heretofore described, tonnages shipped, by September 1, 1943, shall be apportioned among the same destinations, as nearly as practicable, in the same proportions as during the base period. All shipments of anthracite by producers and wholesalers shall be made with a view toward accomplishing the aforesaid program, and all shipments of such coals inconsistent with the foregoing are hereby prohibited.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 23 as Amended July 15, 1943]

MILITARY RATING PROCEDURE

§ 903.35 Directive 23—(a) Purpose. The purpose of this War Production Board directive is to provide for review by representatives of the War Production Board of certain priorities actions taken by the Army and Navy and other government agencies, and for approval of placement of certain purchase orders rated by such agencies; and to define the scope of such review.

(b) Requirement of War Production Board approval for ratings of capital equipment and machine tools. Every preference rating certificate on Form PD–3A, if such instrument assigns a rating to any delivery of capital equipment or machine tools (whether such delivery is to be made directly to the Army or Navy or other government agency or to a prime or subcontractor thereof), shall, prior to issuance, be approved by a duly authorized official of the War Production Board by endorsing thereon the statement "approved for issuance" duly signed, unless exempt under paragraph (e).

(c) Procedure for review of rating actions by War Production Board officials. (1) Instruments assigning a rating to the delivery of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant, where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is less than $100,000, shall be submitted after countersignature by the appropriate Service Officer to the War Production Board field office within whose jurisdiction the tools or equipment are to be located. The instruments shall be approved by a War Production Board official of such office only after he has determined that the item or items requested are required and that no suitable existing equipment or subcontracting facilities are available, or that the availability or unavailability of such equipment or facilities cannot be ascertained within ten calendar days after receipt thereof. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph (c) (1). The fact that the equipment and/or machine tools appear on a single preference rating application or on several such applications shall not determine whether the capital equipment and/or machine tools are in connection with a single given project, but the War Production Board field office shall determine this after full consideration of all the facts surrounding such application or applications. When an instrument which has been countersigned by the appropriate Service Officer under paragraph (c) (1) is disapproved by a War Production Board official in a War Production Board field office, the Service Officer may request the War Production Board field office to forward the latter's entire file in the matter, together with a statement of the facts, to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board, at the same time forwarding a copy of the statement of the facts to the Army and Navy Munitions Board in Washington and an additional copy to the Production Resources Division of the War Production Board. The Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board may in its discretion direct the issuance of the instrument in question.

(2) Instruments assigning a rating to the delivery of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant, where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is $100,000 or more, shall be submitted after countersignature by the appropriate Service Officer to the appropriate War Production Board field office specified in paragraph (c) (1) or the Routing and Issuance Branch of the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., at the option of the sponsoring agency. If such instrument or instruments are submitted to the War Production Board field office under this paragraph, the field office shall not approve the same but shall recommend the granting or denying of approval and forward the same together with its recommendation to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board for approval or disapproval in accordance with prescribed procedure.

(3) The Tools Division of the War Production Board may from time to time specify certain machine tools as to which instruments assigning a rating to the delivery thereof shall follow the procedure specified in paragraph (c) (2) above, irrespective of whether the capital equipment and/or machine tools for the project in question may have a total cost of less than $100,000.

(d) Approval of placement of certain purchase orders by War Production Board officials. No person to whom a preference rating has been or is at any time assigned on Form PD–3 or PD–3A, covering deliveries of capital equipment and/or machine tools required in connection with a production project in a single plant where the total cost of all tools and equipment required for the project is $100,000 or more, shall apply the rating or any subsequent rerating to any purchase order unless a War Production Board official has approved the purchase order or it is exempt under paragraph (e). Approval of a purchase order may be obtained by submitting, to the War Production Board field office within whose jurisdiction the tools or equipment are to be located, the purchase order, or a true copy thereof, or a written document containing such appropriate parts of the order as the field office may specify. Before approving the purchase order the field office must determine that no suitable existing equipment or subcontracting facilities are available, or that their availability or unavailability cannot be ascertained within ten calendar days after its receipt of the order. If approval is refused, the person desiring to rate the purchase order may request the field office to forward its file together with its recommendation to the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board in Washington for final approval or disapproval.

(e) Exemptions. (1) Preference rating certificates countersigned under any of the following circumstances are exempt from the requirements of paragraph (b):

(i) Where the total value of the delivery or deliveries rated by the instrument does not exceed $500. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of making this exemption available.

(ii) Where the countersigning takes place outside of the forty-eight States, the District of Columbia and the Dominion of Canada.

(iii) A purchase made pursuant to approval given by a commanding officer, commandant, or the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts of the Navy, or by a commanding officer of a defense command of the Army, in an emergency where the degree of urgency is such that advance approval by a War Production Board official cannot be obtained, provided that in each such case a copy of the rating document is mailed within 24 hours after issuance to the appropriate Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(iv) Where the capital equipment or machine tools are for shipboard use (including floating dry docks), or are for use outside the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia for military operations.

(v) Where capital equipment, not including machine tools, is purchased by or for the account of the Army or the Navy for military operations, or where the purchaser intends to devote the items solely to administrative uses as distinguished from productive or operational uses.

(vi) Where the certificate assigns a rating to a command construction project of which the capital equipment and/or machine tools are only a part.

(2) Purchase orders placed under any of the following circumstances are exempt from the requirements of paragraph (d):

(i) Where the dollar value of the items covered by the purchase order does not exceed $500. Purchases shall not be divided for the purpose of making this exemption available.

(ii) Where the purchase order is being rated by a certificate which was exempted by paragraph (e) (1), or would have been exempted by paragraph (e) (1) if this directive had been in effect when the certificate was issued.

(iii) Where each unit of capital equipment or machine tools covered by the purchase order was listed either in the certificate originally assigning a rating thereto or in a certificate (such as Form PD–4X) subsequently rerating the same.

(3) The requirements of paragraphs (b) and (d) shall not apply to such cases as may be exempted in writing by the Facilities Bureau of the War Production Board.

(f) Rating of military construction. (1) All construction, other than command construction as defined below, will be rated only by the War Production Board, even though the facilities, when completed, will be owned, leased or operated by the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission.

(2) "Command construction" as used in this directive means the following types of projects ordered built by either the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy, viz: air fields; military housing; alien housing; facilities for the repair of finished items of munitions; overseas or theatre of operations construction; seacoast fortifications; ports and depots; camouflage and other passive defense projects (whether or not owned and operated by the Army or Navy); emergency flood control projects having a value of less than $100,000; military hospitals; maneuver, training and staging areas and proving grounds.

(3) Command construction as defined above may be rated on PD–3A certificates by Army or Navy contracting and procurement officers. Review thereof by War Production Board officials is no longer required.

(g) Status of existing administrative orders and instructions. Except as otherwise provided herein, ratings on PD–3A certificates may be assigned by appropriate officials of the Army and Navy and other designated federal agencies as provided in Division Administrative Order No. 1 as heretofore supplemented, subject to existing and future Army and Navy Munitions Board Instructions, and subject to approval by a War Production Board official where required by paragraph (b) hereof.

(h) Priorities Directive No. 2 superseded. This directive as amended supersedes Priorities Directive No. 2.

PART 971—ETHYL ALCOHOL AND RELATED COMPOUNDS

[General Preference Order M–30 as Amended July 15, 1943]

Whereas the national defense requirements have created shortages of ethyl alcohol and related compounds for defense, for private account, and for export, and it is necessary, in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, to conserve the supply and direct the distribution thereof: Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 971.1 General Preference Order M–30—(a) Definitions. (1) "Ethyl alcohol" means the product of that name, from whatever source derived. (d) Restrictions on delivery of strategic graphite. No person shall deliver and no person other than Metals Reserve Company shall accept delivery of any strategic graphite, except pursuant to the specific authorization of the War Production Board.

(e) General exception. Where and to the extent the use of any less scarce material is impracticable, the prohibitions, limitations and restrictions contained in paragraph (b) hereof shall not apply to the putting into process of strategic graphite when such graphite is to be physically incorporated into any item which is being produced for delivery under a contract or subcontract for the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration, if in any such case the use of strategic graphite to the extent employed is required by the specifications of the prime contract; and the prohibitions and restrictions contained in paragraph (c) hereof shall not apply to the delivery or acceptance of delivery, pursuant to such a contract or subcontract, of any item if its manufacture was exempted under the provisions of this paragraph.

(f) Applications for specific authorization. (1) Any person other than a jobber seeking specific authorization from the War Production Board to accept delivery of any crucibles containing strategic graphite, shall apply periodically on Form PD–575 to the War Production Board for authority to do so and also for authority for his supplier to deliver such crucibles. This form must be filed with the War Production Board by the 20th day of the month prior to the first month in which any delivery of such crucibles is sought, except that in an emergency this form may be filed at any time.

(2) Any person seeking specific authorization from the War Production Board to accept delivery of any strategic graphite to be used for the purpose of making crucibles or seeking specific authorization to put any strategic graphite into process for the purpose of manufacturing crucibles, shall apply monthly on Form PD–303B to the War Production Board for authority to do so and also for authority for a supplier to make any deliveries of such graphite which the applicant is authorized to receive.

(3) Any person seeking specific authorization of the War Production Board to put into process strategic graphite for the purpose of manufacturing any article other than a crucible shall apply quarterly for such authority by letter, and by the same letter he shall apply for authority to deliver such article. If need be he shall also apply in the same letter for authority to acquire strategic graphite for the purpose of manufacturing such an article. The letter shall deal separately with three classes of articles other than crucibles, to wit: (i) specialties, other than crucibles, used in the process of melting, holding, pouring and distilling metals or metallic compounds, (ii) packings and lubricants, and (iii) all articles other than crucibles and those described in (i) and (ii). Such letter shall also state the quantity of each type of strategic graphite which the person writing it desires to put into process during the quarter covered by the application in the manufacture of the types of articles he wishes to make, and, if he desires to acquire strategic graphite to make such articles, he shall name his supplier, and the quantity and type of strategic graphite he wishes to acquire as well as the desired delivery date thereof.

(g) Reports. All persons having in their possession or processing strategic graphite, or crucibles or other articles manufactured with strategic graphite, shall file with the War Production Board, on or before the 15th of each month following the month for which the report is made, on Form WPB–624 (formerly PD–303A), a report showing inventory, purchases, sales and consumption of such graphite or articles manufactured therewith.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Determination that graphite is non-strategic. Any person who wishes to have a lot of graphite in his possession or the product of a particular graphite mine determined in writing by the War Production Board to be unsuitable for use in manufacturing a crucible, and, as a result, not subject to the provisions of this order, shall apply for such a determination by letter to the War Production Board, Mica-Graphite Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–61. The letter should state the pertinent facts and at the same time the applicant should file a sample of the graphite in question. In the event the declaration applied for is made, the applicant may furnish persons to whom any of the graphite described in the declaration is delivered with copies thereof, so that they may be advised that the graphite covered by the declaration is not subject to the provisions of this order.

(2) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the putting into process of material in all articles manufactured and to deliveries of articles or material made irrespective of whether such articles are manufactured or such deliveries are made pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to February 17, 1942. Insofar as any other order of the Office of Production Management or the War Production Board may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided the delivery or putting into process of strategic graphite or the delivery of any products made therewith, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Mica-Graphite Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–61.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 15th day of July 1943.

Recording Secretary.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 41, Amdt. 7]

STEEL CASTINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1306.102 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1306.102 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

2. The first sentence of § 1306.112 (a) (5) is amended to read as follows:

Quantity differentials shall be applicable on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time and scheduled for delivery in any one calendar month, except that where a production run overlaps a calendar month the quantity differential shall be determined by use of the quantity produced in such run.

3. Section 1306.112 (a) (8) (ii) (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Where a producer had no machine-hour rates in effect on March 31, 1942 the maximum charge which may be added for machining of steel castings sold by him shall be determined by application of the methods of estimating costs and prices, labor rates, overhead rates, material and other costs and profit margins in effect for such producer on March 31, 1942. "Labor rates in effect on March 31, 1942," are the labor rates prevailing on that date in the producer's machine shop for each classification of labor: Provided, That where such producer employs labor of a classification not employed on March 31, 1942, he shall apply the rate prevailing on that date for the nearest skill in his locality as accurately as he is able to determine the same with reasonably diligent inquiry.

4. A sentence is added to § 1306.112 (b) to read as follows:

Irrespective of a producer's customary July 15, 1941 practice with respect to the application of quantity differentials, quantity differentials shall be applicable on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time and scheduled for delivery in any one calendar month, except that where a production run overlaps a calendar month the quantity differential shall be determined by use of the quantity produced in such run.

5. The first sentence of § 1306.112 (c) (5) is amended to read as follows:

Quantity differentials shall be applicable on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time and scheduled for delivery in any one calendar month, except that where a production run overlaps a calendar month the quantity differential shall be determined by use of the quantity produced in such run.

This amendment shall become effective July 20, 1943.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

RESALE OF IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Price Schedule No. 49 is amended in the following respects:

1. In § 1306.159 (k) (2), the last sentence is amended to read as follows:

Carload rather than less-than-carload freight shall be used in calculating:

(i) Freight from shipping point to destination, when the shipment is governed by the provisions of § 1306.159 (f) (1), § 1306.165 (a) (8), § 1306.165 (a) (9), § 1306.165 (a) (10), or the fifth paragraph of Table C–1 or the fourth paragraph of Table C–2 of § 1306.165 (b) (5) (ii); and

(ii) Freight from the city from which shipment is made to destination, when the shipment is governed by the provisions of § 1306.164 (c) (2) (iii) (a) or § 1306.164 (d) (2) (iii) (a).

2. In § 1306.159 a new paragraph (t) is added to read as follows:

(t) Special delivery service—(1) Definition. When used in this paragraph, the term special delivery service means only railway express, air express and parcel post shipments.

For example, the term does not mean such delivery services as trucking or special services provided by rail carriers.

(2) When the charge and deduction for special delivery service are applicable. The charge and deduction for special delivery service specified in subparagraph (3) below shall be included in the maximum delivered prices:

(i) When the buyer requires special delivery service to insure delivery of material in time for his requirements, and specifies that a special delivery service be used; or,

(ii) In any instance where the actual cost of a special delivery service is less than freight.

(3) How the charge and deduction for special delivery service shall be made. After determining the maximum delivered price as otherwise established in this Revised Price Schedule No. 49, there shall be added to such price the actual cost paid for special delivery service from the shipping point to destination and there shall be deducted from the resultant price freight from the shipping point to destination.

(4) When this paragraph shall not be used. The provisions of this paragraph shall not be used in determining the maximum delivered price under § 1306.159 (f) (1), § 1306.164 (c) (2) (iii) and (d) (2) (iii), § 1306.165 (a) (8), § 1306.165 (a) (9), § 1306.165 (a) (10), and the fifth paragraph of Table C–1 or the fourth paragraph of Table C–2 of § 1306.165 (b) (5) (ii).

3. In § 1306.164 (a) the following sentence is added:

§ 1306.159, Appendix A, (t) Special delivery service.

4. In § 1306.165 (a) (2) the following sentence is added:

§ 1306.159, Appendix A, (t) Special delivery service.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

MECHANICAL RUBBER GOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 149 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.21a (a) (1) is amended by adding a sentence to the end thereof to read as follows: "If the price the manufacturer regularly quoted for conveyor, transmission or elevator belting on October 1, 1941, was for belting without a skim coat and if the manufacturer produces such belting with a skim coat in addition to the friction coat, the maximum price for the belting with both a skim coat and the friction coat shall be determined by adding 10% of the maximum price of the carcass established by this subparagraph (1) to the maximum price of the belting without a skim coat established by this subparagraph (1)."

2. Section 1315.21b (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Applicability of this section. This section is applicable to sales by wholesalers (as defined in paragraph (a) (10) of § 1315.31) of mechanical rubber goods, except packing, gaskets and automotive parts.

3. Section 1315.22b is added to read as follows:

§ 1315.22b Fractions of a cent. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, maximum prices established by this regulation shall be adjusted to the nearest fraction of a cent that the seller customarily used on the applicable base date in pricing products in the same line.

4. Section 1315.30b is added to read as follows:

§ 1315.30b Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, except in accordance with § 1315.30a in the case of an application for adjustment and unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration in the case of a petition for amendment, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization in the case of a petition for amendment may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

5. Section 1315.31 (a) (5) is amended to read as follows:

(5) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for commodities for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

6. Section 1315.31 (a) (7) is amended to read as follows:

(7) "Regularly quoted price" means a price which was quoted by the seller to a purchaser or purchasers of the same class three or more times within a six months' period that includes the base date (October 1, 1941, for mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix A and January 5, 1942, for mechanical rubber goods listed in Appendix B) and which was not changed on or before the base date. This term "regularly quoted price" also refers to the practice of interpolating between the prices of two sizes of a standard list item to obtain the price of an intermediate size.

7. Section 1315.31 (a) (8) is amended to read as follows:

(8) "Standard list item" means an article which is offered for sale by the seller at the same price to any member of a particular class through the medium of a schedule or price list.

8. Section 1315.37 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Maximum manufacturers' prices for hose made in whole or in part of neoprene. The maximum manufacturers' prices for the types of hose listed in Table I–D and made in whole or in part of neoprene shall be determined as follows:

(1) Maximum prices for constructions and sizes listed in Table I–D. The manufacturer shall deduct from the consumers' net price listed in Table I–D for the type, construction and size of hose being priced all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the consumers' net price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941. These discounts shall include a discount of 10% when the hose is sold in standard package lots. The resultant figure is the maximum price.

(2) For constructions and sizes not listed in Table I–D. If the construction and size of hose being priced is not listed in Table I–D and the type of hose being priced is listed in Table I–D, the manufacturer shall determine the maximum price for that construction and size of hose as follows:

(i) The manufacturer shall first select that hose listed in Table I–D which is of the most comparable construction to the hose being priced, and he shall then select the hose of that construction which is of the nearest size to the hose being priced.

(ii) The manufacturer shall then divide (a) the consumers' net price that he had in effect on October 1, 1941, for natural rubber hose of the same type, construction and size as the hose being priced by (b) the consumers' net price he had in effect on October 1, 1941, for the most comparable natural rubber hose (selected in the manner set forth in the preceding subdivision (i)). The resultant percentage should then be multiplied by the consumers' net price stated in Table I–D for the most comparable hose in order to obtain the maximum consumers' net price for the sale of the hose being priced in broken package lots.

(iii) The manufacturer shall then deduct from this consumers' net price all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the consumers' net price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941. These discounts shall include a discount of 10% when the hose is sold in standard package lots.

9. Section 1315.37 (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Maximum manufacturers' prices for V–belts and oil resisting conveyor belting made in whole or in part of neoprene—(1) Applicability of this paragraph. This paragraph is applicable to any V–belts and oil resisting conveyor belting made in whole or in part of neoprene for which the manufacturer had a price stated in his price list in effect on October 1, 1941.

(2) How the manufacturer calculates his maximum price. The manufacturer shall calculate the maximum price of the belts and belting covered by this paragraph as follows: The manufacturer shall first deduct from the list price in effect on October 1, 1941, an amount determined by multiplying that list price by the following percentages:

	Percent
Solid neoprene multiple V-belts	8.1
Neoprene cover multiple V-belts	2.9
Solid neoprene FHP V-belts (A and B sections only)	9.4
Neoprene cover FHP V-belts	3.8
Automotive equipment solid neoprene fan belts	12.2
Neoprene conveyor belting	18.6

The manufacturer shall then deduct from the resulting figure all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the list price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941.

This amendment shall become effective July 20, 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[RO 1A[1] incl. Amdt. 38]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING, AND CAMELBACK

Sections 1315.201 (a) (21), 1315.305, 1315.506 (a) (1) (i), 1315.601 (a), 1315.610 (c), and 1315.806 (p) are amended by Amendment 38, effective July 20, 1943, so that Ration Order No. 1A shall read as follows:

Preamble. This Ration Order No. 1A is issued pursuant to the direction of the Rubber Director to carry out the recommendations of the report of the President's Special Committee to study the rubber situation.

The Committee's report states:

> We are faced with certainties as to demands; with grave insecurity as to supply. Therefore, this Committee conceives its first duty to be the maintenance of a rubber reserve that will keep our armed forces fighting and our essential civilian wheels turning. This can best be done by "bulling through" the present synthetic program and by safeguarding jealously every ounce of rubber in the country.

The Committee points out that the tires on civilian cars have been wearing down at a rate eight times greater than they have been replaced. If this rate were permitted to continue "by far the larger number of cars will be off the road next year and in 1944 there will be all but complete collapse of the 27 million passenger cars in America." The conservation program recommended by the Committee includes "more rubber to those who need it; less to those who don't. * * * Only actual needs, not fancied wants, can or should be satisfied."

This order, along with the new Mileage Rationing: Gasoline Regulations, (Ration Order No. 5C) puts into practice the various recommendations of the Committee. These recommendations include:

1. Immediate institution of a tire replacement and recapping program with the allocation of reclaimed rubber for that purpose.
2. Nation-wide gasoline rationing to hold the average annual mileage to 5,000 miles * * *
3. Prompt and strict enforcement of a nation-wide speed limit not exceeding thirty-five miles an hour * * *
4. Compulsory periodic tire inspection.

The Mileage Rationing: Tire Regulations (Ration Order No. 1A) controls the use, care and acquisition of tires, tubes, and recapping services for all types and classes of rubber borne motor vehicles.

Control over commercial motor vehicles is shared with the Office of Defense Transportation. The mileage to be allowed for and the consequent wear of tires by trucks, taxis and like vehicles used for transporting property or available for rental or hire will be determined by the Office of Defense Transportation and evidenced by Certificates of War Necessity. Whether or not such commercial motor vehicles shall receive tires or recapping services remains the responsibility of the Office of Price Administration. Tires and camelback for these vehicles require crude rubber. The present supply of tires and camelback for commercial motor vehicles is now gravely limited. It may not be possible, therefore, to furnish tires or recapping services for every vehicle for which a Certificate of War Necessity is issued by the Office of Defense Transportation, and only the most essential commercial motor vehicles can be designated as eligible for tires or recapping services.

The situation with respect to passenger automobiles, although acute, at present allows a less stringent solution. Unlike truck-type camelback, camelback suitable for recapping passenger automobile tires can be manufactured almost entirely from reclaimed rubber. By rationing all tires, new and used, and all recapping services, and by strictly controlling the mileage driven by passenger automobiles through gasoline rationing, we can, within quota limits periodically fixed, make it possible to provide tires or recapping services for essential mileage. All passenger automobile gasoline rations other than the basic ration are strictly tailored in accordance with need, with a maximum allowance of 470 miles of occupational driving for all who do not fall within those classes of essential users described in the preferred mileage list. The passenger automobile is an integral part of the nation's transportation system and must be kept running. As pointed out by the Committee: "Necessary civilian needs are a part of the war effort." With the increased availability of motor transportation men have moved their residences farther from their place of work. With the growth and spread of war plants and demands for war workers, housing facilities of city and town have become overcrowded, increasing the transportation needs of the country. Nor can public transportation systems alone meet that need. The Committee has remarked:

> We realize full well that beyond some point we cannot limit the amount of (passenger car) transportation * * * without severe effects on our war program. Indeed we have been given estimates that point to the fact that unless 50 percent of our normal car mileage can be maintained our normal productive effort would be seriously retarded.

In order to maintain our essential passenger-car mileage and to prevent a collapse of the transportation system, idle tires must be put to use. To protect that system, none may hoard. Tires must be spread among all who need them. To accomplish this every idle tire must be made available for use. The Government has undertaken a purchase plan designed to bring into the market and make available for use every idle tire. A second means of using to the greatest advantage our existing supply of tires, is to preserve and restore those tire carcasses that are in need of recapping. These tires if recapped in time can continue to be used for essential purposes; if not recapped in time they become useless scrap. As said by the Committee, "The Nation is now driving on rubber borrowed from a happier past. Without recaps and replacements the majority of civilian cars would be forced off the road by irreplaceable tire failures."

Conservation measures to protect our present stock of rubber now on running wheels, both of commercial motor vehicles and passenger automobiles have been stressed by the Committee. As such a measure the Mileage Rationing: Tire Regulations institute a system of compulsory periodic tire inspection. The equipment and tires of each car will be checked periodically to make sure that the tires are being used as efficiently as possible and to insure that they will not be used beyond the stage where they can be recapped. The War Price and Rationing Boards are empowered to treat driving over 35 miles per hour as evidence of tire abuse.

Each car owner should limit the use of his car to the most essential purposes. There is no assurance that the rubber supply will be sufficient to cover even the most essential needs, and further restrictions may be necessary in the future. This will depend in large part upon whether or not the American public rigidly restricts its driving habits, and uses the utmost care to prevent any abuse or neglect of its tires. In the words of the Committee report, "we have the choice: discomfort or defeat. There is no middle course."

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in me by War Production Board Directive No. 1, issued January 24, 1942, and by Supplementary Directive No. 1Q, issued November 6, 1942.

It is hereby ordered, That:

(b) Quotas not to be exceeded by Boards. No Board shall issue a certificate for the acquisition of tires, tubes, recapping services, or camelback in excess of its quotas.

(c) Basis for Board consideration. If the Board has before it applications from persons eligible for tires, tubes, or recapping service which in its judgment satisfy all the conditions of this Order but which together call for the issuance of certificates for tires, tubes, or recapping service in excess of the applicable quota of the Board, the Board, in determining which of the competing needs are to be satisfied, shall be governed by the relative importance to the war program, public safety, and public health, of the operation of a vehicle in one use as compared with the importance of the operation of a vehicle in another use. The Board shall base its determination upon the application for a certificate, the application for a gasoline ration for the vehicle for which tires, tubes, or recapping service are sought, and all other information which comes to its knowledge. The Board shall at all times serve the objectives sought to be accomplished by the tire rationing program and allot certificates for the most vital civilian uses and for uses essential to the war effort.

PROOF OF NEED AND ELIGIBILITY

§ 1315.501 General proof of need. No Board shall grant a certificate authorizing any consumer to acquire a tire, tube, or recapping service, and no consumer shall accept such a certificate, unless the applicant is eligible under §§ 1315.503, 1315.505, 1315.506, 1315.507 or 1315.511 and in addition meets each of the following conditions:

[Paragraph as amended by Amendment 10, 8 F.R. 1839, effective 2-15-43]

(a) Immediate need. That the tire, tube, or recapping service for which application is made is to equip a vehicle held for use and not for resale and is:

(1) To equip a vehicle which requires tires or tubes because of alteration, or reconstruction, or which, for reasons satisfactory to the Board, does not already have the number of tires permitted for such vehicle by the Office of Price Administration; or

(2) To replace a lost or stolen tire or tube; or

(3) To replace a tube which cannot be repaired, or a tire which cannot be repaired or recapped or which would be unsafe when recapped for operation at the speeds at which the applicant may reasonably be expected to operate; or

(4) To replace a tire or tube which is not serviceable for the use to which the vehicle is to be put; or

(5) To recap a tire which requires recapping or which will require recapping by the date the applicant may reasonably be expected to secure recapping.

(b) No abuse or neglect. That the applicant has not in any manner abused or neglected or permitted to be abused or neglected the tire or tube which he seeks to replace or recap. However, the Board may waive this condition if it finds that the community or the nation would suffer serious loss if the application were denied.

(1) The Board may consider, among other things, as evidence of tire abuse:

(i) That the vehicle for which a certificate is sought has been operated at a speed in excess of thirty-five (35) miles per hour; or

(ii) That the tire for which replacement is sought has become unfit for recapping through the fault of the applicant, such as failure to make timely application for a tire, failure to replace a tire as promptly as possible or driving for unnecessary purposes or when other means of transportation are available.

(c) Unlawful mileage. That the applicant has not used the tires or tubes which he seeks to replace on a vehicle which has been used for purposes prohibited by or for mileage in excess of that allowed under Ration Order No. 5C.

(d) Ply construction. That, if the application is for a certificate for a new passenger-type tire of six or more ply construction, the vehicle upon which the tire is to be mounted cannot be operated satisfactorily in the use to which it is to be put with a tire of less than six-ply construction.

(e) No available tire or tube. That the applicant, other than a Federal, State, local, or foreign government or government agency, does not own or control a tire or tube, other than tires or tubes mounted upon vehicles in current use (including one spare for each size wheel per vehicle) which can be used, or repaired for use, in lieu of the tire or tube sought to be replaced or the tire sought to be recapped. In computing the number of tires or tubes owned or controlled, applicant need not include: (1) emergency reserves acquired in accordance with § 1315.507; (2) tires or tubes reported on OPA Form R-17 or R-17 (Revised) or reported by a manufacturer to the War Production Board; (3) tires or tubes in a public warehouse and removable only upon certificate; or (4) tires especially designed for use in mud and snow, not in excess of two such tires per vehicle, if the vehicle is exempt under § 1315.503 (d) (1) from the mileage restrictions on eligibility.

[Paragraph (e) as amended by Amendment 10, 8 F.R. 1839, effective 2-15-43]

(f) No excess tires. That the applicant owns, possesses or controls no tires, the ownership, possession or control of which would render him ineligible for a Basic, Fleet, or dealer's ration under Ration Order No. 5C.

§ 1315.502 Additional proof of need for passenger automobile. In addition to meeting all the conditions of § 1315.501, an applicant for a tire or tube for a passenger automobile must meet the following conditions:

[Paragraph as amended by Amendment 12, 8 F.R. 2348, effective 2-20-43]

(a) That he has a gasoline ration currently valid under Ration Order No. 5C for a passenger automobile if the automobile is driven by gasoline;

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 8, 8 F.R. 1628, effective 2-9-43]

(b) Inspection record. That the applicant has a tire inspection record, signed by an authorized tire inspector, showing that the required tire inspections have been made, and that either the serial number of the tire to be replaced has been entered upon such record or the applicant has Part D of a certificate authorizing acquisition of such tire. However, the Board may in its discretion waive the requirement that the applicant have a tire inspection record showing the required tire inspections if the tire inspection record establishes that the tires upon the vehicle were inspected within sixty (60) days prior to the filing of the application. If a waiver is granted under this section or § 1394.8010 of Ration Order No. 5C, the required inspections prior to the waiver shall be deemed to have been obtained. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to vehicles exempt from maintaining a tire inspection record under § 1315.701. Tire inspection records for automobiles operated on official rations need not show the serial number of the tire to be replaced.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Amendment 8, effective 2-9-43, and Amendment 23, 8 F.R. 4769, effective 4-15-43]

§ 1315.503 Eligibility of passenger automobile—(a) Reconsideration of gasoline ration. When application is made for a tire or tube for a passenger automobile, the Board shall reconsider the applicant's gasoline ration before passing upon his application. Such reconsideration shall be made as follows:

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 12, 8 F.R. 2348, effective 2-20-43]

(1) Basic ration. When only a basic gasoline ration has been issued for the passenger automobile, the applicant shall set forth in his application for tires, in addition to such other information as may be required, information concerning the uses to be made of the passenger automobile.

(2) Supplemental ration. If the applicant has a current supplemental ration, the Board shall reconsider the application for such ration for such vehicle, if available at the Board. If such application is not available at the Board, the applicant shall provide such information upon OPA Form R-535 as to his occupation and mileage requirements as the Board may require.

(3) Fleet and official ration. When application is made for a tire or tube for a fleet passenger automobile, or a passenger automobile owned by or leased to a Federal, State, local, or foreign government or governmental agency, the Board shall reconsider the application for the current fleet or official ration, if available at the Board. If such application is not available at the Board, the applicant shall provide such information upon OPA Form R-551 as to the use and mileage requirements of such vehicle as the Board may require.

[Paragraph (3) as amended by Amendment 12, 8 F.R. 2348, effective 2-20-43]

(b) Redetermination of supplemental fleet or official gasoline ration. If upon reconsideration of the gasoline ration as provided in paragraphs (a) (2) and (a) (3) of this section, the Board finds that the applicant has been granted either a larger or a smaller gasoline ration than he is entitled to under Ration Order No. 5C, or a ration of a class other than that to which he is entitled under Ration Order No. 5C, it shall recall excess gasoline coupons or issue an additional or a different gasoline ration for the corrected mileage: Provided, however, That no gasoline coupons shall be recalled if application is made for a fleet or official passenger automobile using an interchangeable gasoline ration book, but such mileage redetermination shall be used as a basis for determining whether the applicant is entitled to a Grade I or a Grade III tire.

(c) Eligibility determined on basis of adjusted ration. When the Board has adjusted the applicant's mileage requirements pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, it shall determine the applicant's eligibility for a tire or tube in the following manner, exclusive of any special ration:

(1) In the gasoline shortage area, as defined in § 1394.7551 (a) (44) of Ration Order No. 5C, an applicant whose total rationed mileage is more than 90 miles per month but less than 241 miles per month may be issued a certificate for a Grade III tire. Any applicant whose total rationed mileage is less than 241 miles per month may be issued a certificate for a new tube.

(2) Outside the gasoline shortage area, as defined in § 1394.7551 (a) (44) of Ration Order No. 5C, an applicant whose total rationed mileage is 240 miles per month or less may be issued a certificate for a new tube, but may only be issued a certificate for a Grade III tire if any of the purposes for which his vehicle is used constitute occupational mileage, as defined in § 1394.7551 (a) (27) of Ration Order No. 5C, and if the Board would be entitled to allow him such occupational mileage under the provisions of § 1394.7704 of Ration Order No. 5C.

(3) An applicant whose total allowed mileage is 241 miles per month or more may be issued a certificate for a Grade I or Grade III tire at the applicant's option, or for a new tube.

(4) An applicant operating fleet or official passenger automobiles, for which interchangeable gasoline ration books have been currently issued, may be issued a certificate for a Grade III tire or a new tube; if the applicant establishes that the particular vehicle will be operated for 241 miles per month or more, then a certificate for a Grade I tire may be issued.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Amendment 12, 8 F.R. 2348, effective 2–20–43, Amendment 16, 8 F.R. 3314, effective 4–1–43, Amendment 25, 8 F.R. 5483, effective 5–1–43, Amendment 28, 8 F.R. 6735, effective 5–20–43, and Amendment 35, 8 F.R. 9017, effective 7–1–43]

(d) Exceptions to eligibility, mileage not governing. (1) An applicant may obtain a certificate for any grade of tire or tube if he clearly establishes that he must answer emergency calls which require him to operate a passenger automobile at high rates of speed, and that the vehicle is:

(i) Used exclusively for maintaining fire-fighting services or in investigation or patrolling necessary to the maintenance of public police services; or

(ii) Used for making necessary professional calls by a physician, surgeon, chiropractor, osteopath, midwife, or dentist, licensed as such by the appropriate governmental authorities and regularly rendering necessary professional services of an emergency nature outside his office; or

(iii) Used as an emergency maintenance vehicle by a public utility and is clearly and permanently marked as such.

(iv) Used for rendering professional services at agricultural establishments by a farm veterinary, licensed by the appropriate governmental authorities and regularly rendering such professional services.

[Paragraph (iv) added by Amendment 24, 8 F.R. 4849, effective 4–19–43]

(2) An applicant whose allowed gasoline mileage would entitle him to a Grade I tire may be limited to a certificate for a Grade III tire if the length of time for which he will need his allowed monthly mileage will be substantially less than the normal life of a Grade I tire.

[Paragraph (2) as amended by Amendment 25, 8 F.R. 5483, effective 5–1–43]

(3) An applicant who applies for an "obsolete type" tire or a tire to be mounted on a motorcycle to replace a tire which cannot be recapped, either because of its physical condition or the lack of adequate recapping facilities, shall be entitled to a certificate for a new tire of an "obsolete type," or a new motorcycle tire, but only if a currently valid supplemental gasoline ration is outstanding for the vehicle for which such tire is sought or, in the absence of a currently valid supplemental gasoline ration for such vehicle, if the mileage driven in such vehicle is necessary for carrying out one or more of the purposes described in § 1394.7706 of Ration Order No. 5C. As applied to tires, the term "obsolete type" means passenger-type tires of the following sizes only:

(4) An applicant who is eligible under § 1315.503 (c) may be granted a certificate for a Grade III tire in any area where recapping facilities are unavailable or inadequate, upon turning in a recappable tire carcass.

[Paragraph (4) added by Amendment 4, 7 F.R. 10336, effective 12–9–42, amended by Amendment 12, 8 F.R. 2348, effective 2–20–43 and Amendment 35, 8 F.R. 9017, effective 7–1–43]

(5) An applicant for a passenger automobile, which is not driven by gasoline as defined in § 1394.7551 (a) (12) of Ration Order No. 5C, or which has been issued a currently valid Non-highway ration in accordance with § 1394.7904 of Ration Order No. 5C, may be eligible only if the mileage driven in the vehicle and the purposes for which it is used are within § 1315.503 (c); such an applicant may be granted a certificate for a new tube and for the grade of tire provided for in § 1315.503 (c).

[Paragraph (5) added by Amendment 10, 8 F.R. 1839 effective 2–15–43 and amended by Amendment 25, 8 F.R. 5483, effective 5–1–43, and Amendment 35, 8 F.R. 9017, effective 7–1–43]

§ 1315.504 Additional proof of need for commercial motor vehicle. In addition to meeting all the conditions of § 1315.501, an applicant for a tire, tube, or recapping service for a commercial motor vehicle must meet the following conditions:

(a) Certificate of war necessity. That he holds a currently valid certificate of war necessity with respect to such vehicle and that the tires have been currently inspected and passed, as required by General Order ODT No. 21 and amendments or exemptions thereto; and

The applicant's need, standing alone, no matter how pressing, shall not be a basis for granting a certificate; and

(c) Comparative need. That the issuance of the certificate to the applicant will not deprive other applicants of tires, tubes, or recapping service needed to perform functions deemed by the Board to be more essential to the war effort, public health or public safety than the functions performed by the applicant; and

(d) Recapping if possible. That, if the applicant is seeking to replace a tire, it is not capable of being recapped or that it cannot be recapped for safe use at the speeds at which the applicant may reasonably be expected to operate; and

(e) Passenger-type tires unavailable or wasteful. That, if application is made for a truck-type tire, a passenger-type tire of suitable size is not available, or that the use of a passenger-type tire would constitute a waste of rubber.
